Great Convention of Students Will Meet in Toronto.

At the request of the executive committee of the Student Volunteer movement, we print the following article which will be of interest to many:

The fourth international convention of the Student Volunteer movement will meet in Toronto, Canada, February 26 to March 2. The previous conventions were held at Cleveland in 1891, in Detroit in 1894, and in Cleveland in 1898, and were the largest meetings of students ever held. The last one was attended by over 2,200 delegates. Students will be sent as delegates from the institutions of higher learning from all sections of the United States and Canada and it is probable that 500 institutions will be thus represented. Those in attendance will also include professors, national leaders of young people's organizations, returned missionaries, representatives of foreign mission boards and editors of religious papers.

The program will consist of addresses during the morning and evening sessions, and section meetings for the consideration of missions from the standpoint of phases of work, the different missionary lands and of the denominations which are represented. The addresses which will be given will deal with the obligation of promoting the missionary enterprise, the means which are essential to its success and its relation to the students of this continent. Among the speakers are Mr. Robert E. Spear, Mr. John R. Mott, who will return from his tour around the world to preside at this convention, Right Rev. M. L. Baldwin, Bishop of Huron, Mr. L. D. Wishard, the first college Young Men's Christian association secretary, Bishop Calloway, President Capen of the American Board of foreign missions, Dr. and Mrs. F. Howard Taylor of China, and many returned missionaries and secretaries of foreign mission boards. Student Christian leaders of other lands will also participate.

As the citizens of Toronto will entertain the delegates to the number of 2,500, the only necessary cost of attendance will be the travelling expenses. Reduced rates have been granted by the railways. It is not expected that the majority of those attending will be prospective missionaries, but that the majority will be Christian students who are not volunteers.

The Student Volunteer movement for foreign missions, which calls this convention, is one of the most remarkable enterprises of students the world has seen. It was started in 1886, when at the Northfield student conference 100 students expressed their desire and purpose to become foreign missionaries. The call to missions was taken the following year by two Princeton students to the colleges of the country. Two years later the movement was definitely organized. As a result of its work several thousand capable college men and women have been led to form the purpose to spend their lives on the mission field, 1800 have already been sent out by the regular missionary boards, while similar movements have been inaugurated in Great Britain, Germany, Switzerland, South Africa, Australia and other countries.

Track.

The following men have reported for training for the indoor meets: Relay—Bannwart, Dwyer, Perkins, H. Edwards, K. Edwards, C. W. Fry, Fouts, K. Hockey.

Hockey practice the latter part of this week has been encouraging and the team has improved a good deal, especially in shooting. Wednesday, Walworth, a former Yale player, took the team in charge for about an hour and drilled them in keeping their places and in shooting. It is expected that he will continue to come up once a week for the rest of the season. At present, the main weaknesses of the team seem to be in holding positions and in shooting. The defense as a whole has not been working in the usual form. O'Brien and Bird have been doing the best all round work. As several members of the team have conditions, the lineup for the game with Melrose High school today will include some substitutes. The game will be called at 3.30 on Rabbit's Pond.

Lineup:

Forwards—O'Brien, P. H. Reed, P. R. Reed, Alworth.
Cover point—Andrews.
Point—Silleck.
Goal—Heckscher.

January Mirror.

The contents of the January number of the Mirror are as follows:

"A Change of Heart," John N. Greely.

"A Sketch," T. Y. Cooper.

"Mariner's Hymn," Chas. T. Ryder.

"The Lugano," A. T. Gould.

"Mirage," Teddy [Howland's Inspiration], J. F. Stimson.

Philo.

The regular meeting of Philo was opened last evening with the Lord's Prayer. After the roll call and reading of the minutes, under miscellaneous business the name of Leeds was proposed for membership. Gallyon opened the literary program with an address on hospitals. Topics of the week was given by Ayers. The debate then followed, the question for which was, Resolved: "That the total abstinence law is the most effective way of doing away with intemperance." Thayer, Williams, and Stimson supported the affirmative: Platt, Kittredge and Dorgan the negative. The decision was given in favor of the affirmative.

The following men were chosen to compete for the representative places in the Philo-Forum debate and at the next meeting three will be chosen to represent Philo: Thayer, Gallyon, Ayers, Starks, J. J. McClelland and Clark.

It was voted that a Philo Senate be held a week from next Friday. After a critique by Kitchell, the meeting adjourned.

The program for next meeting is as follows:

Address, McClelland.

Declamation, Kelley.

Topics of the Week, Williams.

Critique, O'Brien.

Debate, Resolved: "That the Danish West Indies be annexed to the U. S."

Forum.

The second regular meeting of Forum opened last night by repeating the Lord's prayer. After the roll call and the reading of the minutes, J. A. Bartlett opened the program with a declamation. Azhderian gave the topics of the week, and Ryder followed with a select reading. After Thompson and Ferry had delivered speeches, Davis compared the southern life with that of the north.

The subject for the debate was, Resolved: "That the Venezuelan government is justified in refusing the demands of Germany." The affirmative was supported by Paterson and Beineke, the negative by Kellogg and Schildmiller. From the house Nutter and Greely spoke on the negative. The vote before debate was affirmative 8, negative 7; after the debate affirmative 14, negative 4. Moore gave the critique.

Under miscellaneous business, question came up about Mr. Robinson's new arrangement for the Robinson Prize debate. After a careful consideration the society decided that it could not accept Mr. Robinson's generous offer concerning the larger prizes and the consolidation of the Robinson Prize debate with the Philo-Forum debate.

PER ORDER.

New Supplementary Reading Rules.

The following rules concerning supplementary reading have been made:

1 That the examinations take place at a quarter of an hour before the first afternoon period and close in time to avoid collision with that period.

2 That all students be examined at the same time, in eight divisions according to classification.

3 That the Registrar inform all delinquents of the make-up time.

4 Unexcusable absence from an examination, shall be punishable with an absence mark, and the delinquent shall pay a fee of one dollar for his make-up examination.

5 All absences shall come before the absence committee for consideration, as in the case of absences from regular school appointments.

6 In the case of repeating students, who have passed any year's work of the Reading, the English instructors may assign special books on notification from the Registrar.

7 The dates of examination shall be set by the registrar, and shall take place within two weeks of the end of every term.

The following are the assignments for supplementary reading on which examinations will be held about the middle of the term.

Classes I and A, Hawthorne's Scarlet Letter.

Classes II and B, Blackmore's Lorna Doone.

Classes III and C, Dickens' David Copperfield.

Classes IV and D, Hughes' Tom Brown at Rugby.

Editor for today's issue, J. E. Ayers.

Saturday, January 11, 1902

The selection of debaters for the Philo-Ferum debate has been under consideration by both societies. Philo, contrary to the usual custom, has seen best to elect her representatives by ballot. Whether this is the best plan for the debating interests of the society is questionable. The Forum debaters are to be chosen by a trial debate, a method which is undoubtedly superior to that of her rival's in determining the most capable men. Every member has an opportunity in this way, and the most competent gain the honor of their society.

Inquiry.

An important business meeting of Inquiry was held in Society hall last Wednesday evening. After the secretary's report of the last meeting, a revised constitution was adopted by the society. Plans for a reception to be held later on were then discussed. Williams and Ferry being chosen chairmen of the refreshment and reception committees respectively. After Kirkpatrick had been elected a member, the meeting adjourned. The following men have been appointed to the membership committee: H. Gillis, J. A. Bartlett, R. H. Gillis, McLanahan and Bale.

Fencing Class.

On Wednesday afternoon, a number of fellows met Mr. Alexander Engel, fencing instructor, in chapel, and talked over the prospect of forming a class in fencing. Mr. Engel, and one of his pupils, Mr. Gibson, gave an exhibition bout, after which Mr. Engel gave an interesting talk on fencing. He will be in town Tuesday and Friday afternoons, and all those intending to take lessons should see either him or Mr. Freeman for further particulars. The price of a series of twelve lessons is ten dollars.

Harry Edward Gabriel, P. S. '97, was married November 14 to Miss Cecelia Quigley of Harrisburg, Pa.

On the platform on the opening day of this term was Prof. Clifford H. Moore of Harvard, who was professor of Greek in Phillips, 1892-1894.

In Remembrance.

In a recent number of the Phillipian mention was made of the death of Prof. Faulhaber, for so many years teacher at Exeter. My memory of him goes back to his Andover teaching and I am glad to call up before the students of today this man of action and generous impulses. His first teaching in Andover was in a private school conducted where Major Marland now lives. From 1872 to 1874 he was a regular member of the faculty of Phillips Academy at Andover and taught French and German. I was under him in both of those languages and remember his enthusiasm and his dramatic power of expression. On the 11th of February 1874, a merry party of us had a sleigh-ride to Haverhill where Prof. Faulhaber lived and sat down to an elegant supper to which he had invited us and other guests from Bradford and Andover.

Prof. Faulhaber sang to us and accompanied by the piano, whistled with extreme grace and power. He read to us both in French and in German with an elocutionary force and vigor that was captivating. His wife and daughter added a rare charm to the occasion.

His merry smile, large personality and desire to win you to his buoyant and hopeful temper of mind has remained with us all these years.
