ANDOVER-DEAN ACADEMY.

Andover Defeated in a Poorly Played Game. Score 8-1.

As an exhibition of listless and incompetent playing, the game last Wednesday was a success. As a game of base-ball it was a pitiable failure. Considering the work the team had done up to the time, the game which they put up on Wednesday was wholly unaccountable. For some unknown reason the men played as if they had no chance to win and so didn't care what happened. Faulty work can be borne, but when a player is so dreamy that he does not know he has a chance for a double play, when two infielders allow a man to come in from center-field to take a ball which they could get by a little extra effort, when a base man is so lost in thought that he fails to see a man running to his base, something is radically wrong and should be remedied at once. Because a pitcher has a reputation is no reason that men should come to the bat as if they cared nothing about the outcome. We have many teams to face this year whose pitchers are fully as good as the pitcher we opposed last Wednesday, but let us hope that we will have no further exhibition of spiritless playing. A pitcher cannot be expected to win a game with the kind of support that was given him last Wednesday.

Furthermore, where is the cheering and where is the Andover spirit? There is a great deal of truth and justice in this complaint and it shows a deplorable lack of 'Andover spirit. Cheering should be kept up continually throughout the nine innings whether the team is winning or losing. Sporadic cheering is worse than useless. Andover was very unfortunate in not working hits at opportune times while the Dean men bunched theirs with the home team's errors.

In the first inning our men went out order. Dean was retired after four men had been at the bat. The second inning ended in the same way. Andover did nothing in her half of the third but Dean scored two runs on two safe hits, a base on balls, a sacrifice and a passed ball. Neither scored in the fourth, fifth and sixth. In the seventh Dean made four runs on two hits, four costly errors and a passed ball. Dean added two runs in the eighth. In the ninth, on two hits, a stolen base, an error and some rather belated cheering Andover managed to score a run.

Miliken, Stalworthy, Sayles and Hazleton played good games for the visitors. Barnwell made an elegant throw from centre field to the plate in the seventh inning. This and Hazleton's pitching were the features of the game. The tabulated score:

Philo.

The regular meeting of Philo was held last night in Society Hall, Satterlee gave the opening prayer which was followed by the roll call, and reading of minutes. Under miscellaneous business, it was announced that Mr. A. Freeman would address the Society Friday evening, May 7.

The literary program, which was mainly an extemporaneous one owing to the postponement of the Philo-Forum debate, was then carried out. The following extempores were given: "Developments of Cretan Questions," by Satterlee; "Is Sunday Afternoon Chapel for the best interests of a majority of Students," by Howard; "England's South African Policy," by Eldredge; "Possibilities of Base-ball Schedule," by Perkins. These were interspersed by select readings by Rogers, Lucas, Howell and Hosmer, the subjects being "The House-boat on the Styx," "A Dissertation on Roast-pig," "A Castrophe" and "The Flying Dutchman" respectively. The meeting then adjourned.

Next Friday evening the Philo-Forum debate, which should have taken place last night but was postponed on account of the illness of one of the debaters, will be held at 8 o'clock in the chapel.

The first part of the game was decidedly in favor of Tufts, and at the end of the eighth inning the score stood 8 to 1 in favor of the visiting team. In the ninth inning however the Exeter team braced up and ran the score up to 8-6 before they were retired.

A school meeting was held in chapel Monday morning to select officers for the June Ball. Gittings '97 was elected president; James '97 secretary and treasurer; Kasson '97 Williams '98 Blizard '99 and Yost 1900, directors for their respective classes, and Cameron, Miller, Stevenson and Egan floor managers for their classes.

On the 12th of May a bicycle road race will be held and on May 15th the class games at which the events will be the same as those in the Andover meet.

It has been decided also that the track team will take part in the New England Interscholastic meet the date of which is not yet determined.

The Glee Club gave its first outside concert at Epping, Friday evening, April 16th. The club was assisted by Miss A. M. Plummer of Lee, N. H., reader; Mrs. M. G. del Castillo of Boston, autoharp player; and Miss H. E. Conners of Boston, whistling soloist.

Last Saturday afternoon the regular term business meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held. Plans are under way to have several speakers here during the term and a much livelier interest was shown in the work of the Association. The officers are: Gibbs, president; Leonard, vice-president; Lang, secretary; P. C. Norris, treasurer; and Kendall, corresponding secretary.

The Andover Press.

SATURDAY, APRIL 24, 1897.

By this time last year there was a large squad trying for the short distances on the track team, while at present there are scarcely three men for each of these events. Because we have a few sprinters from last year's team in the school is not a sufficient reason why fellows should not try; on the contrary, it ought to be an incentive to work all the harder. No one can tell who is the better man until the race has taken place. "Anyone who has sufficient 'sand' and endurance can develop into a speedy runner" are the words of Mr. Murphy, the Pennsylvania athletic coach.

Fellows, now is the time to begin work in earnest and bring out all the material. This is the only course to pursue if the team is to be a credit to our school.

Every morning at the close of chapel, before more than one-half of the seniors have passed out, the middle class starts for the door together with the junior middlers and most of the juniors, and thus in a short time the crush at the entrance is as bad as ever. The middlers should wait until the entire senior class is dismissed, then the junior middlers should follow and lastly the juniors. This matter has been spoken of in chapel, but it seems to have had little if any effect upon the fellows. It is an old custom of Phillips and we hope that it will be more strictly observed in the future.

In spite of the repeated entreaties of the management and others, the path across the base-ball diamond is gradually being worn deeper. Our sense of duty should prompt us in this matter and prevent the occurrence of such a thing. It is merely thoughtlessness, for no one would wilfully destroy the results of an undertaking so laborious and expensive. This little reminder should prove a sufficient check on its continuance.

Supplementary Reading.

The examinations in supplementary reading will probably take place about the middle of next month. The books to be read are: Seniors, Crawford's "Roman Singer;" Middlers, Bulwer's "Last Days of Pompeii;" Junior Middlers, Lyall's "Donovan;" Juniors, "Oliver Twist." There will be only one examination this term.

Banjo Club Meeting.

At a meeting of the Banjo Club held Wednesday noon, W. Withington '98 was elected leader for next year.

'99 Base-Ball.

The squad will report on the main campus at 1 o'clock sharp.

Inquiry.

The subject of Inquiry Saturday night will be "Leaving the Plough," Luke 9: 57-62. A Harvard delegation is expected to address the Society.
