BASKETBALL

Boston University Defeated in a One-sided Game 36-2.

In a slow and rather uninteresting game of basketball played Wednesday afternoon in the gymnasium Andover overwhelmed Boston University by the score of 36-2. Though hopelessly outclassed the visitors gave the home team a good struggle and made the Andover forwards work hard for a goal. The game was somewhat rough at times, Andover having five fouls called on her and Boston four, from none of which however were goals thrown. Throughout the game, the passing and shooting was careless on both sides, Boston being especially reckless in goal throwing. Andover's team played well as is shown by the fact that everyone on the team made at least one goal. For the visitors there was no especial star.

FIRST HALF

Andover started off with a rush, scoring eight points in quick succession, Schildmiller, Kinney and Humphreys throwing the goals, the latter two. Boston took a brace and it was not until after two or three minutes of hard play that Cushman caged the ball. Kinney followed with three goals and Cushman brought the score up to 18 by a pretty basket. Boston again braced but after Schildmiller had thrown a goal from the floor, weakened, and Humphreys closed the half by shooting two goals in the last three minutes of play, leaving the score—Andover, 24, Boston University 0.

SECOND HALF

Thompson took Schildmiller's place at centre, the latter being substituted for Kinney at right forward. Schildmiller again started the scoring by throwing a neat basket after two or three passes. Here Boston was playing hard and Peirce succeeded in throwing the only goal for the visitors. Clough then added four points to Andover's score by shooting two pretty baskets in succession. Cushman, Humphreys and Thompson each followed with a basket and the latter ended the scoring by a fine throw after a single pass. Final score—Andover 36; Boston Univ. 2.

Summary:

ANDOVER	BOSTON UNIV.
Kinney (Schildmiller) r e	Peirce
Humphreys (capt) lf	Fletcher
Schildmiller, Thompson c	Barry
Clough rg	Cole
Cushman lg	Gillan (capt)

Score—Andover 36, Boston Univ. 2. Goals from floor—Schildmiller 3, Kinney 4, Humphreys 5, Cushman 3, Clough 2, Thompson, Peirce. Referee and umpire—Dr. Page and Mr. Spear. Timers—Moody and Jordan. Time—20 and 15-minute halves. Attendance 125.

The scores of the more important basketball games played yesterday are as follows:

U. of P. 18; Yale 12.
Williams 15; Dartmouth 12.
Princeton 27; Cornell 25.

Means Essays.

As numerous requests have been received to publish the rules and subjects for the Means essays which take place on March 1, it seems advisable to do so.

Competition is open to the whole school.

Compositions must not exceed eight hundred words and must be at least five hundred words in length.

All pieces must be typewritten.

Particular attention must be paid to legibility, paragraphing, capitalization, spelling and punctuation. The structure and style must be that of a public address.

The pieces must be signed with fictitious names, and the real names placed in sealed envelopes superscribed with fictitious names and attached to the pieces.

The pieces must be completed and deposited in the mail box at the Registrar's office, Tuesday, March 1, before 1 P. M.

A competitor may submit two or more essays on one or more of the prescribed subjects.

The prizes are $20, $12 and $8.

The selection of the ten successful competitors will be announced at the chapel shortly after the trial. The accepted essays are then to be revised and committed to memory.

The subjects for the thirty-seventh competition, Tuesday, March 1, are:

1. The Revival of Handicrafts.
2. What is Proper School Spirit?
3. Macbeth in Success and Ruin.
4. A Sea Fight.
5. Are the People Reading too Much?

6. The Contemplative Life.
7. Portia, the Lady of Belmont.
8. The Future of Irrigation in the West.
9. The Calling of the Civil Engineer.
10. The Value of Classical Studies in a Preparatory School.

Open Night.

The second "open night" will be held this evening at 7.15 o'clock in the Borden gymnasium. The program is somewhat similar to that of two weeks ago, but has different events. The athletic contest comes first and will consist of the following three events: Half mile run, bar vault, and running board jump. This will be followed by a basketball game between classes E and F and then the gym team will give an exhibition on the horizontal bar. The last number on the program will be a basketball game between classes G and H.

Basketball.

Andover will play the Brockton Y. M. C. A. five this evening at Brockton. In the former game with Brockton, Andover was defeated 10 to 8. This will probably be the hardest game of the season. The line-up will be: Kinney, rf; Humphreys, lf; Thompson, c; Clough, rg; Cushman, lg.

Communications.

Prof. A. E. STEARNS,
Principal Phillips Academy,
Andover, Mass.

My dear Mr. Stearns:

Last year in January the Academy Society of Inquiry sent us a welcome donation of $4.65 in aid of our work for the welfare of seamen. I am not sure but this may have been, in part at least, in result of my visit at Andover about a month earlier. It would be very gratifying if the sailor could be kindly remembered again this year.

Our work is growing. Our needs are pressing. Every dollar received is a valued help. Many of the sailors are young, and for that reason have a claim upon the sympathies of young men.

The storms and cold of these winter months make their own silent plea for the sailor, who is, more than any other man, exposed to their severities. Our work, as you know, is a work of relief as well as of reform and evangelism.

We very much wish our work could have a regular place in the offerings of the Chapel, but please be assured that whatever you and your young men may kindly do in aid of a work which means so much to the weather beaten men of the sea will be gratefully appreciated.

Thanking you very sincerely for your kind interest in this work, and wishing you every blessing, I am

Faithfully Yours,

C. P. OSBORNE, P. A. '55.
Cor. Sec'y.

To the Editors of the Phillipian:

The cap and gown is traditionally the costume of the scholar. On its historic side it is significant of the continuity of learning and is emblematic of the great body of students and learned men of all lands and all times. It would be interesting were there time to consider it from this standpoint but perhaps the practical side will appeal to us most effectively. In the first place it is democratic in its influence by doing away with all distinctions of wealth and social position so far as it concerns dress and outward appearance. For commencement, class day exercises etc, it is peculiarly appropriate and desirable in that it clothes everyone alike and is indicative of equal fellowship which is one of the glorious facts in the world of learning. It is economical in that the plainest suits may be worn underneath the gown, thus doing away with the expense of a new suit at a time when it may not be to advantage to make such a purchase. It adds to the appearance of a class, as a uniform is generally conceded to be becoming to any body of men,—we see examples of it on every hand in military organizations, railroad employes, etc. It lends dignity and interest to public ceremonies, and if we are to have commencement exercises, etc., at all, why not invest them with all the dignity and impressiveness as possible.

A SENIOR.

Junior Promenade.

The first Junior promenade ever given at Andover was held last night in the Borden Gymnasium. The floor and running track were tastefully decorated with banners of the various colleges and hemlock boughs, and the general appearance of the gymnasium excited the admiration of everyone present.

There were approximately 200 persons present and twenty dances were enjoyed. After the tenth dance ice-cream and coffee were served. The dance commenced at 8.30 o'clock and ended shortly after 1.30 o'clock.

The Prom was a distinct social success and praise is due the committee E. L. Fouts, R. Q. Baker, E. A. Dillon, D. S. Phillips and T. Gordon.

A tea given in the afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Stearns added greatly to the success of the affair.

Baseball Notice.

The following men report for practice at 2.00 o'clock:

Catchers—Garver, Daley, R. P. Brown, C. H. Chapin, Dodge, Perrin, Veeder and Monahan.

Pitchers—R. W. Brown, F. Winslow, Cummings, Hall, Hayward, Fels, Bennett, Porteous and Lanigan.

The entire squad will be called out February 23, and every fellow who has ever played baseball, or who has any desire to do so, is urged to come out for the team. The practice will consist of fielding only until the squad is taken out-of-doors. The first essential thing is that every fellow be fitted out with a baseball uniform and no fellow will be allowed to join the squad unless he has a suit or has been excused.

Sub-Target Lecture.

Captain Wilson, U. S. A., gave an extremely interesting lecture on the use and method of the sub-target gun at the Borden gymnasium last Wednesday evening. He showed the method of using the gun in the standing, kneeling and lying down position. He explained how to hold a gun in shooting and said that with two or three weeks' practice with the sub-target gun a fellow would be a better marksman than if he had practiced a whole year with a rifle. This was the case with his own company. There were about fifty fellows present.

Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

Arthur B. Boote is about to organize a Brotherhood Chapter of St. Andrew. Any Episcopalians who wish to join this chapter will kindly give him their names or see him at Room 10 of the Marland House.

There are chapters at Harvard, Princeton, Cornell and many other colleges and this one can be a success.

Chapel Services.

Prof. C. O. Day will preach at the Chapel tomorrow.

THE ANDOVER PRESS

Saturday, February 13, 1904.

In the last issue of the PHILLIPIAN a mistake was made in printing Edwin V. White '86, who was appointed consul at Dalny, Manchuria, by the President. It was Edwin V. Morgan '86, instead.

The promenade last night was a complete success in every way. The whole affair was very creditably handled by the committee in charge and the most sincere thanks of the school are due them for their work. Coming as it did in the middle of the winter term it went far toward brightening up a term which is generally considered the hardest and most monotonous of the year. Judging by last night the Junior Prom will become an annual affair.

In another part of to-day's issue will be found a letter from the Rev. C. P. Osborne, corresponding secretary of the Boston Seaman's Friend society, asking the students here to aid their cause. Undoubtedly this is one of the best societies in the country for the aiding of sailors and all who heard Mr. Osborne speak last year both in the Chapel and in Society hall will remember how deeply his talk impressed them. The PHILLIPIAN hopes that a collection similar to that taken up last year under the auspices of the Society of Inquiry may be made again this year and if so would urge everyone to donate old books, magazines, clothing and money as freely as possible. The slightest gift may give a world of enjoyment and keep some needy sailor warm during the rest of the winter. Mr. Osborne himself is an old Andover graduate as is Rev. Alexander McKenzie, the president of the society.

Bible Class.

The Bible class held its regular meeting Wednesday evening at 6.45 in Society hall. Bardwell led the meeting and his subject was: "From Paul's Conversion to the time of his Re-appearance at Antioch." He gave a very interesting talk. The meeting closed with each fellow reading two verses from the Bible. The attendance was 17.

Kitchel will lead the meeting next Wednesday evening and his subject will be: "The Period between Paul's Conversion and his First Missionary Journey."

The Yale track-team will take part in the Spanish War Veterans indoor games in New York, March 5.
