Every fellow is expected to be there on time.

SOCCER SEASON

Brookline Gym Easily Defeated

The Andover soccer team defeated Brookline 8 to 0, in the first game of the season last Saturday afternoon. Andover easily outplayed her opponents in every position. The team work of the Andover forwards in passing and playing together was especially noticeable. Andover kept the ball in Brookline's territory most of the time, and it was seldom that the Brookline forwards advanced it to Andover's territory. Even when they did, the ball was speedily returned by the strong defensive play of the Andover backs. Young and Sturgis both played an excellent game in that position, while Lee, Mackinlay and Thompson starred on the line. For Brookline, Ferguson and Meade played well at their respective positions as full-back and forward. The whole Brookline team, however, lacked the unity that Andover exhibited, and the result of the game was never in doubt.

The lineups were as follows:

Feeney, g.	g. Cory
Blanchard, rb.	rb. Ferguson
Sturgis, lb.	lb. McKinnon
Davison, rh.	rh. Hamilton
Young, ch.	ch. Mann
Dunscombe, lh.	lh. Walsh
Mackinlay, rof.	rof. Meade
Thompson, rif.	rif. Walters
Hudson, Bales, cf.	cf. Melville
Bales, Tucker, lif.	lif. Phealen
Lee, lof.	lof. Handy

Score, Andover 8, Brookline 0. Goals, Thompson, Lee, Mackinlay, Young, Bales. Referee, J. Reilly. Time, 35-minute halves.

Illustrated Lecture on China

Thursday evening, November 7th, in the Chapel Church, Professor Charles F. Gammon will give an illustrated lecture on "China." Mr. Gammon has spent a great deal of time in the Celestial Empire and will give the students of Phillips Academy and the public a very entertaining discourse on present conditions in China. It is said that his pictures are especially fine. Students who wish to attend may secure excuses from their officers.

This lecture will afford a good opportunity to learn something regarding the great events of the past few years in the Orient.

Swimmers Have New Rules

At a meeting of the Intercollegiate Swimming League, held at Columbia, several radical changes were made in the rules for the coming season. An entire new set of diving rules was drawn up.

Under the new provisions all dives will be graded on the basis of a fixed maximum credit. It will be the duty of the judges to merely watch the dive and in a glance see in what form it is executed and then give whatever percentage is deserved on the basis of the maximum grade. This does away with the old provisions prescribing

EXETER GAME EAGERLY AWAITED

The hard practice of the Andover team is now at an end, as Coach Lillard will give the team light work for the remaining two days before the game. Nielsen has recovered from his injuries, and Sullivan is now free from conditions, thus greatly strengthening the team.

The selection of the officials for the game was referred to the American Intercollegiate Rules Committee, and the following men were selected: A. E. Whiting, referee; H. M. Nelly, umpire; R. W. Maxwell, head linesman.

A special train will leave Boston at 12.40 Saturday to accommodate the crowd coming from Boston and way stations to the game. This train will stop at Melrose and Wakefield only. It will return immediately after the game.

No automobiles will be allowed on the field this year. A space will be provided for them on the Salem Street Campus in front of the gymnasium, where they may be left in the custody of a watchman, who will see that no one molests them.

More fellows are urged to see Hanna about ushering at the game. So far only thirteen men have handed in their names, and fourteen more are needed. All men who expect to usher should also see Himebaugh on the field at 2.00 p.m. Friday and receive their instructions. The gates will be open at 1.00 p.m. Saturday. All ticket-sellers and ticket-takers report at the athletic office in the gymnasium at 12.50. All ushers report to Himebaugh on the field at 12.55.

All the tickets on both the Andover and Exeter sides, of the field have been sold, and new bleachers with a seating capacity of 720 are to be erected at the southwest end of the field to accommodate the overflow.

Cheer Leader Dillon wants every fellow in school to be in front of the Academy Building Thursday afternoon at 2.15 with his megaphone. Everyone should show his spirit and be sure to be out there on time. The school will march to the field, cheer the team, and practice songs and yells. The marching and cheering will also be held on Friday afternoon. All class athletics will be called off on both afternoons.

Everyone is urged to decorate their houses and dormitories on Saturday with all the Andover flags and banners obtainable. This should be done especially on the buildings facing Main Street, up which Exeter will march, in order that they may see what sort of spirit there is down here.

The recitations on Saturday will be shortened the same as last Saturday, so that all studies may be finished by noon.

The following will probably be the lineups in the game Saturday. Statistics of the age, weight, height, etc., are given after each player's name.

Archaeology Notes

The Department recently purchased a large collection of New England specimens from W. H. Wheeler of Concord, Mass. The naturalist Thoreau had collected many specimens fifty years ago in the Concord river valley and gave them to Harvard University. Mr. Wheeler, since Thoreau's time has been active in searching the fields along the historic Concord stream and accumulated over 4000 stone objects used by prehistoric man.

This is the largest single collection the Department ever secured in New England and is a valued addition to the museum.

Practice Game Today

This afternoon a game will be played between the varsity and an interclass team for practice.

The record for the class teams follows:

	WON	LOST	TIED
1913	5	1	0
1914	3	1	2
1915	2	2	2

CLASS SOCCER

Tuesday afternoon '14 won from '13 in a well-played game, by the score of 1 to 0. Contrary to the playing in the past, this game was exceptionally clean, due to the fact that the referee was Reilly, a former coach, who is now coaching the varsity. Before this the refereeing has been done by inexperienced assistant managers and consequently the general playing has been ragged. This is the first time that '13 has been beaten this year, and as the record now stands this team is very likely to get its numerals.

The lineups in yesterday's game follow:

1913	1914
Titche, g.	rof. Slack
Robinson, lf.	rif. Engle, Solliday
Anderson, rf.	cf. Poole
Davis, lh.	lif. Alpaugh
Phillips, ch.	lof. Light
Nostrand, rh.	rh. Cavis
Lestrade, lof.	ch. Cook
Mainini, lif.	lh. Haskell
Kneen, c.	rf. Hazen
Hagadorn, rif.	lh. Huntress
Blood, rof.	g. Leonard

Monday afternoon '13 won a game from '15 by a score of 1 to 0. The score was the result of mere chance, as in the melee which followed a corner kick, the ball rebounded from a '15 player through for a goal. This game was the roughest which has yet been played in the series. Captain Kelley of '15 was injured and had to retire.

The lineups follow:

1913	1915
Titche, g.	g. Schultz
Robinson, lf.	rf. Hoyer
Anderson, rf.	lf. Wright
Davis, lh.	rh. Parsons
Phillips, ch.	ch. Sweet

Library Additions

The following books have recently been added to the Library: From an alumnus of Phillips Academy:

Yale Book of American Verse. Education and Citizenship, by S. E. Baldwin. The Moriarty of Yale, by N. G. Osgood.

From the author:

Certain Comeovers, by H. H. Crapo. 2v.

From the publishers:

Causes and Effects in American History, by E. W. Morse. (Scribner, 1912).

Bury's History of Greece (2 copies). The Courts, the Constitution and Parties, by A. C. McLaughlin. History of the Presidency, 1897-1909, by Edward Stanwood, and Familiar Sketches of Phillips Exeter Academy, by F. H. Cunningham, have also been added to the Library.

ANDOVER'S START

Entertaining Review of Academy's History

Mr. Stackpole gave a very entertaining address to the Society of Inquiry last Sunday evening on the early history of Phillips Academy and the town of Andover. The lecture was profusely illustrated with stereopticon slides of the old houses and the first school buildings, adding greatly to the interest of the talk.

Andover was first settled in 1646 on a tract of land purchased for thirty dollars. The oldest house now standing is the Abbott house at the foot of Central street, which was built in 1686 and has come down directly through seven generations of the Abbott family.

Samuel Phillips, founder of the school, went to Dummer Academy and then to Harvard, graduating in the class of 1771. While in Harvard he was a leader, both as a scholar and speaker. The Revolution was then brewing and the Boston Massacre occurred before he had graduated. He was one of the foremost, however, in passing resolutions such as not to drink tea nor to wear imported garments on account of the unjust taxes on them. After finishing college, he returned to Andover and began, in spite of his youth, to play an important part in public affairs. He was elected as a delegate to the Provincial Congress, and was placed on many important committees. He often consulted with Washington, who had his headquarters in Boston. Once, when the army needed powder, Phillips placed himself at the head of an energetic band of Andover citizens, built a powder mill on the Shaw-shen and made powder for the colonists.

When he had time to turn his mind from the Revolution, he commenced the founding of an academy. For that purpose he tried to buy a tract of land overlooking the lake at North Andover, but finding that impossible, he and his brother purchased the present site of the school. Judge Phillips, as he was called, for he was a judge in the circuit court as well as a state senator, then moved to Andover, took up his residence in an old house which used to stand back of Farrar House, and started the Academy in 1778, in a little carpenter shop. This shop occupied the site of the Archaeology Building, and was transformed into a schoolhouse, with thirteen students attending. Judge Phillips soon increased this number to sixty, and appointed Eliphalet Pearson the first principal. During Mr. Pearson's administration as principal of the Academy, Judge Phillips built the old colonial mansion which stood just in front of the present site of Bishop Hall. This mansion was

Academy Church

The Church of Christ in Phillips Academy was formally established last Sunday with a charter membership of 120. This number includes thirty-five members of the faculty or wives of members of the faculty, and eighty-five students. Sixty of the students joined as Temporary Members, retaining their membership in their home churches, twenty-one joined by Declaration of Purpose, and four joined as Associate Members.

The organization will soon be completed by the election of deacons and other officers. Six students will be chosen—four from the Seniors and two from the Middlers. There will also be four deacons from the faculty. The Articles of Membership and Rules have been issued in pamphlet form.

Library Notice

On Saturday, November 9th, the Library will close for the day at noon. On November 16th it will also close at noon but will be open again at 2 p.m.

Errata

In the last two issues of the Phillipian announcements were made that Mr. Chase, representing Chase & Co. would be at Chell's. This was a mistake as Mr. Chase was not in Andover on the days mentioned.

The Basketball Situation

The following article from the Yale News was written by Dr. W. G. Anderson, concerning the basketball situation, and clearly shows the need of better support from the undergraduates:—

"The attitude of the University towards basketball is one of sympathetic interest; but sympathy is not always expressed by coddling. This game, which is a splendid one if controlled, has been placed in a bad light by professionals and by some of the acts of individual players whose ardent enthusiasm has over-ruled their better judgment. The playing of games during the holiday seasons has, perhaps, been productive of criticism from many of the Alumni who have been prejudiced by garbled newspaper reports of rough playing and because, through no fault of the players, the Team has been widely advertised as the University team when it was not. Another difficulty is the inability of the Basketball Association to meet the heavy expenses of travel, coaching and equipment. The game is not popular at Yale, and the 'Gate' is, with few exceptions, small, and the support of the students lacking.

"It may be said in this connection that many of the minor sports are far from self-supporting, that the major sports seem to hold the interest of undergraduates and alumni, but basketball seems to be the game that has received the greatest amount of criticism, whether merited or not. The game calls for a large amount of room, for only ten men can play at once, and while they are in action other students are compelled to remain near the walls, or retire, as the ball is so often out of bounds. The size of the Yale court is sixty-three by sixty-six feet; deduct this from the available space on the main floor, and we have but little working room because the court occupies the centre of the field. The Gymnasium has been opened nights to accommodate the basketball men, but the cost of help, light, heat, water, and the use of three floors causes the authorities to ask whether they should carry this expense which appears to be large for the return. It is true that all members of the University who wish to exercise during the evenings are invited to take advantage of the 'open nights,' but they fail to do so, and consequently a comparatively small number of men are present.

"The Basketball Team has been quite willing to share the expense, but they have been unable to do this on account of the small amount of money in their treasury. During the afternoons the team has been handicapped by being compelled to play during brief periods, for there are five or six other teams which want time and space, besides the large number of men who come for general exercise. It will be seen that the Director of the Gymnasium has difficulty in satisfying all.

"But is Yale the only University that faces these problems? No. Harvard has finally dropped the game entirely; Princeton seriously considered withdrawing from the Intercollegiate Association because their team faced an annual deficit of from $250.00 to $500.00, but Dr. Reycroft brought new interest to the game; a number of other colleges continually struggle with this sport. Pennsylvania is prosperous and shows a credit balance of about $700 per annum, while last year the profits were much higher than this sum. I am informed by Mr. Perot, the Graduate Manager, that basketball is one of the few minor sports that is run without loss. Interest at Columbia is keen and the sport pays well, but at New York University it is possible that the social attractions may help to attract the audience.

"The Advisory Committee of the Yale Minor Union and the Gymnasium authorities are more than willing to do all in their power to bring basketball, or any other minor sport, into line with the four major sports. All they ask is clean sport with sympathetic backing from the mass of students. The game itself is a good one, calling for courage, skill, endurance, self-control, and is based as much upon the ethics of 'Fair play' as is any other sport."

famous for its historical interest; Washington stopped there twice on his presidential tour, and spoke to the townspeople in the field opposite Mr. Sawyer's house. An amusing story is told that while in Andover, Washington tore one of his gloves and a little girl mended it for him, for which service she was rewarded with a kiss, and, according to all reports, she did not wash her face for a week. Lafayette also visited the Phillips mansion. Later it was used as a tavern and became a stopping-place, on the coach line, the only public means of conveyance in those days.

Eliphalet Pearson was, however, too strict a principal, and in 1785 was succeeded by Ebenezer Pemberton. Under Mr. Pemberton the old school building was abandoned for a two-story wooden structure which stood on the site of the present Administration building. After several years this building was burned, and the brick academy, now the Dining Hall, was erected. The lower floor was used as a chapel and the upper story was composed of recitation rooms which were made famous by Oliver Wendell Holmes' poem "The Schoolboy," in which he described the school life there. In 1830 the stone Academy was built, on the corner of Main street and Chapel avenue, and used until the erection of the main Academy building in 1865.

Mr. Stackpole closed his talk with several interesting remarks about the old English and Latin Commons, two rows of cheap wooden houses which were placed at the eastern and western sides of the old campus. Old and dirty as they were, still these dormitories had many traditions connected with them, and, although their removal was a benefit to the school, it was a source of regret to many who had passed their schooldays in them.

CLASS FOOTBALL

The Seniors were defeated by the Junior Middlers, 10 to 0, in a rather loosely played game on the Old Campus last Monday. The Junior Middlers outclassed their opponents in almost all points of the game except punting, in which Hartigan did well, getting off some good kicks on short notice. Although 1913 had a much heavier team than 1915, they seemed to be unable to gain consistently. The forward pass was made use of by the Seniors half a dozen times, but at almost every attempt the ball went to 1915. Young and Lindsay did the scoring for 1915. Young made two spectacular runs, one of 15 yards after receiving a forward, placing the ball on '13's 1-yard line, and another after capturing a fumble, in which he ran 35 yards through a clear field for a touchdown. Lindsay kicked a goal for the first touchdown, and also a field goal from placement in the fourth quarter. Macrae made some long gains for 1915, while Brophy's tackling for the Seniors was very good.

The game in detail was as follows:

FIRST QUARTER

1916 kicked off to White. Hartigan and Hahn each made good gains of 12 yards apiece. '13 was penalized 5 yards for not having seven men on the line of scrimmage. After being held for three downs without gain, '13 punted to Young, who ran it back 25 yards. Macrae then went around right end for a good gain and followed with a 35-yard sprint on the other end, placing the ball on '13's 12-yard line. He made 5 yards more, but '13 held and the ball went to them on downs. Lindsay received Hartigan's punt and made 10 yards. Lindsay worked a fake kick, but ran back so far that he gained only 2 yards. '15's forward pass went out to '13. Hahn went through center for a good gain. End of first quarter. No score.

SECOND QUARTER

'13 was penalized 15 yards for holding at the very first of the quarter. Hartigan made 9 yards around left end. Tinsman took Lennan's place at left end on '15. Hartigan kicked to Lindsay. Brophy ran down the kick and tackled Lindsay. Lindsay next went through a hole in the line for 25 yards. '15 penalized for offside. Fuller went in for Allen at right tackle. Lindsay gained 9 yards on the next two plays. Crossman took Hahn's place as half, and Cook was substituted for Crossman at right end. '15 forwarded to Young, who made a long run and was not downed till he reached '13's 1-yard line. '13 held once, but on the next play '15 pushed the ball over. '15 muddled the ball in crossing the line, but Early recovered it. Early kicked out to Young, and Lindsay sent the ball over the goal. '15 kicked on to White, who made 15 yards. Hartigan made 5 yards. Crossman received a forward, but failed to gain. Hartigan kicked to Lindsay and Brophy tackled him in his tracks. End of second quarter. Score: 1915, 7; 1913, 0.

THIRD QUARTER

Fellowes received '13's kickoff, but failed to gain. Lindsay kicked to White, who fumbled. Young picked up the ball, and, with a clear field before him, ran 35 yards for a touchdown. Lindsay's attempt at goal hit the bar and fell on the wrong side. '13 kicked off to Young, and he made another long run, covering 25 yards before he was tackled. '13 then took a brace and held '15 till they were forced to kick. Macrae captured a forward thrown by White, and '15 kicked again. Crossman made 15 yards on the punt. Cochran made 5 yards around right end. '13 was unable to push the ball farther up the field and kicked. Lindsay tried a run on a fake forward pass, and lost ground by the play. A real attempt at forwarding netted '15 no gain, so Lindsay kicked. Sheldon received the kick, but did not gain. '13 was penalized 15 yards for holding. '13 kicked and Crossman ran down the punt, tackling Early as he caught it. End of third quarter. Score: 1915, 13; 1913, 0.

FOURTH QUARTER

Lindsay fumbled to Sheldon. Cochran tried a forward, but Young jumped in and seized the ball. '15 kicked immediately to White, who was tackled on the 22-yard line. Hartigan went through the line for 10 yards, but '13 lost the ball on a forward which was captured by Chisholm. Chisholm ran to '13's 8-yard line with the ball and Lindsay kicked an easy goal from placement on the 15-yard line. White received the kickoff, and ran it back 15 yards. '13 tried another unsuccessful forward which went to Early of '15. Lindsay gained 7 yards on a right end run. '15's forward did not work and the ball was put back in its original position. '15 made two unsuccessful attempts at field goals and the ball went to '13. '13 received 15 yards for '15's interference with the receiver of a forward

COLLEGE NOTES

Stewart M. Seymour, president of the Speakers' Club of Harvard, is the principal advocate of the discussion of problems of present interest, which has finally led to the establishment of a students' forum, similar to that conducted in Oxford University. Harvard Union will be the headquarters of the forum. One of the aims of the organization is the transformation of the University into an enormous debating society for unhampered and extemporaneous discussion of political, social, educational and industrial topics.

The support of the faculty and the Union has been assured, and the date of the opening exercises, for which prominent speakers will be secured, will be announced next week.

The Michigan Athletic Association has decided to give soccer a try-out as a regular sport, first forming an inter-class system of teams. This proving successful, a regular college team will in all probability be organized and a schedule arranged.

The quarter mile ellipse on the Yale field is to be reconstructed, Mr. W. H. Robertson having been engaged for the work. When in condition the track is particularly fast, but at present there are two or three inches of loose cinders on the surface.

As it has often been stated that Yale's popularity is due to her athletic success, the University has taken some trouble to compile statistics on this subject. The figures go back as far as 1866, the first year that organized athletics began to take an important place in the University life. They go to show that large classes have not been due to recent victories, as the class of 1902 showed an increase in size after the numerous defeats of that year, but that the classes in their ability and size have been directly responsible for the athletic supremacy, and they state that a large number of men enter Yale in their desire for athletic success.

Falbot Taylor Pendleton, Princeton's football captain and all-around athlete, has been elected president for life of Princeton's senior class, the highest honor a class of Old Nassau can bestow on one of its members. The last Princeton football captain to be chosen permanent leader of his class was Dillon, 1909.

The Cornell Athletic Association has received an anonymous gift of $1,000, to be used in refurnishing the Cornell athletic teams, whose equipments were recently lost by fire.

M. S. Wright has been chosen captain of the Dartmouth track team. Wright broke the world's record for the pole vault at the Olympic try-outs last summer.

The Yale Club in New York City is considering the idea of erecting a new clubhouse at Vanderbilt Avenue and 44th Street. The present Yale clubhouse is on West 44th Street.

The Widener Memorial Library building, a gift to Harvard University, in memory of Henry Elkins Widener, who was lost on the Titanic, will have a capacity of 2,500,000 volumes.

Edward Mahan starred at left half in the Harvard '16-Princeton '16 game Saturday. His punts were remarkable, one of which covered 70 yards.

Harvard won the cross country meet from Cornell at Ithaca last Saturday, by the score of 52 to 55. John Paul Jones, the famous miler, captain of Cornell, won first place.

E. T. Eustis, P. A. '12, a member of the Freshman class at Wesleyan University, was initiated into the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity at the college.

credit upon a multiplicity of matters of form.

In water polo it is provided that all colleges except new league members must have a team for this season, while the latter must work up a team for next season.

One of the most important changes in the rules is that which adds another official, who shall have charge of the calling of fouls in all water polo games. Up to this time there has been but one official in all water polo games, the referee, whose duty it has been to follow the ball, as well as to inflict penalties for fouling. According to league officials, this regulation will tend to lessen the element of roughness by which last year's games were marked.

Beginning with next year another decided innovation will take place in the conduct of intercollegiate swimming. It has been decided to establish an alumni convention to confer with the various swimming captains and managers and render them whatever assistance possible. One alumnus is to be elected by each member of the league, and the names are to be submitted at the next annual meeting, when the Alumni Committee will take office.

An amendment was also made to the constitution of the league whereby hereafter the Intercollegiate are to be held in rotation with the various colleges, instead of being determined annually by vote of the league officers. This season's Intercollegiate are to be held in Princeton.

HERE'S A REFRESHING AID TO STUDY AND SPORT

Keep a package of "The Beneficial Pastime" always in your pocket. It makes study seem easier. It brightens teeth, sharpens appetite, and strengthens digestion.

While you are exercising and enjoying the fragrant juice of fresh crushed mint leaves, your mouth is kept moist and your lips are kept closed, so that you breathe properly.

And the flavor lasts longer than you can chew!

Chew it all day today, tomorrow, and the next day.

Chew it over Andover, Andover again.

You can't chew out that fascinating flavor of the fresh mint leaves. It lasts, and lasts, and lasts.
