Communications.

Editors of Phillipian:

May I bespeak the interest of the PHILLIPIAN and its readers in a matter greatly affecting the enjoyment of the base-ball games by the ladies? Although puffing tobacco smoke in the faces of ladies is not generally recognized on the code of manners of a gentleman, it is, nevertheless, frequently done on the grand stand. If the young gentlemen of the school desire to encourage the attendance of ladies, and make it comfortable for them while there, might not a notice be posted which should serve as a reminder to those who are not "a law unto themselves" of what is courteous in the matter?

ONE OF THE SUFFERERS.

Lecture.

Prof. Comstock gave his second talk on Rome on Monday evening in Academy Hall before a very fair-sized audience. The subject was Rome at the present day, and it was finely illustrated by the numerous views, many of which are entirely new. The principle points touched upon by the speaker were the Colosseum, the many churches of Rome, especially St. Peters, and views of modern Rome and along the Tiber. The lecture was made very entertaining indeed by the many interesting personal anecdotes of the speaker as well as by the interest in his subject.

Phillips vs. Yale 'Varsity.

On Monday the students of Phillips Andover enjoyed the first opportunity to see the Yale 'Varsity nine play on our own grounds. The team's first appearance in Andover was well received, and a large crowd had assembled when the game was called. The make-up of the Yale team was the same as in the Harvard game on Saturday, with the exception of Bowers in the box, who pitched a good game. Case was unable to keep control of the ball, and gave an unusual number of men bases on balls which may in a measure account for the few hits that Yale made off his delivery. Brown's batting and throwing showed a great improvement. The feature of the game was Cheney's beautiful catch of McClintock's fly in the third inning. However, Cheney's work on ground balls is still slow and uncertain. The Yale men played a steady game throughout, and their fielding was remarkable considering the wretched condition of the campus. Calhoun's work at second was especially fine, and he captained his team in good shape. Stearns again played in the field, and Dalzell covered first. In the earlier part of the game the strong wind and clouds of dust was a great preventative to good ball playing.

At 3.45 the game was called with Andover at the bat. Dalzell hit to McClung, and beat his throw. Case struck out, McClintock took in Stearns' liner in good style, and Anderson struck out.—For Yale McBride had a good eye, stole 2d, and scored on Calhoun's single. The latter took 3rd on a wild pitch and scored on a passed ball. Poole hit a fly to Rustin. Dalzell was safe at 1st on Bliss' error, but Anderson had the ball waiting for him at 2d. McClung and Cushing were both favored with a base on balls, but McClintock hit to Bliss and retired.

Second inning. Bowers threw Cheney's boulder to 1st. McCormick was hit by the ball, but was out going to 2d, Poole to Calhoun. Poole captured Rustin's foul.—Owsley retired at 1st, Case to Dalzell. Bowers went to 1st on balls, and stole 2d and 3rd. McBride struck out, but Brown dropped the ball, and threw him out at 1st, Bowers scoring on the play. This was the only run scored.

Third inning. Brown hit to centre. Bliss gets a hit, and both men scored on McClintock's error of Dalzell's hit. Dalzell also scored as the ball hit him when it was thrown to 3rd. The next three men were quickly retired.—A double by Cushing, an error by Cheney, and a passed ball sends him home. No more runs are scored in this inning.

Fourth inning. Cheney is given four wild balls. McCormick flies to Calhoun who makes a double play with Cheney at 1st. McClung cares for Rustin's grounder.—A base on balls, a balk, two singles, and a bad error by Case net Yale two more runs.

Fifth inning. Brown retired at 1st, Calhoun assisting. Bliss was given 1st on balls, but was forced at 2d on Dalzell's hit to Calhoun. Dalzell moved up to 3rd on Case's single. Stearns hits to Calhoun, and Yale comes to the bat. Four bad balls, a steal, and a wild throw by Case allows Yale to score one run.

Sixth inning. Two flies and a strike out retire Andover. Dalzell reached 1st on Dalzell's error, stole 2d, and scored on Cushing's hit.

Seventh inning. Calhoun after a fine stop throws Rustin's grounder wild to 1st, and Rustin moves up to 3rd and scores on Brown's single. After this the side is easily retired.—The 'Varsity men fail to get beyond 2d.

Eighth inning. Cheney hits to left and scores on Rustin's fine drive for two bags.—Again Yale did not get beyond 2d.

Ninth inning. Bliss strikes out. Dalzell hits to Calhoun, and as a natural result is retired. Case finishes the game by giving Poole a foul. The score:

Mott-Haven Games.

One of the most successful athletic meets ever held at Berkeley Oval took place on Saturday. Harvard won the cup, scoring 32 points. Yale took second place, winning 29 1-2 points, and Princeton third, winning 24 points. Among Andover representatives were the following: T. B. Turner, ex-P.A. '90, of Princeton entered the one mile run; H. C. Hallock, ex-P.A. '90, of Amherst won second place in the two mile bicycle race.

Philo.

President Tyler called the eighth meeting of Philo to order at 7 o'clock last evening, and asked More to offer prayer. Nettleton called the roll and read the minutes of the previous meeting. Wells read a critique. The extempore was omitted as Lamprey failed to appear or provide a substitute. After Snell's address it was moved and carried that the debate should be omitted. After the appointment of parts the meeting adjourned.

Tennis Preliminaries.

Fiske beat Mills, 6-1, 6-2.
Conant beat Canfield, 6-0, 6-3.
Fiske beat Conant, 6-1, 6-2.
Brown beat Eastman, 6-1, 6-3.
Hooker beat Brown by default.

THE ANDOVER PRESS, PRINTERS.

The communication in another column regarding the courtesy of fellows who use tobacco toward the ladies in the grand stand is one which can justly be made. It is with regret, however, that such a subject as this has to be touched upon through these columns. It would be unjust to deprive the fellows entirely of this privilege, if it can be called such, but the annoyance would be removed altogether if those men who do use tobacco would show proper respect for the many lady visitors whose interest in our sports we are always glad to have manifested by their presence. We believe that those who are in the habit of smoking, if requested, would willingly occupy the extreme end of the grand stand, and the ladies who occupy the other half of the stand would not be compelled to sit for two hours inhaling smoke which is especially offensive to them. We believe that this has happened merely through thoughtlessness, and that only a suggestion is needed to bring about the desired result.

Andover has reason to congratulate herself on having the privilege to see the Yale Varsity nine play on her own campus. This was the first appearance of a Yale Varsity base-ball nine in Andover, and much praise is due the management of the nine for their efforts in successfully arranging a game with this team. We believe that the Yale men went away feeling well satisfied with their visit to Andover, and we sincerely hope that this is not the only opportunity that Andover will have of playing Yale, for we believe that it is a great benefit to Andover in more ways than one.

Although the game was one-sided the numerous spectators did not lose their interest in the game at any time. Our nine failed to forget that their opponents were the Yale Varsity men and were unable to play a steady game. The team was weakened by the absence of Dalzell in the box, yet we believe it was for the advantage in the end, as every one knows how important it is that Dalzell is kept in good trim for the rest of the season. It was a pleasant sight to watch such a team as Yale play against our nine and we hope that if possible this game will be only the beginning of a series of annual games between Andover and Yale. If this proves to be the result of this year's game, Andover may consider herself fortunate in such a rare privilege as having games with both the Freshmen and the Varsity teams.

We desire to correct two slight errors which occurred in the account of the tournament published in last issue. Owing to a slight typographical error Candee's name was entered in the Running Broad Jump instead of Camden. Also Wadhams '93 the winner of the Kids' race should be Wadhams '92 S., thus giving '92 an additional first point. In order that there may be no mistake in the class records we reprint the following, adding the third prizes and points, first counting five, second, three, and third, one:

	First.	Second.	Third.	Points.

Phillips vs. Studleys to-day.

Exeter plays Dover at Dover to-day.

In the tournament on Saturday English Commons made 57 points against 3 by Latin Commons.

Conant, '92, and Fiske, '91, have been confined to the house for several days owing to sprained ankles.

Bloss and Ellis, of Exeter, attended the tournament on Saturday.

Geer, '92, has been visited by his brother for several days.

After the game with the Yale Freshmen, the Yale tally-ho serenaded the Fem.
Sems.

Of the men who made up the Yale 'Varsity team the following are old P.A. men:
Owsley, ex-P.S. '90, Poole, P.A. '87.

Farquhar, White, and Ewing of Exeter witnessed the game with Yale 'Varsity.

The Yale 'Varsity team took a long drive over the Andover roads after the game.

Hotchkiss, of the Williams team, was severely spiked at one of his recent games.

Poole and Owsley received quite an ovation when they stepped up to the plate last Monday.

Clark, P.A. '92, returned from New York last Saturday.

About sixty of the students took in the Yale-Harvard game at Cambridge.

The carriages at the games are driven a little too close to the foul line.

Several of the students attended an informal party at Mrs. Harris' last Monday evening.

The diamond was in the finest condition
on Monday that it has been this season.

A coach load of students from the Bradford Seminary witnessed the game last Friday.

Moore and Barbour, P.A. '89, were in town at the Yale 'Varsity game on Monday.

Perkins, '92, won 19, Woodruff, '92, 15 points, and Foss, '92, 13 points in the athletic tournament.

Noyes, who umpired the game on Monday, is an old P.A. man, and was formerly captain of the Yale nine.

Exeter has chosen Ellis, '90, captain of the track athletics, and Newell, '90, captain of the field events for the Andover-Exeter tournament.

Exeter's June Lit. will be a class day number, containing all of the class day parts. It will appear on the last day of school.

An editorial in the Yale News a few days ago advocated very strongly the advisability of the Andover Club at Yale offering some such prize to the Andover students as the Harvard-Andover English prize.

The following games have been arranged for the remainder of the season:

- June 4. John B Studleys.
- 7. Beacons.
- 11. Stars of Lawrence.

Profs. Coy, Wells, Gile, and Pettee graduated from Yale; Profs. Graves, Comstock, and Eaton, from Amherst; Dr. Bancroft, from Dartmouth; Mr. Terrill, from Brown; while Prof. Churchill graduated from Harvard.

The following is the standing of those competing for the original poetry prize:
"X.Y.Z," 4; "Nemo Nullut," 3; "Jack," 2;
"P.S. '92," 1; "Eva Q.Q.," 1; "Pasano," 1.

Such is Fate.

They were walking through the meadows One glorious day in May, When poets sing of buttercups And lambkins at their play. Their path was strewn with daisies, And the birds were keeping time With their foot-steps as they wandered On that glorious afternoon.

Her hair, the fairest golden; Her eyes, a sea of blue; Her mouth, a pearl set jewel; Her cheeks, a rosy hue; Her voice, a gentle zephyr,

And its sound fell on his ear Like the song of heaven's angels From a distance drawing near.

They walked on o'er the meadows Till the sun sank down to rest, And cast its lingering beauty On the hill top of the west. Then turning they went homeward Past the daisies, up the lane, And they parted at the gate-way, Never more to meet again.

Yes that parting was the last one. How true, and ah! how sad! For she was an Abbot Fem. Sem., And he a Phillips lad. But their path was not all sunshine. For standing at the gate Two Fem. Sem. teachers met them. For the rest—Well such is fate.
