Philo.

At the regular meeting of Philo last evening, Satterlee acted as Secretary in the absence of Winterbotham. The meeting was opened with prayer by Richardson. Under miscellaneous business, Locke, Dreisbach and Belding were proposed for membership and accepted.

The motion was then made and carried that a committee of two be appointed by the chair to send a challenge to Forum for the annual Philo-Forum debate, and also to represent Philo in choosing the subject. The president appointed A. H. Richardson and R. H. Edwards. It was also decided to have a competitive trial-debate at the next meeting in order to choose speakers for the debate with Forum. The subject will be posted on the bulletin-board.

The literary program was opened with a critique of the last meeting by J. H. Thomas. Skinner followed with a declamation. R. H. Edwards gave an able address on Ian Maclaren.

The question debated was Resolved, "That Raines' liquor law has failed in its object." The affirmative was led by Freund assisted by F. M. Wheeler; the negative by Richardson supported by Stebbins. The vote of the house before the debate was affirmative 4, negative 6; after the debate affirmative 3, negative 18. The president gave his decision to the negative.

By a unanimous vote of the Society Mr. Benner and Mr. Freeman were elected honorary members.

Forum.

The regular meeting of Forum last evening was opened with prayer by Stansfield. After the roll-call and reading of the minutes of the last meeting, Irving spoke on "The office of Critique." Holly next spoke on "The Necessity of Speaking."

Gabriel spoke extemporaneously on "The Intellectual Rise of Electricity." Hunt gave a select reading from Joan of Arc. The debate of the evening was on the question, Resolved, That Andover debate with Exeter this year instead of with Worcester." Chase led for the affirmative followed by Smith for the negative; Stickney continued the debate for the affirmative followed by Douglas. Holly and Wilcox spoke from the house. The vote before the debate stood, affirmative, 15 negative 4. The vote after debate was, affirmative 7, negative 6. The critique was made by Bryan.

Piano Recital.

The first Abbot Academy Piano Recital was held last Thursday afternoon in the November Club House. The well-known pianist, Mr. John C. Manning, and Miss Bertha S. Whittier, soloist, rendered excellent selections, which were thoroughly enjoyed.

Throughout the recital, everyone was impressed with Mr. Manning's power of execution, while Miss Whittier's clear and attractive voice easily won the sympathy of her audience.

Exeter Letter.

EXETER N. H., Dec. 10, 1896.

As the term draws to a close it is with a great degree of satisfaction that one looks back at the events of importance that have happened since September. A general satisfaction with the result of athletics is felt although Exeter lost both the big games at the end. It is already very apparent in school that a more serious view of sports is being taken by most of the men.

During the week sweaters have been awarded to the foot-ball men. The men who played on the second team have also received their sweaters. The new sweater is red with black lettering and presents a very pleasing appearance. They are somewhat heavy and both first and second sweaters have hoods.

The tie game played by the two upper classes has caused considerable discussion. It was the third tie this year between the classes and there is some murmuring on the part of the players about playing any more. Several of the senior class team can not play any more and there may be no more games between the classes as a result. The support of the class teams has been very hearty all the fall, and the enthusiasm will undoubtedly continue into next term when there will be the mid-winter gymnasium exhibition at which the classes contest for a silver cup in a class drill.

Last Saturday night the G. L. Soule Literary society held its regular election of officers. The literary program was more than usually interesting and was well rendered. There is a healthy feeling in school toward the two literary societies and their influence is felt in almost every department. It is not officially known, but it is rumored that a large number of the society men are trying for the Merrill English Prizes. These prizes were founded by Abner L. Merrill early in the year and a great deal of interest is being shown in the results of the contest.

The captain of the Track Team for the coming year to replace Whitcom who resigned was elected on Tuesday. The man chosen was H. E. Jones who holds the record for the 20 yds. dash (indoors) and who has been on the team for two years.

On last Sunday President W. G. Frost of Berea College, Kentucky, addressed the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Frost's address was as interesting a one as has been listened to this year. The Y. M. C. A. is doing all it can to get good speakers to come here and so far they have had fair success. It is noticeable this term that the Y. M. C. A. is taking a more prominent place in school life than ever before.

Last night the first lecture of the usual course was delivered in the Chapel by Tomoyoshi Murtr, a Japanese. The lecture was on The Japan-China war and such events as were directly connected with that struggle. The lecture was very well attended and was interesting and instructive. Mr. Murai brought his own stereopticon, an instrument of Japanese manufacture, and illustrated the lecture with about fifty views.—THE EXONIAN.

Abbott Courant.

The January number of the Abbott Courant which will appear the first of next week is an unusually attractive edition. Many of the articles are accompanied by illustrations.

The editorial board for this year consists of the following: Gertrude Ware '97, Georgia Whitney '98; Helen Porter '97, Dora Haley '98; Pearl Rancall '98, Anne Coe '99; Business editors Frances George '97, Grace Elesh '99; Frances Hinkley '97, Lucy Hegeman '99.

Contents Renewed Residence at Abbott; Christmas Tide; Economics Abroad; The Geologic Interest of Indian Ridge; In Memoriam (To A. F. M.); A Fifteenth Century Morning; Marcella, as Lady Maxwell; To my Lady; A Fall of the Revolutions; A Visit to Constantinople; A Riddle; Egypt in Dreamland; The Armenian Home. Editorials, School Journal Alumni notes etc.

The Princeton base-ball team is going to make great use this year of the pitcher's gun that was used so effectively last year in batting practice. Several improvements have been made on the gun so that it is now possible to make wide curves either in or out.

The Illustrated American for December 12, contains twenty-three half-tone cuts of the leading college football players of the season, besides numerous athletic notes of interest.

The outfitting of the Base Ball Team for next year has been awarded to James W. Brine of Cambridge.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1896.

The Chess Club at present is one of the most active organizations in school. It has a large number of members and has aroused considerable interest and enthusiasm. To-day the members are the guests of the Harvard Chess Club and will play, this evening, their first match with an outside team. Harvard's Club is among the foremost in the country and excellent practice will be afforded Andover's team.

Inter-collegiate and inter-scholastic chess tournaments hold high places in the winter amusements among like institutions. If such a league, consisting of Exeter, Worcester, Andover, and the Schools in Boston and vicinity were formed, or even a dual league with Exeter or Worcester, undoubtedly it would serve to partly lessen the dulness which prevails here during the winter term.

The following men, who played in the Exeter and Lawrenceville games have received foot-ball suits, Barker (captain,) Elliott, White, Burdick, Schreiber, Swift, Bartley, Pierson, Ellis, Holladay, Wheeler and Quinby. Sweaters were given Clemons, Funk and Gordon. Gould received a sweater and cap.

Columbia's New Gymnasium.

The new gymnasium of Columbia College given by President Seth Low will be the finest building of its kind in America.

The first three stories of the new building, which will be known as University Hall, are to cost $150,000, and work upon them has already begun. As it approaches completion the plans will be made to suit whatever condition the needs of the university require.

The entrance to the gymnasium is on the ground level with the street, and on the ground floor is the swimming pool. This pool will contain 240,000 gallons of filtered water, and will be about twice the size of the tank in the Yale gymnasium. Around the edges of the building will be placed showers, needle baths, lockers, and dressing rooms.

The gymnasium will be, like the pool, in the shape of a half moon. Over its widest part it will be 170 feet and in it every conceivable apparatus for physical development will be made use of. Overlooking the floor of the gymnasium will be a great balcony. Suspended from the ceiling, where it runs over the gymnasium and circling the entire interior of the building, is to be built a running track 12 feet wide and nine laps to the mile. In the southern portion of the building will be the athletic rooms and directors' apartments.

The alumni of Columbia are trying to raise a sum large enough to purchase an athletic field near the new gymnasium.—Harvard Crimson.

J. O. Rodgers, '94, Yale-'98, was unanimously elected, on Monday, captain of the Yale eleven for next season.—He was captain of Andover's '94 eleven.

The building itself will be 300x100 feet and to it will be attached an athletic field 600x400 feet, with a seating capacity of 25,000. This field will be entirely enclosed during the winter and properly heated, so that any sport can be held there at any time of the year.
