INQUIRY

Mr. D. R. Porter Gives Interesting Talk

At the regular meeting of the Society of Inquiry held last Sunday evening in the lecture-room of the Archaeology building, Mr. D. R. Porter, preparatory school secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in the United States, who also spoke at Vespers, gave an exceedingly interesting address on "Temptation."

Mr. Porter began his inspiring talk by saying that he did not think that we ever encountered as much temptation in our lives as we do in our preparatory school days. He showed how we come in daily contact with almost every kind of temptation not only of mind but also of body.

Among the number of noteworthy incidents in Mr. Porter's college life was one when he played in a football game as guard for Yale. His opponent began to play "dirty" as the game advanced, thinking that in this way he could intimidate him. Instead of becoming afraid of his big opponent, Mr. Porter only played harder and harder, never allowing himself to play "dirty" once. As a result of his cool and scientific, and at the same time "clean" playing, he kept finding "holes" through his opponent, and finally the latter was taken out of the game.

Martin Luther once made the statement, "I can't keep the birds from flying over my head, but I can prevent them from making nests in my hair." So it is with our temptations: we are not physically or mentally able to do away with them, but we can prevent ourselves from indulging in them. We should not parly with temptation. When Mr. Porter first went to preparatory school, he saw a placard on the wall of the principal's office bearing the motto, "No Compromise with Sin."

When in London a couple of summers ago Mr. Porter saw the diary of a Japanese soldier who had served in the Russo-Japanese War. This man said that the first battle in which he had taken part, when the Japanese invaded Manchuria, was the hardest battle he had ever fought, notwithstanding the fact that he fought in the world-renowned battle of Port Arthur. So it is with our fights against evil: the first fight is the hardest, the others are easy enough if one has been successful in his first one.

Anger is commonly thought to originate in the mind, but nevertheless when one gets angry the first outward indication is the unintentional, or intentional, as the case may be, clinching of the fists. This tends to prove that the mind and body instead of being two altogether different parts are in reality very closely bound. One of the most recent and most important discoveries of psychology is the fact that "Life is unity." The Y. M. C. A. maintains that life is three-sided, hence the emblem of the triangle, which stands for "Mind, Body, and Soul." But the three parts are so closely united that they differ but slightly from the psychologists' theory.

Mr. Porter told a story about an eight-year-old boy who already planned on going to Yale when he became old enough. However, his plans were changed when his father brought him to a Yale and Princeton football game. Yale

TRACK SCHEDULE

Manager Dillon announces the following schedule for the track team:

- May 10. Harvard Freshmen, at Andover.
- May 17. Worcester, at Worcester.
- May 30. Exeter, at Andover.
- June 7. Harvard Interscholastic at Cambridge.

The schedule differs in many ways from those of the past. The Harvard Interscholastic meet replaces that which was formerly run off with Yale. The schedule does not end after the Exeter meet as in past years; but a fourth contest is run off on the same day as the Andover-Exeter baseball game. Also, a two years' contract has been taken out with Worcester. The squad seems exceptionally good this year, and it ought to make a fine showing in the four meets.

Founders' Day

The Faculty has voted to institute an annual Founders' Day, and a committee is now at work on the preliminary plans. A Saturday early in October will possibly be set apart for this celebration next year. The program will be arranged primarily to interest the members of the school, and their cooperation will be sought in the arrangements. The proposed features are as follows: A mass meeting the night before with songs and brief speeches. In the morning the dedication of a memorial, an address by a distinguished statesman or educator, and old-fashioned field sports. In the afternoon on Brothers Field a pageant illustrating the history of the school. A first class band and orchestra will be engaged for the entire occasion. The whole celebration will also serve as a welcome to Mr. Stearns after his year's absence. Further details will be announced later.

German Prizes

Early announcement is made of the coming prizes in German so that anyone who may be thinking of trying for one or both of them may have enough time for careful preparation. The competition for both of these prizes is open to the Seniors and Middlers of both departments.

The Robert Stevenson Prize, founded in 1904 by Robert Stevenson, Jr., of the class of 1896, in memory of his father, is a prize of eight dollars and is awarded for excellence in German Composition. The examination will contain no formal questions on grammar. Connected passages and short idiomatic phrases will be given for translation from English into German.

The John Aiken Prizes, a first prize of thirty dollars and a second of twenty dollars, sustained by a member of the class of 1843 in memory of John Aiken, a member of the board of trustees from 1845 to 1863. The examination will consist of questions on the life and works of Heine; questions on the geography of Germany; questions on the history of Germany from 1618—the beginning of the Thirty Years War—to 1740—the Accession of Frederick the Great.

All who desire any additional information concerning these prizes should see Mr. Keep as soon as possible.

VARSAITY SQUAD

Captain Wiley Announces Successful Candidates

Yesterday afternoon on Brothers Field at 3.15 o'clock, Captain Wiley announced the names of the men who have been picked for the Varsity baseball squad. Owing to conditions, a number of men who might have been picked were rendered ineligible. Under the present system a candidate for the squad must be free of conditions in order to be picked. The fellows whose names do not appear below should not feel discouraged. There are still a number of berths to be filled and fellows with conditions should get them off as soon as possible.

The following seventeen men were picked: Captain Wiley, Sheehan, M. R. Smith, Bean, Brophy, A. Sharp, Anderson, Snell, Kinney, Murray, Early, B. V. Thompson, Burnham, Ames, Eadie, Chisholm, Knowles. These men are expected to report for practice every day at 2.15 sharp until further notice.

Philo

President R. S. Cook opened the meeting of Philo last Friday in Graves 3. After the secretary had read the minutes of the previous meeting and had called the roll, showing an attendance of twelve members, the regular program commenced. Abbott gave the topics of the week. Toomey chose as the piece for his select reading "The Newspaper Boy," by Alfred Noyes. Because of a meeting of the school debating team the men who were to uphold the affirmative were not present. The question for debate was: "Resolved, That the commission form of government should be generally adopted in the municipalities of the United States." Affirmative, Tew, who took the debate alone; negative, Chisholm, leader, Woodward, assistant. The vote on the merits of the question was: Affirmative, 4, negative 2; and on the arguments presented, affirmative 3, negative 2. Eight members spoke from the floor on this subject.

In a business meeting which followed, L. J. Krueger was appointed chairman of the committee concerning the Philo entertainment. President Cook urged the members to attend the meetings more regularly, and to show more spirit, in this way, towards the society. Mr. Stackpole delivered a very interesting critique.

Musical Clubs

At Sherman's studio yesterday afternoon the following men were elected to lead the musical clubs next year:

- Leader Mandolin Club—Ludwig King Moorehead, Andover.
 - Leader Banjo Club—Robert Hawley Wells, Los Angeles, Cal.
 - Leader Glee Club—Harrison Schuyler Royce, Montclair, N. J.
- The manager of the combined clubs will be elected some time next week.

Events at Abbot

On Tuesday evening, May 6th, the Senior class of Abbot Academy will present "She Stoops to Conquer" in Davis hall.

The annual Senior dance at Abbot will take place on Thursday evening, May 29th.

EXETER DEBATE

On Wednesday night in the Stone Chapel the following men were chosen to represent Andover in the annual Andover-Exeter debate which will be held about the last of May at Andover: Leader, Maurice Robert Smith of Brookfield, Mo.; Egbert Foster Tetley of North Chelmsford, Mass.; Thos. Hart Anderson, Jr., of New York City; alternate, William Ogrea of Providence, R. I.

These men will immediately get to work with Mr. Stott and will undoubtedly develop into a team which will turn the tide in regard to Exeter. It may be of interest to note that this is the first year that anyone not a member of one of the two debating societies has ever made the team. It is a step forward, for it shows that the Exeter debate is not merely a society matter, but is an event of interest and importance to the school at large.

News From the Flood

The following letter was received by Prof. Forbes in acknowledgment of the clothing sent to the flood-sufferers by Andover students.

April 12, 1913

Mr. C. H. Forbes, Acting Prin., Phillips Academy, Andover.

Dear Mr. Forbes:—

I am taking the first opportunity since the great flood to acknowledge the great help of the Phillips Academy boys to the flood sufferers of Marietta, Ohio. Their response to my telegram was certainly full of the spirit of charity, and the clothing came at a most opportune time, when the Relief Organization was out of such articles. I am writing to thank you, and through you all the fellows personally, for the very great help to our people, and to say that in due time the Relief Organization, now very crowded with their work, will make formal acknowledgment of same. Please convey the thanks of this community to the fellows and say to them that their generosity is fully appreciated.

With regards, believe me,
Yours very truly,

A. D. ALDERMAN,
Phillips Seminary '84

Northfield Delegation

So far the committee has been very successful in enlisting men for the Northfield Conference. Circulars with full details will be here soon, but until then, information can be obtained from anyone on the first of the two following lists. The first consists of those who are sure to go: Jack Raymond, K. Adams, Beasley, A. E. Sharp, G. W. Otis, "Tug" Wilson, Allen Ames, Larry Powers, J. S. Wiley, H. M. Baldrige.

The following will probably go: M. R. Smith, Mark Murphy, J. F. Brown, A. Tew, G. Kincaid, J. Knowles, M. W. Phillips, H. Hahn, Bosley, Lunt, W. Adams, R. S. Cook, Trevor Hogg.

No Boat Race

Attorney Edmond J. Ford, commodore of the Lawrence Canoe club, has received a communication from Acting Principal Charles H. Forbes in which the latter states that there is no possibility of a boat race this year between crews of Andover and Exeter academies. They may meet, however, next year.

LECTURE

Mr. A. F. Ferguson on "Folk Songs and Folk Lore"

On Thursday evening, April 17, at eight o'clock, in the Academy chapel, Mr. A. Foxton Ferguson, a graduate of Magdalen College, Oxford, delivered a song-lecture entitled, "Folk Songs and Folk Lore of the Land." Mr. Ferguson came to us with a great reputation and certainly more than fulfilled expectations. Already this spring he has appeared twice at St. Mark's School, twice at Harvard Musical Club, and three times at Groton and Lawrenceville. The subject was naturally a fascinating one, and Mr. Ferguson with his wonderful voice and expression, delighted everyone in the audience.

Mr. Ferguson, after being introduced by Mr. Leonard, first explained the nature of a "Folk-Song." He said he couldn't say just what a "Folk-Song" was, but could tell us what it wasn't and this would make us see just as clearly. Here he contrasted this with a piece of good advice. When you are taking an examination, if you don't know the answer, don't try to bluff but tell what it isn't. This will at least give the examiner some idea of what you know about it. Now a folk-song is not a national anthem, a patriotic song, "John Brown's Body," or ragtime. On the other hand there is one definite fact about a folk-song. No one knows the composer of any of the songs that have drifted down from generation to generation, from father to son, for very few of them have ever been written and certainly not printed. Not every anonymous song is a folk-song, but every folk-song is anonymous.

Mr. Ferguson's first song was an old love song entitled, "Through Bushes and Through Briars," which was supposed to be sung by a seventy year old man in a melancholy way. This showed the saddened thoughts of the old man when he reflected on his happy youth with all its liveliness and cheeriness.

Next on the program were two murder songs. Mr. Ferguson said that an Englishman is in his element at these sort of songs alone. The main thought of these was centered on the old Jewish belief that at least once a year each Jewess should kill some little boy for his Christian blood. In the song, the boys are out playing ball, when the ball accidentally is thrown into the yard of a neighboring Jew. The boys plead for the ball, and the Jewess who answers their call agrees to let them have it on condition that one alone shall come in for it. Finally one brave little fellow goes in, whereupon he is killed and thrown in a well. His mother suspects what has happened to her son, and, after the Jewess emphatically denies that she knows anything of his whereabouts, the mother finds his body in the well. The lad's spirit comes and makes arrangements with his mother for his funeral on the morrow and leaves his last will and testament in the form of a Latin Grammar to be left for those to come.

These folk-songs are not only English but belong as much to one nation as to another. One interesting fact about these songs is that a great transformation takes place in the wording of them. When handed down from one to another, many of these words have been ut-

Good News of the Lawrence Work

In connection with the Lawrence work the following very interesting letter has recently been received. This is only one of the many cases in which our fellows are lending invaluable assistance to the foreigners, sometimes without a doubt changing the whole future of the latter's lives.

To Director of Lawrence Work, Phillips Academy, Andover. Dear Sir:—

The young man whom you sent here with a letter of recommendation is at present attending the Oliver grammar school in a seventh grade room. He is an earnest young fellow, modest, sincere and industrious, and seems to be willing to put up with such a situation as he finds himself in at present, surrounded by children of half his age. The master is looking out for him, and will move him along just as fast as his knowledge of English warrants.

It is a source of considerable regret to me that I am not able to establish a separate class for men of his age, as just now there are a considerable number of young men out of employment. It happens, however, that we are desperately crowded for room here in the center of the city. Still, if the demand should become great enough, I feel sure the school Committee would be willing to open a class in some building for the benefit of such as your friend, John Soudman.

I should be glad to have you bring to my attention any other young men of this character, whom we may be able to help.

Yours very truly, BERNARD M. SHERIDAN, Superintendent of Schools

Concert for Foreigners

Last Wednesday night a phonograph concert was given to the foreigners in Lawrence by some of the fellows under the direction of Mr. Timbie. There was a large audience composed of very interested and enthusiastic men and boys.

1913 vs. 1915

While 1914 was playing the All Star team last Thursday, the Seniors and Junior Middlers fought to a tie on Brothers Field. The game was called on account of recitations after five innings, with a score of 1 to 1.

The score:

Table with columns ab r h po a e for 1913 and 1915. Lists players like Early, Chisholm, Swett, Sheehan, etc.

Summary table for 1913 vs. All-Stars with columns ab r h po a e and rows for Ames, Burnham, Homan, Scudder, etc.

1913 vs. All-Stars

In the fifth game of the preliminary class series, last Saturday, the Seniors defeated the All Stars by the score of 4 to 3. The game was hotly contested throughout and some good playing was exhibited by both sides. Sharp was in the box for the Seniors and although being touched up rather freely, kept his hits scattered. Brophy pitched the first five innings for the All Stars and showed good form. Runge, who replaced him, was effective, especially in the last inning. Capt Wiley played his usual strong game, and Burnham at second was conspicuous. For the losers, Buell was strong at the bat, and Bosley at third handled himself in fine style. Following is the complete summary:

ALL STARS table with columns ab r h po a e and rows for Young, Brophy, Hyde, Buell, Ashley, Bosley, Dunham, B. Paradise, Allen, Anderson, Runge.

Summary table for 1913 vs. All-Stars with columns ab r h po a e and rows for Ames, Burnham, Cochran, Thompson, Wiley, Wilson, Chatterton, Sharp, Hawley.

1914 vs. All-Stars

In a four inning game last Thursday afternoon, the speedy 1914 team defeated the All Stars in a hotly contested game. The battery for the All Stars was Grant and Smith, while Runge, Bean and Tison made up the battery for the Middlers. Grant pitched air tight ball, striking out six men, and with better support would have won, 1914 securing but two hits, both made by Kinney. Both the Middler's runs were scored by Snell, largely as result of errors, while Grant scored the single tally for the All Stars. The features of the game were the batting of Kinney for 1914, and the batting and pitching of Grant for the All Stars. Following are the line-ups:

Line-up table for 1914 with columns ab r h po a e and rows for Murray, Snell, Kinney, Murphy, Conway, Knowles, Allen, Runge, Tison, Bean.

Totals table for 1914 vs. All-Stars with columns ab r h po a e and rows for Smith, Grant, Hyde, Buell, Borwn, Bosley, Dunham, Paradise, Sagar, Thurston.

1914 Defeats 1915

1914 kept up their winning streak by winning a fast game of baseball from 1915 last Saturday afternoon on Brothers Field. Grant and Bean worked on the mound for 1914 while Harris, Newton and West were the twirlers for the losers. Early and Cullom starred at the bat for '15, the former getting three safe hits. Jones and Murray hit well for the 1914 team. 1915 outhit 1914 but were unable to bunch their hits so as to push runs across. The final score was 8 to 5, but at times it looked to be anybody's game.

Following is the box score:

Box score table for 1914 vs. 1915 with columns ab r h po a e and rows for Murray, Snell, Kinney, Murphy, Conway, Knowles, Grant, Smith, Bean, Jones.

Totals table for 1914 vs. 1915 with columns ab r h po a e and rows for Early, Chisholm, Homan, Cullom, Eadie, Sheehan, Buckle, Armstrong, Newton, Harris, West.

Cyclone Burns

Cyclone Burns and Geo. Lurich were the winners in the finish wrestling matches in Mechanics Building last Saturday night. Burns defeated Karle Lemle and Lurich won from Samson.

Burns found Lemle a hard customer and the bout had to go three sessions before Burns won. He gained the first fall with a forearm nelson in 46m, 15s.

Lemle won the second fall in 26m. 55s. with a combination of holds applied in quick fashion. Burns won the third and deciding fall in 12m. 53s. with a body scissors.

Cyclone Burns is on the bill at the Old Howard this week, listed as Boston's favorite wrestling champion, and is open to meet all comers every afternoon and evening in contests on the mat. Burns quarantees to throw any antagonist inside of fifteen minutes.

Fred Daly Again Elected Coach

Fred Daly, P. A. '07, Yale '11, has recently signed up as football coach of Williams for next year. Daly turned out one of the fastest elevens that ever represented the purple last fall, which defeated Amherst for the first time in ten years. It will be interesting to note that "Henie" Hobbs, P. A. '06, coached Amherst at that time, and has also been re-engaged for next fall.

terly changed. This he likened to the English game of "Gossip."

Nearly all the songs are very optimistic. In one case a man cheers his wife by saying that when she is dead and buried the night-gales will help her spend the time by singing about her grave.

As Mr. Ferguson went on, his songs became more lively. "I am seventeen come Sunday" was an interesting love-song.

Towards the last, Mr. Ferguson gave a personal incident that happened in Yorkshire about two years ago while visiting a friend, which showed how these songs are handed down and how each one is known but to a few people.

It is a curious fact that these songs have never more than one note to a syllable. Many of the words are changed a great deal to make them rhyme. Here he told of finding the following epitaph one day in a country churchyard: "Here lies the body of Mary Jones, Who died of eating cherry stones. Her name is Smith, tho we called her Jones."

Because it rhymed with cherry stones." Mr. Ferguson ended with the statement that all these folk-songs and lores, especially the former, have a certain transparent sincerity and truth about them that is decidedly different from all other songs.

He then received such an encore that he kindly consented to give one more song about a piece of cheese that stood on the shelf so long that it flew away by its own strength.

Letters From Mr. Stearns

The last letter from Principal Stearns, which was received at the office last Tuesday, was written on the steamer "Devonsha." At the time of writing he was en route between Ceylon and Bombay. The length of his stay in Bombay is very uncertain as the boats only run at intervals, which at this time of the year, owing to their catering to the English people traveling east, are often quite long. From Bombay he will go directly to Rome, thence on to join his family in England, reaching there sometime the latter part of May.

Another letter from Mr. Stearns dated Delhi, India, March 24th, was received by Mr. Sawyer. The letter tells of his enjoyable tour through India and of his visiting places associated with his father, who was in business in India many years ago. His plans are to sail on the fifth of April and arrive in Rome about the 20th. From Rome he will go to England and there join his family.

Alumni Activities

Harris Foster Murchie of Calais, Maine, has just been pledged for the Theta Delta Chi society at Dartmouth College.

Harold Hatch Gile of Colorado Springs, Col., was elected next year's captain of Princeton's wrestling team. He was a member of the class of '11 when here at Andover. In the Andover-Exeter Track Meet held in Exeter in 1910, "Hash" Gile got his "A" for throwing the hammer, and in the year he graduated he won the heavy-weight wrestling championship of the school. He entered school in 1905, and the whole time he was here he was one of the most popular fellows in his class.

Gile is the first member of the present sophomore class to be given a varsity leadership at Princeton, the honor coming to him because of his work in the intercollegiate this year, when he captured the heavy weight title against a strong field.

Lacrosse

The prospects of the lacrosse team this spring are very favorable. There is a squad of about thirty and some very good material is showing up. Gustavason, last year's captain of the Harvard lacrosse team and this year's coach, will be out to help round off the team before their first game.

With the early start that the squad got, a team should be turned out that will have a very successful season.

Tesch With the Lawrence Team

The fellows will be glad to hear that Tesch, last year's Varsity shortstop, has been given a try-out on the Lawrence team of the New England League, and is making a strong bid for a regular position.

Tesch was a member of the class of 1915 and his home is in Jersey City, N. J.

Young Men-Middle Aged Men-Oh Yes! and Old Men

Men of every age and condition of life feel the impulse of the glad springtime. Is this tailoring talk? "It sure is." How? We can give the best expression to the joy felt at this season, in clothes, in which every stitch and seam and weave make for happiness. Our prices are not so low as to be absurd, nor are they "fancy" ones. We cater to real men—who want real style, real woolen fabrics and real values in every detail.

was defeated. After giving a faint attempt at a cheer, the latter school body left the field, the Princeton students, however, gave cheer after cheer and stayed on the field until long after the close of the game. The little boy was so impressed by the spirit of the Princeton fellows that he turned to his father and said, "Daddy, I'm going to Princeton."

One of the best mottoes in Mr. Spear's book on "How to Elude Temptation," is "Never say Die." It is a peculiar coincidence that a person can walk between two lines three feet apart on the ground for several miles, but very few of us could walk a hundred yards on a beam three feet wide if it were a thousand feet up in the air. This tends to prove that mind and body are one, and of the two fights, the battle against one's mind is the worst.

Mr. Porter closed this splendid talk by quoting the words of Christ, "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

Chapel Speaker

The preacher at both services next Sunday will be Prof. Charles R. Brown, Dean of the Yale Divinity School.

Dr. Brown is regarded as one of the best preachers in the country. He was for many years a minister at Oakland, Cal., and besides, he was an active leader in the charitable work of the earthquake in San Francisco. He was a prominent supporter of the reform movement in cleaning up the politics of the latter place.

Dr. Brown is well known as a college preacher at Yale and elsewhere, and is a very effective speaker.

Murray Shelton, P. A. '12, half-back on the Varsity eleven, has developed into one of the best quarter milers that Coach Moackly of Cornell has on the squad. Shelton was one of the sixteen men recently chosen to comprise Cornell's track team.

NOTICES

The first rating for the spring term will be on May 3d.

So far there are a large number of fellows who have not paid their subscriptions to the Mirror. Frequent complaints have come in as to not receiving copies. The reason is clearly stated above. Please come around and settle up as soon as possible either at Bishop 6 or Phillips 12.

Library Additions

Through the energetic efforts of Mr. Graham and some others the superfluous trees in the Seminary Woods have been cut in accordance with approved forestry methods and the proceeds realized from the sale of the wood have been used to purchase books on out-of-door life for the Library.

The following books have been added:

Kephart's Book of camping and woodcraft.

Askins' Rifles and rifle shooting.

Hutchinson's Exercise and health.

Cleveland's Fishing and shooting sketches.

Shiple's Artificial flies.

Browning's Forty-four years of the life of a hunter.

Leffingwell's Wild fowl shooting.

Grinnell's American duck shooting.

Roosevelt and Grinnell's American big game hunting.

Roosevelt's African game trails.

Hornaday's American natural history.

Peer's Cross country with horse and hounds.

Browne's A skating primer.

White's Land of footprints.

Rowland's Across Europe in a motor boat.

Elliot's Game birds.

W. W. Butts, quarter miler, P. A. '11, has been assigned a regular position on the Cornell crew.

A recent change in the Harvard crew, made by Coach Jim Wray, puts Q. Reynolds, P. A. '10, rowing at number four.

Memorial to James J. Hogan
