

The Phillipian.

Vol. XVI.

Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., September 23, 1893.

No. 2.

Communication.

To the Editors of the Phillipian:

Very few fellows who have never played base-ball or especially foot-ball on a large school team can appreciate the very important part that the cheering plays in the kind of a game put up by the home team.

In a school meeting held in our chapel on the morning of the Andover Exeter game of '91 Mr. King, then leader of the cheering staff, among other things said that a member of the team had told him that a good sharp cheer always made him feel as if he could go through a stone wall. Now if good yelling can make a man feel like bucking hard rock, it ought to send him through any ordinary rush-line with a vim that should gain him his coveted five yards.

It has been a fact to be deplored by Andover men that, in past years, Exeter has undoubtedly out-cheered us whenever she has met us. This can and ought to be remedied, and it lies in the power of the fellows in school to wipe out the old record and make a new one this fall that shall put our cheering on a par with our athletics.

Upon the backing that a team gets during a game depends, in a greater measure than one would suppose, the determination and snap with which the men play, and this hearty support should not be confined to the time when the men are going down the field. It should be when the odds are against us, when everything looks black and we are losing ground. Then is the time when a worn out and battered team needs the biggest kind of encouragement from its school and then is the time it should have it.

The new men in school will be given a chance to learn the cheers before Saturday's game and it is hoped that the staff will receive such ready support and the team such hearty backing that this afternoon's, the initial game of the season, will be a start of which we may be proud in every way.

H. B. WILCOX.

Editors of the Phillipian:

I understand that the athletic field house at the running track is going to be open this year only from 4.30 till 6 o'clock on ordinary school days and from 3 o'clock till 6 on half-holidays. If the foot-ball men want to use it for dressing these hours will bar them entirely out, for they will not be able to dress there at all, as practice begins as soon as school is over; and even on holidays, when it opens an hour and a half earlier, it will be too late, as many of the games are called at three, and all before half-past. So couldn't some more convenient arrangement be made for the team men?

ATHLETICS.

Editors of the Phillipian:

The great number of new fellows who daily play upon the courts of the Tennis Association ought to be reminded of some of the rules concerning the playing of tennis on these courts, and therefore we beg leave to do this through your columns.

ARTICLE II. Laws governing the use of courts.

Sec. 1. No students of Phillips Academy, except members, shall play on the Association courts.

Sec. 2. No person shall play on the Association courts with heeled shoes.

Sec. 3. No members shall play more than two consecutive sets on the same court when other members are waiting for a chance to play.

Now that these rules have been made, why could not all the fellows act according to them on all occasions, whether there be officers present to enforce them or not? For in this way each member will get a chance to play with but a comparatively short delay, the courts will be kept in better condition, and the Association in enlisting new members will be better able to carry on its improvements.

Editors of the Phillipian:

Some years ago a training-table for the foot-ball eleven was not provided till two weeks before the Exeter game. Lately a table has been provided about three weeks after the opening of school. This year we will probably play many college elevens, and the majority of Andover's opponents will be men. Our team will be made up of young men, and to meet men with some assurance of success they need to be in the pink of condition. The fellows of the eleven need every help, and unless they have every help they may fall before Exeter this year. Exeter has been at work longer than we have.

Doubtless many of the fellows in the houses do not select the food best suited for men playing foot ball and the Commons fellows do not have food necessary for doing the hard work required, and often on account of that indiscretion a day is lost. Why should not the training table be provided next week? We must do all in our power to wrest victory from Exeter, and all such things in the end make a vast difference.

FOOT-BALL.

Philo.

The first regular meeting of the Philomathean Society was held in Society Hall Friday night. The meeting was not largely attended but proved very interesting. Bingham offered the opening prayer. There was considerable business transacted among which was the appointment of a committee to revise the constitution, and also one to consider a scheme to relieve the financial depression of the last year Masque editors and to consider the subject of admitting the Forum to a half share in the interests of the Masque publication.

Opening the literary department of the meeting Bingham gave an interesting extempore upon the types of people at the World's Fair. It was really the best extempore heard in Philo for a long time. Bristol followed with an address on "The relative advantages of large and small colleges." McCurdy delivered a declamation, and then the debate opened on the subject, "Resolved: That the present financial distress is due to the present party."

Branch led the affirmative and Grilk the negative. Grilk's speech was first class and won the decision of the president. The affirmative, however, won the floor vote. Beard, Bingham, Bristol, Emery and McClure spoke on the affirmative, and Drummond, Lester, Straus and Sanders upon the negative. Bingham made the most sensible argument.

The meeting was at times disturbed by boisterous and childish actions from persons who are responsible. It seems a pity that this department can not be taken more seriously by some.

Forum.

One of the most successful meetings which Forum has ever held deeply interested the fellows who gathered in Room 9 on Friday evening. After prayer had been offered by Clark, Pres. Schreiber introduced W. B. Parker of P.A. '93, one of the founders of the society, who gave a retrospect of the Forum. He mentioned the meeting at English Commons of some members of Philo, who started Forum in order to awaken interest and infuse life into the literary body of the school. During the first year of the society's existence, which was a year of struggle and hard work, nearly all the members took part at every meeting. The fine work of Closson, Wyer's literary sketches, Clark's declamations, and the work of Lewis and Seki were all appreciated and remembered with pleasure. The speaker believed that Forum had stood for breadth and earnestness, that it had succeeded in doing good, and that it believed in doing what is here and now, and in doing it as well and as quickly as possible. In closing Parker urged that, above all things, we get at the truth, and that we have consideration for and sympathy with new speakers. Parker's words were very timely and helpful.

J. W. Lewis delivered an extempore on "The work of the literary publications in school." He exhorted very strongly all fellows who had a taste for such work to improve themselves by engaging in this department of our literary life. It gives to a fellow the increasing power to express himself clearly, breadth of view, and self-reliance. D. B. Eddy rendered a declamation very finely. A speech in a humorous vein was made by Clouse.

On the question, "Resolved: that the benefit derived from the World's Fair does not warrant the expense," Gardner and Pettee supported the affirmative and M. B. Patterson and Gordon the negative. The debate was interesting and a few spoke from the house. The decision was given in favor of the affirmative. Woolsey and Fickey were admitted to membership. The attendance was very good.

Glee and Mandolin Clubs.

The following men have been selected for the Banjo Club:

Banjeaurines, Tyler, Spence, Swift, Wilcox, Richardson, Hinds.

2nd Banjos, Grubb, Pride, Moseley. Mandolin, Farlin.

Guitars, Letton, C. H. Simmons, Hillman, Hooper, Elliot, McLanchlan.

The following are members of the Mandolin Club: Platt, James, Piper, Davis, Farlin, Letton, Simmons, Hillman, Hooper, McLanchlan, Spence, Elliot.

The first rehearsal will be on Tuesday night, the Banjo Club at 6.45 sharp and the Mandolin Club at 7.30.

THE PHILLIPIAN will be issued every Wednesday and Saturday during the school year, except in vacation.

All business communications should be addressed to the business manager.

All communications must be accompanied by the writer's full name and address, not necessarily for publication unless so desired.

Communications may be addressed to THE PHILLIPIAN, Andover, Mass., or dropped in the Phillipian box placed in the main hall of the Academy building.

The editors do not hold themselves responsible for the opinions of any correspondent.

PHILLIPIAN Board meetings are held Wednesday and Saturday noons.

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AT ANDOVER POST-OFFICE.

NOTICE

To insure change of advertisement, copy must be received for Wednesday not later than Tuesday noon; for Saturday, not later than Friday noon.

The Andover Press.

The communication on cheering should be read by every fellow in school and we hope it will have the effect of arousing in us something of the enthusiasm so great a school should have for their team.

The communication concerning the opening of the athletic house is most worthy of notice. The chief reason the house was built was for the use of the team as a dressing room. As is stated, the proposed hours do not furnish the team a chance to dress in the house and if possible they should be extended.

A number of fellows each year desire to try for the PHILLIPIAN, and this year it is our hope that the competition will be closer and the number of candidates larger than heretofore. There are only two men on the board from '95 and none from '96. Men are needed from both these classes and a number should try. In order that the editors may the more easily find out who wishes to try and the candidates may receive some hints as to the form, etc., of contributions a meeting of all who wish to try for the paper will be called early next week and it is hoped the response will be large.

Now that school is well under way and the different school organizations are getting in working order it is not out of place to urge the fellows to support them generously. It may seem tiresome to be asked again and again for subscriptions, but what Andover fellow who cares anything for the school would want the foot-ball management to be unable to arrange a good schedule for lack of support, or the tennis association to be too poor to have the courts fixed up. When anyone is asked for a subscription let him give as much as he can and remember how much he enjoys the good foot-ball games that a well-supported management can give him and the close sets of tennis which can be played only on well-kept courts.

We print above the announcement of the dates and subjects of the People's Course. These lectures and concerts are always of great merit and enjoy a deservedly large patronage from the Academy students. The tickets will be on sale next Friday at 7.30 P.M. in the Town Hall, and it is hoped that many of the fellows will buy them.

Yale in Hard Luck.

The practice of the Yale team at Traver's Island has been of the most rudimentary nature, and no idea whatever of the style of play Yale will adopt can be formed till the team has lined up on the Yale field, which will not be till to-day.

The inability of Clarence DeWitt, substitute half-back last year and a leading candidate this season for the vacant positions left by the graduation of the Bliss brothers, to return to college this fall struck Capt. Hinkey like a thunderbolt when he heard the tidings. DeWitt's loss is one to which Hinkey cannot reconcile himself.

The Grand OLD SCHOOL!

How she grows! Financial panics, tariff agitation, business depression, not one or all of these disturbing elements could affect the great and glorious old Phillips Academy.

Year after year she grows bigger and grander, constantly widening in influence, constantly adding in teaching force, in equipment, in ability to produce sterling young men. May she ever thus grow and prosper! May each succeeding year add a new gem to the already brilliant crown! May the class of '94 be the brightest gem of all! Grow on forever, old Phillips! Always onward and upward!

And remember, Students of '94, however rapidly the old school may grow, however grand she may become, the old reliable clothing store of the undersigned will always keep in the van. The improvements now going on will make my store the most beautiful clothing store in Essex County. - E. J. HANSON.

YOUR

CLOTHING TRADE!

Will never all come to me or any other man. It is only by a constant effort to produce the most for the money and give a dollar's worth for every dollar received that the business men to-day can make business a success.

For 17 Years

We have catered to the tailoring and furnishing trade of PHILLIPS ACADEMY STUDENTS, and a constantly increasing patronage affirms somewhat the success of our efforts. At the opening of another year we wish to solicit a generous share of the trade that has been given to us in the past, and we can assure our customers that though our present quarters are somewhat cramped, our stock will be found new and complete, and no pains will be spared to fulfill every demand that can be made on a first-class tailoring and furnishing store.

PHILLIPIANA.

Phillips vs. Boston Latin School this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

B. Clement, P.S. '93, has been in town.

The Wesleyan foot-ball candidates began work Tuesday.

Princeton opened Sept. 20, and the foot-ball practice commenced Thursday.

Ogilvie, P.A. '91, Williams '95, guard on the '90 team, coached the foot-ball candidates Wednesday.

T. B. Turner, Princeton '93, won the half-mile international race at Chicago this summer. Time, 2.01.

Colver J. Stone, P.A. '90, full-back on the '89 team, watched the practice Thursday afternoon.

At a meeting of Phillips Street, Thursday, Belknap was elected captain; Marshall '95, Schenck '95 and Widdicombe '95, managers.

There are sixty-five old fellows and sixty-five new fellows at Williston, making a total of 130.

The first prize of $50 for the best Princeton song has been awarded to N. B. Larkington for his "Princeton Days."

The Harvard backs are required to report daily at 10.30 A.M., the whole team practising in the afternoon.

Amherst has again bettered her record for total number of students. Last year the entering class of 125 made the college larger than ever before; but this year the 150 freshmen make a total of nearly 450.

The most promising of the candidates for the University of Pennsylvania team have been practising at Cape May since Sept. 1st.

R. E. Speer, P.A. '86, P. '90, was one of the most prominent speakers at the Northfield Conference last July.

The Yale team have been at Travers Island till now, but to-day they will return to New Haven.

The first game Yale will play is with Wesleyan, on Oct. 7. She meets the West Point Cadet team this season, for the first time.

F. T. Murphy, P.A. '93, captain of the base-ball team here for two years, and tackle on last season's foot-ball team, will not enter Brown, as stated in the Boston papers, but intends to go to Yale.

Athletic manager Herbert H. White of Harvard will have 4000 new seats erected on Jarvis field, similar to those on Hampden Park, Springfield, with the exception that they will be given more slant. They will be strong and comfortable, with a solid floor.

Yale loses only two rushers, but she will find it a difficult matter to fill the places left vacant by Laurie Bliss and Vance McCormick. Her center men however, will be hard to beat in any of the college teams this season.

Ex-Lieut. Governor Crosby of Grand Rapids, Mich., died at the house of a friend in Boston on the 12th inst. He was a graduate of the University of Rochester, and for many years regent of the University of Michigan, and the father of James M. Crosby, P.A. '87, and Raymond M. Crosby, P.A. '93. The latter was with him at the time of his death.

People's Course.

The management of the People's Course announce for this year a shorter but a much better course of entertainments than has ever before given in town. The dates and entertainments are as follows:

Oct. 9. The Columbian Concert
Co., comprising Miss Alice Wentworth, soprano; Wulf Fries, violin 'cellist;
C. L. Staats, clarinet virtuoso; Miss
Jessie Mabel Downer, accompanist;
Miss Julia King, reader.

Oct. 16. Lecture, Lee Merriwether.

Oct. 30. Tableaux of Art, with lecture by Prof Samuel R. Kelley.

Nov. 20. John DeWitt Miller.

Dec. 4. Illustrated lecture, subject,
Imperial India, Dr. John C. Bowker, Lawrence.

Dec. 18. Illustrated lecture, H. H.
Ragan.

The list has been shortened from eight to six entertainments this season, for the committee thought it preferable to have them fewer in number with better talent, than to secure eight mediocre attractions. As Wulf Fries' name appears on the programme of the Columbian Company, the first night, a full house is insured. The tickets will probably be sold at auction at the Town Hall on Friday evening Sept. 29, the price being the same as last year.

George Witherbee, Cornell '93, was drowned this summer by the capsizing of his yacht on Lake Champlain. It was his intention to return to college
