ANDOVER 6, HOLY CROSS 0.

MacKay Makes a Touchdown and Davis Kicks Goal.

Andover defeated Holy Cross last Wednesday by the close score of 6 to 0. The Holy Cross team proved much weaker than expected, and under the circumstances our team made a very poor showing.

In the first half no scoring was done. The ball kept travelling all over the field, and the play was in neither side's territory for any length of time. However, when time was called, the ball was in Holy Cross' possession, well up towards Andover's goal. In the second half Andover managed to score a touchdown, by long gains, principally through the line. Towards the end of the half, Holy Cross rushed our team down the field, and would surely have scored, had it not been for a lucky fumble by one of her backs.

The trouble with the whole team seemed to be its poor defensive work. All three centre men practically went to sleep when Holy Cross had possession of the ball. O'Neil was slow and did not play a steady game. Newton interfered with his man, and was not half aggressive enough. Holt did some fair defensive work in the first half, but was continually offside and thereby caused his side to be penalized at a time when every foot of ground was important.

At tackle, Weeks was slow when the other side had the ball, and failed to break up the interference. Bloomer went to sleep on defensive play, and did not follow the ball. Often he had an opportunity of breaking through, but lost his chance of getting the man by not following the play. Davis, while playing at tackle, put up a good steady game, not as good as that of a week ago, but that was probably due to his playing at halfback in the meantime.

At end, Wallace played a good game. He was sure in his tackling, got down the field in time on punts, and followed the ball closely. Matthews did not play up to his usual form. This was partly due to the fact that his leg has been troubling him lately, and partly because, in the first half, Cross continually failed to break up the interference for him.

For the backs, Howard at quarter showed improvement. His defensive work was good and he handled the ball steadily. Wilhelm played a fair game, but was inclined to run out too far on end plays. Davis played a good defensive game at left half, but was slow in starting. Cross, in the same position, made some fair runs, but played a poor defensive game. He did not seem able to break up interference, and often let the three men, interfering for the runner, pass by him, without stopping one of them. MacKay at fullback was very slow in getting off his punts. Also in bucking the line, if he did not find a hole, he almost invariably stopped in his tracks.

In short, the team must brace up in defensive work. It certainly is not now playing the snappy, aggressive game it ought to, and which it must play to win the Exeter game.

Academy Notices.

CAMERA CLUB.

It is urged that as many members of the school as possible join the Camera Club, as the membership is still very small.

BIBLE STUDY CLASS.

The class in Bible Study will meet in Society Hall to-morrow noon. The character of the Pharisees and Sadducees will be discussed.

READING ROOM SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Those who have not yet paid their subscriptions to the Reading Room will oblige their class presidents by doing so immediately. Nothing can be done in supplying the Reading Room with magazines, periodicals, etc., until all subscriptions have been paid.

Andover's Line-up.

Andover this afternoon will line-up as follows: Matthews, l.e.; Davis, l.t.; O'Neil, l.g.; Newton, c.; Butkiewicz, r.g.; Hatch, Weeks, r.t.; Wallace, r.e.; Howard, q.b.; Cross, l.h.; Stiles, r.h.; Wilhelm, full back.

Means Prize Competition.

The Means Prize Competition, founded by the late Mr. Wm. G. Means of Boston, offers rare advantages to all members of the school. Every member of the school is eligible to the contest and several times the first prize has been won by members of the Junior class. The subjects and the rules governing the thirty-second competition are given below:

1. The Secondary Advantages of School Life.
2. The Mistakes of the Century.
3. The "New Romance" of Kipling's Poetry.
4. Do the Rich or the Poor bear the Burden of Taxation?
5. Is the Exposition of a Moral Idea Desirable in Fiction?
6. The Student and the Community.
7. The Ward Boss: the Professional vs. the Amateur in Municipal Government.
8. The Academic Theory of Honor.
9. What are "Entangling Alliances"?
10. A Remedy for "Yellow Journalism."

Competitors are subject to the following directions:

1. Compositions must not exceed eight hundred and fifty words in length.
2. They are to be written on paper prescribed for the purpose, and for sale at the Andover Bookstore.
3. Particular attention must be paid to legibility, paragraphing, capitalizing, spelling and punctuation. The structure and style must be that of a public address.
4. The pieces are to be signed with fictitious names and the real names placed in sealed envelopes superscribed with the fictitious names and attached to the pieces.
5. The pieces must be completed and deposited in the mail box at the Registrar's office, Wednesday, March 1, before one o'clock P. M.
6. A competitor may submit two or more essays, on one or more of the prescribed subjects.
7. The prizes are $20.00, $12.00, and $8.00.
8. The selection of the ten successful competitors will be answered at chapel shortly after the trial. The accepted compositions are then to be revised and committed to memory, after which the competitors will go into special training under the leadership of Prof. Churchill.

The essays will be spoken in chapel toward the latter part of April, before competent judges.

Philo.

Philo met last night in Society Hall. Blaikie offered prayer. Blaikie and Nicholas were appointed a committee of two to catalogue the society library. Proctor, Collins, Hill, Winslow, Whitney and Baumgarten were elected members. Goldsmith read the Topics of the Week and Clucas gave an address. Hull read a selection and Stebbins read an address. "Resolved, That Abraham Lincoln was the greatest man that America has produced," was the subject of the debate, with Kitchell, Robbins and Danenhowe affirmative and Katzenbach, Gould and W. B. Merrill negative. Blaikie, Stebbins, Hawkes, Hemmer and Nicholas spoke from the house on the affirmative and Lucas, Moore, Sweet. Hull and Robertson on the negative. The vote before debate affirmative 17, negative 18; after debate affirmative 15, negative 17. Chair decided with negative. Black gave a critique.

Forum.

The meeting of Forum last night was opened with a prayer by Crawford. The programme began with a declamation by Azhderian, which was delivered in Turkish. Reed and Barney gave extemporaneous addresses.

The debate, "Resolved, That the standing army of the United States should be increased," was supported on the affirmative by Atwater and E. L. Pitcher; on the negative by Beals and H. B. Pitcher. The vote before the debate was affirmative 11, negative 8; after debate, affirmative 13, negative 4. Hart, Ryder, Cunningham, Colby, Hardwick and McEwan spoke from the house on the affirmative, and Ewell on the negative.

Obituary.

Hon. F. M. Ames, P. A. '50, president of the Lamson consolidated Store Service & Co., and of the Kinsley Iron and Machine Co., of Canton, O., died at Pemaquid, Maine, August 23rd., 1898. Mr. Ames was one of the most successful men ever graduated from the Academy, and his sterling qualities not only were of benefit to him in business life but also in the civil war in which he took part being a sergeant major and quarter master of a new battalion of infantry.

The Andover Press.

Saturday, October 29, 1898

We have given elsewhere in this issue the subjects of the Means essays for this year, and rules governing them. The importance of entering this competition can not be overestimated. Aside from the honor which is bestowed upon the successful ten,—and especially the successful three who win prizes,—the benefit derived from writing the essay and learning, under Professor Churchill, how to deliver them is valuable.

The game with Worcester Academy this afternoon is our first championship game of the football season and we cannot well afford to lose it.

Worcester will have a strong team and this team will have a most hearty support from the few supporters they will have present.

As has been said so many times before, nothing helps a team so much as good cheering. Every member of the school should come out this afternoon and cheer for all he is worth, so that our players can feel, in their hard struggle, that the school is behind them and that we consider it an honor to belong to Andover's football team.

Attention has been called to the lack of interest the school has shown in the team this fall. The coaches have seen fit to speak of it, and it is regretted by all that such is true.

The worst fault of the team is that it lacks enthusiasm. The players don't seem to have the desire and determination to win which they should have. This is not the team's fault but the school is to blame.

The school takes very little interest in the afternoon practice. There have been times in the history of the Academy when almost every one would get out in the afternoon and cheer the team during practice. Now most of us think we are doing our duty if we cheer once or twice during the game.

Andover cannot have a winning team unless a very much different state of affairs are brought about. The Seniors, and old men of the school especially, are able to charge this condition, and they should begin to do so at once by coming out every day until secret practice begins, and cheering the players at every opportunity; and in this way set an example for the new men.
