Mr. Stearns Addresses Forum Last Evening.

The regular Friday evening meeting of Forum held last evening was probably one of the most interesting and enthusiastic ever held. The meeting opened with a prayer by Thompson '98 and after the usual roll-call and reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, President Smith '98 introduced the speaker of the evening, A. E. Stearns, '90. Mr. Stearns gave as his subject "Changes in the school during the past eight years." He mentioned the three most noticeable changes as occurring in the faculty, equipment or school customs and organizations, and dwelt at some length on each one in turn.

The faculty, he said, has changed, but not a great deal, more in numbers than in any other respect, the number having grown with the school. He said the ones probably missed the most are Professor Comstock and Professor Coy, as these men used to fill the hearts of all with fear and especially to make the Prep's life a miserable one.

The changes in the school's equipment have been many and of great lasting benefit, the Science building having been built since '90, the Academy building proper being unchanged except for the bell clapper which had no doubt changed hands many times; all three of the brick cottages have been built in the last eight years, the commons before this serving for homes for most of the fellows. Another change is apparent on the campus, he said the Grand Stand was a somewhat recent addition in the athletic line and also the Track house.

He spoke at some length also about the change in the number and character of the school organizations; this change must of course occur as the student body then numbered but 275 at the most. Mr. Stearns told how the old student's Fire Company used to attend all the fires in the neighborhood, and spoke of the recent founding of Forum and of the great good it had done to both the school at large and its active members since its foundation. He said that eight years ago the Mirror was published by Philo, and that since that time the Banjo Club had been organized.

Mr. Stearns closed his address by telling of those good old times not recorded in the minutes of the faculty, such as the "story of Mae Duffy's store," the hanging of a flag from the Chapel roof, the raids of the "Latin Commons White Caps," and many others; he again urged the students to take an active part in either Philo or Forum and showed of what great benefit this training would be to any man in after life.

After the address, Thompson moved and it was seconded and carried to extend a vote of thanks to Mr. Stearns. The meeting then adjourned having been successful in the extreme. As the regular meeting of Philo had been adjourned so that all could hear Mr. Stearns, the attendance was considerably larger than usual.

Mirror Notice.

It has been decided to accept two designs in the Poster competition. One for an ordinary Poster and the other suitable for a cover for the Mirror. The design for the cover may contain three colors, and it is especially desired that something tasty and attractive be submitted for this.

The Poster may contain two colors and something appropriate for Christmas is desired. The date when these designs must be handed in will be announced later.

The Mirror owes its subscribers an explanation for the delay in the delivery of this month's issue. They were ready for delivery on November 1, but owing to the new mail arrangements caused by the free delivery system, they would not be accepted at the office under the rates heretofore used, consequently a delay was caused which resulted in our distributing them ourselves several days later.

Salem Street.

E. B. Boynton was elected captain of Salem Street foot-ball team in place of Goodchild resigned at a meeting of those rooming on Salem Street on Thursday noon.

Yale-Harvard Debate.

Harvard has chosen the affirmative side of the question in the Yale-Harvard debate on Dec. 8. The question is "Resolved, That the United States should annex Hawaii."

Harvard Second 18; Andover 0.

Andover was defeated by the above score on the campus, last Wednesday, by the Harvard second team.

The day was very unfavorable for fast playing and the grounds were in poor condition. The object of the game was not so much for practice, but to find out where Andover's weak points lay. Elliott, Quimby, Abbott and Davis were absent from the squad and Jennings, Howard, Matthews and Stiles took their places.

The playing of the home team was not up to the average; Andover seemed unable to hold the heavier line of their opponents, partly on account of wet grounds, and the backs did not handle punts well. Elliott and Quimby were greatly missed in this particular. The interference around the ends, was not equal to that in the Worcester game.

During each half the Harvard team stopped play to coach the Andover team, and after the game, twenty minutes were spent with the men. Mr. Andrus of Princeton and Mr. Emery of Brown, have kindly consented to coach the men. They took each player individually, Thursday and Friday, and this afternoon and Monday will be spent in developing better team work. The absence of Schreiber, Quimby and Abbott is greatly felt. These three men are out on account of injuries. Styles is playing well at end and Howard promises to be a strong man at quarter.

Andover will not play another game until they meet Exeter at Exeter next Friday. In the meantime, light practice will be maintained, the men will be coached continually, and the injured will be cared for.

Mr. Lehman's Arrival.

Captain Goodrich accompanied by G. Von Utassy, the manager of the Harvard crew, met Mr. Lehman and Mr. H. Willis another prominent oarsman, at the arrival of the 'Teutonic' in New York last Wednesday. They left for Boston immediately and spent the night at the house of Colonel Peabody in Milton. Yesterday the two coaches began their work with the Harvard crew.

Yale has accepted a challenge to play Harvard this year in the third annual whist tournament between the two universities.

Make-up of the '97 Andover Football Team.

On Wednesday afternoon just before the Harvard 2nd game the following students were given their A sweaters and foot-ball suits entire, by Captain Elliot: Abbott, right end; Grinnell, right tackle; F. Holt, right guard; Newton, centre; O'Connor, left guard; Davis, left tackle; Schreiber, left end; Quimby, quarter; Burdick, right half; Roby, left half.

Of course any man who plays in either the Exeter or Lawrenceville game will be given an A sweater.

Prizes for the Fall Handicap Games.

The prizes for winners of events in the Fall Handicap Games arrived on Thursday and have all been distributed, together with the silver loving cup given by the school to the class winning the most points in the Meet. The class of '99 being the winner, it was presented to them. The prizes for the winners in the track events and in the road race are very pretty steins, the outside being decorated and on the pewter top the letters P.A. A. A. and date, October 16, together with the name of event and name of winner engraved. They are extremely attractive and no doubt all the lucky possessors feel justly proud of them.

The cup given to the winning class stands eight inches high and is of silver. It is a very attractive shape and on one side is the following: Phillips Andover Athletic Association Inter-class Handicap Meeting, Oct. 16, 1897. Won by '99.

Athletics Illustrated.

Within a week the "Illustrated American," will publish a special 48 page magazine containing over 200 of the best athletic pictures which have appeared in the issues of that paper for the last two years. It will be printed on coated paper with a handsome cover of appropriate design.

It will contain among other things pictures of the various teams of the larger colleges, also individual pictures.

The Sophomore class of Columbia University has resolved to do away with the annual cane rush against the Freshmen, on account of the alleged brutality and danger incurred.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1897.

Some time ago a suggestion was made to challenge Exeter to a debate, but so far neither of the societies have taken any steps in regard to it. This cause is a most worthy one and should receive the hearty co-operation of both Forum and Philo.

At a school meeting on Friday morning, Captain Elliot announced that hereafter the foot-ball practice would be secret. Although this will cause disappointment to some we cannot but feel that it is for the good of the team and this should be our highest motive.

We wish to suggest that the Reading Room be kept in better order. It cannot be expected of the Reading Room Manager to be in the room always, and to look after each paper and magazine as soon as one of the students has finished reading it; that is not possible. If the Reading Room is to be kept in order and the periodicals taken care of, it must depend largely upon the students themselves. More care should be taken with these papers, and after using them they should be returned to their proper places, not turned inside out but arranged with the first page first, in their proper order. This Reading Room should be a credit to the school and not a place where a man after finishing his reading, throws the paper inside out, most anywhere and in any condition.

Gun Club.

The fourth and fifth trials of the Fall Handicap Meet resulted as follows:

|                | Broke | Hand. | Total |
|----------------|-------|-------|-------|
| J. Whitin,     | 18    | 7     | 25    |
| E. L. Parker,  | 8     | 7     | 15    |
| D. D. King,    | 19    | 5     | 24    |
| B. S. Eastman, | 16    | 5     | 21    |
| F. M. Eastman, | 20    | 2     | 22    |
| R. L. Black,   | 20    | 2     | 22    |
|                | 17    | 3     | 20    |
|                | 16    | 3     | 19    |
|                | 19    | 0     | 19    |
|                | 15    | 0     | 15    |
|                | 14    | 3     | 16    |
|                | 13    | 3     | 16    |

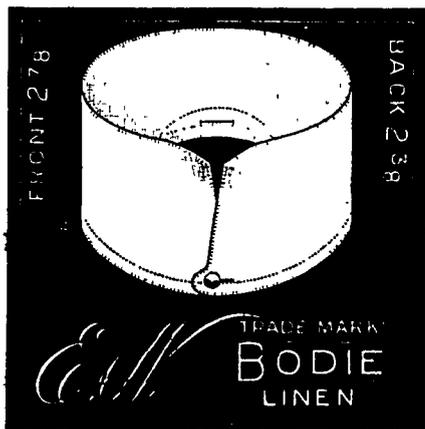

The total score, each man using the best three trials of the five, resulted as follows:

1st prize, B. S. Eastman, 67; 2nd prize, Parker, 64; 3d prize, King, 64; 4th prize, F. M. Eastman, 59; 5th prize, Whitin, 59.

Gymnasium Convention

A meeting of college gymnastic directors of the country was held last week at the University of New York to form a permanent organization, called the Association of American College Gymnastic Directors. The directors from all the prominent colleges were present. Dr. Seavor of Yale was elected temporary president. Several committees were also appointed.

The object of the association is to promote uniformity in gymnastics and physical training. This includes methods of instruction, anthropometry and strength tests. By thus unifying the American system, it can be brought into favorable competition with other systems. This meeting was the most important of its kind ever held. Another meeting to elect permanent officers will be held during the Christmas vacation.
