BASKETBALL

Andover defeated the Boston Y. M. C. A. basketball team in a well played game at the gymnasium last Saturday afternoon by the score of 23 to 15. Andover did very well considering that four substitutes were used, but Boston also used two substitutes, which weakened them somewhat. The one feature which marred almost an perfect game was the number of fouls which were made, and both teams are to blame for this fault. Clough and Kinney played the best game for Andover, while Goggin and Blake executed some fine passes.

FIRST HALF.

Blake started the scoring for Boston by throwing a goal on a foul. Then after five minutes of hard fighting, Kinney threw a goal from the field. A face ball was called from Boston, and a free throw was made. Murphy threw a basket. Goggin followed in short order with another. Some good playing was in evidence for the next three or four minutes, at the end of which time Blake threw a goal from the field. Here both teams stood even from Boston and J. H. Murphy went in at right forward. Blake added a point a minute later, by throwing a goal from a foul. Andover then tied the score and went ahead by two goals through the courtesy of Kinney. Goggin tied the score with a pretty goal from the field and Kinney again put Andover in the lead by throwing a basket. Marshall threw a goal, and Goggin threw another in quick succession. Marshall started the third half by a pretty goal from the field.

Score: Andover 14; Boston Y. M. C. A. 10.

SECOND HALF.

In the second half Andover started off with a goal from F. H. and J. W. Murphy scoring goals in quick succession. Blake followed with a goal on a foul. Kinney and Casper followed with baskets. Then a double foul was made and Kinney scored a goal from a free shot, Blake failing to do so. After a few minutes of hard struggling, Clough shot a basket, and then, by excellent team work, Jacobs secured another. Blake closed the game by an unsuccessful attempt at goal from a foul, leaving the final score Andover 28; Boston Y. M. C. A. 15.

Philosophy.

The first regular meeting of Philo for this term was held last Saturday evening in Society hall. After the usual opening came the roll-call and reading of the minutes. The question of non-collegiate business French was voted in as a member of the society. A motion was made and carried that the president should hold a committee to make preparations for the annual banquet to be held at the Phillips Inn.

The literary program then followed: Declaration of Price; select reading, McCurdy; Topics of the Week, Olmstead.

The debate followed: Resolved, "That further annexation of territory is not for the best interests of the American people." Affirmative, Kinner, Kinney, and Jacobs; negative, Kaiser, Reynolds and McSterling. Olmstead spoke on the affirmative from the house. The vote before the debate stood: affirmative 2, negative 1; after the debate, affirmative 5, negative 0. The chair cast his decided vote with the affirmative.

Then he introduced a resolution concerning S. H. Carter's death, which was unanimously adopted.

The president then announced that the question for the Philo team which will represent Philo in the Philo-Pomrim debate would be held on Friday, February 5th. The topic is to be: Resolved, "That the Senate of the United States be elected by the people." Fedorson, Gardiner and Richards were proposed for membership. Kitchel closed with a critique.

FORUM.

A meeting of Forum was held last Saturday night in the Archaeology building. The meeting was opened by repeating the Lord's Prayer, which was followed by a declaration by Hamilton, entitled "Sorrowful Editors Present Their Overture." The next number on the program was "Topics of the Week," by D'Arcy, and Goldsmith followed this with an excellent extemporaneous talk on "Shakespeare and Milton compared." In the period then set aside for miscellaneous business Goldsmith was elected treasurer in place of Meixell, resigned.

The question for debate was, "Resolved, 'The average man learns more harm than good to the world.'" Hamilton assisted by Moore upheld the affirmative, and Monahan and Bastwick spoke for the negative. The vote was unanimous for the negative both before the debate, on the merits of the question, and after, on the merits of the affirmative. The chair placed his decision with the affirmative. Frost gave an able critique and the meeting adjourned.

Business meeting of Inquiry in Society hall was held for the election of officers for the last year. All members urged to be present.

Inquiry.

A very successful meeting of Inquiry was held last Sunday night in Society hall. Mr. Alan Fox, P. A. '96, '06, addressed the meeting. His topic was "Three great evils of school life, namely; drinking, licentiousness, and cribbing. He said that a fellow's main object at school is not to make the athletic team or the school paper but to fit himself for future life and that to make a grand success of life, a man must have clean hands in history in men in history have been total abstainers because they realized that drinking would weaken their chances of success. Although a fellow may be sure of his own power not to acquire the habit, he may by his example lead some weaker fellow to drink, and this abuse ought to deter him. Licentiousness, the speaker said, had lost many a college victory, and he gave the example of A. who, having broken training the night before a great race, had gone entirely to pieces and lost the race. Finally, the greatest athletes is the one whose record has been free from all dissipation. Concerning cribbing, Mr. Fox said that it was a notable fact that all cribbers had lost marks. The most successful men are those whose reputations for integrity are sustained, and in after life men would hesitate to give business requiring integrity to a classmate who had been a confirmed cribber in school. He ended his address by an apparent fear that the habits fostered in school might lead to useless temptations and keep pure and clean.

The society is very lucky in having such a man as Mr. Fox to speak to them and it is only their regret that the whole school could not have heard him.
