Communications.

[Members of the school are invited to contribute to this column, but the editors do not hold themselves responsible for the opinions of any correspondent.]

Editors of the Phillipian:

The attention of the persons in charge of the reading room ought to be called to the want of periodicals. There is hardly anything in the room at present but the daily papers. There are covers in plenty lying around the table, but where are the books? If the management saw to this it would improve the reading room greatly and give the fellows something to read between recitations. SENIOR.

Foot-ball Captain

At a meeting of the members of the foot-ball team held on Saturday Arthur Stanley Goodwin was elected captain of the team for next year.

This is Goodwin's first year at Andover, but he has made an enviable reputation for himself at his position of half-back on the team. Although he was badly injured twice during the season, yet he recovered in time for the Lawrenceville game and by his punting, running and tackling proved himself one of the best players Andover has had. He scored both of Andover's touchdowns.

Goodwin played half-back on the Crescent Athletic Club of Brooklyn in '94, and previous to this, he had played on the Brooklyn Latin School team.

Class Committees.

The following men have resigned from the various class-day committees: Greenway from the supper committee, Allen taking his place; Tyler from the class emblem committee, Goodwin will take his place; Schweppe from the class emblem committee, F. Lindenberg will take his place.

Prohibition Club.

On Saturday evening B. C. Auten, P. A. '93, Harvard '97, addressed the school on "Prohibition." He spoke of the advantage of forming a society in the Academy, and urged those interested to come together and see what they could do. Although there were but few fellows present, those that came were fully repaid for their trouble, as the talk proved of great interest to all.

Obituary.

EDGAR HEATON OWSLEY.

It came as a great blow to the school and to the Senior class especially when Dr. Bancroft on Tuesday morning announced the death of Edgar Heaton Owsley, P. A. '96, who passed away at ten o'clock on Monday night.

He had been sick but a few days having been stricken down with an acute attack of appendicitis. An operation was found necessary and Dr. Richardson of Boston was summoned. The operation left him in so weak a state that he rapidly grew worse. His mother and brother were summoned to his bedside arriving just before he died. Owsley entered Andover this year from Lawrenceville where he had been two years and although in school but a short time had endeared himself to his classmates who will sincerely mourn his loss.

Resolutions

WHEREAS, God in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to remove Edgar Heaton Owsley from our number,

Resolved, that we, the class of '96, do hereby express our heart-felt sorrow. And be it further

Resolved, that we hereby manifest our sympathy for his family, who have suffered so great a bereavement.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family and printed in the PHILLIPIAN.

For the class of '96,
W. B. FLANDRAU
F. H. LINDENBERG
B. HENRY

Atterbolt and French will defend the negative.

Forum.

At the next meeting of Forum on Friday the following programme will be given: Declamation, Stickney; speech on "Is Life a Failure?" Finley; critique, Christie; debate, "Resolved, That the National Banking System should be Abolished." Affirmative, Bale assisted by Jones; negative Townsend assisted by Kinne.

PER ORDER.

February "Mirror."

The February number of the Mirror will be issued this evening. The issue is fully up to the standard of the previous ones, the editorial pages being a vast improvement over the first two numbers.

Prof. Park contributes an interesting article on "The Philomathean Society from 1853 to 1856." The society was a great power in school at that time, far more than it is now and reminiscences of old days of Philo will be read with interest by the present members.

"A Mexican Bull Fight" is one of the pleasing features in this month's number. It portrays simply, but vividly the impressions of a spectator at one of these famous bull fights. "His Rose" and "The Blue and White" do not add, we are sorry to say, to the excellence of the number. There has been very little good poetry in the Mirror this year.

"A Debt Well Paid" is rather uninteresting and seems to verge on the improbable. "The Last Slave Sale in Kentucky" is well written and "An Accident" is a good bit of descriptive writing although the first few paragraphs are marred by the faulty construction of its sentences.

"A Hare and Hound Chase," seems rather inconsistent in places when we read that, "The horses travelled fifty miles of territory over ditches and fences in less than three hours and were as fresh as ever at the end."

The editorials as we have remarked elsewhere reflect great credit on the editors. The Mirage and book reviews are also above the average.

Dr. Grenfell at Andover.

Last Sunday evening Dr. Grenfell in the South Church gave an illustrated lecture on the Deep Sea Mission. The work of the mission in connection with the North Sea fisheries and also those of Newfoundland were fully explained; as was also some of the methods of fishing and the customs of the different people. Dr. Grenfell is an earnest worker, among the fishermen and his knowledge and earnestness made the lecture both interesting and instructive.

Prof. Harris preached in New Haven Sunday and lectured before the Men's Club in Dr. Dunger's Church on Social Regeneration.

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AT ANDOVER POST-OFFICE.

The Andover Press.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 12, 1896.

There has been some talk of forming class prayer-meetings in place of one of the regular meetings of Inquiry. If the suggestions are to become practical there certainly can be no better time than the present, while the fellows yet feel the force of Mr. Sayford's impressive appeals.

We find it again necessary to remind the school that there are but few fellows who are trying for the vacant positions on the editorial board of the PHILLIPIAN. The simple fact that an election has just been held ought not to deter any one from announcing himself as a candidate, for in all probability there will be at least two and perhaps three more elections before the year closes. Ninety-eight has been especially lax in furnishing candidates for the board. At this time last year the junior middle class had three representatives on the board, while the present junior middle class has none. Ninety-eight has shown enough vigor in other matters and why could she not in the matter of representatives on the PHILLIPIAN. Ninety-seven still has a chance to increase her representation on the board. We trust this appeal will not be lost upon the school, for the want of candidates is imperative and without a sufficient number it is a hard task to make a school paper what it should be.

- Base-ball

The candidates for the battery are practicing daily at the gymnasium.

Hillebrand, Woodworth, Holladay and Stickney are doing the pitching, and Goodwin, Wentworth, Risley and Newcombe, the catching.

Track Team.

At a meeting of the Track team Monday, the following men presented themselves as candidates: Wilder, Hyde, Brumder, J. Dana, Marshall Gray, Moss, Edwards, Peck, Carberry, Burns, Morse, Gaskell, Finch, Senn, Greene, Squire, Bristol, Richardson, O. Lindenberg, Newcombe, C. Schweppe, Wentz, Butler, Elicott, Lawrence, Thomas, Mullings, Manning, Cady, Bassett, Haskell, Peters, Winterbotham, Long, Wentworth, Maloney, Gleason, Perry, Askew, F. Lindenberg, P. Lindenberg, D. Thomas, Douglas, Miller, A. Richardson, R. Schweppe.

The object of calling out the candidates so early is to train for the Inter-scholastic meet in Boston, March 7. About ten fellows will be chosen to represent Andover in this meet.

Prof. Charles Sprague Smith, P. A. '70, is holding "conferences upon literature" in New York, Saturday mornings, assisted by twelve professors in Columbia, and literary men like Howells, Stoddard, Lawrence Hutton, and Hamilton Mesbie, together with many others specially representative of letters.

Lockers will be on sale at the "gym" after Friday morning, $1.00 each, accommodating two persons. 25 cents deposit for key, which will be refunded on return of same.

The contract to outfit the New England College League was awarded to Wright & Ditson, Saturday. This firm makes a specialty of college work.
