New Hampshire College vs. Andover 0

New Hampshire College defeated Andover on Oct. 11, in a game not marked by good playing on either side. Fumbling was frequent and sometimes inexcusable. Andover's team was handicapped by the inability of five regular men to play. The punting on both sides was fair. Andover's weak point seemed to be her centre and tackles, through which New Hampshire made repeated gains. Andover made nearly all her gains around the ends.

Runlett, who made the long run just before New Hampshire scored, should not have been allowed to go half the distance he did. The attempt to tackle him seemed, from the side lines, to be puny.

The game was called at 3.20 with New Hampshire in possession of the ball. Calderwood kicked thirty yards to Botchford, who carried it back to the centre line. Andover kicked thirty yards, and Rafferty got the ball on a fumble. New Hampshire got the ball on downs, and after a few plays kicked out of bounds, Andover securing the ball. The next play New Hampshire got the ball on a fumble. Soon after, Calderwood kicked to Baldwin, who ran ten yards. Andover punted. After a few more plays, Andover again got the ball on a kick, and made forty-four yards before New Hampshire secured the ball on a fumble. After a series of short rushes, mostly through the tackles, New Hampshire kicked to Baldwin. Andover kicked back to Runlett who a little later ran fifty yards to Andover's one-yard line. He was pushed over the line for a touch-down in the next play. Calderwood kicked the goal. Score, New Hampshire College 7, Andover 0.

After three more plays time was called with the ball in New Hampshire's territory.

In the second half, Winslow was substituted for Baldwin at quarter, Butkiewicz for Weeks at left guard, and Weeks for Coonley at right tackle.

Calderwood caught the kick-off and ran five yards. After four rather fruitless plays, Calderwood kicked, New Hampshire securing the ball on a fumble. Presently New Hampshire kicked to Winslow. After three downs, Andover punted. Two plays after, Calderwood kicked out of bounds.

Stevens tried the ends for three yards, and Mackay the centre for three. After a few more plays in which nothing was gained, Andover punted out of bounds. Two plays later Reinhardt got the ball on a kick and ran ten yards. After this till the end of the game, Andover kept bracing up and pushed the ball well into New Hampshire's territory before time was called.

The line up was as follows:

Rafferty	le	Andrews
Rothschild	lt	Wright
Butkiewicz	Weeks lg	Parker
Flinn	c	Dearborn
Weeks, Kinney	rg	Pearson
Coonley	rt	Cilley
Batchford	re	Matthews

Commander Eaton's Lecture

Commander Eaton of the United States Navy, who had charge of the "Resolute" during our recent war with Spain, gave a very interesting talk last Thursday evening, to the fellows of the school and their guests, on the "Battle of Santiago." His account was very thrilling of the events that led up to the battle, and how the Spaniards could have inflicted a great deal more harm on our ships had they used better judgment, even if they could not have prevented capture.

He described very modestly his own share in the engagement and also spoke somewhat of the troops on the main land, and how they fared.

One thing that he laid especial emphasis on, was the fact that while the Spanish ships were in the harbor of Santiago, they allowed an American warship to approach within about two miles of them every night of the blockade and use the search light on them.

Altogether, it was a most interesting talk and those that did not hear it were very unfortunate.

Inquiry

The regular meeting of Inquiry will be held at 6.45 in Society Hall. The topic is "Tongue Sins." References, James 3, Special 5. Leader, Robbins.

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AT THE ANDOVER POST-OFFICE.

THE ANDOVER PRESS.

Wednesday, October 18, 1899.

This afternoon Andover plays the Harvard Freshmen on our campus and it will undoubtedly be a very hard game for the team.

The Freshmen played Exeter a tie game last Saturday; although the Harvard men had never played together before, not even in practise; and we are certainly no better than Exeter at the present time.

In order to win today's game it is absolutely necessary for every man in school who can possibly do so, to be out on the stands and cheer just as he would in an Exeter game.

We have good enough cheering staff, but the fellows do not support the leaders; and when they do, it is always when Andover is about to score. That is not the time when it is needed, the team has enough encouragement then, but the time when it counts is when Andover is being outplayed. Although you may not realize it now, concerted cheering saves many touchdowns in the long run; and the team would certainly appreciate it.

So now, fellows, let us all be out there this afternoon, so that if the team should lose, we may not have ourselves to blame.

At a meeting of P. S. 1900 the following officers were elected:

Pres., Clifford.
Vice Pres., Robertson.
Secy., Michael.
Treas., R. D. Brown.

In a recent article in Leslie's Weekly, Chas. E. Patterson gives the standing of the strongest Eastern College Baseball Teams, as follows:—

- | | |
|-----------------|--------------|
| 1. Princeton | 7. Dartmouth |
| 2. Pennsylvania | 8. Brown |
| 3. Harvard | 9. Lafayette |
| 4. Yale | 10. Wesleyan |
| 5. Williams | 11. Lehigh |
| 6. Cornell | 12. Amherst |

The New Dormitory

The new dormitory, now under construction opposite L. C., is the first of a system of dormitories which will, in time, supplant the present house system.

The building which is to be three stories high, will have a front of 135 feet on Phillips street and a depth of 30 feet.

It will be built of brick with granite trimmings and practically fire-proof. There will be three entrances on Phillips street and in front of each will be a granite porch.

It will contain eighteen double suites of rooms; each consisting of a study 16x16 1-2 with two large windows, a fireplace and mantel and set of book shelves; and two bedrooms 10x11 with one window each.

The basement will be fitted with baths and a thoroughly modern heating apparatus for the whole house.

This building will be a valuable addition to P. A., as the need for more rooms near the school is constantly growing.

Let us hope that this, the new "Bancroft" will soon be followed by others of its kind until there are rooms for all the fellows on the school grounds.

Forum.

The regular weekly meeting of Forum last Friday night was opened with a prayer by D. G. Crawford. After the roll-call was read by the secretary, R. J. Dodd was elected a member of the society. The meeting then adjourned, the invitation of Philo, to listen to Commander Eaton of the Resolute speak at their meeting, being accepted. The program for the next meeting will be as follows:

Declamation, G. H. Smith; select reading, Goodhue; extempore, Crawford; topics of the week, Colby; speeches, by new men; critique, O'Conner.

Debate: Resolved; That hazing in every form should be totally abolished by students of all reputable institutions. Affirmative: Butkiewicz and Bishop. Negative: McEwan and Schick.
