INQUIRY

Mr. Stackpole Gives an Interesting Talk

Mr. Stackpole gave a very informal talk on several topics, at the last meeting of the Society of Inquiry. He remarked that the society was started eighty years ago, and that it was a fine thing to look back over such a long and prosperous history. Mr. Stackpole himself has been connected with Inquiry for the last six years, and is very well pleased with its growth during that time. Several traditions have been established in these years, among the more prominent being the Bible discussion groups in the winter term, the Lawrence work, singing in the jail at Lawrence, and having college men speak at Inquiry. The society has been put upon a good working basis; the speakers are invited long before they are to speak, while formerly nobody knew who would speak until Sunday morning. The various committees, such as the committee on membership, and the committee on finances, have been organized. There have been meetings of the officers from time to time to plan how to run the society. The Society of Inquiry has also helped to arouse public interest in the Northfield Conference, and Mr. Stackpole expressed the hope that this year Andover would have a larger delegation than usual, and urged any who were not sure whether they could go or not to see one of the committee, Wiley, Powers, or Baldrige, as soon as possible, in order to learn more about it.

So much for the past; now looking toward the future. Mr. Stackpole will not be here next year, but Mr. T. Brewer Eddy, who spoke here last fall, will come up four Sundays every term and try to get acquainted with all the students. There will be no one here, however, all the time, to look after the religious side of the school. Of course, Mr. Stearns and other members of the faculty are interested in the religious

- Gregory beat Appleton, 6-1, 6-3.
- DeCamp defeated Woo, 6-1, 6-1.
- Cook defeated Booe, 6-1, 6-4.

DOUBLES

Watson and Appleton defeated Smith and Gregory, 6-3, 2-6, 8-6.

DeCamp and Cook defeated Woo and Booe, 6-2, 6-3.

Dartmouth Loses in Tennis

In spite of a strong wind and a slight rain, the Andover tennis team defeated the Dartmouth Freshman team as follows:

- Appleton won from Doyle, 6-3, 6-3.
- DeCamp won from Osborne, 7-5, 6-3.
- R. Cook won from Barr, 6-1, 6-2.
- Watson (captain) lost to Lorman (captain), 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

DOUBLES

Watson and Appleton won from Lorman and Doyle, 6-1, 9-7.

DeCamp and R. Cook won from Osborne and Barr, 6-3, 7-5.

Mass Meeting

There will be a mass meeting in the gymnasium at 7 o'clock sharp Friday night. The team needs all the support the school can give it, so it is up to every fellow to show his spirit and be there on time ready to do his share.

Pot-Pourri Notice

This afternoon from 1.30 to 2.15 and this evening from 6.30 to 7.15 the Pot-Pourris will be given out at the Grill Room in the Archaeology building. It is important that everyone who has signed up should call for his book at once.

INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET

On Saturday, June 7, the Harvard Interscholastic Track Meet will be held at Cambridge. Contrary to the custom of past years, Andover will not end her track season with the Exeter contest, but will enter a team in the interscholastics. The men are practicing hard under Sid Peet and Coach Crawford, and are continuing to show the fine form of the Exeter meet.

Exeter will enter a team, but will be crippled by the loss of Teschner, Williams and a number of other stars.

Judging from Friday's exhibition, Andover will undoubtedly make a strong bid for first honors. The following are Andover's entries:

- 100-yard dash—Macrae.
- 220-yard dash—Macrae.
- 440-yard run—Davis.
- 880-yard run—Barker, Feeney.
- Mile run—Meyer.
- High hurdles—Rodman.
- Low hurdles—Rodman.
- Broad jump—Nichols, Prescott.
- Shot-put—Rodman.
- High jump—Sullivan.
- Pole vault—Stuchell, Hahn.

1915 Wins Numerals

The class of 1915 baseball team won its numerals for the second consecutive year. It was victorious in seven games and lost none. 1914 finished second. The following men played throughout the season and will receive their numerals:

- McGee, lf.
- Williamson, rf.
- Cullom, cf.
- Harris, 3b
- West, p.
- Adams, ss.
- Armstrong, 2b
- Buckle, 1b
- Burnham, Young, c.
- Otis, Manager

Notice

All fellows who signed up for the pictures of Mr. Stearns can obtain them by calling at 6 Andover Cottage tomorrow from 1.30 to 3.00 o'clock p.m.

Dartmouth Club Banquet

The first annual banquet of the Phillips Andover Dartmouth Club was held at Williams Hall last Saturday evening. The rooms were beautifully trimmed with ferns, wild flowers, and banners. The orchestra supplied the music, and Mr. Hodgkins also played many Dartmouth songs.

The club was very fortunate in securing for speakers, J. P. Richardson president of the Alumni Association of Boston; Mr. R. Chandler, president of Lawrence Alumni Association; Dr. Kingsford, medical director of the college; Mr. H. E. Keyes, business manager of the college; Mr. Tibbets, registrar of the college. Mr. Lillard was toast master.

Interclass Meet

This afternoon on the track the annual class meet will be held. This meet is open to every fellow in school, whether he is taking track or not, and if a large number enter, the meet ought to be very interesting. 1914 ought to get two places in the quarter mile if Coles and Space run. 1913 should get a first place in both the hurdle events. Campbell of 1915 ought to get a second in each of these events. Mars of 1915 or Dillon of 1914 should take first in the shotput. Beasley of 1916, next year's cross country captain, should take place in the mile. Leonard of 1915 and Guppy of the same class ought to place in the hundred. In the high jump K. Woolley of 1913 or Campbell of 1915 will probably win.

All contestants should be out as early as possible, so that the meet may be run off smoothly.

Exeter in Tennis

Although Exeter has Herd, the schoolboy champion of the Pacific Coast, Andover will put up a strong fight in the annual match tomorrow, and stands a good chance of winning. The following men leave for Exeter at 12.40 this noon: Watson (captain), Appleton, DeCamp, R. Cook, Converse.

HARVARD WINS

Andover Loses Well-Played Game

In one of the best games of the year Andover lost to Harvard on Brothers Field last Saturday by the score of 4 to 0. Although a bit unsteady at first, the home team settled down after the fourth inning and held the visitors scoreless until the ninth.

Owing to the sickness of Murphy, Captain Wiley covered covered first, while Sheehan caught and Grant pitched. For Andover, Snell, Eadie and Swett were the only ones to hit safely, the latter securing a three-bagger, while Ayres of Harvard secured a two-bagger. The feature of the game was Swett's long drive in the ninth. With two down and no one on the bases, Swett batted for Earley and drove a clean three-base hit to right center. He was held on third while Kinney made the last out.

After Hitchcock was taken out in the third, for Harvard, Frye finished the game in fine shape, striking out nine men and giving no bases on balls. For Andover, Grant allowed only six hits, but passed four men.

1913 and 1915 Tie

In the last game of the class baseball series, 1915 first team and 1913 first tied the score with two runs apiece. The game was the best played, closest, and most interesting of all the past contests. 1913 would have won in the sixth but for Adams's wonderful catch. The bases were full and there were two down, when a Texas Leaguer was hit between short and second base. Adams, who played short, ran back and made a difficult catch, cutting off the two runs which would have won the game. Bosley for 1913 pitched a fine game, striking out nine men, and Harris, '15, was a close second, fanning seven men.

Juniors Lose to Junior Middlers

On Monday afternoon 1915 defeated 1916 in a well-played game on the Chapel campus. This makes the twelfth straight win for 1915 and they have not yet lost a game. Adams pitched a good game for 1915 up to the sixth, when he weakened and allowed 1916 two hits and as many runs. He was replaced by Harris in the seventh. Newman for 1916 pitched a steady game.

THE "HOW" OF FILENE STRAWS

All straws this year will be different - narrower brim, higher crown - but Filene straws will be even more different.

First we insisted on light-weight hats, head comfort demands it - Then we hit on a method by which only the smooth surface of the straw forms the outside shell - that means a natural protection against dust - And then we eliminated the surface glue that makes straws sticky in damp weather. So you see they are different - different in the small things that make them worth while.

Successful Concert

At eight o'clock Tuesday evening in the Stone Chapel a very enjoyable "Bach evening" was given before a very good audience, by the choral society of Andover, assisted by a chorus of soloists. Mr. Fitch accompanied very well on the organ. The third number on the program, the "Concerto," was perhaps the best rendered selection of the evening; Mr. Laross played an exceptionally fine accompaniment on the piano. The first selection, "Praeludium et Fuga," was also received with hearty applause. Mr. Gustav Strube, who accompanied throughout with the violin, played with great feeling. Mrs. Eleanor Fox Allen, soprano, and Mr. Walter Kidder, bass, sang some very fine solos. Dr. A. H. MacIntosh, tenor, also sang very well, but his voice lacked volume. During the tenors' chorale Dr. Hume accompanied very well on the cornet. There was a good-sized audience.

The program:

- Preludium et Fuga, C minor Organ Mr. Fitch
Cantata, "How Brightly Shines Yon Star of Morn" Recitative, Tenor Air, Soprano Recitative, Bass Air, Tenor Chorale, Chorus Concerto (in the Italian style) Piano Mr. Laross work of the school, and will help as much as they can in that line.

Mr. Stackpole said that the influence and importance of the Society of Inquiry must not be measured by the attendance at the Sunday night meetings, because fellows cannot be expected to come to Inquiry after going to chapel twice and perhaps also to a Bible class in the morning.

high moral sentiment; to bring students into a personal relation with Jesus Christ as Divine Saviour and Friend; to build them up in Christian character; and to lead them to affiliate themselves with some branch of the Christian Church.

Mr. Stackpole said that we were particularly interested in the first clause: "To create, maintain and extend throughout the school life a strong, high moral sentiment." The way to do this is not to have students speak at Inquiry, though this method has been practiced very successfully, it is said, down at Hotchkiss.

Another evil to guard against is the use of profanity. A few years ago the most influential men in the student body were called up before the faculty and asked if they did not think that there was too much profane language being used by the students.

One reason why boys do not do the things they think and know in their own hearts are right, is because they are cowards—they are afraid the other fellows will laugh at them.

A man's success depends on certain crises which come to him, certain critical periods when the decision he makes will affect his whole after life.

In closing, Mr. Stackpole regretted that he did not become personally acquainted with more of the students. When fellows come back after entering college, their faces may be remembered, but, if their names are not known they will soon be forgotten.
