Twenty five years Principal

C. E. P. BANCROFT

To be at the head of a great school for twenty-five years of uninterrupted growth and prosperity is a distinction as honorable as it is rare. Placed in charge when Phillips Academy had nearly attained its one hundredth year, at the close of the long and brilliant administration of his predecessor, and at a time when radical changes in methods of discipline and of instruction had become necessary, Principal Bancroft faced a most difficult and delicate task. Endowed with tact, patience, courage, trained by years of study in school, college, Theological Seminary and German University, experienced as master in similar schools, he came to his work, thoroughly equipped, and has carried it on with extraordinary success.

During his administration, the number of students has doubled, the number of teachers has increased threefold and the course of study made to cover four years, instead of three years. One hundred thousand dollars have been raised for buildings and two hundred thousand added to the Endowment Fund. During all this time the instruction in all departments has kept abreast with the most approved methods.

But numbers, buildings, endowments, are no adequate expression of the results accomplished. They are to be found in the character and work of the hundreds who have gone out from the school and are acting their part in the stress of life. By what rule shall such results be computed?

Twenty five years Instructor

MATTHEW S. MCCURDY

Matthew S. McCurdy was born at Dunbarton, N. H., in 1849, and prepared for college at the St. Johnsbury Academy, St. Johnsbury, Vt. He entered Dartmouth College in 1869 and graduated in the class of 1873. Among his classmates were Rev. Francis E. Clark, founder of the Christian Endeavor movement, Pres. George A. Gates of Iowa College, Prof. Henry M. Paul of the Naval Observatory at Washington, Rev. James H. Pettee, missionary in Japan, Arthur K. Whitcomb, Superintendent of Schools of the city of Lowell, and Prof. John H. Wright of Harvard University. He had experience as a teacher during the winters of his college course and came to Andover as the successor of Frank E. Thompson, himself a Dartmouth man of the class of 1871, who is now at the head of the Rogers High School in Newport, R. I.

He has seen the school grow from a body of eight teachers to twenty and from 177 pupils to 524. In the first years he had charge of the work in the Gymnasium and the school traditions are many concerning the the boxing contests carried on between him and Mr. Coy, a fellow teacher who is now head master of the Hotchkiss School at Lakeville, Conn.

His school work has been in the line of the mathematical studies, and out of the experience of these years he has edited an exercise book in Algebra which Leach, Shewell & Co. publish and which has recently been adopted by the school board for the city of Boston.

He has identified himself with the Congregational denomination and for several years has been a deacon of

Robinson Prize Debate.

The third annual Robinson Prize Debate took place in the Chapel Monday evening. The subject, "Resolved, That if the Phillipine Islands are taken by the United States during the present war, they should be retained as permanent possessions," was creditably debated by all of the speakers. Both prizes were won by Forum speakers.

Hugh Satterlee, of Philo, opened the debate on the affirmative. He began his argument with a brief survey of the condition of the Islands, and contended well that they should be annexed. Many advantages offered by annexation were advanced.

J. W. Holley, of Forum, the first speaker of the negative, stated that in the annexation of the Islands the United States would gain nothing which they do not now possess. He also stated that if the United States took possession of the Phillipine Islands, it would rightly appear to the world that we are not in the present war for the sake of humanity but for conquest.

T. A. Butkiewicz, of Forum, the next speaker, gave a brief outline of the political situation in the Phillipines, and stated that it was the United States' duty for the sake of law and order to take the islands in charge. He also argued that they should be kept as a protection to our commerce in the Asiatic waters.

P. M. Nash, of Philo, spoke next for the negative. He stated that the many disadvantages of annexation would offset any advantages that might arise, and that it would be foolhardiness in the United States to undertake to govern so large a number of people whose customs, habits and ideas are so vastly different from our own.

J. J. Hughes, of Philo, spoke on the affirmative. He laid great stress on the advantages of the Islands as a basis of naval supplies. He also stated that for humane motives the United States should take control of the Islands and christianize the pagans and civilize the heathen.

A. S. Wheeler, of Forum, closed the debate on the negative. Wheeler made an exceptionally good speech and said in part that to take control of these Islands would mean an entire overturning of our foreign policy and an annihilation of the Monroe Doctrine. That such unsolved problems as the currency, socialism and corruption in politics require all of our attention.

The judges, Hon. R. R. Bishop, Rev. Lewis Gregory and Hon. A. P. Williams, after long and careful consideration, announced J. W. Holley and T. A. Butkiewicz winners of the first and second prizes respectively.

Dramatic and Musical Clubs Entertainment.

A very successful entertainment was given in the Town Hall last Tuesday evening by the Dramatic, Glee, Banjo and Mandolin clubs. A good-sized audience was present and appeared to thoroughly appreciate the efforts of the clubs.

The Glee Club opened the program with the selection "Here's to Old Phillips," written by N. H. Pride, P. A. '96, after which the "Arion March" was excellently rendered by the Banjo Club. After the Glee Club had sung again, the first half of the program was closed with a banjo duet by J. F. Janes and S. H. Moseley, which called forth prolonged applause.

The second part of the program was opened by the Dramatic Club, presenting a clever one act play entitled "A Cup of Tea." J. R. Irvine scored a decided hit as "Lady Seymour," and the part of "Scroggins" was excellently taken by Z. S. Eldredge. W. F. Roberts and T. E. Burnett, who completed the cast, also did well. The entertainment closed with the march "Unchain the Dogs of War" by Sousa, rendered by the the Glee, Banjo and Mandolin Clubs. This proved the feature of the evening.

Class Day Exercises.

The Class Day exercises were held in the school chapel yesterday afternoon before a large audience composed chiefly of the friends and relatives of the members of the graduating class. The program was opened with an overture by the orchestra after which the class history was given by John Joseph Hughes, who showed the numerous ways in which the class of '98 has aided the school. His address was concise and exceedingly well delivered.

He was followed by Edward Levi Skinner, who recited the class poem, written by himself. The poem was excellent in every way and was delivered with great force and expression by the speaker.

Zoeth Stanley Eldredge then gave the statistics of the class. His humorous manner and his appropriate gifts to members of the class were greatly appreciated by his hearers.

After a selection by the orchestra the class oration by William Edwards Day followed. His oration showed the results of careful preparation and was well delivered. The exercises in the chapel closed with the class prophecy by Hugh Satterlee. The prophecy was a remarkably clever one and called forth frequent applause.

The audience then repaired to the front of the Science Building where the president of the graduating class, Walter Lawrence Chamberlain, began the ivy exercises by presenting in a few appropriate words, the ivy spade to William Butler Tyler, president of the class of '99. The exercises closed with the singing of the ivy song, the music of which was composed by Rossiter Howard, P. S. '98, and the words by Edward L. Skinner, P. A. '98.

As we bow before thy shrine,
Mother Phillips, Mother dear,
Guard and keep our ivy vine,
From all harm that may come near;

And our hearts still cling to thee,

Mr. Alfred Ernest Stearns.

Son of Walter F. Stearns, a merchant in Bombay, and grandson of Rev. W. A. Stearns, D. D., LL. D., ex-president of Amherst College.

Mr. Stearns was born in Orange, N. J., in 1872. He entered Andover in the fall of '86 with the class of '90. His junior year at Andover he played centrefield on the baseball team, the two following years he pitched and his senior year he played first base.

He captained the baseball team his middle and senior years here, and during his last two years here he held the school championship in both the singles and doubles in tennis. Mr. Stearns was also an editor of the PHILLIPIAN, and he stood exceedingly well in scholarship.

It was Mr. Stearns' wish to enter one of the larger colleges, but family connections at Amherst made him choose the latter. For four years he played second base on the Amherst team and captained the baseball team his last two years there. He also held the championship in tennis at Amherst for two years. Casper Whitney made Mr. Stearns captain of the All-America baseball team for '93 and '94. Mr. Stearns played full-back on the '92 Amherst football team but was prevented from playing football the following seasons through parental interference.

After leaving Amherst he was instructor in the Hill School, Pottstown, Penn., for three years, from which place he came to us and the Andover Theological Seminary last year. Mr. Stearns will be at the Seminary two more years and during which time he will be graduate coach in the Academy.

Fence Orations.

The usual orations were delivered by representatives of the two lower classes at Yale, on the handing over of the Sophomore Fence to the Freshman class on Monday night. Jesse Dwight Dana P. A. R. M. Lester, P. S. '94, Yale '97 S, has graduated from the Law Department of the University of Georgia, and will commence the practice of law immediately at his home in Savannah, Ga.

The tennis championship at Yale was won by H. H. Hackett '00 who defeated R. Hooker '99 in the final round on Thursday.

DRAPER PRIZE SPEAKING.

F. J. O'Connor Wins the Thirty-second Competition.

The thirty-second annual speaking of selected declamations for the Draper prizes took place last evening in the Academy Hall. The hall was packed with an enthusiastic and appreciative audience among whom were a large number of young ladies. Palms and festoons of evergreen and a large floral maltese cross helped to improve the appearance of the room.

The speaking itself was of the highest order and was well sustained throughout. The articulation was exceedingly clear and the gestures were well delivered. The speakers were nearly all so good that it was difficult to pick out any one in preference of the others, but the judges, who were Prof. Alexander R. Merriam, Hartford, Conn.; Rev. Lewis Gregory, Lincoln, Neb.; and Mr. Robinson, Andover, Mass., finally made the following award: First, Francis Joseph O'Connor of Lawrence, second, Edward Woods Hunt of Tacoma, Wash., third, James Ross Irvine of Ross, Wyo.

While the judges were out Messrs. Janes and Mosely rendered several pleasing banjo duets.

ANDOVER WON.

Exeter Beaten in Tennis.

Last Saturday the Andover-Exeter athletic contests for '97-'98 were brought to an end by the Tennis Tournament in which Andover defeated Exeter in both the singles and the doubles. By Andover winning the tennis tournament the honors in athletics for this season are divided, inasmuch as Andover has won in baseball and tennis and Exeter in football and on the track.

Andover was represented in the singles by C. L. Childs, P. S. '98, and in the doubles by C. L. Childs, P. S. '98, and J. W. Howell, P. A. 1900. G. W. Hersey represented Exeter in the singles and R. B. Dresser and J. D. June in the doubles.

The singles were easily won by Childs but the doubles were more closely contested; still Childs and Howell won the first three sets.

A strong wind was blowing across the courts the entire afternoon so that the players had some trouble in keeping the ball in bounds. No especially brilliant plays were made, but the work as a whole was good.

The sets resulted as follows: Singles, Childs beat Hersey, 6-2, 6-0, 6-0.

Doubles, Childs and Howell beat Dresser and June 6-4, 7-5, 6-2.

Andover Pot-Pourri.

The sixth volume of the Andover Pot-Pourri has been edited this year by R. Howard '98, K. Smith '98, L. R. Aldrich '98 and P. P. Eames '00, and will appear to-day.

The book, which has been printed by McLaughlin Bros. of Philadelphia, is of about the same size as last year, with a blue binding and gold edges. All illustration work has been done by E. A. Wright, also of Philadelphia.

The frontispiece is a superbly done picture of Principal Bancroft, to whom the volume is dedicated.

As to the arrangement, the features are in the main, the same as hitherto, the grinds as usual constituting a prominent department. There are the usual half-tones of the various teams and school organizations and the illustrations are of unusual excellence. Among minor departments the difference from last year's book, is the arrangement of the school catalogue by classes, instead of in a body.

THURSDAY, JUNE 23, 1898.

We wish to acknowledge indebtedness to Mr. George T. Eaton and Prof. W. B. Graves, of the Faculty, for assistance in getting out this number.

At a meeting of the PHILLIPIAN Board on Monday, Frank A. Lucas, '99, of Montgomery, Ala., was elected Managing Editor for next year.

We heartily join with the multitude of the Alumni and friends of Phillips Academy in congratulating our Principal and Mr. McCurdy upon their twenty-fifth year of administration, and in the wish that they may be spared to do still more fruitful work for the grand old school.

To C. L. Childs and J. W. Howell belongs the honor of defeating Exeter in the Andover-Exeter tennis tournament for this year, and in the name of the school we would like to thank them for their services and congratulate them on their superior skill in the game.

It is with great pleasure we present in this edition a sketch of Mr. Alfred E. Stearns, who has done so much toward the success of our athletics for the year '97-'98. Professional coaching has never been popular at Andover, and Mr. Stearns, as graduate coach, ably fills a position that has been greatly needed in the school for a long time. Mainly through his efforts Andover made a creditable showing in football last fall and the success he brought to the baseball term this spring surpassed our most sanguine hopes.

Mr. Stearns' ability and his nobleness of character command the respect of us all, and furnishes to us a most excellent model.

With our new gymnasium and Mr. Stearns on the faculty as athletic director, our future success in all branches of athletics will be assured.

Once more it is necessary for the Senior members of the PHILLIPIAN Board to sum up the year's work of the school under the graduating class and it is with deep regret of parting that we go about our task.

The year '97-'98 has been an eventful one. The coming of Mr. Stearns and the football season first occupied our attention. The football team started out with an excellent record and kept it up all through the season. We lost the game with Exeter, but we will ever hold in memory the phenomenal playing our team put up in the second half of this game,—such uphill work while facing a defeat was a victory in itself. We easily defeated Lawrenceville and the season ended as victoriously as it was begun.

'98 has done her share toward supporting the publications and the literary life of the school. Forum and Philo have had a successful year, and the elections in these societies, for the first time in a great while, have excited a general interest and have every time been closely contested.

A Hockey Team and a Press Club have been formed, and through these organizations the winter sport on the ice has been systematized and Phillips Andover has been connected with the outside world.

A proper interest was taken in the war excitement, and had it been necessary we would have given substantial aid to our country.

We can refer with pride to the baseball season. Never has Andover been more successful in any branch of athletics than we were in baseball. Too much praise cannot be given the team, Mr. Stearns and Captain Wadell.

In track athletics we have not been so successful. The lack of a gymnasium we feel especially keenly after every defeat on the track. Year after year we see the best of material undeveloped and the hard and conscientious work of the captains wasted on this account. Enough has been said about the gymnasium, still we would like to impress the importance on all of doing the utmost to bring about the desired result.

To-day, '98 brings to a close its course in Andover. Not all have been with the class for the whole four years, but all have been with us long enough to feel a sincere regret in breaking up, never to be united again as the same old class. We go out feeling that we have done our best, and in future no memory will be more dear than that of '98 and old Phillips.
