Andover 22; Somerville High 6.

Andover defeated Somerville High School Wednesday in a game marked by loose playing on the part of the home team.

Somerville had a very light team and although they played a very sandy game, Andover should have run up a larger score. The team seemed to be very careless and there was no excuse for allowing Somerville to block the kick that gave them their only touchdown.

At the ends Rafferty and Matthews put up a good consistent game, while Bloomer at tackle and Collins at half could not have been improved upon. In the ten minutes of the second half these two players advanced the ball more than ninety yards. Lanigan also made a couple of brilliant runs.

Brown at quarter ran the team with excellent judgment and tackled well, but still has a little tendency to fumble.

As for kicking Rinehardt made a couple of long punts and Bloomer kicked two magnificent goals, one of which was from within two or three yards of the side lines.

The game was called at twenty minutes past three with Somerville kicking off and Andover defending the east goal.

Jones kicked forty yards to Lanigan, who ran back fifteen. After a couple of sharp rushes Somerville got the ball on a fumble but did not hold it long as they also fumbled and Rafferty secured it.

Collins gained seventeen yards in two consecutive rushes, Bloomer ten, Rinehardt fifteen, and then Lanigan fumbled only to have the ball recovered by Rinehardt.

Here a Somerville man was injured, but play was soon resumed. After a few rushes by Bloomer and Collins, Lanigan carried it over the line for a touchdown and Bloomer missed a difficult goal.

Score, Andover 5, Somerville 0.

Jones then kicked thirty-five yards to Bloomer who ran the ball back twenty. Rinehardt here punted, but the ball was called back and given to Somerville for offside play in the line.

Hubbard and Jones advanced the ball ten yards only to loose it on downs. Rinehardt punted to Somerville's twelve yard line, where Somerville punted on the third down. Lanigan ran it back prettily and the ball was down on the fifteen yard line from where Lanigan soon made the second touchdown for Andover. Bloomer missed an easy goal. Score, Andover 10, Somerville 0.

Just before the close of the half one of Rinehardt's kicks was blocked and Harts ran thirty-five yards for a touchdown. Jones kicked the goal. Score at end of first half, Andover 10, Somerville 6.

When the second half commenced Mackay relieved Rinehardt at left half and Flinn took Howe's place at centre. Ball, Somerville's captain, relieved Hamlin but was injured in the first play and retired.

Bloomer kicked forty yards to Armstrong, who was promptly tackled.

Here Andover took a stand and in two rushes Somerville lost nine yards. They were given ten for offside play, however, and then Weeks blocked Jones' kick and Collins caught it.

After a couple of short rushes by Mackay and Bloomer, Lanigan was shoved through Stone for Andover's third touchdown. Bloomer kicked a difficult goal. Score, Andover 16, Somerville 6.

Jones again kicked off, this time to Brown, who advanced fifteen yards before he was stopped. Then began Andover's best rushing of the day. In nine rushes Bloomer and Collins carried the ball eighty-one yards to within two yards of Somerville's goal, where Lanigan was shoved across the line for the last touchdown of the game. Bloomer kicked another pretty goal. Soon after this the game was called, with Andover in possession of the ball on Somerville's twenty yard line. Final score, Andover 22, Somerville, 6.

The line up was as follows:

ANDOVER.		SOMERVILLE
Rafferty	le	Harts
Rothschild	lt	Whittaker
Weeks	lg	H. Stone
Howe, Flinn	c	W. Patch
Kinney	rg	Kimball
Bloomer, (capt.)	rt	Hamblin, Ball (capt.)

Touchdowns, Lavine 4; Goals from touchdowns Bloomer (2), Jones. Time, 20 and 10 minute halves.

School Meeting.

At a school meeting held Friday morning in chapel, H. H. Stebbins, Jr. 1900, was elected manager of the tennis Association for the ensuing year.

Philo

The regular weekly meeting of Philo was called on Friday evening last in Society Hall. After the minutes had been read, and accepted Ayers opened the meeting with a paper on Topics of the week. Donovan delivered an excellent declamation, and then the house listened to a selection from Mark Twain by Hill.

Next came the debate: Resolved that the United States should boycott the Paris Exposition on account of the result of the Dreyfus Trial. Robins assisted by Sweet and Crippen defended the affirmative while Farnham assisted by Whitney and Fobes spoke for the negative. Reed and Paine spoke from the house.

The votes cast on the merits of the question were affirmative 7, negative 19, on the merits of the argument affirmative 2, negative 21. R. W. Merrill delivered a very good critique.

The program for next week's meeting is:

Address, Kitchel.

Critique, Stebbins.

Declamation, Goldsmith.

Topics of the Week, Bliss.

Select Reading, Charwate.

Debate: Resolved that popular heroes of the late war should not enter politics. Affirmative, Katzenbach assisted by Moore; negative, Crippen assisted by Fobes.

The following have become regular members of Philo this year: Paine, Sherwins, Gallion, Fobes, Mullin, Lyons, Fallons, Ehrich, Gelsor, Naughton and Thacher.

Inquiry.

A very rare opportunity will be given to the students on Sunday evening of listening to a talk by Mr. Stearns on the advantage of Bible study.

As this has required a special effort on the part of Mr. Stearns, it is the duty of everyone to avail himself of the chance to hear a discussion on one of the most important subjects of to-day.

Andover's Line-up.

The third regular meeting was opened last night with a prayer by Baker. They discussed the presenting of a gavel to each retiring President.

Mr. Bishop gave a short talk upon the injury of using trots, followed by Mr. O'Connor's oration from the Draper Prize Contest. Mr. Barrett then gave an extemporaneous speech on the Dewey Celebration after which came a talk by Mr. Beals upon the reading of the Bible by the general public.

Then the debate, Resolved that the discovery of Klondike is of less value to the world than the Xrays was presented by Robertson and F. O'Connor in the affirmative and Hart and Wallace in the negative. The votes before debate were 12 to 6 in favor of the affirmative and afterwards 15 to 3. The chair was inclined to the negative. Critique, Baker in place of Williams. J. O'Conner; S. H. Smith and H. H. Thompson were accepted as members. The meeting then adjourned.

Meeting of Pot-Pourri Board.

At a meeting of the Pot-Pourri board last Thursday, eighteen candidates handed in their names. There are four vacancies on the board, two of which will be filled by Seniors.

The following is a list of candidates: F. H. Wiggins, A. S. Evans, S. A. Shick, S. S. Paine, A. Parke, R. P. Schenck, D. J. Penin, F. K. Woodworth, A. Wood, G. Chittenden, R. D. Deyer, J. H. Hopkins, R. O. Meisenback, J. Charwate, G. Adams, J. W. Spalding, A. S. Willis, Hibbins.

Officials for the Yale Games.

The officials for the Yale-Harvard and the Yale-Princeton football games have been decided upon. For the Yale-Harvard game, Mr. Paul J. Dashiell of Lehigh will be umpire, and ex-captain McClung of Lehigh, referee. Mr. Dashiell will act as umpire and Mr. Edgar N. Wrighton, Harvard, as referee, for the Yale-Princeton game. Mr. F. M. Wood will be time keeper for both games.

All track candidates report at Track House at 2. Preliminary trials for the relay races will be run off. All candidates must be there.

THE ANDOVER PRESS.

Saturday, October 7, 1899.

There is no subject discussed by us school fellows, about which more utterly rotten bosh is talked and written, than about school spirit,—with the possible exception of patriotism, as treated by our debating societies. School spirit is not invariably consequent to a week's continuous residence in the town of Andover, Essex County, Massachusetts; does not consist in knowing Andover cheers; is not always typified by extreme hoarseness after a football game; does not have its sanctuary necessarily in the bosom of an "A" sweater. It is not like the measles; some fellows never have it, some never could have it; nor like chills and fever which once contracted, returns periodically at short intervals. In the vicinity of your belt buckle you may be aware of your dinner; put your hand to the left of your breast-bone and you can feel your heart beat; but you can't put your hand anywhere and be sure of apprehending school spirit. Aaron, the high priest, might enter into the Holy of Holies, but upon one day of all the year; so, only two or three times perhaps during his school life, may a fellow hope actually to feel school spirit; that combination of reverence for Andover's noble past, of love for the strong and beautiful present, of hope for the splendid future, which is based on at least a partial comprehension of what the founders of Phillips built for, and what her governors have striven for during the century that has been since that founding. Perhaps on the day of the Exeter game, or during one of Bant's talks in chapel, or perhaps on the night of a celebration, — when all the hill rings with songs and cheering, and there is a band, and the fellows of the faculty make speeches, and Mac tells a funny story, twenty-five years' old, standing between the pillars of his front porch in the light of the torches, while the smoke of the red fire goes up before his face like incense — perhaps then you may know what school spirit is, and stop making an ass of yourself talking about it in school meetings. You feel, stirring beneath your heart, something real; just as warm and tangible as what you felt for your mother when you bade her goodbye last month; just as actual as the things you think about your sweetheart before you fall asleep; just as true as the love you feel for your chum, who puts his arm about your shoulders and says, "Come on old man, let's plug this Virgil. You read the trot, and I'll work the original."

School spirit is literal, not a mere figure of speech pertaining to the armature of a subscription fiend, nor a waxen dummy upon which to exhibit the doubtful beauties of a football oration. But it is a thing to be felt, not to be talked about over-much.

The New Titles.

Many fellows noted with interest, in the recently issued recitation schedule, that the head of the Greek department has become Professor Benner, and of the German department Dr. Newton. In addition to the foundation chairs of Latin and of Natural Philosophy there has always been by precedence, besides several instructorships, a professorship pertaining to the Greek department, and supported from the regular income of the Academy. Mr. Benner, as a natural result of the very excellent work he has done, since his graduation from Harvard, as chief instructor in Greek was promoted to this chair by the Trustees of the Academy last June. Mr. Newton, in 1891, undertook a non-resident course of Latin in Syracuse University for the degree of Ph. D. During the seven years that he studied, besides his regular school labors here, he read over two-thousand pages of classical Latin and as many pages of history having to do with that period. He passed two examinations each consisting of five days of continuous pen work, ten hours a day, as well as an oral examination on the thesis submitted as a final test of his fitness. This paper consists of over ninety printed pages—an exhaustive treatise on the Interjections in Terrence, of which classical swear-words there are thirty-two, occurring in the aggregate seven hundred and fourteen times throughout the works of this Latin play-wright. Dr. Newton is the only man on the faculty, with the exception of Dr. Bancroft, who has the degree of Ph. D..

The Camera Club met last Thursday and decided to hold their first meeting tonight (Saturday) in the Library.
