PRINCETON WINS.

Andover Defeated by the Visitors 10-2.

In the first base ball game on the new field played yesterday, Princeton defeated Andover, 10-2. Poor playing characterized the early part of the game, but towards the end the team settled down and played better ball, which is a hopeful sign. Andover's most conspicuous faults were, weak hitting, erratic throwing, and above all a lack of dash, snap and fight.

Lanigan seemed to lack control, which led him to let up on his speed and the result was that when he did get them over, he was hit rather freely. Perrin caught rather well considering Lanigan's wildness. Hall, who replaced Lanigan, pitched a very strong game and gives promise of being a strong man. Daly was unsteady behind the bat, due in part to his injured finger. Clough played usual strong game at first. Kinney did well at second except that he was too slow in handling ground balls owing in part to the slowness of the ground which he did not seem to realize. Reilly and Cummings had little to do. The outfield showed up well, especially Murphy, who covered a great deal of ground. The whole team showed their lack of familiarity with the ground and surroundings, several misjudged flies resulting from this cause. At the bat Kinney showed up especially well and gives indications of confidence which he lacked last year.

There was a tendency on the part of many of the men to watch the ball after they had hit it instead of bending all their efforts to reach first base. Many of the team's most conspicuous faults are such as can be remedied by hard work. It is evident though, that if the nine is to attain the standard set by Andover nines during the last few years, every man must settle down to hard work and enter into the practice in a more serious spirit than some have yet shown.

The Princeton team played a hard, snappy game, in great contrast to the game put up by Andover, but at times, they too seemed bothered by the softness of the ground. Captain Stevens and Davis, both old Andover men, put up strong games for Princeton and received a good welcome when they came on the field. Cooney, Exeter's captain of last year, played a strong game at first and was also good at the bat.

Princeton scored two runs in the first inning on a series of bad plays by Andover. In the second inning Reid's single, followed by a hit by Davis to center, scored another run. In the next inning Cooney walked, Wells got a life and both scored on Reid's single to right. The fourth inning was a bad one for Andover. Cosgrave got a base on balls, Underhill went to first on Perrin's error and Purnell scored both men on his double to left. A few moments later Purnell scored on a passed ball. Princeton got two more runs in the fifth. Davis singled to left and came home on Underhill's two base hit to right field. Cosgrove got to first on an error and scored on a passed ball.

Andover's first run came in the third inning. Schildmiller, first man up, singled to right and scored on Clough's two bagger. Her second score was made in the sixth inning on Kinney's single to left field followed by Hall's hit to right.

Final score: Princeton 10, Andover 2.

Lawrence N. E. League, 4; Andover, 1.

Last Wednesday, the Lawrence N. E. League defeated the school team 4 to 1. The field was heavy and slippery, which made fast playing impossible. Cummings pitched a good game, holding the professionals down to eight hits.

Lawrence was the first to score. In the fifth inning with two out, three hits, a base on balls and an error, scored three runs. Her fourth run was made in the last inning, on Bernard's three bagger, followed by a long fly to centre.

Andover's only run came in the sixth inning. Murphy hit to short, reached second on Dillon's sacrifice and scored on Coburn's wild throw to first.

ALUMNI MEETINGS

New York Association.

The annual dinner of the New York Alumni Association of Phillips Academy was held at the University club in New York, on the evening of March 30. The statement was made by one who was present that the meeting was by far the best both in point of enthusiasm and members that the Association has yet held. President Horace E. Deming was toast master and one hundred and fifty men sat down to the tables. There were a number of speakers, the most notable of these being Principle Stearns, P. A. '90, Sir Chentung Liang Cheng, P. A. '82, the Chinese minister to the United States, and Camille G. Kidder, President of the Phillips Exeter Alumni Association of New York City.

Pres. Deming in his opening remarks said that money had been devoted toward erecting a suitable bronze tablet, in the school chapel in memory of Dr. Bancroft. Among other interesting remarks were those made by Mr. Stearns in regard to new buildings to take the place of Commons and also the need of an assembly hall.

The speech of Sir Chentung Liang Cheng, familiarly known in his school days as "Pi Yuk," was full of reminiscences of the good old days at Phillips.

After the dinner several hours were given up to informal talk. Many good stories were related and serious problems discussed. It was after 2 a. m. when the circle broke up, but all agreed to be on hand at the next meeting.

Washington Association.

The third meeting of the Washington Alumni Association of Phillips Academy was held at the Chinese Legation on the evening of March 31. A most pleasant evening was passed during which refreshments were served in the large dining room of the legation. Space will not permit a detailed account of these meetings along with the speeches, but a full account will be given in the Alumni Phillipian, which will appear at an early date.

THE ANDOVER PRESS

Saturday, April 23, 1904.

True school spirit has always been one of the most valued possessions of Andover. In the past she has been noted for the way in which she has supported her teams, and for her high ideals of sportsmanship. The exhibition given at yesterday's game by a few members of the school, is a striking contrast to what should be expected from Andover students. Every good play of the home team should be warmly applauded, but to cheer at an opponent's error is certainly most unsportsmanlike, ungentlemanly and unbecoming of Phillips Academy. This was done during the game with Princeton yesterday afternoon. Some members of the school even went so far in their lack of school spirit as to leave the field before the game was finished, presumably because they believed Andover to be beaten and the game, therefore, could hold no further interest for them.

Let us not allow these things to occur again. Even if we are being beaten, the least we can do is to support the team until the game is ended. The team has to stay and the school certainly should stay. Above all, let us show our guests that we are gentlemen.

Archaeology Notes.

The Conference of Massachusetts Home Missionary Pastors, held at the Andover Theological Seminary from April 5th to 15th, has occasioned a number of visitors to the Archaeological Building. The cases disarranged by the removal of specimens for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition were rearranged, with other relics, giving them a more presentable appearance. The unsightly tags and labels were removed from the specimens in the show cases as far as possible. Since the 15th, the ball games have been the means of visitors to the museum.

As a result of a short article from the pen of the curator printed in the April number of the Farm Journal of Philadelphia, he has received a large number of interesting letters relative to Indian village sites, mounds and relics. He looks forward to securing some donations from this source.

The Department has lately received specimens from Mr. Holland of Boise, Idaho, Mr. Treganowan of McKeesport, Penn., and four boxes of freight from Mr. Van Kirk of Potts Grove, Pa. It is also expecting another donation from Mr. Clarence B. Moore, who is now exploring Florida sites.

Forty new desks have been made for the lecture room for the use of the students.
