Communications.

Editors of The Phillipian:

As there has been no movement so far this year towards organizing class foot-ball teams, would it not be well for every class to get the men out to practice so that games can be played immediately after the Exeter game? A series of games arranged among the classes would certainly prove interesting to every one.

"AN OLD FELLOW."

Editors of The Phillipian:

Now that all the house and street foot-ball teams are organized and practicing, we are surprised to hear nothing from Latin Commons. In previous years they have been represented by good teams and the contests between the two Commons have been events of considerable interest. We hope that the apparent lack of interest is the result of negligence to organize rather than for the want of material or desire to maintain the record which they have held so long.

Foot-Ball Schedule.

The foot-ball management have handed us the following revised schedule:

- Sat., Oct. 17, Boston Athletics.
- Wed., Oct. 21, Harvard Varsity.
- Sat., Oct. 24, Harvard Second.
- Sat., Oct. 31, Harvard Freshmen.
- Wed., Nov. 4, Tufts College.
- Sat., Nov. 7, Yale Freshmen.
- Sat., Nov. 14, Exeter at Exeter.

The dates Oct. 28 and Nov. 11 have not yet been filled. Probably the latter date will be taken by Tech., since of late years it has been the custom to play with this eleven on the Wednesday preceding the Exeter game.

Andover-Exeter Tennis Tournament.

The tennis tournament for the championship of both schools begins this afternoon on the middle court in front of the reading room, at 1.30 o'clock.

Last year we were only partially successful, winning the singles with great ease and losing the doubles after a close match. This fall we hope to win both cups, as there is very fine tennis material in the school. The singles will be played first and will consist of the best three in five sets. Our representative will be A. E. Foote P.A. '92. The doubles will be begun as soon as the singles are finished, and Andover will be represented by Foote and T. F. Archbald '92, or W. A. Gosline and R. H. Spaulding '93. If time allows, the doubles will consist of the best three in five sets otherwise the best two in three. A grand stand has been put up on the third court which is designed primarily for visitors and then for the Tennis Association.

Phillips, 26; Brown, 0.

The game on Wednesday resulted in a victory for the Academy by the above score. Andover played with marked improvement, although very slowly at times. Brown was unable to break through the line as often as would have been expected from the weight of her men, and when she did so, was promptly checked by fine tackling of Andover, which was the most marked feature of the game.

Play commenced at 3.40, Andover having the north goal and Brown the ball. They start with a V, gain 6 yards, when Hopkins brings them to a halt. On four downs, the ball goes to Andover. Woodruff makes a 30 yard rush and Greenway adds 8 more. After several small rushes, Woodruff carries the ball over the line four minutes after the game was called. No goal; score, 4 to 0. Brown's V makes 10 yards, short rushes through the centre add 10 yards, the ball, after a fumble, is kicked over Andover's line and brought out. At this point Jennings breaks through and tackles well. Greenway makes 6 yards, Woodruff follows with 15 more but is stopped by Brown, Beal adds 6 yards. The ball goes to Brown, when within 8 yards of their line, for off-side play. Brown's advance is stopped by Armstrong's good tackling. Lindsly punts, Woodrug again makes 10 yards. At a fumble by Hopkins, Jennings picks up the ball and makes 5 yards. Andover fails to advance and loses the ball, when within 1 yard of Brown's line. Lindsly punts, Hopkins makes 6 yards and Woodruff makes a touchdown. No goal; score, 8 to 0. Hill makes 7 yards with a V, Strait is then tackled by Hopkins. Andover has the ball but loses it shortly. Brown makes a 20 yard rush and is tackled by Foster. Strait adds 8 yards. When within 10 yards of Andover's line, Lindsly punts. Jennings catches the ball and rushes 35 yards. Woodruff, Beal and Armstrong add 8 yards each. Hopkins comes within a foot of the line and Woodruff makes a touchdown. No goal; score, 12 to 0. Time is called with the ball in the centre of the field.

At the beginning of the second half, Armstrong rushes 6 yards, on three downs Andover's punt fails but the ball is secured. Foster and Hopkins make 8 yards each. Andover again loses the ball within a yard of the line. Brown punts, Armstrong makes 8 yards and Greenway crosses the line, five minutes after play was called. No goal; score, 16 to 0. Brown fails to advance, Hopkins makes 15 yards and Greenway adds 10, then Jennings makes a touchdown and Greenway succeeds in kicking a goal. Score, 22 to 0. Brown's V fails. Foot makes 25 yards, tries again but is tackled by Foster. Andover's ball on Lindsly's punt. Greenway returns. At this point Drawbridge is hurt and Chase takes his place. Again Lindsly punts and is returned by Greenway. Lindsly makes a fair catch and Brown gains 15 yards. On a punt the ball goes to Andover. Armstrong breaks through and makes a touchdown from the centre of the field. No goal; score, 26 to 0. Hill makes fifteen yards. Brown fails to advance and the ball goes to Andover. Woodruff fumbles and Foot falls on the ball, when time is called. Score, 26 to 0.

Philo.

The sixth regular meeting of Philo. held in room 7, was called to order by Pres. Wadhams. After prayer by Bancroft, roll call, and miscellaneous business, it was voted to adjourn Philo. and convene the senate. Next in order was the choice and allotment of states and election of committee and officers. Bills were presented by Senators McClellan and Porter. The former to abolish labor organizations, the latter to amend article 15 of the constitution of the U. S.

Senator McClellan, of Kansas, in introducing his bill spoke earnestly and thoughtfully, pointing out the menace to the county of labor organizations and all trusts, monopolies and combines. Williams, senator from Virginia, opened with a paenegyric on the state he represents, and, opposing the bill, declared it to be wrong; contrary to the principles of good government, and even contrary to the constitution. Senator Porter, of New Jersey, spoke in favor of the bill. Kitchell, senator from Ohio, spoke against the measure. Senator Duffy, of New Hampshire, paid an eloquent tribute to his state and to her illustrious son, Daniel Webster. Then, turning to the question in hand, described the poverty of the manufacturing classes and declared that their rights could be maintained only by organizing. Smyth, senator from Rhode Island, argued in opposition to the bill, that organizations are an injury to themselves.

Senator McLaren, of Connecticut, said, that he is a representative of the working classes, that to abolish trades unions was to destroy their opportunity of maintaining their rights. He also quoted from the Bellamy family, arguments to show that labor organizations have raised and upheld wages and increased education. McDonald, senator from Vermont, denounced the bill as being in the interest of capitalists only. Senator Pierson, of Delaware, said, that the aim of the bill was to prevent demagogues using trades unions as political tools. R. M. Lester, senator from Georgia, spoke briefly in favor of the bill. Senator Archbald, of Pennsylvania, made a short and effective speech in favor of the bill—painting a vivid picture of the terrible scenes of the strike of 1877. P. R. Lester, senator from Kentucky, spoke in opposition to the measure. Senator Mack, of New York, spoke at some length and with evident haziness of thought against the bill.

At this point, Senator Brayton called for the question. The vote was taken by ayes and noes, being ayes, 11, noes, 19. The attendance at the meeting was large—55, and though much time was necessarily occupied in preliminaries, was very successful. Indeed, the Philo. Senate promises to be one of the most interesting organizations of the school.

School Meeting.

A school meeting was held on Tuesday morning for the purpose of taking up a collection to get a prize cup for the winners of the doubles in the Andover-Exeter tennis tournament. The custom of the school in this respect was explained by Neale, and after his motion was carried the collection was received.

PHILLIPPIAN board meetings are held Wednesday and Saturday noons.

Entered as second-class matter at the Andover Post Office.

THE ANDOVER PRESS, PRINTERS.

The result of Wednesday's game was a surprise to the whole school, as we did not even expect to win it. Brown was weakened by the loss of three of her best men, who were laid up; while our men played a strong and steady game throughout, making the best gains through the centre, Brown being unable to prevent our men from making holes. What few gains the visitors made were around the ends.

The general improvement of the team is becoming more marked every day, as each player shows more determination to fill his position to the best of his ability. The tendency to line up slowly, however, is quite strong, and it ought to be broken up as soon as possible.

We noticed that one of last year's players was generally the last man in his place. This ought not to be so, for every old player should be an example to the new men in every respect, so we hope that this hint will be taken, thus making the mention of names unnecessary.

This year's series of athletic contests with Exeter opens this afternoon with the annual tennis tournament on the home grounds. The men who are to represent us may feel assured of the hearty support of every student, and all that is asked of them in return by the school is that they play as strong a game as they are capable of doing; and whether victory comes to us or not they can feel sure that their efforts to place the cups in our trophy case will be fully appreciated.

We should like to remind the fellows, also, that it is their duty to turn out in a body, and give our representatives their hearty support.

As the attendance will doubtless be large, and the space around the court limited, we hope that the students will adapt themselves to any disadvantages arising on this account, and they will co-operate with both the police force, in giving the players all the room that is needed for the game, and with the cheering staff, especially, for good cheering will be a great encouragement to our players.

If there should arise any occasion for disputing any play during the game, we hope the fellows will quietly await the decision of the judges, and, if they must give vent to their feelings, that they will do so in cheering only. Our representatives at Exeter, last fall, were treated as gentlemen, and courtesy to our visitors demands a reciprocation of such a feeling by us.

We are in receipt of several pieces of original poetry for which we are thankful. We shall be pleased to publish every such contribution as is handed in to us, so we hope that the students inclined to write poetry will occasionally favor our columns.

The competition for the vacant places on the PHILLIPPIAN board is not so spirited as it ought to be. From such large classes as '93 and '94, there should be a larger number trying than has up to this time signified any intention of securing a place on the board. There can be no such excuse as having nothing about which to write, for there is always something of interest to the school at large transpiring. The People's Course of lectures and entertainments furnishes a good opportunity for writing reports, so do the regular meetings of the literary societies in school. It will be necessary to place several fellows on the board before long and we urge all who are inclined to paper work to begin to write at once.

THE EXETER GAME

Will soon be at hand and there is no doubt that as usual the young men of the Academy are making every possible arrangement for that glorious day in the career of every student in the Academy. Do not forget that this game is played in the bleak winds of November, and in order to enjoy every feature of the game and every brilliant play that will in all probability be made, you must be comfortably clothed. This is positively necessary to a full and complete enjoyment of the glorious contest. You can be thus comfortably clothed by calling at P. J. Hannon's and ordering him to make you a heavy, long-skirted, and handsomely hooded ulster. He has a superb line of elegant browns, grays and other popular and stylish shades, and will make you one at a reasonable price, that will be second to none made in this vicinity in point of style, fit, grace, and durability. Come in at once and let me show you the display.

foot-ball game began, a large propor-duced and the cheering begun. But word had been passed among the '93

tenance a rush carried on while the foot ball game was in progress. Accordingly the members of '93 declined to rush, though they were eager to have the matter settled, being confident of success. After cheering a few minutes, '94 disbanded.

When the foot-ball game was over,
the '93 men collected and attempted to force a rush; a few members of '93
foolishly went to the room of the president of '94 to take possession of the cane. Fortunately they were not successful and, although there was much excitement for a time, all ended pleasantly and without a rush. It is hoped, however, that another challenge will soon be given so that the matter may be settled and a cause of disquiet removed.

Class Meeting.

A joint meeting of P.A. and P.S.
'92 met in Room 9, Tuesday noon, to hear the reports of the committees on a class symbol and on class colors.
McLaren, chairman of the committee
on a class symbol presented two articles, namely: a ring and a high silk hat. A vote was taken by ballot, and the class selected the ring by a vote of 29 to 21.—Nettleton, chairman of the committee on class colors reported that the committee thought it unadvisable to change the present combination, which is copper and white.
