YALE VICTORIOUS

Defeats Andover in One-sided Game

Yesterday the Yale Varsity defeated the Academy team in a seven-inning game by the score of 20 to 0. The game was in the visiting team's favor throughout, but many close plays threatened at many times. The Yale nine started in with three runs in the first inning and managed to keep the lead till the close. Both teams played slow and made many errors, but these were partially made up by several close plays. Sharp pitched for Andover until the fifth inning when he was replaced by Royce. The old Andover stars showed up very favorably for their team, taking the leading part throughout. Andover's defeat is particularly due to its being handicapped by the loss of its captain and many other first team players. The game by innings:

FIRST INNING

Schofield walked. Thompson got a scratch hit, Schofield taking second. Reilly sacrificed, advancing both men. Bennett got to first as Schofield was tagged out at the plate. Murchie to Black. Riddell smashed a three-bagger, clearing the bases before him. Merritt got to first on Thompson's error, Riddell coming home. Blossom doubled, sending Merritt to third. Sharp hit Burdett, filling the bases. Hartwell then struck out. Three runs.

Murchie, first man for Andover, struck out. Middlebrook and Blossom to Riddell. Boles hit, but was out trying to steal second. Burdett to Bennett. No runs.

SECOND INNING

Schofield walked. Thompson walked. Reilly struck out. Bennett hit, scoring Schofield and Thompson, and got to third on a fielder's choice. Riddell out, Sharp to Cochran. Merritt doubled, scoring Bennett. Blossom flied to Thompson. Three runs.

Conway tripled. Daugherty struck out. Thompson fouled out. Black struck out. No runs.

THIRD INNING

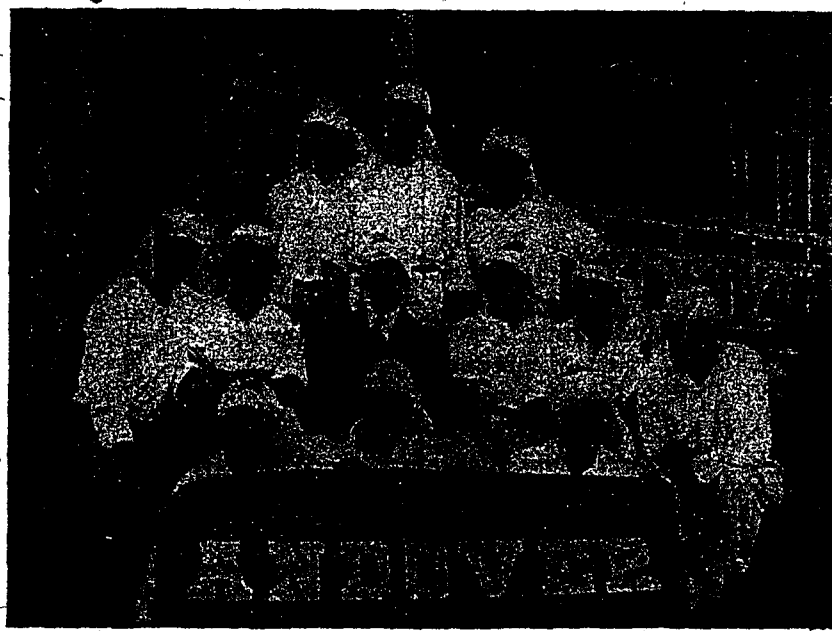

Burdett flied out to Thompson. Hubnel, batting for Hartwell, flied out to Daugherty. Schofield went out, Middlebrook to Cochran. No runs.

Daugherty went out, Brown to Riddell. Thompson fouled to Burdett. Black flied out to Reilly. No runs.

FOURTH INNING

Thompson got to second on

ANDOVER VS. HARVARD 1915 TODAY

This afternoon Andover will meet the fast Harvard Freshman baseball team in the second game of the season. Up to date the Harvard team has shown up well, as they have beaten St. Mark's and several other strong prep school nines. Fry, Exeter's baseball captain last year, is now pitching for the team and will probably be played this afternoon. Harvard's outfield will be weakened, however, as Brickley, also of last year's Exeter baseball team, and Wright are not able to play, for they are to be competitors in the Harvard '15-Exeter track meet which will take place this after-

TENNIS MEET

The first tennis meet of the year will come this afternoon when Andover will play Milton Academy at Milton. Andover will be represented in the singles by Howe and Pfaffmann, while Fullerton and Pfaffmann will play together in the doubles. Milton has a good team and a hard game may be expected. The team will leave Andover at 12.25, and return some time in the evening.

Yale Cup

The Boston-Yale Alumni club in 1906 gave a cup which was to be given annually by the vote of the faculty to that member of the graduating class who had the best all-around record, athletics to count one half and studies to count one half.

The first man to win this cup was Lannigan in 1906. He went to Harvard and played baseball and basketball. The following year the cup was won by Kilpatrick, who went to Yale. He made good in football and track.

In 1908 it was won by Gardner who played track and golf. He went to Yale. In 1909, Snell of Brown won it, with baseball and basketball to his credit.

Year before last Paine who went to Cornell won it, and last year Martin, now in Yale, secured that honor. Paine played football while Martin, besides being track captain, won his "A" in football.

This year, judging from present indications, there does not seem to be much doubt as to who will secure it.

The cup has been won by a Yale man four times, and a Harvard, Cornell, and a Brown man once.

NORTHFIELD CONFERENCE

Prominent Speakers to Address over
1,000 Delegates. Many Events
on 1912 Program

According to the 1912 prospectus recently issued by the Northfield Student Conference Association, the usual number of delegates, probably more than a thousand students, will attend the Northfield Student Conference to be held at East Northfield, Mass., June 21 to 30 inclusive. This is by far the largest of the many gatherings of a like nature, almost every college and preparatory school of the East and Canada being represented. The work of the conference is threefold: religious, athletic and social, and its purpose is to develop all-round men.

The mornings are devoted to group classes for the study of the Bible and the progress of Christianity in the world today. Later a meeting is held in the large auditorium, at which addresses are made. Among the speakers for this year are the following: Dr. Cairns of Aberdeen, a graduate of Edinburgh University, who is in close touch with the British Student Movement; Robert E. Speer, a secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions; John R. Mott, who has been chairman of the Student Volunteer Movement from its inception; Dr. Gaius Glenn Atkins; E. T. Colton; and Rev. Cleland B. MacAfee.

The afternoons are given over completely to recreation and inter-collegiate sports. Last year among other sports were tennis and baseball tournaments, a track meet, and the usual "celebration," including a long procession with all the different delegations dressed in some fantastic costume.

In the evening, in addition to a conference on Round Top near the grave of Dwight L. Moody, an auditorium meeting is held. Bible study, the Study of Mission and Social Problems, vocational discussions, and private interviews fill the remaining time.

The expenses of the conference are as follows: A program fee of $5; board and lodgings from June 21 to July 1, $13.00; the trip and necessary incidentals, $3.00 or $4.00. The Andover delegations have averaged about 20 men for the last few years, and a large representation is expected this spring. All who wish further information should speak to Gould. Bishop 27.

In another column of the Phillipian is a statement concerning Mr. Stearns' movement in abolishing the useless and incessant talking on the part of the players during the games, probably intended for encouraging the battery, but in reality only confusing the batter. The movement is one which Yale has adopted and one which Andover may right well be proud also of having adopted.

Probably no one failed to recognize the splendid way in which the Yale team conducted themselves yesterday on the field. The contrast from formerly, when the players were continually uttering words of encouragement usually rendered inarticulate by so many voices, was very marked. It is a great deal more enjoyable to the audience to watch a game where there is less talking on the field.

But there is a deeper reason than this why a reform should be made over the old customs. There is no doubt that the incessant chattering serves to rattle the batter; and is this sportsmanlike? College baseball games are contests in which the strength and strategem of one is matched against that of the other, and the teams of the various colleges being composed of men in the truest sense of the word, should look with contempt upon any unsportsmanlike play or actions.

It depends upon the colleges like Yale and the schools like Andover to keep up the standard of the rule which Mr. Stearns has set here, and thereby be the leaders in thoroughly sportsmanlike play.

During the past week two communications have been received which we are unable to publish because they are unsigned. The Phillipian is glad to publish any communications received from the student body, but although the signatures will not be printed, their authorship must be known as an evidence of good faith.

Trials for Draper Prizes

The preliminary trials for the Draper prizes were held in the chapel on Monday evening. The following men were chosen: Oscar Leander Chell, East Braintree; John W. Cooke, Newton Centre; James Warren Feeney, Andover; William Wood Leonard, Piqua, Ohio; Robert Winthrop Morse, Boston; George Winslow Washburn, Brockton; Robert Henry Coleman, Louisville, Ky.; Shirley McElroy Hall, Jamestown, N. Y.

These men will speak in June, in the forty-sixth competition for the prizes. The Draper prizes for selected declamations were founded in 1866 by the late Warren F. Draper of the class of 1843, of Andover. Prizes of $20, $12, and $8 are awarded.

Abbot Again Victorious

The champion Abbot House team again won a decisive victory last Saturday afternoon on the Old Campus. This time it was Hamilton's All Stars that were defeated by the score of 15 to 8. The game was very close throughout, and nearly every inning ended with the score tied until in the seventh the Abbot team forged ahead and gained steadily. The team again challenges all comers and holds itself champions of the school until beaten.

Notice

Following the lead of Yale, Coach Principal Stearns has made the rule that hereafter there is to be no signalling to players on the field from the benches, and none of the players are to be allowed to talk on the field and keep up that ceaseless chattering which is so characteristic of a baseball game. The talk has but little effect outside of the tendency to "rattle" the batter, which certainly is not at all sportsmanlike. This action is taken on the assumption that a team that can win without coaching from the bench is better than one that can not.

Brothers Field

Improvements costing in the neighborhood of $5000 have been made recently on Brothers Field. When the work is finished and the new gateway is built, Andover will have one of the finest athletic fields in the country. The baseball diamond has been moved, and both the football and baseball fields have been re-graded and drained. Andover has a new football stand which was built a year ago, and now we have an excellent grand stand for baseball, which will seat 1325 people. When all the baseball stands are in place they will have a seating capacity of 3100. This will give 500 more people than formerly an opportunity to see the Exeter game in June.

Brick House to Be Torn Down

One of the most important decisions reached by the Trustees at their recent meeting in Andover was that relating to the disposition of the old Brick House on Main Street. The Trustees unanimously agreed that during the coming summer the Brick House should either be removed or torn down. There are several reasons why this step seems at this time both necessary and wise. The erection of the two new dormitories immediately in the rear represents the partial carrying out of the plan, long ago drawn by Messrs. Olmsted Brothers, the landscape architects who have always had charge of the development of the school grounds, of placing a group of three buildings in this locality. It is the hope and expectation of the Trustees that in the not distant future the third building of this proposed group will be forthcoming. The building in question will probably be a general assembly and recitation hall. Since the erection of the two dormitories above referred to, the Brick House from an artistic standpoint at least, has become distinctly less desirable than formerly. That it would have to disappear in any case in the near future seems more than likely.

Still other considerations, however, have influenced the Trustees to take this step. The building, which is one of the oldest on the hill, is in anything but good repair. The conditions under which the occupants of the house have been obliged to live have been far from satisfactory. To put the house in proper condition would require the investment of a considerable sum of money. Such an investment would at best be of but temporary value. The Trustees are unanimous in feeling that it would not be wise to appropriate funds for such a questionable purpose; consequently it has been decided that the removal of the building should be accomplished before the next school year opens.

To provide accommodations for the boys who would otherwise have occupied rooms in the Brick House, a number of rooms have been set aside in Bartlet, Phillips, Day, and Bishop Halls and the Abbot House. These rooms are taken from those formerly listed as single rooms and will be assigned in the future as double rooms. While not large, they are more spacious than the rooms regularly assigned to two students in both the Brick and Clement Houses. The price for each occupant will be $40, the rent now charged for many of the rooms in the houses just mentioned. By this arrangement it will not be necessary to reduce the number of scholarship boys now enrolled in the school. So far as practicable the expressed preference of applicants will be considered in the assignment of these rooms. It is expected, however, that the general record of the individual will be a determining factor wherever any doubt exists.

At first glance it would seem as though the new arrangement represented a departure from old customs and traditions. This, however, is not the case. For the past few years the scholarship boys, all of whom formerly roomed in the old Commons, have occupied three buildings especially set aside for their uses. This segregation has resulted in the development of a rather strong group spirit, in which the scholarship boys themselves take a good deal of pride. In some ways this has been a good thing; in others it has been distinctly the reverse. When the old Commons were in existence this complete segregation was not in evidence. While it is true that the working boys roomed almost without exception in Commons, it is also true that a large number of those who were amply able to meet the regular expenses of the school and who could have occupied much higher priced rooms if they had desired, preferred to locate in Commons. The result was that the life in Commons was in the broadest sense democratic. The changes which time has brought about in the development of the school property have forced upon the Trustees during recent years conditions which have been accepted through necessity, but which have not been felt to be either ideal or in keeping with the earlier and long established traditions of school life. The proposed plan, therefore, represents in a limited degree a return to the more distinctly democratic conditions of former years. The effect will be watched with interest and will undoubtedly have some influence on the future policy of the Trustees.

Middlers and Juniors Win in First Round

The first series of interclass games for numerals opened on Wednesday afternoon, when 1915 defeated 1912 by the score of 9 to 1, and 1913 defeated 1914 by 7 runs to 3.

In the 1912-1915 game the Juniors easily won. This is their first victory this year. Bean's good pitching and the support he was given accounted for this victory, for only three hits were obtained by 1912 during nine innings. The Juniors also showed great ability to run bases.

The Middlers won from the Junior Middlers on the Library Campus by the score of 7 to 3. 1913 had an entirely new lineup, while 1914 lost only a few men through the choosing of the varsity squad. The game was won by the Middlers largely through better batting and throwing to bases. However, neither team was able to keep the other from stealing bases. For 1913, Wilson, Chatterton and Atterbury played well, while Hyde and Hennessey excelled for 1914. Prince and Brown pitched a good game for the Middlers, while Butterfield did well for 1914.

Second Round of Class Series on Monday

The second games of the interclass series will be played on Monday afternoon at 2.15. 1912 will play 1914 on the Old Campus, and 1913 will play 1915 on the Library Campus. The class captains who have been elected or appointed are as follows: 1912, Washburn, 2b; 1913, Wilson, 3b; 1914, Thompson, ss.; 1915, Gault, lf.

The games should be better played than the last ones, as all the teams have had more experience in playing together. Those out for the teams are asked to report promptly at two o'clock for a little practice before the games. The lineup are as follows:

1912	1914
Large, Hyde, c.	c. Hyde
Bickford, Bell, Clark, Mead, p.
