No Williams Game.

WILLIAMSTOWN, MASS.,
Oct. 12, 1893.

O. M. CLARK, ESQ.:

Dear Sir: It is with great regret that I have to write to you to cancel our date of the 16th inst. I had set my heart on a date with you and arranged Monday after the Harvard game as the only date that could be fixed on account of a special trip to Andover costing so much. I learned yesterday that the alumni and captain were opposed to playing two such hard games in close succession, and it would oblige the team to use all and more of the "cuts" allowed them by the faculty, hence it is necessary for me to cancel our date. I trust that this will cause no hard feelings between us, and if there is any, let it be visited on the present management, and not on the college, as the fault is mine. If there was any way in which I can make restitution, I would be glad to do it. If you have made expenses in advertising the game, I would like to pay them. With apologies for disappointing you, I am, yours,

V. C. TURNER.

Tennis Tournament.

We will be represented in the tennis tournament with Exeter in singles, by Parker '97, and in doubles by Prentiss '94, and Parker '97. It will be played next Wednesday.

Communication.

Editors of Phillipian:

I do not doubt but that the reading room committee intends to provide a better reading room than the Academy has ever before had, but when are we to have the use of this well-equipped room? This is the fifth week of the term and nothing but dust covers the shelves of the reading room, whereas the papers should long ago have been in their places. The sale should have been held earlier. Although we had poorer accommodations, we had something to read, which is a state of affairs much more endurable than the present. I think we have a hard-working committee, if I am to believe what I hear, but let us hope that their efforts will be spent in the right direction and that we shall see the reading room in use before the close of another week.

Forum.

The regular meeting of the Forum was held last evening and was called to order by vice-president Eddy. Pet-tee opened with a prayer. Dewey gave a critique of the last meeting, and although he made some hard hits it was good. C. H. Chamberlain's extempore on the "Vigilant and Valkyrie" was interesting to all who knew that the Vigilant had won her third race that afternoon. The declamation by D. L. Eddy was well rendered.

Then followed the debate: "Resolved, That no contest or contests can take the place of the Exeter game." Speakers on the affirmative: O. M. Clark and Starbuck. On the negative: Blaikie and Kearney. The debate was rather one-sided, but all spoke well. Clark spoke best and was very clear and logical. Chamberlain, Skinner, Eddy and Chadwell spoke from the house on the affirmative and Gardner on the negative.

A public announcement was made by Clark to the effect that the Faculty had decided to let the school play this year with Exeter and that the arrangements were being made between the two managers.

This was a very interesting meeting and there was a large attendance. Several Philo men were there and seemed to enjoy themselves.

Philo.

Philo held her regular meeting at 7 o'clock last night. A committee was appointed to revise the constitution and also one to arrange an entertainment for the end of the term: Bingham, Bristol, Emery and Grilk comprise the first one and Branch and A. C. Mack make up the latter.

To the literary part of the evening Hinman contributed the critique, and was followed by Morrow who spoke extemporaneously upon the co-operative system presented last year before the school. Edgell gave a select reading.

The debate: "Resolved, That the United States navy is inadequate to the needs of the country" was discussed by Eaton on the affirmative and Pringle on the negative. The assistants on the affirmative were Laing and A. J. Smith; on the negative, Worrall and Bristol.

Worth made the best speech of the evening, talking on the affirmative. The debate was not as interesting as usual, although many new faces were seen among the attendants.

Tennis Honors for Brown.

Brown University won both doubles and singles in the Inter-Collegiate tournament held at New Haven the past week. Malcolm Chace, Brown '96, defeated Foote, P.A. '92, Yale '96, in singles by the score of 6-3, 6-2, 6-2. Chace and Budlong were also victorious over their Yale rivals in doubles by the score of 6-1, 6-3, 3-6, 2-6, 6-4.

Tennis Tournaments.

The winners of the various tennis tournaments played in the United States during the season are as follows:

World's Fair tournament at Chicago, single, F. H. Hovey; double, Hovey and Hobart.

Middle States Championship, won by Richard Stevens.

Pacific Coast Championship, won by Thomas Driscoll.

Western Championship, single, S. T. Chase; doubles, McCormick Brothers.

Tuxedo Invitation, won by Clarence Hobart.

Narragansett Open, singles, Malcolm Chace; doubles, Hovey and Chace.

Manchester-by-the-Sea, won by Malcolm Chace.

Kebo Valley, won by Valentine G. Hall.

Long Island Championship, won by W. A. Larned.

Sorrento, won by R. D. Wrenn.

National Championship at New York, won by R. D. Wrenn.

Harvard and Yale Agree.

The Harvard and Yale managers and captains met Wednesday afternoon and settled the dispute relating to the great game on the Saturday before Thanksgiving. The conference took place in the Carey building, the headquarters of the 'varsity eleven. It began early in the afternoon and lasted until after 5 o'clock.

There was considerable talk about the points under question, but the meeting was one of the most friendly in several years. Everything went smoothly, and everything was settled to the satisfaction of both parties.

The representatives were Captain Waters and Manager Lane for Harvard

Capt. Hinkey and Manager Holter for Yale. Waters and Hinkey also had a private conference.

As to the undergraduate rule so much talked about, it was agreed by both that the agreement to play under the playing rules of the Intercollegiate Association would not compel Harvard to play an undergraduate eleven, but that each college should play under its own rules, the old rules as to the eligibility of players to govern again this year. So this matter is settled for good. Harvard can play its university eleven, but Yale will adhere to undergraduates.

The other important point to decide was upon the umpire and referee. Last year's umpire was S. V. Coffin of Wesleyan, whose work was severely criticised at the time. The umpire this year will be Moffatt of Princeton, who was the referee in last year's contest with Yale. The Yale representatives favored Coffin, but finally agreed upon Moffatt. The referee will be Capt. Schoff of last year's star University of Pennsylvania eleven. The men have not signified their willingness to accept, but it is taken for granted that they will do so.

Yale Foot-Ball Schedule.

The following schedule of games has been arranged for the coming season;

Saturday, Oct. 7. Crescent Athletic Club at Brooklyn.

Wednesday, Oct. 11. Trinity at New Haven.

Saturday, Oct. 14. Dartmouth at New Haven.

Wednesday, Oct. 18. Amherst at New Haven.

Saturday, Oct. 21. Orange Athletic Club at Orange.

Wednesday, Oct. 25. Williams at New Haven.

Saturday, Oct. 28. West Point, at West Point.

Wednesday, Nov. 1. Tufts College at New Haven.

Tuesday, Nov. 7. New York Athletic Club at New York.

The Harvard game will probably be played on the Saturday preceding Thanksgiving, as usual. The game with Princeton will take place on Thanksgiving Day.

Thirty-four candidates are training for the Princeton Freshman team.

The Andover Press.

A week ago an announcement came out in the PHILLIPPIAN of a handicap meet and, as it comes off next Saturday, it is perhaps not out of place to speak a word here about it. Liberal handicaps will be given and everyone who has had any former experience in athletics is urged to enter. The object is not only to see how many good athletes there are in school but also to see how many fellows there are who can be made into good athletes, so there is an opening for everyone. Let all the fellows who have ever had any experience and all who think they can do anything enter and see how much they can do.

This street elevens have at last begun their practice for the fall games. There is one feature, however, which ought to be mentioned in connection with this organization. It is hard enough for the captain of a street team to select his men from the material usually offered, but when not more than eleven men turn out, what is he to do? The lack of candidates is a very noticeable feature of this fall's street elevens so far. There must be more men who can play foot-ball, and why they will not come out we cannot understand. Perhaps some are trying for the second eleven, and if there are such, they may not know that they can play on both the second eleven, and their street team, as well as not. This is such a serious matter that if more men do not turn out there will be no street teams whatever, and another of Andover's old customs will have been destroyed. Let every man, large or small who has ever played or wishes to play football, come out in response to the call of the captain of his street team, and do his level best to help on the work of practice.

To an outsider, the rush for the Phillippians as they are being distributed in front of the school-building bears more resemblance to a cane-rush than anything else. The way some of the fellows push and crowd is exceedingly annoying to the men who distribute the papers as well as to the majority of the students who receive them.

If each fellow will take his time and wait for his turn, rather than strive to see who will get a paper first, it will save the distributor considerable trouble and the papers will be distributed much more quickly and with less annoyance all around.

The Williams College Centennial Celebration.

During the week Williams College has been celebrating its one hundredth anniversary, and from newspaper accounts it has been a great success. The ceremonies consisted in educational conferences at which prominent educators from all over the country were present, various class reunions, receptions and reunions of the Greek Fraternities and numerous other meetings were held. Among the prominent persons in attendance may be mentioned the names of Presidents Low of Columbia, Andrews of Brown, and Dwight of Yale, Governor Russell, Senator Lodge, and Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts.

THE EXETER Agreement.

The following is the text of the agreement on the part of the Exeter manager to play a foot-ball game this fall:

I agree to pay O. M. Clark $25.00 as a guarantee for a game to be played at Exeter on Saturday, Nov. 11, between Phillips Andover and the Phillips Exeter foot-ball teams.

CHARLES I. WRIGHT,
MGR. P. E. A., F. B. A.

No one can be more pleased at the outcome of this recent difficulty, and we most sincerely hope that years of peaceful warfare in athletics may be again inaugurated by the coming foot-ball contest. But "give us war or give us peace." Your obedient servant herewith subscribed will always be found on top and ever ready to serve all the students of old Phillips Andover.

A large number of P. A. fellows witnessed the Exeter-Tufts game last Wednesday.

E. S. Sawyer, P. A. '95, manager of last year's foot-ball team, spent Wednesday in Andover.

Thomas, captain of Exeter's victorious foot-ball team last fall, is playing half-back on U. of Pa.

Captain Hickey of Yale, Andover '91, Yale '95, witnessed the first half of the Harvard-Tech. game last Wednesday.

A. E. Foote, P. A. '92, Yale '96, got second place both in singles and doubles in the inter-collegiate tennis tournament.

Beal, ex-P. S. '93, who has been playing left tackle on the Harvard Varsity is laid up with water on the knee.

The Cornell Daily Sun editorial board have split, and there are two daily papers being published, one being copy righted.

Trafford, captain of Harvard's eleven last fall, and Highlands, pitcher on the nine, are in the employ of the Bell Telephone Co.

Cornell will probably erect a memorial to G. P. Witherbee, last year's foot-ball captain, who was drowned this summer while attempting to rescue a boy.

Tuesday, Windle lowered the world's bicycle records—flying start—for the half, three-fourths, and mile to 56 3-5 1.29 3-5 and 1.58 1-5 respectively.

W. B. Parker, P. A. '93, business manager of the Phillipian last year, is mentioned as a candidate for the freshman foot-ball team, at Harvard.

The largest class ever graduated from an American College was sent out from the Univ. of Mich. this year. It numbered 731, 32 more than the class of '92.

All the Southern universities and colleges show great gains in attendance. Especially is this noticeable at the University of N. C., Trinity, N. C., University of Va., and Johns Hopkins.
