Philo.

The eighth regular meeting of Philo was held last Friday evening. Prayer was offered by Williams. Hansen read an interesting critique on the previous meeting. Tyler's extempore on "The Close of this Administration" was perhaps the test that has been delivered this term. The Mirror was represented by First Editor Moore, who read an interesting disquisition on the Mormon Church. Atherton was announced for the declamation, but was substituted in the person of Holbrook.

The debate was next in order. T. B. Turner led the affirmative, and A. B. Turner the negative, on the question, "Resolved, That, in the event of a War between the United States and Germany, the United States would be defeated." The chair appointed Hinckey, Williams and Wheeler to support the affirmative; and Wells, Bailey and Cummings on the negative. T. B. Turner, the first speaker, began by apologizing for his lack of preparation. His speech was rather brief, and was read from manuscript. He spoke of the impossibility of calmly weighing the merits of this question because of our national prejudice. The speaker then indulged in a comparison of armies, illustrating by statistics the accuracy of his statements. A. B. Turner said that Germany had no desire to go to war with us. Surrounded as she is by belligerent nations, all harboring feelings of enmity towards her, it would be indeed hopeless for her to expect to win. Hinckey and Williams entered into a brief comparison of the military strength of Germany and the United States. Wells and Bailey, on the negative, spoke briefly. Wheeler did far better than at the previous meeting, and Cummings, speaking in his easy, pleasant manner, made a few telling points. The question then being thrown open to the house, Messrs. Eaton, Wheeler and Hansen spoke on the affirmative, and Williams, French, Snell, Wilkinson, Parker and Warren volunteered on the negative.

The vote before debate was: affirmative, 5; negative, 16; after debate, affirmative, 5; negative, 8. The chair decided with the negative.

On the whole, the debate was not conducted with its customary dignity. This was due to a spirit of boisterousness which pervaded the meeting. This spirit is not generally manifested, and must be eliminated if the society hopes to accomplish any happy results.

In the way of miscellaneous business, it was proposed by Holbrook that no person, except a leader, shall be allowed to speak for a longer time than three minutes. This motion, after considerable discussion was voted down.

Zeta Psi. Large Gathering at Parker's.

The annual reunion and banquet of the New England Association of Zeta Psi was held at the Parker House Saturday afternoon and evening. There were about thirty present, embracing both graduate and undergraduate members. Every New England college which acknowledges a chapter of this society was represented.

At the business meeting, President Walker presiding, the officers of the past year were re-elected. Among those present were, President Henry Walker, Rho Chapter, Harvard; Hon. Chas J. Noyes, Theta Chapter, Union College; Dr. J. C. Irish, Chi Chapter, Colby University; M. D. Andrews, Epsilon Chapter, Brown; I. W. Cate, Kappa Chapter, Tufts; Dr. A. S. Whitmore, Lambda Chapter, Bowdoin; Arthur T. Sanford, Zeta Chapter, Williams; Dr. O. P. Rogers, Psi Chapter, Dartmouth. Undergraduates Norman, Painter, Curtis and Whitmore also represented Harvard.

The dinner over, many pleasant reminiscences of college life were related by the older members, and reports of progress by the younger. Remarks were made by several gentlemen. All the speeches were brimming over with hearty good-cheer. Secretary Hall read a number of reports, among them being a letter from C. E. Ridley of Tufts, recounting some interesting reminiscences of the late D. L. White, of the New York Tribune, who was a graduate of Tufts and one of the Zeta Psi fraternity. Mr. Ridley related a clever piece of journalistic work by which Mr. White once obtained a copy of the treaty of Washington before President Grant had sent it to Congress. For this he was confined in the capitol, thereby giving the Tribune a grand opportunity to advertise itself. After this the evening was given up to social pleasures.

Niotus Club Concert.

The concert given in the Town Hall last Friday night under the management of the Niotus Club was one of the most enjoyable entertainments given this year. The programme included selections by the Temple Quartette of Boston, consisting of W. R. Bateman, E. F. Webber, H. A. Cook, and A. C. Ryder; assisted by Miss Emma C. Wheeler, soprano and whistler; and Mrs. Emilie Grant, pianist. The Temple Quartette has the reputation of being the best male quartette in Boston, and its members fully sustained their reputation Friday night. Every number they gave received one or more encores. Miss Wheeler was also very well received; she has a good voice, and her whistling was superior to that of previous performers in Andover.

The Phillipian will be issued every Wednesday and Saturday during the school year except in vacations.

All communications must be accompanied by writer's full name and address not necessarily for publication unless so desired.

Communications may be addressed to the Phillipian, Andover, Mass., or dropped in the Phillipian box placed in the main hall of the Academy building.

The editors do not hold themselves responsible for the opinions of any correspondent.

THE ANDOVER PRESS, PRINTERS.

Again on Sunday evening the leader of the meeting did not appear until after the president had commenced. This seems careless, and deteriorates the value of the society. It is to be hoped that it will not occur again this term.

There have been frequent inquiries with regard to the progress made by the PHILLIPIAN in the efforts on behalf of a new gymnasium. The editors are gratified by this show of interest on the part of the school, and it is their intention to report progress from time to time. This, like all great undertakings, must necessarily move slowly. There are many preliminary steps to be taken before the matter can be put fairly on its feet.

We are glad to report that the circulars have been prepared, and have received the sanction of the Faculty; and as soon as a meeting can be called it is expected that the sanction and indorsement of the Building Committee of the Alumni Association will be obtained, through whose influence and aid a great deal can be accomplished. It is expected that the circulars will be sent off within a month.

In view of the changes that will shortly occur in the PHILLIPIAN board of editors, a meeting was held last Monday noon for the purpose of electing new men. There has been a large number of competitors for the last two or three months, and out of these were chosen: Mr. J. C. Sawyer, P.A. '90; Mr. C. J. Bailey, P.S. '91; and Mr. H. L. W. Snell, P.A. '91. All other competitors will receive due credit for the work they have done or shall do, and when vacancies occur their names will be submitted for the consideration of the board.

Communication.

To Editors of Phillipian:

Philo has been getting very low of late, and for the last three or four meetings it has been necessary to let the miscellaneous business go, because a quorum of the members was not present. It is believed that a great many fellows are kept away on account of the length of the meetings who would otherwise come. Wherefore a motion was laid on the table, at the last meeting, limiting the time of every speaker but the leaders to three minutes. It is also possible that the time of calling the meeting may be changed from 7.30 to 7 P.M., as thereby Friday evening would be chopped up into one less division. I think if one or both of these propositions should become a by-law the society meetings would be much more interesting, and a greater number of fellows would be present.

To the Editors of the Phillipian:

I admire the spirit with which 'One who cheers for '90' defends a charge made on facts. My only surprise would have been had it not been replied to by one of that class. A statement was made that "at no time was the whole class present." I will prove it. In P.S. '90 there are 40 fellows, 29 of whom take geometry, in which class the speaking took place; the other members, who do not take this subject, and who were absent, on their own account, were 11. At the election about 32 were present. As regards the election not being on its merits, the least said about that matter the better, and the "One who cheers for '90" would have done well to pass over this subject. Hoping I have made the matter clear,

I am truly yours,

"ONE WHO CHEERS FOR '90,"
but acknowledges her faults.

Exeter's Nine.

As a general rule, the success, good or bad, of the nine is just the opposite to the prospect at the beginning of the season. But once in a while we put a good team in the field, and have the pleasure of seeing it win the season through. If there is any dependence to be placed on the ideas to be gotten from cage work, the chances for a good all round nine are of the first order. Our pitchers are back. We have catchers, fielders and suitable men for the bases, and from this time on must depend entirely on hard individual and team work. We have a good diamond, and if the lower campus is fixed up will have a splendid one. The most important games are to be played on our own grounds, and this fact alone should help us a great deal. In every way the prospects of the nine seem to be favorable, and we think that strict discipline on the part of the captain, with obedience from the members and lots of hard work—all these will carry us through a winning season.

—Exonian—

President Dwight's Report.

President Dwight's Annual Report has been submitted to the Yale Corporation. From a financial standpoint the status of affairs is very encouraging. The increase in the income is particularly marked. The amounts received since July 1, 1886 aggregate $525,000. In the matter of legacies, Yale has been the recipient of several, which, it is believed, will realize an amount of at least $200,000.—There has been an increase of about three hundred students since 1885.

In view of the inadequate accommodations of the Sheffield School, it is proposed to erect a new building, to be devoted to mechanical and civil engineering.

A new department in the Divinity School is suggested by the establishment of several graduate fellowships and scholarships.

There is a marked increase of students in the Medical and Law Schools. In the former, the number has doubled since last year; and in the latter, there has been an increase of one third since 1886. There are one hundred and seventy-three in the Art School, or fifty more than last year.

President Dwight expresses himself in favor of a new gymnasium, and hopes that the friends of the college will contribute a sufficient amount for this purpose. All the contemplated improvements are dependent upon the amount of subscriptions made towards defraying the expenses.

P.S. '90.

The following is a list of the P.S. '90 men, and the colleges which those leaving school this year expect to enter in the fall. The abbreviations are as follows: H, Harvard; M I T, Mass. College Representation at the Paris Exposition.

On account of the interest which has been manifested in higher educational institutions in America by men abroad, an exhibit from American colleges has been requested for the Paris Exposition, which opens on the fifth of May. A prominent feature in this exhibit will be that of college journalism. Prof. C. Welman Parks, of the Troy Polytechnic, has been appointed to superintend the college interests for the exhibition, and intends to maintain a reading room provided with pictures of editorial boards and copies of college publications on the walls. Copies will also be upon tables for the interest of students or alumni who may attend the Exposition.

Amherst among Preparatory Schools.

Amherst seems to be awakening to the importance of being better known among the preparatory schools in order to secure more students from them. The Student is taking the matter up, and a communication in the last number advocates a "scheme" which "has been tried elsewhere with satisfactory results." It proposes to offer some prize to the new base-ball association (provided it be formed), including Holyoke, Easthampton, Westfield and other neighboring places. It proposes to have a representative at the games, who shall have a record of the various players which can be referred to, and who may use his influence in directing their attention to Amherst. It is probable that the base-ball management will take this up, and offer some suitable prize to represent Amherst interests in the association.

The Harvard Bill.

The following bill in substance is now before the legislature: "The President and fellows of Harvard College may accept, take and hold, and may sell at their discretion, unless expressly forbidden by the terms of the gift, any real estate, within or without this Commonwealth, which has been, or may hereafter be, given or devised to them for educational purposes."

President Eliot is in favor of this bill becoming a law, and believes it to be for the best welfare of the college. He says it may not increase the income, but it will increase the security, as the provisions of the bill allow property outside of the state to be sold. This bill is certainly an important one, and if it passes the Legislature will have a good effect upon the financial interests of Harvard.

The Faculty's Decision at Wesleyan College.

Last week Friday the Faculty of Wesleyan University made known their decision concerning the bomb-firing on Washington's Birthday, in which Hubbard, an ex-P.A. man, was injured. Six men have been suspended for the remainder of the year. They are: H. P. Queal, Auburn, N.Y.; C. H. Pierce, Tenn.; F. H. Thackaberry, New York; W. H. Hall, South Wilmington, Ct.; R. E. Smith, Penn.; H. Spooksby, Philadelphia. The following were suspended until May 1: J. W. Waramore, Peekskill, N.Y.; E. J. Tamblyn, New Jersey. Nine men were also censured. The object of making the punishment so severe is to put a stop to the custom in the future.

Columbia Athletics.

The present condition of athletic interests at Columbia seems favorable in nearly every respect, with the exception of base-ball. The candidates for the different teams appear to be doing hard and earnest work, and the outlook for the coming season seems favorable for making a good showing in several branches of athletics. The 'Varsity and Freshman crews started regular work as soon as the mid-year examinations were over, and have been engaged in hard and faithful practice from the start. The promising candidates for the 'Varsity crew number thirteen at present, and are under the direction of Mr. A. G. Peet as coach. The crew will not row the Harvard 'Varsity, but will engage in a triangular three-mile race with Cornell and the University of Penn. The candidates for the Mott Haven games will commence work early in March. Quite a number are training on their own account, and expect to enter the games of the N.A.A.A.A., as well as the Harvard and Yale games. As the outlook for base-ball seems dubious, Columbia will not enter any league this year.

Boston Ideal Concert Company.

The Boston Ideal Concert Company will give a concert in the Town Hall Friday evening under the auspices of the Andover Brass Band. The company is a very popular one, and is very highly spoken of by the press wherever they have appeared. The programme consists of both vocal and instrumental selections, varied with recitations by Warren G. Richards, a well-known humorist. The entertainment will be a pleasing one, and of such a character that every one will be able to enjoy it.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology, following the example of Cornell and Amherst, will give a minstrel show for the benefit of the foot-ball association.

Dartmouth Sophomores rebelled last week against being taught by a tutor in German, and the entire class, except three, cut recitation. When the tutor went into the class room they locked the door from the outside, and compelled him to stay there until released by the college janitor.

rington's overture, trying to prepare it for the Glee Club concert.

It is said that Bates is to pitch for the nine of the Boston Athletic Club, and that ex-Captain Stewart of Yale will play second base in the team.—Crimson.

The Boston Ideal Concert Company
will give an entertainment in the Town Hall, March 8. The Sandford Girls'
Orchestra will render the music.

At a recent meeting of the Senior class at Williams, they reversed their decision to abolish Class Day exercises at Commencement, and elected the necessary officers.

There was a good take-off on the electric lights which were to be put up for exhibition last Saturday night, in the shape of a lantern hung on one of the flag-poles down town.

The fifth annual banquet of the Andover Club at Yale was held at Redcliffe's Saturday evening. Toasts were responded to by Prof. Graves, J. Crosby,
'90; J. F. A. Merrill, '89; F. C. Walcott,
'91; and H. A. Bayne, '92.

Quite a crowd of fellows were gathered in front of Latin Commons last Friday evening after the last recitation.
Moody was stage manager. They wanted to witness a sparring match; but the little Latin Commons boys were all too bashful in exhibiting their fine points
before an intelligent audience.

ON A PORTRAIT OF NEWTON.

You crafty villain! You who look
So mild upon the canvas there,
Why have you made such agony for me,
Such wild teeth-gnashings and despair?

You look too gentle and too good,
To have discovered all your laws
Of motion and of gravity. Oh why
Must you have sought the cause

Of the attraction of the moon?
You left the world for a behest,
A useless set of wicked laws:
Ill may your spirit rest.
