College Baseball Teams.

The outlook for strong baseball nines this spring at Yale, Harvard and Princeton is good. Princeton will suffer the least losses and Harvard the most, while Yale will lose nearly all her pitching staff.

At Harvard, Captain Rand, left field; Chandler, centre field; Burgess, right field, and Hayes, pitcher, have graduated, and Robinson, third base, did not return to college. Cozzens and Foster, among the substitutes, also graduated. Harvard's losses, although numerous, will probably not be very serious, except probably in the outfield. Fritz, who pitched in one of the Yale games, and McCormick, are both good men and have returned. The others left are Reid and Davis, catchers; Lewis, first base; Captain Haughton, second base; Laughlin, short stop, and Sears, outfielder.

Princeton has lost only three men—Kelly, first base; Captain Butler, short stop, and Easton, left field, and will have her strong battery, Hillebrand and Kafer, come back again. Kelly's loss will be the only one that will be felt at all, but it is expected that some new man can be trained up to fill his place acceptably. Besides the battery, Princeton will have the following old men back: Burke, second base; Hutchings, third base; Watkins, center field, and Suter, right field. Harrison, substitute pitcher, has also returned.

Yale should be strong in every place except in the box, where Greenway's absence will be seriously felt. Fearey and Chauncey, substitute pitchers, have also graduated, leaving only Hall and Hecker. The subject of a good pitcher will be a great source of anxiety next spring, and it seems that some new man will have to be developed. Outside of pitcher's box all of last year's nine have returned, except Wadsworth, first base, and Hazen, third base, whose places should be filled from the substitutes without difficulty. Those who are in college are Sullivan, catcher; Captain de Saulles, second base; Camp, short stop; Eddy, left field; Wear, center field; and Wallace, right field.

Philo.

At the first regular meeting of Philo this term the following men contested to represent the society in the Philo-Forum debate: Orlady, Blaikie, Donovan, Fox, Sweet, Hawks, and Matthews. The subject debated upon was Resolved, That high license is preferable to prohibition in dealing with the liquor question.

After each of the contestants had spoken the judges, Professor Churchill, Mr. Pettee and Professor Moore, chose Fox as leader, Blaikie as assistant and Hawks as substitute.

A vote of thanks was then extended to the judges and the meeting adjourned.

The following literary program has been arranged for the next meeting, Jan. 13.

Declamation, Cannon.

Select Reading, Danenhower.

Topics of the Week, Robertson.

Debate, Resolved, That there should be an alliance between the United States, England and Japan.

Affirmative, Matthews and Newall.
Negative, Stebbins and E. W. Lucas.

Concerning the Track Team

To the Phillipian:

The season of the year in which the track candidates should go into winter training is approaching. The value of this winter training cannot be overestimated, and the mere fact that the candidates at Harvard are to be called out Wednesday and those at Yale next week, and have been called out thus early for several years, is a sufficient argument. Andover is seriously handicapped in this winter arrangement owing to her lack of a gymnasium and of an out-door board track. Her rivals, Worcester and Exeter have each a splendidly equipped gymnasium and excellent out-door board tracks for winter work yet each year Andover's track team has been expected to win from both these schools under this great disadvantage and besides both of these schools have their trainer come to take charge of the candidates for the team for several weeks during the winter season while Andover's trainer does not come until the beginning of the spring term, nevertheless Andover is expected to win.

Now it seems to the writer that this disadvantage can in a measure be overcome if the proper interest can be aroused; surely Andover should be as solicitous for the success of her track team as she is for her baseball and football teams. Track athletics are becoming more and more popular each year. Now it is not possible to secure the gymnasium so as to be of any use to the track team this year but it is possible to secure a board track. An eight lap board track which would answer the purpose can be built for about $150; Harvard has a six lap track which cost a little over $200. Now if every fellow in school would contribute fifty cents for this purpose we could give our track team a good board track and one which would and could be used by track teams here for years to come. We will have to have an out-door track some time so why not have it now and let this year's team get the benefit of it! Some may think that as we are to have a fine gym within a year or two that we can rub along until then and when we get that we will not need an out-door track. With any gym that will be put up here an out door track is a necessity, for the track that can be built in a gym is of little value on account of its smallness. Trainer Lathrop of Harvard will not allow his men to run on their indoor track for the reason that the continued running on a small track injures the tendons and muscles of the knee and ankle. The track would be of little expense. At Exeter the track is carried out and put down and kept clean by the students, so that no expense attends.

The fellows at Andover are called upon to support the foot-ball, baseball and track teams, tennis and various other subscriptions and it all counts up but if properly taken hold of surely each fellow could spare fifty cents for such a laudable purpose.

C. N. K.

Track Team Candidates

Captain Kimball expects to call out the candidates for the track team the latter part of this week. The hurdlers, high jumpers, pole vaulters, shot and hammer men will be put to work in the old gym together with the sprinters while the distance men will be given cross country runs; he wishes to enter the most promising men at one of the big in-door meets in Boston. The men at work in the gym will be coached by some of Harvard's best athletes. Capt. Roache, S. G. Ellis the shot putter and high jumper, Morse the jumper and hurdler, Hennen the shot and hammer man, Trainer Lathrop and W. H. Garcelon the famous Harvard hurdler of a few years ago are among those who have promised to come up and coach and it is hoped a large number of candidates will respond to the call and take advantage of this opportunity to secure excellent coaching. This is a season of the year in which it is difficult, owing to the lack of a gym, to secure the needful amount of physical exercise and by the above arrangement the track management hopes in a measure to present facilities for this purpose.

Baseball Candidates

This morning, in chapel Mr. Stearns called out baseball candidates for the battery. These men will practice every Wednesday and Saturday afternoon, in the gymnasium, until about the middle of February, when the candidates for the other positions will be called out.

The Andover Press.

Wednesday, January 11, 1899.

We have entered upon another term of the school year, some with deep regret for the omissions of the past term, others elated over their successful outcome, and all, no doubt, have determined "to do better."

While preparation for college is the main object of our being at Andover, it is not the sole object. Foot-ball in the fall term has detracted more or less from our scholarship and baseball and track athletics will do so in the spring, and the present term is the time for us to do our best work in the class room. Seniors and Middlers who spend this term in hard study will find it profitable to them in their college exams next June, and Junior Middlers and Juniors will find it helpful in their promotion.

It isn't the student who studies all the time, nor is it the student who does not study at any time, that makes the best man. A well cultivated mind is more valuable than iron muscle or an almost inexhaustible physical endurance. Classical and Scientific knowledge is more valuable than mere business instinct. But it is a moderation of all these that we should, and do to a certain extent, strive after. In the words of our venerable principal, "Secondary education is not drudgery, not pastime, not the means of a livelihood, not preparation simply or chiefly, but honest work and life itself."

Dr. Bancroft

In a letter received a few days ago, dated from Jerusalem, Dr. Bancroft said, that he had suffered from several relapses of his attack of malaria but, on the whole, his health was improved. In view of the extension of his time, granted by the Trustees, he will probably not return to Andover, this term.

Inquiry.

There will be a business meeting of Inquiry to-night at 6.45 to consider the advisability of abolishing the regular Wednesday meetings. All members should be present and express their opinions on the subject.

Banjo Club.

At a meeting of the Banjo Club, on Saturday, Seth Moseley was elected leader for the rest of the year in place of James who has decided to leave school.

Percy Malcolm Jaffray, centre rush on Harvard's victorious football team, died suddenly in Cambridge, on December 22d, of blood poisoning. A post-mortem examination determined that death was not due to injuries received on the football field. Jaffray entered Harvard in '95, from Westminster School at Dobbs Ferry, N. Y. In his freshman year he played right guard on the 'Varsity eleven in the Princeton game. In his sophomore and junior years he played substitute guard on the 'Varsity. He was only 21 years old.

Ground has been broken at Williams for a $3,500 Y. M. C. A. building. The entire amount of cost has been given by a friend of the college. Students and Alumni have subscribed a $10,000 endowment.

The Alumni Association of Phillips Exeter Academy are soliciting money for an Alumni Hall, to be used as a dining hall for the school.
