PHILO VS. SCHOOL

Twenty-one Men At Trials

Monday night the preliminary trials were held for the debating teams to compete for the H. S. Robinson prizes. Usually this competition is held between the Philo and Forum debating teams, each member of the winning team receiving $10. However, this year Forum has changed to a literary society, so Philo decided to challenge the school in order that these prizes might be continued as usual. Acting on this plan, Bushnell, secretary of Philo, read a notice in Chapel, challenging the school to compete against Philo for the H. S. Robinson prizes. The preliminary trials were held Monday night for both the Philo and School teams in the lecture room of the Archaeology building. The question of debate was: Resolved, That the condition of affairs in California warranted that state's recent actions against the Japanese. The competitors could chose either side they preferred.

It was feared that only a few fellows would try out for these teams, especially the School team. On the contrary, a large number showed up, ten from the school, and eleven from Philo. These numbers were very encouraging to the members of Philo as they show that there is an interest in debating in the school, outside of their organization. This means that there may be some men in school who are promising in material for the Andover team in the Andover-Exeter debate. All the fellows, who possibly can, should try out for this team, although they may think they have but a slim chance of making it. Exeter has won the debates for eight years so we must work our hardest to win this year.

In order to give the debaters a better opportunity to speak, each one went in alone to speak before the judges, Mr. Stott and Mr. Hinman. Five minutes were given to each speaker. Lots were drawn for the order of speaking, which resulted as follows:

1. K. Stuart, School.
2. Bartlett, School.
3. Seward, Philo.
4. Bushnell, Philo.
5. Kunkel, Philo.
6. Crumb, School.
7. Harvey, Philo.
8. Williams, School.
9. Bennett, Philo.
10. Jewett, Philo.
11. Good, School.
12. Schell, School.
13. Speer, Philo.
14. Hall, School.
15. Knox, Philo.
16. Beilenson, Philo.
17. R. W. Bassett, School.
18. Heilner, Philo.
19. Warren, Philo.
20. J. B. Wilson, School.
21. Logan, School.

The judges announced that the School team will be J. B. Wilson (leader), Logan, Stuart, Bassett, (alternate), and the Philo team will be Bushnell (leader), K. Stuart, Beilenson, Harvey (alternate).

The wording of the subject for the debate, Philo versus the School, has been slightly changed. The new reading is—Resolved, That the action of the California legis-

IN MEMORIAM

Early Tuesday afternoon Han Tseng Fan, '15, died at the Isham Infirmary after a very brief illness. Last Saturday morning Fan was sent to the infirmary suffering from an attack of acute nephritis, or Brights disease. That same evening a specialist from Boston was called in consultation but the patient grew rapidly worse. Tuesday morning he gradually lost consciousness and a few hours later passed peacefully away.

Fan was one of the group of Chinese government students who entered Phillips Academy at the opening of the current school year. His home was in Shanghai, and he had prepared for his American education at Tsing Hua College, commonly known as the American Indemnity College, just outside of the city of Peking.

At Andover Fan had made a brilliant record in scholarship and at the close of the fall term had earned a position on the first honor list, ranking among the eight best scholars in the school. Determined to make the most of the opportunities offered him in America Fan had worked with unusual zeal, far beyond his physical strength indeed; and the rapid headway made by the disease which so suddenly ended his life must probably be attributed to this fact.

During his short career at Andover Fan well upheld the best traditions of his race and displayed in a marked degree those admirable traits of character and bearing for which his countrymen in American educational institutions have always been famous. He was a gentleman in the first sense of the term, with that unaffected grace and courtesy so characteristic of the oriental, and especially the Chinese. While too much engrossed with his studies to be a "mixer," in the commonly accepted use of that term, Fan had earned the good-will and respect of those who had come to know him. To his friends who accompanied him to this country and to the bereaved family in his far away homeland the sympathy of the student body goes out in fullest measure.

Swimming Team Meets Harvard Varsity Today

The swimming team takes its second trip of the season today when it meets the Harvard Varsity team at the Brooklyn Gym swimming tank. The team will be made up as follows:

Relay—Crane, Bradley, Mayer, and Fitzgerald.
50-yard—Fitzgerald and Mayer.
200 yard—Peters and Bradley.
Dive—F. Kingsbury and M. S. Gould.

Scranton and Tilton will also go along with the team and may be given places.

Academy Church

Any members of the school who are thinking of joining the Academy church at the February communion service are asked to consult Mr. Stackpole at their earliest convenience.

HOCKEY TEAM WINS

Defeats Harvard 2nd, 3 to 0.

The hockey team played and won the first game of the season with the Harvard second team last Saturday afternoon. The score was Andover 3, Harvard Second 0. The team deserves especial praise for this victory because it has had so few opportunities to practice and because none of last year's team played in this game, though it is hoped that Captain Ashley will be able to play the next game. Andover outplayed the Harvard men throughout the game, both in speed and in skill.

The game commenced at 3.15. From the beginning the team had the puck in their opponent's territory most of the time, but it was not until after eight minutes of play that Brough managed to get the puck behind the Harvard defense and score a goal. After six minutes more of hard play, Williams scored another goal, aided by clever team work of the forward line. Time for the first period was called immediately after this goal.

In the second period the Harvard forwards rushed the puck to the Andover goal several times, but were kept from scoring by Andover's defense. Bishop played very well as goal when the playing came near him. The second period was very closely contested, but finally Williams scored another goal for Andover, the only score made in the last period.

The sides were fairly evenly matched and the playing was sharp throughout the game, but was hindered considerably by the condition of the rink, which was very rough and covered with water and slush. This game was very gratifying to all those who saw it and the prospects for the hockey team seem very good. Brough, Williams and Sayle played very well in the forward line, and Bishop and Sandiford were especially good in the defense. Cook, the Harvard Second team's captain is a member of the class of '13 of Andover. The line-up was as follows:

ANDOVER	HARVARD 2ND
Williams, rw.	rw. Townsend
Brough, rc.	rc. Patterson (Lombard)
Sayle, lc.	lc. Trainor (Ramsey (Moffat))
	Crane (Neilly) (Snow), lw.
	lw. Coolidge (Allen)
Sandiford, p.	p. Appleton
Joslyn (Coxe), cp.	cp. Cook
Bishop, g.	g. Whitmarsh (Stanton)

Referee, Mr. Brown from Cambridge.
Umpires, Minor and Thomas. Goals: Andover, Williams 2, Brough 1. Two 15-min. periods.

Hockey Coach

Irving Small, one of the best hockey players in Massachusetts, has been appointed coach of the Phillips Andover Academy hockey team, and will continue to instruct the academy boys until after the Exeter game, three weeks away.

Mr. Small, who comes from Winchester, was formerly a member of the Intercolonial Hockey team and was sent to Andover by Harry D. Grafton, coach of last year's team. He assumed his duties last Friday.

"Cyclone" Burns and Ivan Micharloff met in a wrestling bout Monday night at the Boston wrestling carnival. The match resulted in a thirty minute draw.

SWIMMING TEAM WINS

In an exciting meet in the Yale pool Saturday evening, Andover defeated the Freshman swimmers by the score of 23 to 21. The eight points won by our fast relay team decided the outcome of the meet. As the men were unaccustomed to the tank, the difficult turns retarded their speed a great deal. Fitzgerald was leading the 100 yard event by 3 yards until he missed his last turn and had to drop back into third place. Searle swam a fast race in the 200, being beaten out by a small margin by Captain Allen, P. A. '14. The diving of Kingsbury and Gould, considering the strange board, was excellent.

The work of the team was very encouraging to Coach Sutherland and shows great promise of being as successful as last year's team.

The summary:

200 Yard Relay—Won by Andover (Crane, Bradley, Mayer, Fitzgerald.) Time 1 min. 53 3-5 sec.

50 Yard Swim—Won by Fitzgerald, Andover; Alexander, Yale, second; Mayer, Andover, third. Time, 27 sec.

220 Yard Swim—Won by Ferguson, Yale; Allen, Yale, second; Searle, Andover, third. Time, 2 min. 52 4-5 sec.

100 Yard Swim—Won by Alexander, Yale; Fitzgerald, Andover, third; Crane, Andover, second. Time, 1 min. 5 sec.

Fancy Diving—Won by Benjamin, Yale, 212 points; Kingsbury, Andover, second, 187 points; Gould, Andover, third, 173 points.

The swimming team takes its second trip of the season today when it meets the strong Harvard Varsity team at the Brookline Gym. swimming tank.

The following are on the team: Bradley, W. B. Crane, F. Kingsbury, R. B. Mayer, Peters, Scranton, Fitzgerald, (captain), and Searle.

The Andover graduates on the Yale swimming squad are: Levy '12, K. Woolley '13, J. Gould, '13, Brophy '13, Allen '14.

Arrangements are being made to play the hockey game with Lowell Textile this afternoon at three o'clock. The game had been postponed on account of the weather. The line-up will be the same as in Saturday's game with the exception of Sandiford.

Chapel Speaker

The preacher at both services next Sunday will be the Bishop of Rhode Island, Rt. Rev. James De Wolf Perry, Jr., D. D., of Providence. Bishop Perry is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and of Harvard. During a seven years' rectorship in New Haven he was closely identified with Yale. He became Bishop three years ago. He is president of the Board of Trustees of St. George's School. This is the second year that Bishop Perry has served as one of the visiting preachers at Andover.

R. L. Keeney, '02, and Mrs. Keeney announce the birth of a son, William Ellwood Keeney.

INQUIRY MEETING

First Open Meeting of Term

The meeting of Inquiry last Sunday was an open one. It was the first meeting of this kind in the term, but after this an open meeting will be held once a month. The next one will be February 7, of which Heely will be leader.

Last Sunday Armstrong was the leader and the topic was "The Perfect Man," that is, the sort of man who does the most good in the world. Armstrong spoke first and many of the fellows responded. Among them were the following: Davison, Bartlett, Stokes, Randall and Thomas.

Then the fellows who went up to Exeter last year reported what the men up there are doing and with what spirit they are doing it. The men who were up at Exeter were Davison, Rodman, and Speer.

Davison spoke first about the experiences they had at Exeter. He said that they were met at the train and were taken to one of the dormitories to breakfast. The dormitories at Exeter are fine and in some of them there are dining halls. Then the Andover men were taken to a Cabinet meeting, where it was discussed whether a special preparatory school conference should be established instead of Northfield. It was decided to continue to go to Northfield as usual, because there is such a good opportunity to see college men who have accomplished something. In the evening our representatives spoke at an Inquiry meeting where they told the Exeter men about what we are doing here at Andover.

Davison said that they have a wonderful spirit at Exeter in the way they run school affairs. No club or society is allowed there that does not entertain in some way—even the Christian Fraternity gives stag dances, and Principal Perry serves tea at his house every Sunday afternoon to all the fellows who care to come. He said that our Inquiry should give receptions, as in previous years, to show the fellows that it was an active broad-minded society.

"Cliff" Rodman next spoke about conditions at Exeter. He said that they have two fine new dormitories, one for younger boys, such as Williams Hall, the other for older fellows. In both of these the fellows take their meals in a dining room which is very good. The men at Exeter turn out for Inquiry much better than we do, in fact, there were 125 fellows at the meeting, the best this year. Rodman also said that at present the Exeter fellows do not have to report at their dormitories until ten o'clock. However, this plan will be changed by Mr. Perry, as it gives some fellows an opportunity to lead pretty fast lives. He said that the fellows at Exeter were, generally speaking, a mighty fine bunch and have a spirit that will give us a hard rub next spring.

Elliott Speer then reported how the Exeter Christian Fraternity raises money. At the beginning of the year, the committee decides how much money they will need to run their meetings and sub-

THE ANDOVER PRESS

As a result of the Fall term's competition, the Phillipian announces with pleasure the election of A. Shelden, '15, K. Stuart, '15, and E. Speer, '16, to its Board of Editors.

If there is any branch of athletic or literary endeavor in which Andover has to yield to Exeter, that branch is surely debating. For nine years we have sent teams to Exeter, and Exeter has sent teams here, and each year the result has been the same; Exeter either retained, or took back with her the Andover scalp.

Last year the result was very close and the team representing this school lost by one vote, in a debate held at Exeter, after a year in which there was practically no interest taken in the debating.

This year, Andover has surely more than an even chance to win. The event is to be at Andover, where the team should get the support of the united student body. More interest has been shown in this branch of scholastic activity, than in years past, despite Forums' change into a literary society. At the recent trials nearly twenty-five fellows attempted to make either the Philo team or the school team. Surely all the signs indicate the closing of the debating "Jinx" and Exeter's yielding to Andover in another event.

The way to assure this is for the students, five hundred and fifty strong, to get behind the debaters and give them the support that has been accorded the athletic teams in the past. Make the Philo-School debate a success by turning out to hear it, and thus showing that the eyes of everyone look to the debaters, and then the Exeter debate will take care of itself.

Exeter Notes

The Exeter Hockey team defeated Boston English High School 5 to 0, Wednesday, in the opening game of the season. The game was slowed up considerably on account of the ice, and the lack of teamwork.

Class bowling is in full sway at Exeter. Matches are held every Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. 1915 defeated 1918, two strings to one, and 1916 defeated 1917 by the same score.

Mr. Francis Rogers gave a delightful concert Saturday evening. Mr. Rogers is a very well-known singer, and his songs were greatly enjoyed.

Four Andover students attended the Christian Fraternity meeting Sunday evening. President Cleveland gave the meeting over to Davieson, President of the Society of Inquiry at Andover. The Andover fellows then spoke and told of the work that is being done in Andover.

The Rev. Albert Parker Fitch of the Andover Theological Seminary preached a very interesting sermon to the students Sunday morning.

PHILLIPIANA

The fourth of the series of biographies of eminent Yale men now being published by the Yale News on the birthdays and death days of those men is that of Nathaniel Parker Willis, who attended Andover during the early twenties of last century. The article gives a brief summary of Willis's life at Yale, and, in addition, tells of his achievements which rendered him justly famous in literary circles.

"Don" Appleton, P. A. '14, is on the Harvard Freshman hockey squad.

"Bob" Cook, P. A. '13, is on the Harvard Second hockey team.

"Babe" Adlen and Elliot Woolley, both members of last year's swimming team, were on the Yale Freshman team, which was defeated by Andover on Saturday.

"Jimmy" Gould '13, won second place in 100-yard between the Yale Varsity and Montreal.

C. H. Kreider '14, has made the Yale wrestling squad.

The fourth in the series of biographies of eminent Yale Alumni, which the Yale News has been publishing recently, was that of Frank Parker Willis, who came to Andover during the early twenties of the past century. In addition to summarizing Willis's career at Yale, the sketch also tells of the efforts and achievements which rendered him famous in literary circles.

John B. Woodward, '14, is playing point on the M. I. T. hockey team. L. Fletch, P. A. '14, is captain of the same team.

TO ANDOVER BOYS:

A great many boys are unable to make progress in large classes. This is usually due to the lack of early training which prevents a proper understanding of each day's lesson or to absence from classes because of illness, etc.

For the above reasons a number of boys are compelled to leave Phillips Andover Academy each year. To these boys we offer an opportunity to make up work in which they are deficient and return to Andover. By our methods of private tutoring and small class instruction, such boys can be advanced rapidly. We are well situated at Tarrytown on-the-Hudson, where we can accommodate twenty-five boys and fifteen masters.

scribe to charitable funds. Last year they asked for $700 and received $950. This year they have made their budget for $1,100 or $1,150. They plan to give $250 to help pay for a gym in a New York Settlement House, $250 towards foreign missions, $100 to lend to students who need some money to stay in school, $100 to send men to Northfield, and possibly $50 for the relief of the unemployed. He added that they seem to be getting what they asked of the students.

In general the fellows who visited Exeter said that they have a wonderful spirit up there which will be difficult for us to overcome.

Track Squad for Winter Term

This year Andover is trying a new scheme. In order to work up good track men for the teams in the coming years, a novice squad has been started. This is of especial value to the men in the three lower classes for it gives them a chance to develop for next year's team. So far not enough men have come out and there are still men in school, who can be developed who have not come out. See that this doesn't apply to yourself. The team needs the backing of every man here and it is not getting it when those who can don't help.

Senior Honors in Chemistry

In order to take the Senior Honors in Chemistry the candidate must be a member of the Senior class, must have an average grade of B for the year's work, and must do outside reading amounting to from five hundred to a thousand pages, the amount depending upon the nature of the work. The reading may be either in general chemistry or in some special line, as agricultural, metallurgical, theoretical or historical chemistry, the amount and nature to be decided on in consultation with Mr. Graham.

Members of the classes in Chemistry who are not Seniors may do the work during the current year and will be given the honor at the time of their graduation.

The Chemistry Prize of fifty dollars is awarded each year to that member of the classes in chemistry who maintains the highest average grade for the year.

In computing the grade, the average of the first five examinations is taken for one mark, the average of the next five examinations for the second mark, and the three grades obtained on the three examinations given in June on the whole year's work for the other marks. The one having the highest average of these five marks is entitled to the prize, unless there are two or more candidates whose marks are within one per cent of each others. In that case, a special examination is held for such candidates, the one receiving the highest mark on this examination receiving the prize.

Any member of the classes in Chemistry is eligible for the prize, irrespective of other classifications.

A Correction

The new grill building will not be in any way connected with the Archaeology Department. It will be a two story brick structure. On the second or top floor there will be one big room around the walls of which Dr. Peabody's curios, etc., will be hung. This is to be used as a general meeting room. The first floor is to be given over to a general reading room and in the basement the grill and kitchen will have their quarters.

Social Service Work at Exeter

Publication of the Phillips Exeter Budget indicates anew how extensive is the academy's social service work. This budget takes the place of the many smaller collections that were previously made throughout the year. Last year the amount collected was $950, while the budget for this year amounts to a rather larger sum, $1150. The uses to which the money will be put are as follows:

"E" book to be enlarged, $80; upkeep of rooms for Exeter boy scouts, and teaching English to foreigners, including light, heat, etc., $50; three social gatherings to new men, fall of 1915, $50; fund for students who could not otherwise attend the Northfield conference, next June and July, $100; Exeter loan fund for students, $100; preparatory school department, International Y. M. C. A., $50; preparation for campaign led by Mr. John P. Mott, next April, $100; Roosevelt gymnasium in Jacob Riis Settlement, New York City, $200; international war relief, $50; unemployed in United States through European war, $50; training Y. M. C. A. secretaries in the far east, $250; incidental expenses, $70.

The work outlined above is under the care of the Christian Fraternity, which has taken charge of all of the benevolent work of the undergraduates. The fraternity also furnishes teachers for Sunday Schools in several neighboring towns, besides leading the Sunday afternoon meetings at the West End hall, in Exeter.

Discussion Group

In the course of discussions on Future Occupations under the leadership of Mr. Stackpole, the topic for the coming Sunday and Wednesday will be "The Public Service."
