Admission Requirements for Harvard.

Beginning with the current year some minor changes in the requirements for admission to Harvard College take effect. Certificates of candidates for a preliminary examination, made in a form prescribed by the College, must be in the hands of the secretary of the college by June 14, if the candidates are to be examined elsewhere than in Cambridge, and while, as before, no certificate of fitness is required for a final examination, every candidate for such examination must now furnish to the secretary, a month before the examination, a testimonial of honorable dismissal from the school which he has last attended, and must also refer to two persons, preferably his teachers, who can give information in regard to him.

In the examinations in both advanced French and Advanced German in 1894 a choice will be allowed between examinations according to the old method, and beginning with 1895 in German and 1896 in French, the new one only will be used. In each language under the new method a change in the required books has been made and the amount of reading seems to have been somewhat increased.

Harvard Varsity Crew.

The Harvard crew candidates are now in active training and there are twenty-two men trying for places in the boat. The work so far has been very elementary, most of the time being spent on the body swing, although some work has been done on the other parts of the stroke.

The work is being done on the rowing machines and it will be some little time before tank work is taken up. N. Perkins, L. S., and Captain Davis are doing most of the coaching.

The men rowing and their positions are as follows:

FIRST CREW.

E. Klein, '95,	Bow.
R. Cook, '95,	No. 2
R. M. Townsend, '96,	No. 3
A. Brewer, '96,	No. 4
P. Houghton, '97,	No. 5
E. Fennessey, '96,	No. 6
F. Duffield, '96,	No. 7
S. R. Bullard, '96,	Stroke

SECOND CREW.

R. W. Emmons, '95,	Bow.
--------------------	------

H. H. Richardson, '95,	No. 2
G. Murchie, '95,	No. 3
G. Derby, '96,	No. 4
R. P. Blake, '94,	No. 5
W. Hoag, '94,	No. 6
S. Eddy, '95,	No. 7
J. Purdon, '95,	Stroke.

Other men rowing are: A. C. Potter, '95; A. M. Crane, '94; E. Hervey, '94; F. Davis, '95.

Prom. Week at Yale.

The following arrangements have been made by the Promenade Committee at Yale for prom. week: The Junior german will be held on Tuesday evening, January 30, in Alumni Hall, and will be led by F. B. Harrison. Immediately after the Glee Club concert on Monday evening, the Senior german, led by Alonzo Potter, will be held in Alumni Hall. The Sophomore german will also be held on Monday evening, in Warner Hall, and will be led by A. E. Foote. The Junior Promenade will be held on Wednesday evening in the Second Regiment Armory. The decorations will be furnished by Koster of New York. The refreshments will be provided by Stewart of New Haven. A definite decision has not yet been made in regard to the music. Tiffany will do the engraving on the invitations and dance orders. In disposing of the boxes the Junior class will be given a preference over the rest of the University.

Intercollegiate Chess Tournament.

The Intercollegiate chess tournament held in New York during the recess was won again by Columbia, with Harvard second. The order with the games won is as follows: Columbia 8 1-2, Harvard 7, Yale 5, Princeton 3 1-2.

Hymnes of Columbia made the best individual record, winning five and drawing one, that being with J. Hewins, Jr., '96, of Harvard. Hewins was second with four games won and two drawn.

Hewins won from Ross and Skinner of Yale, Roberts of Princeton, and Lebaire of Columbia, and drew with Hymes of Columbia and Ewing of Princeton. Spalding won from Ross of Yale, drew with Ewing of Princeton and Skinner of Yale, and lost to Hymes and Lebaire of Columbia and Roberts of Princeton.

In the Harvard chess tournament, Harold W. Lewis, '96, won after playing off the tie with L. Shoenfeld, L. S. S.

The New Yale Cage.

The new base-ball cage at Yale is nearly completed and promises to be a great improvement over the old cage and satisfactory in every respect. It occupies the full width of the northern end of the Gym. lot and is thirty feet wide. At the York Street end is located the entrance, which opens into a space about seven feet by thirty which is separated from the rest of the enclosure by a netting, and which will contain a store. This netting is continued overhead as a protection for the windows, at a height of twelve feet. There are twenty-six windows on each side of the ridge pole, which is fifteen feet above the floor, and the portion of the roof around the windows is covered with tarred paper. There is a window for ventilating purposes at each end of the building. The rafters are bolted as is all the larger wood-work. This makes the structure portable.

The work is completed except the nettings for the sides. These are to be of medium weight rope netting, and will be fastened at both top and bottom. Some battery work will probably be done in the cage this week, but regular training will not begin until the end of the month.

Pot-Pourri Prizes.

As an inducement to all contributors to the annual, the editors offer the following prizes:

Prize of $5.00 for the best collection of cuts.

Prize of $3.00 for best humorous sketch or poem.

Prize of $3.00 for best collection of grinds.

A complimentary copy of the book will be given for second best collection in each.

All drawings must be upon smooth paper in black ink, drawn large with possibility for reduction. All contributions are to be deposited in a box placed in the lower hall of the Academy for that purpose.

Signed,

THE EDITORS.

At a meeting of the Senior class, Tuesday, the entire management of the Senior banquet was placed in the hands of the supper committee.

Forum.

The second regular meeting of Forum was held on Friday evening. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Gordon, and after the roll call and minutes the critique was given by Gordon, who had been appointed as a substitute for Gardner. Leshner gave the extempore, a description of the process of wool-milling. The question of the evening, Is the unanimity required by juries conducive to the ends of justice, was opened on the affirmative by Symmonds. He was assisted by Fickie. Weir led the negative, and was assisted by D. L. Eddy. Starbuck also spoke on the affirmative; Patterson on the negative. When a vote had been taken, it was found that the weight of argument was with the negative. Miscellaneous business was then taken up, and Patterson moved that the president appoint a committee to look to the feasibility of continuing the course of lectures by college presidents, such as were conducted last year. This was seconded and carried and the committee appointed consisted of Patterson, Schreiber, and Gardner. As there was no more business the meeting adjourned.

The speeches of Starbuck and Patterson were especially good, summing up the arguments for both sides very ably.

Philo.

The regular meeting of Philo last Friday night was opened with prayer by Gaillow. It was largely attended, and by far the most interesting meeting of the year. During miscellaneous business it was decided that the remaining editor of last year's Masque board should give an itemized report of his deficiencies to the committee on the joint entertainment to be given by Philo and Forum.

Sanders rendered the extempore, while Emery gave the critique. Hinman then read a selection from Kipling. The debate on the subject: "Resolved, That beauty in woman is a greater power than intellect," was led on the affirmative by Mack, with Bingham and North as assistants, and on the negative by Gaillow, who had Bristol and Lester to aid him. After some spirited speaking from the house by Sanders, Wilson, Morrow, Preston, Hinman, Straus and Clark, the meeting was adjourned.

THE PHILLIPIAN will be issued every Wednesday and Saturday during the school year, except in vacation.

All business communications should be addressed to the business manager.

All communications must be accompanied by the writer's full name and address, not necessarily for publication unless so desired.

Communications may be addressed to THE PHILLIPIAN, Andover, Mass., or dropped in the Phillipian box placed in the main hall of the Academy building.

The editors do not hold themselves responsible for the opinions of any correspondent.

PHILLIPIAN Board meetings are held Wednesday and Saturday noons.

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AT ANDOVER POST-OFFICE.

NOTICE.

To insure change of advertisement, copy must be received for Wednesday not later than Tuesday noon; for Saturday, not later than Friday noon.

The Andover Press.

Now that our annual is to be published under the auspices of both literary societies, and as it is the only publication in school which is in any sense a souvenir of the year, it ought to be an assured success. The plan of the book will be in general like the one of last year, though of course it will be necessary to make some changes, as it is evident that the Masque was too expensive to sell.

The purpose of the editors is to maintain as nearly as possible the standard of quality and attractiveness, and to make such reductions as are necessary in the size of the book and the arrangement of its contents, using their best judgment in selecting such matter as will be most interesting to the school. It will contain accounts of all interesting events of the year and sketches of the different organizations. There will be cuts of the various editorial boards, and of the musical and athletic associations. Besides this, there will be the grinds, humorous poems and sketches, and probably considerable miscellaneous matter which cannot now be mentioned.

Seeing plainly that the success of the publication depends on getting together the most interesting facts of the school year, the editors request the school to submit to them anything of this kind which they may have and to keep this request in mind for the rest of the year.

Cornell Athletics.

Courtney, the Cornell coach has begun to gather men for this year's freshman crew. It is of course impossible to give any prophecy as to the probable merits of the crew, but with the material which the class has shown itself to contain, there is no reason to expect difficulty in developing a good eight.

The chances for a good nine this year are excellent. Eight former players will probably continue their work,—Young, Towle, Best, Rich, Hamlin, Harrington, McNeil and Miller. Most of the pitching will be done by Cobb, substitute for Priest, last year's regular pitcher, who will not return. Light individual training may soon be begun, but serious work will not come until February.

Princeton's Base-Ball Team.

The prospect for the Princeton baseball team this year are fairly good. Captain Mackenzie will have six men who played on last year's team with whom to begin practice. They are King, Trenchard, Payne, Otto, Gunster, and Brooks. Of the new men who will try for the team, Altman and Jerome Bradley, the two candidates for pitchers, are the most promising.
