LACROSSE

Interesting Article on the Game as Played by Enthusiasts of the American College

Lacrosse is a real American game. It originated with the Indians many years ago, and was practiced among their various tribes for the double purpose of recreation and training, to fit the young warriors for the stern realities of the war path, by quickening the mind, strengthening the body, and accustoming them to close combat.

As a sport it was admirably suited to develop the endurance and physique of the young braves.

With its history full of adventure, and its strong attraction as a sport and all round athletic training, lacrosse a number of years ago attracted the Canadians, and later on, our colleges and athletic clubs to such a degree, that it is now regarded as one of their most interesting events, by both spectators and players.

Good lacrosse players are found among men of all sizes, who are not necessarily fine sprinters, or crack milers, for there are opportunities for players of divers abilities.

A fellow who follows it for some time, comes out a first class all round athlete, with speed and endurance, cool, nervy, agile, long winded, and quick as a cat.

The simplicity, and rapidity of the play, up and down the field, make the game exciting and interesting to the spectator.

It is, therefore, not to be wondered that such colleges as Harvard, Johns Hopkins, Princeton, and Stevens Institute followed by Swarthmore, Yale, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Columbia, and other colleges took it up with much interest some years ago, and are now anxious each year for trained material to recruit from, and the athletic clubs look for material from the colleges.

The interest became international and teams now visit between this country, England, and Canada on many occasions.

In 1903 a combined Oxford and Cambridge lacrosse team came to the United States and played a series of matches with the American college teams. Additional interest was lent because no college teams of the two countries had met since 1884 when an all American college team won from Cambridge, Eng., by the score of 60.

The Oxford-Cambridge team won from every American college they played in 1903, but were defeated by the Crescent Athletic club of Brooklyn, who have done much to foster lacrosse in the United States where they have held the championship for a number of years.

Harvard later showed the strong progress our college teams were making by defeating the University of Toronto 3-2 in 1904 which was the first time a Canadian college had met defeat at the hands of an American college.

Any Saturday afternoon from the first of April to the middle of June at the beautiful grounds of the Crescent Athletic Club, one could not fail to become an enthusiast, surrounded by an audience of seven or eight thousand people, up on their toes with interest, watching a lacrosse game between the Crescents and some of our college teams, or the Canadian teams that have been invited down, or with one of the picturesque Indian teams calling and coaching each other in their native tongues.

Considering such facts it is no wonder that Andover with her record for athletic material should have taken up lacrosse, not only for the game itself, and the college teams later, but for the sound training it offers to those who go in for other sports as well.

Forum Program

Forum will hold her last meeting of the term Friday evening in Forum Hall. After the election of officers for the winter term has been held, a very interesting program will be followed out.

Magowan and Wilder will render declamations, and Firmin will give an extemporaneous address.

The regular debate will be in charge of the officers of the present term, the subject of which is to be announced by Webster five minutes before the opening of the argument, so the debate will be extemporaneous. Marsh and Robinson will uphold the affirmative while Gemmer and Magowan will support the negative. After these men have spoken, the debate will be thrown open to the other members present.

As this is to be the last meeting before vacation it is hoped that every member will be present who can arrange to do so. Those contemplating joining next term will also be welcome.

Yale Calendar

Renovich, '10, has been appointed the Andover agent for the Yale University calendar for 1907. This calendar is very handsomely got out, and has twelve pages containing pictures of the college buildings, university and class teams, the dormitories, the captains and coaches, and cuts of the society houses. The cover is made of gray leather and has a very effective design of the bulldog, Yale's emblem.

These calendars may be secured from Renovich, '10, at Clement 3.

KILLED IN FIRE

O. E. Schmuok, Former Andover Student, Killed in Fraternity House Fire at Cornell

Oliver LeRoy Schmuok, P. S. '03, was one of the students who lost their lives in the recent disastrous fire at Cornell. Schmuok had escaped from the building but prompted by the call of duty returned in an heroic, but vain effort to rescue his room mate. In this attempt he received burns from which he soon afterward died. In his school days here Schmuok was conspicuous for his faithfulness, sincerity of purpose, and a modesty savoring almost of bashfulness. That in the supreme test he proved himself a hero is not surprising to those few schoolmates who knew him best and appreciated the real strength of his character.

Three other students were killed: F. W. Grelle, '10, East Orange, N. J.; W. H. Nichols, '07, Chicago, Ill.; James McCutcheon, jr., '09, Pittsburg, Pa.

Mr. Stratton in Andover

Mr. W. E. Stratton, who formerly gave instruction in music to the P. A. fellows, was in Andover Friday. He is spending a month in this country, after which he will again go to England. Mr. Stratton is secretary of the Sub-Target Company, Ltd., of London; and may be found at 27 Pall Mall, London, S. W., at the place of the Wilkinson Sword Co., the English agents for the Sub-target rifle.

The Sub-target rifle has proved very successful and has been adopted by the British Army and Admiralty. It has also been installed in a large number of schools and colleges. It is in use at Eton, Charterhouse, Harrow, Bradfield, and many other schools.

"Strat" will be very glad to see any of his old Andover friends who will look in at his London address, and will make them right welcome.

Pot-Pourri Artists

Two artists will be taken on the Pot-Pourri Board this year. All men who intend to try for these positions should report to N. H. Foster, 8 Andover cottage, sometime before the Christmas vacation.

Forum Meeting

Forum held its regular meeting last Friday evening. Under miscellaneous business, F. Patton, L. Bake, and A. C. Black were accepted as members, and the name of A. Frasier was proposed for the society.

Van Winkle gave a very interesting though extemporaneous address on the Japanese educational question, which is being so warmly discussed in San Francisco.

Hamilton rendered a declamation in his usual excellent and powerful style. He chose for his selection, extracts from Senator Thurston's speech, made before the Senate in the spring of '98, imploring our government to intercede in behalf of the Cubans.

The subject for debate was: Resolved, that it would be proper for a President of the United States to serve three terms.

J. Hartwell acted as leader of the affirmative assisted by Mosser, in the absence of Beach. Hunt and Magowan upheld the negative, and won the debate by a large majority.

Philo Trials

Philo held trials last Friday evening to determine the team of four men who will debate against Forum next term. The question for debate was: Resolved, that the Philippines should be freed; and each man was allowed eight minutes in which to present his arguments.

Principal Stearns, Mr. Durand, and Mr. Scheffy acted as judges, and selected the following men to make up the team: Hincks, leader; Foster and Wheeler, assistants; and Averill, alternate.

At Philo, next Friday evening, the following program will be rendered. A. Stevens will deliver the declamation and Goodhue a select reading. Hoge will render "Topics of the week." The question for debate will be: Resolved, that iron is a more useful metal than gold. Shartenberg and Palmer will support the affirmative; Richmond and Smith, the negative. Averill will render the critique.

CONCERT POSTPONED

The Annual Fall Concert to be Held in Winter Term—Probable Date About January 22

Owing to certain unfortunate conditions, among which are the injury to one of the cast of the Dramatic club and the impossibility of obtaining the Town hall for a convenient night, the Fall concert, which was to have been held about a week before the Christmas vacation, has been postponed until some time in January; probably January 22.

All the clubs have been working hard, as also has the cast which is to carry on the vaudeville side of the entertainment, and a first-class show is certain.

It is hoped that by postponing the date of the concert and bringing it at the first of the winter term a much larger audience will be secured, and the concert will serve to break the monotony of the long term between Christmas and Easter.

In figuring up the results of the 1906 football season, Carlisle is found to have scored the most points, and Yale to head the list for defensive. Andover ranks as twenty-fourth in the number of points scored, and as tenth in the defensive work. The heads of the lists are as follows:

Total points scored:—

3. Lafayette.
4. Princeton.
5. Pennsylvania.

Defensive:—

1. Yale Freshmen.
2. Yale.
3. Princeton.

5. Rutgers.

Yale stands twelfth in the total number of points scored. Harvard is eighth in total points and twelfth in defensive work.

Purdy's Rate Cards

Purdy's discount rate cards can be used by any member of the school, even if he is not a senior or non-returning middler. From the notice put in the PHILLIPIAN a few days ago it might have been thought that only seniors or non-returning middlemen could use the cards. However they are for the use of all students of the academy.
