THE ANDOVER PRESS

Wednesday, May 27, 1903

The financial committee for commencement, as printed in one of our late issues, has been changed, and now reads Tyre, chairman, Shimuck and Levering.

As the date of the Andover-Exeter dual track meet falls on a holiday this year, May 30, it will be impossible to issue a PHILLIPPIAN extra, immediately after the meet; consequently, today's issue must take the place of the extra. The next issue of the PHILLIPPIAN will be published Wednesday, June 3, and will contain a full account of Saturday's meet.

The PHILLIPPIAN would like to supplement somewhat, the remarks made in chapel last Thursday morning by Mr. Stearns regarding the proposed prom to be held class day. For a number of years, the trouble with our commencement, as criticised by alumni and outsiders, has been its decided solemnity and lack of social functions to enliven the occasion; and because of this, there has been left an impression of remorse upon those graduating each year, and in many cases, a feeling of decided sadness marks the occasion. This feeling, of course, has its place, but it should not be the predominating one, and this year some radical changes have been planned in order to mingle with the seriousness of the time, the good fellowship and social side of school life which commencement represents as truly as does the former. The prom is one of these additions and, as is known in all colleges, is one of the chief, if not the most important feature in this line. It is hoped that hereafter at Andover it will be an annual affair, and to successfully carry out such a project, requires the hearty co-operation of the entire student body and the enthusiastic backing of all those in school.

The attention of the fellows is simply called to the prom now, and they are asked to make the work of the committee, which is difficult at best, as easy as possible, by acting promptly and letting those who have the matter in charge know of their plans immediately. A full account of the plans of the committee, the arrangements for accommodating guests, etc., will be published as soon as they are perfected.

1904—Squad report at 1 o'clock on Theologus campus.

1905—Squad report at 1.15 on Salem street campus.

ELECTED PRINCIPAL

Mr. Stearns Chosen for that Office Last Saturday.

Mr. Alfred Ernest Stearns was elected principal of Phillips Andover Academy, last Saturday, after serving a year as vice-principal. He succeeds the late Dr. C. F. P. Bancroft who died a year ago, having been at the head of the academy for 27 years.

PRINCIPAL-ELECT
ALFRED E. STEARNS

Mr. Stearns was born in Orange, N. J., June 6, 1871, and comes of noted New England educational stock. He is a descendant in a direct line through eight generations of Isaac Stearns, who came to America in the Arabella, on June 12, 1630. Among these eight generations are Josiah Stearns and Jonathan French, both of whom were Mr. Stearns' great-great-grandfathers, and who were among the twelve original trustees of the academy; Josiah Stearns' son, Samuel, and his grandson, Horatio, were teachers in the Academy, Mr. Stearns' great-uncle, Rev. Dr. Jonathan French Stearns, was one of the four founders of the Philomathean society in 1825. Rev. Dr. William Augustus Stearns, who was inaugurated president of Amherst college in 1854, and who was a graduate of Andover, was Mr. Stearns' grandfather.

In the fall of 1886, Mr. Stearns entered the academy as a student. He remained four years, residing with his uncle, Dr. C. F. P. Bancroft, who was then principal. During his student life here, Mr. Stearns entered heartily into all branches of school life. He was foreman of the Phillips fire department, president of the tennis association, and champion in the tournaments with Exeter; he was also editor of the PHILLIPIAN; president of the Philomathean society, captain of the baseball team and a member of K. O. A.; at graduation he was voted by his classmates as the most popular man and the best athlete in his class. From Andover he went to Amherst and continued gaining honors, adding to his already long list, pre-eminence in scholarship, athletics and writing. He was chosen orator of the class of '94 and was awarded by the faculty the Woods' prize given for general culture and improvement. After teaching a short time at Hill school, Pottstown, Penn., he completed a course at the Andover Theological Seminary. Having graduated from the seminary he was appointed registrar and instructor of history in the Academy. He received a degree of M. D. from Amherst in 1902. His wife was formerly Miss Deano of Springfield.

Through all his successes Mr. Stearns has always been quiet, modest and unassuming. That his election is a popular one is shown by the way in which it has been received by his friends, alumni of the Academy and its present members.

Communication.

[The Editors of the Phillipian invite all members of the school to express their sentiment in these columns, but do not hold themselves responsible for what is said.]

Editors of the Phillipian:

At the Northfield Students' Conference this summer, Andover ought to have quite a large delegation to hold up her standard in a spiritual line, as well as in other departments. Last year only eight Andover men were at the conference, but it is hoped that at least twice as many will go this year.

By sending a large delegation Andover would be helped immensely, as the school is at present especially under the eyes of the different colleges and a good representation would mean much. Hotchkiss had twenty-two men at the conference last year, and it seems as though Andover ought, at least, to equal that number. Any fellow deciding to attend the conference will hand in his name to R. H. Gillis, Wray or Kitchel.

Signed,
COMMITTEE.

Andover vs. Georgetown

Andover will play Georgetown this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Last year Georgetown won 8 to 6 after a hard contest and a good game is expected this afternoon. The probable line-up of the teams will be as follows:

Andover—R. C. Brown, c; Clough, 1b; Huiskamp, 3b; Dillon, rf; Anderson, R. W. Brown, cf; Cox, ss; Hodge, Kinney, lf; Baker, p.

Georgetown—Dorman, ss; Morgan, 2b; Apperious, c; Hart, rf; Dowling, 1b; McGettigan, lf; Hamethy, cf; Scheller, 2b; Titus, Byrnes, Drill, p.

Golf

The annual Andover Exeter Golf match will be held this afternoon on the Island Club links in Haverhill. The team will report at Chap's at 1 o'clock and will take the 1.15 car, connecting with the train which leaves South Lawrence at 1.55, in order to have the match start as nearly after 2 as possible. It is advisable for those who desire to see the match to leave with the team. The line-up will probably be as follows:

Andover—E. A. Brewer, Fuller, Gordon, Stuart, Sheldon.

Exeter—Cox, Elmer, Hastings, Maxson, Sanderson.

Phillipiana.
