Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., Dec. 3, 1892.

No. 22.

Latin Commons 6; Morton Street 0.

Latin Commons played their second championship game Tuesday afternoon, against Morton Street, and defeated them in two ten-minute halves, by the above score. Latin Commons had the better rushline, but their backs were not much better than Morton Street's, owing to their costly fumbling. Morton Street was very weak in offensive play. Womelsdorf did their best work, while for Latin Commons Parker made good gains through Uffenheimer's holes, and Cowdery made some good gains around the ends. Neither side made any brilliant plays.

The first half was closely contested, Latin Commons losing by fumbling whatever advantages they had gained. The ball was not within 35 yards of either goal in this half. In the second half Latin Commons presented a very solid looking V, and it proved to be such, as they gained 20 yards before they were stopped. They then pushed the ball up the field by short rushes through the centre to Morton Street's 5-yard line, where it was lost on a fumble. Cowdery spoils the kick and Phillips drops on the ball. Terrill then goes through the centre for a touchdown. Johnson kicks a goal. Time was called soon after.

"A Statement of Facts."

The following reply with the above heading was made made by our worthy contemporary, the Exonian, to the charges we recently preferred against our rival school. The article is an extract from the Exeter News Letter:

"The Andover, Mass., Townsman declares that Phillips Exeter had on her victorious eleven four men who were simply in school to play foot-ball, of whom three have already left school and the fourth will take his departure at Christmas. Professionalism is imputed to Exeter and her authorities were asked to give attention to the evil. The Townsman is sadly in error. With one exception every member of Exeter's eleven was a student of regular and complete standing, and three of the four against whom the Townsman's charges are probably made rank with the first third of their classes in scholarship. All students are privileged to leave school at their own pleasure and with their parent's consent, but there is not the slightest indication that such is the intention of these three. Captain Thomas, a graduate last June, was permitted to take postgraduate courses only on condition that he should do faithful and regular work in his selected courses. His standing as a student has been of the best, and in playing upon the eleven he simply exercised a right. He is of age, and has exercised another in withdrawing from the school, though it was understood by the school authorities that he was to remain throughout the year. The return of graduates for advanced work is by no means exceptional. Thomas' case differs from many others simply in the fact that he was an excellent athlete."

Phillips Street 4, Latin Commons 0.

The snow did not prevent Phillips Street and L. C. from playing an exciting game of foot-ball on Wednesday to decide the street championship. A fair-sized crowd attended in spite of the cold cutting wind and snow, and gave loyal support to the elevens.

In the first-half, Phillips Street kept the ball in Latin Commons' territory but were unable to score, although at one time they succeeded in pushing the ball within fifteen yards of the goal. In the second half Phillips Street only succeeded in scoring five seconds before time was called. No goal was kicked. For Phillips Street, Lapham, Drew and A. Bliss played well, while Johnston, Cowdery and Terrill did the best for L. C.

Phillips Street thus won the championship for '92.

The teams were as follows:

PHILLIPS ST.		LATIN COMMONS.
Drew, Fuller, Marvin, Meldrum, Wright, P. D. Wright, R. G. Hickman, Bliss, A. Donovan, W. Belknap, Lapham,	Rushers	Clark, Pettee, Pratt, Phillips, Williams, Uffenheimer, Temple, Johnston,	Quarter-backs,
	Half-backs	Cowdery, Parker, Terrill.	Full-backs,

The December Mirror.

The December number of the Mirror appeared yesterday and shows a marked improvement over the preceding one. As a rule the articles are excellent and the weak love tales which we criticised so in the November issue are entirely lacking.

Dr. Bierwith has a good article on the American Boy in School, in which he analyzes us in a remarkably interesting manner, not neglecting to point out our many faults. The sketch "Jim's Homecoming" by Thomas, '93, is one of the best contributions of the kind the Mirror has yet published. Mr. Rlymington West by Gilmore '93 is also good. The translation of Gwilym Hirdethog's well known Ode on Peace, by J. W. Lewis, is very creditable. The other pieces are well written and are interesting.

If the numbers to come are as well made up as this one, the Mirror editors may feel assured that their efforts will meet the hearty approval of the students and as the financial portion is fast making fortunes for the editors, nothing could be more promising.

Christ Church Fair.

The fair given last Wednesday evening in the Chapel connected with Christ Church was quite a success. There were many tables loaded with good things and fancy articles which were well patronized by the large crowd present. The Phillips Glee Club rendered several selections much to the delight of all present. As a whole, the affair passed off very successfully, and the ladies are to be congratulated upon the success of their undertaking.

Yale Graduates as College Presidents.

The following Yale graduates are at present presidents of colleges:

- Yale University, Rev. Timothy Dwight, D. D., L.L. D., '49.
- John Hopkins University, Daniel C. Gilman, L.L. D., '52.
- Rutgers College, Austin Scott, L.L. D., '69.
- University of Minnesota, Cyrus Northrop, L.L. D., '47.
- Pennsylvania State College, George W. Atherton, L.L. D., '63.
- Beloit College, Rev. Edward D. Eaton, D. D. L.L. D., '75 T. S.
- Atlanta University, Rev. Horace Bumstead, D. D. '63.
- Tulane University, William H. Johnston, L.L. D., '62.
- Southern University, Rev. George W. Bothwell, D.D., '81, T. S.

Non-Sectarian American University.

Bishop John F. Hurst tells the New York Methodist ministers that the great non-sectarian American university at Washington is progressing very satisfactorily. The ninety-two acres of land at the capital, which have been bought and paid for, have risen in value until the land is now worth at least half a million. A good beginning has also been made in money subscriptions, and the bishop is confident that enough of the $10,000,000 which it is proposed to raise will soon be in sight to warrant a start in the work of building.

Mrs. John A. Logan has also undertaken to raise from the women of the country the amount of $100,000 for this institution. The money she intends to secure will be for the benefit of women students.

Phillips Orchestra.

The orchestra has begun rehearsals, with positions as follows: First violins, Reigel, Woodfin, Thomas; second violins, North, Johnson, Rankin, Thayer, Mann, Uffenheimer; clarinet, J. Manning; flutes, Pratt, Jefferis; double bass, Chase.

Harvard 'Varsity Crew.

Now that the excitement of foot-ball is over, attention turns to the 'Varsity crew. This year's captain starts out with the not easy task of having three positions to fill, as only four of last year's crew have returned to college. It will be difficult to sift out three men to take the places of Kelton, Rantoul and Lynam. The foot-ball men who rowed last year will take a rest, but very soon Newell, Waters, Acton and Cummings will begin rowing again.

At present there are only nine men trying for the crew, but a call for candidates will be given within the next week. The men rowing at present, and their weights are as follows: Talbot, 168; Weed, 160; Stevenson, 159; Thompson, 171; Smith, 158; Ninde, 145; Kaven, 170 1-2; Potter, 171 1-2; Goodwin, 172 1-2. The men row daily for about three-quarters of an hour in the rowing-room, take dumb-bell work and exercise on the chest weights with a short run up North Avenue. Ex-captain Perkins is coaching the men, and this preliminary work is sure to develop some good material.—Crimson.

The Andover Press.

In offering a prize for a school song we are not forgetful of the fact that a song now exists and that several efforts have been made in the past to meet this long-felt need. Although we have a song it has never taken the hold upon the school that would make it lasting in appreciation. It was sung for a while, but has now all but died. The famous Dr. Ray Palmer also wrote a song for the school, but it too has long since been forgotten. We mention these so that would-be contributors may have some appreciation of their undertaking. We do not confine the writers to the English language. A Latin song of sufficient merit will be just as acceptable. Some schools have their most popular songs in Latin, and Phillips would be in good company in having the same. Our victory song is very satisfactory and we do not need another of this kind. What we desire is one full of spirit, set to some music already popular or capable of becoming so and as far as possible characteristic of Andover life and spirit. We offer a prize for this, but that will be the least of the reward to that one who can give us an undying song and thus immortalize his own name. It is hoped that every fellow of any ability whatever will try. Contributions may be left in the PHILLIPPIAN box in the lower hall.

A school like Phillips has a business credit to maintain. It is recognized as a business factor and tradesmen are naturally desirous of obtaining the patronage of its members. Naturally, too, they are ready to support the various publications of the school; finding them practical advertising mediums, and sometimes give their support to such school publications, even when there is no apparent advantage to be gained, because they take a friendly interest in the school.

Our advertisers, then, are our friends. It is simple justice to them that their support should be asked only when the school at large is to be benefitted. But sometimes an unfair advantage has been taken of our advertisers' friendship. Individuals have produced advertising schemes which were beneficial only to themselves and have worked them in the name of the school.

Such a course was in every case a menace to the school credit. The faculty have accordingly prohibited all co-operative advertising schemes, for these were found to be the most numerous and the most troublesome of the kind.

Now this prohibition was published and was carefully made known to the fellows in school. It is, therefore, with the greatest surprise that we learn that a co-operative scheme is being worked up by members of the school. We understand that they have taken great pains to evade the letter of the prohibition we have mentioned, but their very precautions are proof of their intention.

The foot-ball series of the local teams, which ended Wednesday in a triumph for Phillips Street, has been one of the most interesting and best played set of games we have witnessed here. Most of the teams had had some practice, either as street teams or as individuals on the second eleven.

On the whole, too, the games were void of most of their usual disagreeable features. The excellence of the play no doubt added much toward giving them the importance they seemed to hold in the school life. Certainly nothing could be more desirable than this.

One thing stands out prominently in the final result as worthy of notice.
That is the good derived from thorough practice. If all the teams had taken the amount of training throughout the results would in all probability have been different.
