LOWELL DEFEATED

In Fast Game Andover Retrieves Former Defeat at Lowell, 25 to 15

Andover wiped out the stain of her former defeat at the hands of Lowell, by defeating them on their own floor last Wednesday afternoon, 25 to 15. The game was one of the best exhibitions of playing so far made this season, the guards showing better ability to cover their men, and the whole team working well together. Andover's shooting was noticeably more accurate, in decided contrast to work of the Lowell five. Rough play was in evidence from the start, and though eleven fouls were called, only two points were scored from them, each team securing one. The game was played in a cage, and the Academy's unfamiliarity with this style of game at first cost her considerable. In the first few minutes, Lowell scored six points over Andover, but then the latter steadied down, and soon overcame this lead.

Smith, in place of Swihart at center, filled his position exceedingly well, and he and Raymond made the highest total of points. Flynn and Manning played a strong game for Lowell. One fact was especially noticeable. Pensel, who earlier in the season scored thirteen of Lowell's twenty-eight points, was so well guarded by Sheldon that he failed to score once. Those who went to Lowell were: Raymond, Whittemore, Smith, Sheldon, Hay, Hunt, O'Brien, Manager Arnold, and Dr. Page. Many representatives from Roger's Hall were among the spectators.

The game in detail:

FIRST HALF

Flynn at once started the scoring by caging two baskets in quick succession. Lowell failed to tally from free throws on Andover's fouls, but Manning carried the ball the whole length of the floor by some fast dribbling, and added another two points. Smith now caged Andover's first basket, being followed almost immediately by one from Flynn. For several minutes the ball was carried up and down the floor, neither side being able to score. Several fouls were made, but no goals were made from them. Andover now took a brace, and on successive baskets by Smith and Whittemore, tied the score. Sheldon and Flynn each scored, and Raymond closed the half with a long throw from a difficult angle.

Score: Andover, 12; Lowell, Textile, 10.

GYMNASIUM EXHIBIT TODAY

The Harvard gymnastic team will come to Andover this afternoon and give its annual exhibition at 2.30 instead of in the evening as had been arranged. At the same time, the finals in the wrestling and boxing tournaments will be held, the winners of which will either be awarded numerals or individual cups. The wrestling will be in fifteen-minute bouts, with Mr. Sawyer as referee. The boxing will be in three two-minute rounds, with Mr. McCurdy as referee. Sid Peet will keep the time in both of the above. The Academy orchestra will play during the exhibition. An admission fee will be charged for the benefit of the Swimming Pool fund, and as there will be no basketball game, all fellows should attend. The following program has been arranged:

FEATHERWEIGHT DIVISION

Wrestling: Kwan, '12, vs. Hopkins, '12.

Boxing: Bayne, '10, vs. Buchler, '12.

HARVARD GYM TEAM

Parallel bars: H. V. Coryell, F. M. Whitman, A. B. Parsons.

LIGHTWEIGHT DIVISION

JUNIOR PROMENADE

Indications Point to a Most Brilliant Function Next Monday Night

Monday evening in the Borden gymnasium the seventh annual Junior Promenade will be held. This dance, given by the Junior class to the Seniors, is the greatest of Andover's social events. This year the committee has labored unceasingly to make it surpass in brilliancy and éclat all former functions.

The floor of the gymnasium is being put in the finest condition. Along the walls the apparatus will be converted into enticing cozy corners, banked by evergreens, rugs, and pillows. The running track will be a mass of greens, affording to spectators a secluded place from which to watch the proceedings. Gaily-colored banners and pennants will be scattered in lavish profusion.

Visitors from throughout the entire East are arriving at Andover, and proper accommodations are now most difficult to find. From present indications, over a hundred people will take part in the dance itself. The services of Page of Lowell have been secured again to provide refreshments, and he has undertaken to furnish a menu of unusual attractiveness.

The patronesses will receive on the right as one enters. They are: Mrs. Alfred E. Stearns, Mrs. Matthew S. McCurdy, Mrs. Francis A. Goodhue, Miss K. R. Kelsey, Mrs. Eben A. Baldwin, Mrs. Pierson S. Page, Mrs. Warren K. Moorehead, Mrs. Bartlett H. Hayes, Mrs. Markham W. Stackpole, Mrs. James C. Sawyer, Mrs. Robert P. Keep, Mrs. John L. Phillips, Mrs. Winifred E. Merrill.

The Prom committee is composed of the following men: N. F. Thompson, B. H. Fonda, H. C. Black, N. Williams, and J. W. Hall.

All fellows who will attend the Prom are asked to observe carefully the following carriage arrangements: All vehicles will approach the gymnasium at the right of Prof. Graves's house. After leaving the gym, they will pass to the left in front of the dining hall and then out to the street. The same order will be observed in departing at the close of the Prom. J. Greene will have charge of all carriage arrangements. The roadway from Main street to the gymnasium in front of Mr. Sawyer's House will be for the use of pedestrians only.

8.30—Junior Promenade.

Notice

Programs for the Junior Promenade will be distributed at Chap's this afternoon in return for tickets.

Dancing Notice

The Monday evening dancing class will not meet on the night of February 21st on account of the conflict with the Junior Promenade. The class will meet, however, on the following Monday night, and on Saturday the fifth of March.

Pot Pourri

It is positively necessary that all portraits for the Pot Pourri be handed in before March 15. Thus far, only a very few have come in. Fellows are warned that pictures handed in after that date may be rejected. Discount cards may be obtained from C. W. Arnold, Bancroft 6, at any time.

The fellows are asked to co-operate with the management in handling in "grinds." Much of the book's success depends on this department, and all should therefore contribute to it.

Change in Recitations

On Monday afternoon recitations will be held from two to four instead of from four to six, in order to give time for the Senior reception. Tuesday will be a holiday. Day excuses must be obtained Tuesday morning after chapel, and those going out of town must report at the office from 7.00 to 7.30. All who usually go home can leave as soon as their work is over on Monday.

THE ANDOVER PRESS

January 19, 1910

Owing to lack of space, we had to reject a communication for this issue. The article, however, will appear in the next issue.

Sunday Speakers

The speaker at both services Sunday and at the Inquiry in the evening will be Rev. Albert Parker Fitch, D. D., President of the Andover Theological Seminary in Cambridge. Dr. Fitch is a Harvard man and took his theological course at Union Seminary, New York. He was pastor of Mt. Vernon Church, Boston, for four years, and last year was elected President of Andover Seminary. Dr. Fitch is a young man of much force in the pulpit and is in constant demand as a college preacher. He is at present a member of the Harvard Board of Preachers.

Senior Reception

On Monday afternoon the Senior Class will hold a reception to members of the Junior Class and any others who may be going to the prom. The committee, consisting of F. R. Large, L. B. Paine, C. Martin, R. M. Thompson, Eames, and Champlin, have selected the Archaeology building as the most suitable place for the entertainment. The lecture room will be converted into an attractive reception room by means of innumerable banners and pennants, which the committee are busy collecting. The reading room will be set aside for refreshments. Cloak rooms will be found down stairs. Mr. Moorehead's office will be reserved for this purpose for ladies, and the fellows will go down in the basement.

Those receiving will stand near the head of the stairs, just as one enters the reception room. The following have kindly consented to act as patronesses:

Mrs. A. E. Stearns, Mrs. McCurdy, Mrs. Keep, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Baldwin, Mrs. Goodhue, Mrs. Moorehead, Mrs. Sturgis, Mrs. Hayes, Miss Kelsey, Mrs. Stackpole, Mrs. Page, and Mrs. Merrill.

Philadelphia Alumni Smoker

On the evening of February 14, the Alumni Association of Philadelphia and vicinity held an informal smoker at the University Club on Chestnut street. About thirty men were present. Mr. Talcott Williams, P. A. '69, and president of the association, directed the festivities. Principal Stearns was the guest of the club, and at the request of the members showed a large number of stereopticon views of the school of the past and present. A collation was served after the pictures had been shown.

February Mirror

The February number of the Mirror was distributed to subscribers last Wednesday night. The issue contains several well written articles, chief among which is "Thanados," by K. Rand. The editors have further improved the quality of the paper by the insertion of two good poems.

The first article is a description of the new dormitory under consideration by the trustees, with several explanatory cuts. "Ten Months in the Confederate Lines" is an account of the actual experiences of Mr. H. H. Manning, '69, who acted as scout to General Butler in the Civil War. A story of rather a grewsome nature is found in "The Hermit's Cell," which leaves a strong impression on the reader. "What's in a Name," and "Told in a Smoking-car," are two short stories.

SECOND HALF
Andover started this half with a rush and maintained the pace throughout the entire period, allowing their opponents to score only five points. Hay threw the first goal almost immediately after the whistle blew, and Manning followed with another. Raymond and Hay each tallied, and Manning shot the first free throw of the game. Just before time was taken out, Raymond scored. Several changes in the line-up were now made, Tofferson replacing Phillips at left guard, and North going in at center for Bailey.

Immediately after the resumption of play, Smith netted a basket on a long shot, Raymond backing him up with a second. Manning now came to the front with a sensational basket, and Whittemore ended the scoring by throwing Andover's only free shot.

Score: Andover, 25; Lowell Textile, 15.

Seniors Defeat Juniors
The Seniors overwhelmed the Juniors last Wednesday, 44 to 14. The victors showed splendid team work, and their shooting was accurate. Tilton was the star of the game, shooting seven baskets. His floor work was particularly brilliant.

Discussion Groups

Mr. Stackpole's Sunday noon discussion group will continue the topic of "Law as a profession" at their next meeting.

Mr. Stackpole's Tuesday evening group will not meet next week, Tuesday being a holiday.

Mr. Poynter's class on "Men of the Old Testament," will discuss "Samson" next Sunday.

Mr. Hinman will hold his discussion group on "Great Men of History" next Sunday at 11.30. The life of "Martin Luther" will be discussed.

Mr. Stackpole's Wednesday evening class will continue the subject of "A Student's Religious Life" at their next meeting.

Mr. Harrington's Bible class will not meet this week. The lesson for Tuesday, March 1, will be the fifth and sixth lessons in the life of Paul.

Forum

The regular meeting of Forum was held Friday evening in the Archaeology building. O'Brien began the literary program with the topics of the week, and Bell spoke extemporaneously. A selected reading was given by Ogden from Poe's "The Pit and the Pendulum." The subject for debate was, "Resolved, That the national parties should have no part in municipal elections." A vote on the merits of the question taken before the debate favored the affirmative, 6 to 0. The affirmative was upheld by Tilton, assisted by Gordon, while the speakers for the negative were Hart and Tupper. A vote taken on the merits of the debate resulted in a tie, 5 to 5, but the critic decided in favor of the negative. An excellent critique was given by Mr. Hinman. After some miscellaneous business, the meeting adjourned.
