BASEBALL SCHEDULE

Manager Douglas Announces Excellent Schedule

The baseball schedule for 1911 has been completed. The schedule this year is equal to those of the past and is in most respects similar to them. It includes sixteen games, two of which will be played out of town, that with Yale at New Haven on April 22, and that with Harvard Freshmen at Cambridge on May 24. Two preparatory schools have been introduced this year, Cushing Academy and English High School, while the games with Bowdoin, Villanova, Mass. State and Manhattan have been dropped.

The first game of the schedule will be played on April 7, with the Dartmouth varsity, which is the opening day of the spring term. This will be the first opportunity of gaining an idea of the relative strength of the team. The result of the two preparatory school games will no doubt be of interest to many as it will provide a comparison between the Academy and other prep schools. With this schedule, therefore, the school may look forward to the coming as one of the most interesting in the history of the school.

The following is the schedule:

April 7	Dartmouth
April 14	Yale
April 22	New Haven
May 24	Harvard

Manager of Musical Clubs

Heywood S. Jones of Bangor, Me., was elected manager of the musical clubs for next year, at a meeting held after chapel this morning.

Philo

The meeting of Philo to be held next Friday evening will be a business one for the purpose of electing officers for the spring term. On this account it is important that all members be present.

BUFFALO JONES' LECTURE

Most interesting Illustrated Lecture Given in the Chapel Last Evening

Last evening the famous "Buffalo" Jones gave a most interesting and exciting lecture at the Stone chapel. The subject was "Lassoing Wild Animals in Africa," and was illustrated by over a mile of moving picture films. The lecturer was a most clever speaker and his dry humor made the lecture the more pleasing.

His opening remarks dealt chiefly with his boyhood days. At this time he was also interested in capturing wild animals. His zeal for out-of-door sports, his love for animals, and his knowledge of their ways has always been increasing.

The first picture was taken in the Yellowstone Park in Wyoming and showed the cowboys in the act of taking deer, mountain goat and lions. The pictures were most thrilling, especially those in which the mountain lions were being dislodged from the trees to which they were finally driven by the boys. In all cases Buffalo Jones climbed the tree with his rope and brought down the lion. The object of catching these beasts was not for the sake of killing, or for the hides, but for the skill and excitement manifested by the cowboys while capturing these animals.

The pictures taken in Africa were the most thrilling, since they had to do with the larger animals. The cowboys chased and captured almost every species of wild animals. It was most amusing to watch the lassoing of a giraffe, one of the most awkward animals known to catch with a lasso. The rhinoceros offered the most effective resistance, breaking several ropes before he could be tied, and even was barely unsuccessful in killing one of the party. He was finally captured, but since the object was not to kill, the beast was set free again. Then came the encounter with a full-grown lioness. The chase covered a long distance and the animal, although she was stalked, was able to free herself and again escape. At last, however, they succeeded in getting over her forefoot. She was pulled off the ground over the top of a tree so that her other feet could be tied. At last the work was completed and she was safe in a cage and bound for the railroad. The lioness was donated to the zoological collection in New York. She was the only animal which was kept but the fact remains that an American cowboy is able to do anything under any circumstances.

ANDOVER-EXETER CONCERT

Annual Concert of the Combined Musical Clubs Held at Exeter last Saturday Evening

On last Saturday evening the annual Andover-Exeter concert was held at Exeter. It was a great success in every way and much credit is due Manager Tompkins for the splendid manner in which he managed the whole affair.

The fellows left Andover on the 4:15 train for Exeter and reached there at about 6.00 p.m. Here they were met by the Exeter delegation and each individual man was taken to dinner by one from the Exeter clubs. In fact the whole spirit and courtesy exhibited toward our fellows was of the most hospitable sort imaginable, for every single Andover fellow reported a hearty reception and a most enjoyable evening.

According to the usual custom, the concert was opened by "Old P. A.," which was given by the combined clubs of Andover. After this the usual program was followed, during the playing of which a number of encores were given. The work of the Andover Mandolin and Banjo Clubs was especially commendable, every piece being rendered with the effect and finish which only hard work and ceaseless effort can produce.

The Exeter quartet was deserving of great praise for their excellent work. They showed great ability and rendered a number of very entertaining pieces.

The program was concluded by the "Exeter March Song," given by the combined clubs of Exeter, after which the Andover fellows found the special train awaiting them at the station.

The program was as follows:

LAWRENCE WORK

Report of "The Phillips Academy Educational Union."

Mr. Clough has finished the report of the Lawrence work as it stands up to date. The report is as follows:

The latter part of last term you voted to loyally support a work in Lawrence for the teaching of English to foreigners. The plan of organization was begun the first part of January. Several places where successful classes had been conducted were visited, and information secured from men who are the leaders in the work in the country.

On January 20 the Board of Directors met in Lawrence. A name was decided on, the work to be known as "The Phillips Academy Educational Union." Two new stores were secured, at 127, 129 Lawrence street in the center of a Lithuanian, Syrian, Polish, and Italian quarter. The gathering of the Syrian classes was done by visits to their various clubs. An interpreter was found in each place visited. The Lithuanian classes were started through their leading citizens. The first class was held on the evening of January 26th, with fifteen Lithuanians in attendance. On January 27th the Syrian class met, with but four present. Since then two or more classes have been held each Monday and Thursday for Lithuanians, and two or more classes each Tuesday and Friday for Syrians. Special instruction has been given to individuals in the afternoon. All of the men have shown great improvement, but the Lithuanians as a whole are the most enthusiastic. However, the perseverance and advancement shown by a few of the Syrians are marked. Every man in the classes can write at least his name, with one exception. All are able to read simple English and a few are able to spell the smaller words. Every man has expressed his desire to continue the work during the summer, except one boy who is to leave the city.

One Lithuanian boy plans to enter Valparaiso College next fall. Another Lithuanian, earning $11 a week, wanted to give $5 to the work, while one Syrian wants to come to the classes every night. This same man broke up the classes twice in one evening to insist that he wanted to go ahead faster.

A series of lectures was begun Wednesday, February 8, and will continue weekly until May, alternating for Lithuanians and Syrians. The lectures have been well attended, and with the aid of a

Dr. Peabody's Lecture

Thursday evening, March 23, at eight o'clock, Dr. Charles Peabody will give an illustrated lecture on "The Earliest Man in America." In this talk he will describe recent finds of great archaeological interest made at Trenton, N. J., which indicate that man lived in the vicinity of the Delaware river at the end of the glacial period. This is the last of a series of eight lectures in the course given under the auspices of the Archaeology department of the Academy, and is the second delivered in Andover this year by Doctor Peabody. The Doctor is at the head of the Harvard Museum, and is one of the authorities in America on archaeology, besides being an accomplished and interesting speaker. There is no admission charged to the lecture, and all students are cordially invited.

Gun Club

After chapel this morning, a meeting of all candidates for a Gun Club was held. Plans were discussed, but no business could be done. No officers were elected this morning, but some of the fellows are going to find out the prices of traps, etc., so that the fellows may be taxed. If we can form a good club, we can get shoots with the various clubs in the vicinity of Boston.

Inquiry

The last regular meeting of Inquiry for this term was held last Sunday evening. The address was given by Mr. F. Hyde, Yale 1911, Andover 1907. Hyde was prominent in school life while at Andover, making his 2nd in football, and also entering other branches of school life. At Yale, he is now leader of the Glee Club, played on the second football team last fall, and is very much interested in the Dwight Hall work at Yale. His talk was one of extreme interest, and his manner of delivery was such that he held the attention of every man present.

After the regular meeting was held, reports were read by the members of the various committees. All of these were most satisfactory.

W. E. Gould read a short report on the Lawrence work, the gist of which was given in the last issue of the Phillipian.

P. M. Clarkson then gave a report of the work of the Bible and Discussion Groups, which is as follows:

Number of classes	10
Number of leaders	10
Enrollment	182
Average weekly attendance	81

These classes were begun at the beginning of the term and the last meetings will be held this week.

Harold H. Nute, as secretary of the society, then read a general report of the work done during the last term.

The financial report was read by Timbie and is as follows:

REPORT OF TREASURER

RECEIPTS

Cash on hand Sept., 1911	$27.61
Musical Club, for rent of piano	15.00
Subscriptions, 40 students	97.70
Total	$140.31

Total	$106.20

At a special meeting of the Society of Inquiry held after the meeting on last Sunday evening, officers were elected for the coming term, and are as follows:

- President, Norman V. Donaldson.
 Vice-president, James M. L. Bickford.
 Secretary, George Henry Nute.
 Treasurer, Clyde T. Timbie.

Soccer Game Cancelled

The soccer game with the Brookline Athletic Association for Wednesday was cancelled because of the poor condition of the field and unfavorable weather. The management, however, will attempt to secure another game for a later date.

stereopticon have meant much in the way of entertainment and instruction. (List appeared in Phillipian.)

The teaching has been confined to the undergraduates of Andover and included in all sixteen men, four going each night. It is to the enthusiastic and skillful efforts of these men that the success of the work is due. The work for next term will be carried on along the same general lines.

The record of attendance is as follows:

Total number of Lithuanians enrolled	40
Total number of Syrians enrolled	20
Average attendance of Lithuanians	23
Average attendance of Syrians	11
Average attendance of Lithuanians at lectures	26
Average attendance of Syrians at lectures	9

The increase of attendance has been over one hundred per cent since the opening night.

Indirectly we are assured by some of the mill owners of their appreciation of the work, and a great many citizens of Lawrence have shown their hearty interest.

Now that the men can speak and understand English enough to carry on conversation, it would appeal to you to hear the keen appreciation which they express.

You are teaching men to speak and write English, you are opening up a way to citizenship for them and giving them the best ideals of American life. You are aiding over sixty men.

Boxing Finals

This afternoon at four o'clock all fellows who come up to the gym are promised a good exhibition of boxing. The finals of the tournament will be boxed this afternoon.

It will be noticed that, in some cases, vacancies occur. These are made by fellows who have dropped out or who have been sick. In all of these cases, anyone who would like to enter may report at the gym to be weighed in before their bouts.

Twenty-five cents is charged for those who have not season tickets, but it is hoped that a large number of fellows will come out and show an interest in the boxing.

The following bouts will be held. Heavyweight—Lahr, MacMurray.

Welterweight—Dickerman*
Middleweight—L. Smith*
Lightweight—Noyes, Butler
Featherweight—Whittlesey*
*Anyone may enter these bouts

Repeating Shotguns

USED IN THE U. S. ARMY.

The U. S. Army authorities know a gun; that is why, when they decided to equip some troops with repeating shotguns, they selected the Winchester in preference to all other makes. The experts of the U. S. Ordnance Board also know a gun; that's why, after submitting a Winchester Repeating Shotgun to all sorts of tests, they pronounced it safe, sure, strong and simple. If you want a shotgun—buy the one whose strength and reliability led the U. S. Army authorities to select it and the U. S. Ordnance Board to endorse it—that's the Winchester.
