YALE ALUMNI CUP

Former Winners and What it Represents

The Yale Alumni of Boston have for the past thirteen years donated a trophy in the form of a cup, to that member of the Senior class of Phillips Academy who attains the highest degree of efficiency in studies and in athletics while in Andover. The name of this cup was decided upon as The Yale Cup.

The first cup was presented to "Jack" Cates in 1903. During Cates' career at Yale he played on the football team and was captain of the track team. He recently accepted the position of football coach at Annapolis.

In 1904, J. W. Marshall received the cup. He also went to Yale and was captain of the track team.

It is unknown who was the winner of the cup in 1905.

C. L. Lanigan won the cup in 1906. He went to Harvard and while there was captain of the Harvard baseball team.

In 1907 J. R. Kilpatrick won the Yale Cup. While at Yale he was captain of the track team.

The cup was donated to "Bob" Gardner in the year 1908. He also was captain of the Yale track team while at Yale. The year Gardner graduated from Andover he won the National Amateur Golf Championship (1908); then this last summer he won this title for a second time.

1909 saw the Yale Cup presented to W. H. Snell. Snell played both football and baseball during his course at Brown. He signed up with the Red Sox after his graduation from Brown.

In 1910, L. B. Paine won the cup. His career at Cornell was suddenly cut short by his most untimely death. He played on the Freshman football team, and in many other ways showed that a most successful life was in store for him.

In 1911, R. C. Martin won the cup. He was on the track squad at Yale.

The cup was presented to H. T. Middlebrook in 1912. While at Yale Middlebrook was on the baseball team and during his Senior year was captain.

The winner of the cup in 1913 was J. Wiley, who is still at Yale. In his Freshman year there he played on the Freshman football team.

Ray Snell, who won the cup in 1914, played on the Freshman baseball team at Yale. He also is still in Yale and in all probability will be on the squad this year.

Edward A. Fellowes was the recipient of the cup at the commencement exercises last June. Fellowes will enter Yale this fall.

Chapel Speaker

The speaker at chapel next Sunday morning will be Dr. H. G. Buehler, Head Master of Hotchkiss School, Lakeville, Conn. The relations between Hotchkiss and Andover have been becoming much closer during recent years. Dr. Buehler will be one of the guests at the school over Founders' Day. Dr. Stearns will speak at vespers Sunday afternoon.

Harold S. Ellms '11, Dartmouth '15, is to be married to Miss Joyce Gray of Boston on October 11.

SECOND MEETING OF INQUIRY HELD

Last Sunday evening there was held a very successful meeting of the Society of Inquiry. The room was filled to overflowing when Acting President Speer announced the first hymn. After this, Mr. Crawford led a short prayer, which was followed by another hymn. Cadmus Gordon read the Scripture Lesson. Speer then requested that the fellows refrain from clapping during the meeting, as it was absolutely a religious service. He stated that perfect silence might be just as complimentary applause as boisterous clapping.

Speer then introduced Mr. Douglas Crawford as the speaker of the evening. Mr. Crawford first read Whittier's beautiful poem called "Eternal Goodness". He said that for many of the new boys the change of outward things such as their surroundings, was inclined to create an inward change in them; it is then that the foundations of their life begin to shake. He cited his own college experience, that after about two weeks he felt a great change, but that he was strengthened by the college minister's sermon in which he said that if one's faith was growing weaker, to remember to hold fast to the highest principles; this, he said, would work out best in the end.

Mr. Crawford gave splendid advice to us when we should reach that point, when he told us to keep steadfastly before us the following ideals: first, to do our work faithfully and well; second, to speak the truth at all times; third, to hold a sacred attitude toward all woman-kind; fourth, to keep a kindly attitude always; and fifth, to be cheerful. If Christ's life could be summed up in one word, that word would be kindness; therefore, it is for us to keep this above all others. In the poem which Whittier wrote, he was surely passing through a period of strife and trouble, and he advises that when perplexed, one should always remember the simple statement, "God is good." So should we, when things go wrong, be faithful to our highest ideals and keep religiously to the five mentioned principles.

Elliott Speer then announced that as James Swift had resigned from candidacy for President, Chas. Gleason would nominate some one else. Gleason asked that the usual order of procedure be abandoned this time, and that an election be held at once instead of waiting the customary week. He then nominated Elliott Speer for president, Swift for vice-president, and Paul Doolin for treasurer. It was voted unanimously that these men hold these offices.

The new president then announced that a new system for obtaining money was to be adopted this year. He nominated a committee to look into this department which was composed as follows: Elliott Speer, chairman; Paul Doolin, and M. Heard. This committee is to report at the meeting next week. The meeting was then closed by singing a hymn.

"Tommy" Fitzgerald, "Joe" Guppy, A. M. MacMorrin, "Stew" Brush, "Herb" Young, and "Eddie" Fellowes of the class of 1915 were back visiting school last Saturday.

FOR LAWRENCE WORK

Mr Frank L. Quinby Chosen for Educational Work and Alumni Fund Secretary

Mr. Frank L. Quinby, who is to have charge of the Alumni Funds and the Lawrence Work during the coming year, is a prominent graduate of Andover. He entered the Academy in 1894 and after successfully completing his course, graduated in 1898. During his stay at Andover he played an active part in most of the school organizations and was prominent in athletics, playing quarterback on the football team and second base on the winning baseball nine.

Mr. Quinby entered Yale Sheffield the next fall where he repeated the fine career he had established for himself here, but before his course was completed he had to leave college because of pecuniary difficulties and enter business.

About ten years later Mr. Quinby returned to Yale to coach the baseball teams. His work in this line also was very successful and he greatly improved the situation into which the Yale nines had slumped. Last spring, however, owing to a controversy with the captain on matters of authority, he resigned as coach at Yale. During his second stay at New Haven Mr. Quinby earned the respect and confidence of the students and faculty alike. He also won the admiration of everyone who knew him, by continuing his college studies, after a period of ten years, while he was coach, and securing his college degree which circumstances had kept from him before. The school is very fortunate to obtain Mr. Quinby for the Alumni Fund and Lawrence Work, and it is expected at he will help in coaching the baseball nine next spring.

List of "A" Men Now in School

It will be of interest to both new and old men to know that there are thirteen men who have won their "A" in a major sport, back for another year. Following is the list:

Football—Sidney Gould, Wm. W. Russell, Thomas W. Ashley, Edward E. Keith, Charles W. Gleason.

Baseball—Charles L. Faherty, Paul P. Crane, John Brennan, Herman C. Wilson, C. Z. Gordon, Thomas W. Ashley.

Track—John P. Charlton, James G. Swift, Aubrey Russell, Sidney Gould.

Philo

The Philo debating society will hold its first meeting of the term in the lecture room of the Archaeology building at 7.45 o'clock tonight. A cordial invitation is extended to all fellows, both old and new, who are interested in debating, to attend the meeting. The subject for debate is, Resolved, that such measures be taken as will enable the United States to defend herself against any nation. The affirmative is Hyde, leader, with Bassett assistant; and the negative is Knox, leader, with McKee assistant. The select reading will be given by Crosby, and Brayton will discuss the topics of the week.

CAREERS OF NEW INSTRUCTORS

This year four new instructors have been added to the faculty of Phillips Academy. A brief account of the past careers of two of them is published below.

Mr. H. G. Hudson was born in Japan, where he lived for a number of years. After settling in this country he entered Whitman Academy at Walla Walla, Washington. He was prepared at home for entrance to this academy. He spent only one year at Whitman, however, the next year entering the Academy of Milliken University at Decatur, Illinois. In 1909, Mr. Hudson graduated from Milliken University, and the following year taught in the High Schools in Illinois. During the school year of 1910-1911 he was professor of the University Scholarship in Greek at the Northwestern University.

From 1911 to 1914 Mr. Hudson went as a Rhodes Scholar from Illinois to Oxford, England. He was a student at Queens College and rowed on the Queens College crew for two years. While there he knew Mr. Blake and Mr. Kern, who were instructors here last year. He spent this last year in teaching Ancient and English History in the Decatur High Schools. Mr. Hudson will teach Ancient History and German during the coming year.

Mr. Edwin Lathrop Baker prepared at Shady Side Academy, Pittsburgh, Pa. He has degrees of A.B. and Mus. Bac. (Pipe-organ and piano). He has studied abroad in Paris, Rome, Dresden and Berlin in music. Mr. Baker has lived quite as much abroad as in America; his French was acquired in Paris, Brussels, and Tours; his Spanish in Madrid; his German in Munich, Dresden, and Hannover. The years 1907 and 1908 he spent in going around the world.

Mr. Baker has been professor of Romance Languages and Literatures at Beaver College, Beaver, Pa.; instructor in Romance Languages at the Pennsylvania State College, whence he comes to Phillips Academy as an instructor in Modern Languages.

SCHOOL ELECTIONS

At the elections which have been held in chapel this week the following class officers have been elected:

1916—President, H. P. Harrower; vice-president, C. W. Gamble; secretary-treasurer, John Charlton.

1917—President, James Swift; vice-president, R. F. Shedden.

1918—President, John Field; vice-president, John Converse; secretary-treasurer, W. P. Shurtleff.

Managers' Choices

The four men who were elected for the four minor managerships have made their respective choices as follows: Gerard English, tennis; Charles Gamble, wrestling; George Thompson, gymnasium; W. H. Barber, lacrosse.

"Eddie" Mahan, '12, Harvard '16, captain of the Harvard football team, showed that he had lost none of the skill which has made him famous, when he circled the Colby ends in Saturday's game. Vance Likins also played in the game at end.

FOOTBALL SQUAD PICKED

Thirty Five Men Chosen. Others May be Added Later

Monday afternoon Coach Lillard and Captain Gleason picked from the football athletes the men who will compose the varsity squad. The squad is not permanent, and any fellow who works hard on the class teams may be taken on the varsity squad later. The men and their positions are as follows:

Ends—Gleason, Doyle, Dean, Jones, Thurlow, McCook, Horton.

Tackles—W. Russell, Wilson, Keith, Thompson, Dresser, Hubbard.

Guards—Wolfe, Rothchild, Boltwood, Addis, Avery, Smith.

Centers—Atwater, A. Russell, Talmage, Gagel.

Quarterbacks—Crane, Martin, Ashley, Dyer.

Backs—Gould Stover, Walthew, Charlton, Davis, Havey, Swift, Munger.

Class football was started Monday afternoon and the different class teams will be coached by Mr. Stearns, Mr. Boyce, Mr. Tower, and Dr. Page.

The New Grill

There has been a very conspicuous change on the material side of the school in the addition of the new Phillips Union, a building recently erected on Phillips Street close to the Archaeology Building. The Union is intended to be a center for the social life of the student body. The basement will be given up to a restaurant and grill room which are to be similar to the old rooms in the Archaeology Building. On the main floor will be situated the school reading-room which will be much more complete than the old reading-room. The top floor will be turned over to various school organizations to be used as a meeting-room; this will provide an adequate place for the school organizations to gather.

The building is of colonial design, costing about $28,000, and will be formally dedicated in connection with the exercises of Founders' Day on Saturday, October 2.

NOTICES

There are several places left on the Mandolin and Banjo Clubs, and anyone who can play either instrument should report to Mr. Handley in his office at the Archaeology building.

Students should see that their school bills are paid on or before the first of October. Classroom privileges will be denied to those whose bills are not settled on or before that date.

Communion Service

The first school communion service of the term will be held next Sunday after the morning service, and new members will be received into the church at that time. The invitation to this service includes vice includes the members of all churches, and any others who are in sympathy with the service.

Two of the faculty deacons and two of the student deacons will assist at the communion.

"Getting By"

The new principal of Phillips Exeter Academy said a wise and timely thing in his address before a body of teachers when he declared that the phrase, "getting by", is one of the most fatal expressions that has crept into the American vocabulary. The phrase, as Principal Perry intimated, suggests to the thoughtful and the conscientious the old saying that the good or the mediocre is the enemy of the best. In the schools, in the business world, in every realm of life there are numbers of persons who manage to satisfy themselves with doing work of a quality good enough to "get them by", to enable them to keep above the "flunking" line, to draw their salaries and stay on the payroll, to maintain a respectable rank and preserve a reputation for fair ability and industry. What they do, suggests inevitably what they might do. That is the tragedy of the thing. They are satisfied to be far less than they ought to be. The possession of abilities brings the inescapable responsibility for making the most of them. The boy who starts in at prep school or anywhere else with a policy of "getting by" will have a lot of reforming to do if he ever gets where he ought to go. "Getting by" stands at one extreme, Emerson's dictum, "Hitch your wagon to a star", stands at the other.

Class Tennis

Last Monday the interclass tennis matches began, and the class team representing 1916 met 1919, and 1917 played 1918. The play was very interesting and well contested; the results indicated that the series will be in doubt until the last match is completed. The summaries follow:

1916-1919

Gowans '19, d. Barber '16, 6-3, 6-4.
Pfaffmann '19, d. Farley '16, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2.
Morrison '16, d. Israel '19, 6-1, 6-2.
Gould '16, d. Donnelly '19, 6-0, 6-1.

Gowans and Pfaffmann '19, d. Barber and Morrison '16, 6-3, 3-6, 10-8.

Gould and Farley '16, d. Israel and Donnelly '19, 6-2, 6-1.

1917-1918

Vars '17, d. Rock '18, 6-1, 6-0.
Bailey '17, d. Heilner '18, 6-2, 6-2.
Bixby '18, d. Mitchel '17, 6-1, 6-4.

Rubsamen '18, d. Robinson '17, 12-10, 6-3.

Vars and Mitchel '17, d. Rock and Heilner '18, 6-4, 6-2.

Mitchel and Robinson '17, d. Rubsamen and Bixby '18, 6-2, 5-7, 8-6.

As each match counted one point, the team winning the most matches will be awarded numerals. The point standing is as follows:

	Won	Lost
1917	4	2
1916	3	3
1919	3	3
1918	2	4

Beginning Thursday, 1916 will play 1918 and 1919 will meet 1917.

PHILLIPIANA

Andover was represented by "Babe" Allen, "Mac" Baldrige, and "Bev" Thompson in the Yale-Maine game. "Bev" Thompson made two touchdowns while he was in the game at quarter. "Mac" Baldrige, playing right tackle, broke through and blocked a kick. The ball rolled across the goal line and Baldrige fell on it for a touchdown.

Exeter Not Expected to Be as Strong as Last Year

The following article appeared in last Sunday's Boston Herald:

Exeter's football team will get its first real test of the season this week against the Dartmouth Freshmen Saturday. Coach Jones has been experimenting with his new material, and his selection is far from settled upon. White of last year's Rindge Technical School at half-back, Hadley from the same school as a line man, and Harvey, also a Rindge man, at end, together with Donnelly from Montana at half-back, Gage, and Green from Haverhill High, the former at end and the latter a back; "Joe" Brickley and Benedict at halfback; Crane from Georgia Military School, and De Vitalis as tackles; Dooley from North Andover and Callahan from Lawrence, a brother of last year's Andover captain, at centre, are some of the new material.

Martin at end, Wehner at centre, and Brahman at guard are the line men to build around this season, and in the backfield only Kempton of last year's whirlwind eleven remains. It is not expected that Exeter will have an eleven equal to that of last year, or even of the 1913 eleven, neither being beaten. Coach Jones is being assisted by Robert R. Newton, the old Williams line man who is on the faculty, and Col. Reginald C. Stevenson of the 1896 eleven. The squad now numbers sixty men.

Coach John Carney of the baseball nine is pleased with his material which has reported for fall practice, including Capt. Peters, Cole and Atha of the last year's championship nine, and many newcomers of prominence.

Trainer Connors has had the track candidates out for the fall cross-country running, and there is reported to be some excellent material in school for the next season's track team, including Haskell of Westboro, a middle distance runner of note; Walter Whalen, the Boston College High School jumper; O'Connell, captain of the last year's Dorchester High. Capt. F. J. Wakem, who won the mile and the half-mile last year, is expected to be better than ever, and Nevin, a pole vaulter, and Buffington, a high jumper, of the last year's team, are in school. The latter is with the football squad this fall. The work during the fall is mainly for the new material, and as soon as the football season closes, Trainer Connors will conduct a series of trial events.

At Exeter this year athletics have been made compulsory during the fall term. This is indeed an innovation as the faculty was reported to be against compulsory athletics.

Changes at Harvard

By all means the most notable change which marks the opening of this academic year at Harvard is the availability of the new Widener Memorial library. It is difficult for the outsider to realize adequately how much this magnificent gift means to every department of the university, to teachers and to students alike. Not only is it the largest university library in the world, but in the matter of research rooms and private studies, in modern arrangements for handling books and expediting service, in these things it stands unmatched among existing libraries of any type. It well deserved every word of the handsome tribute paid to its usefulness by Senator Lodge at the last commencement exercises.

It is only twelve years since Harry Elkins Widener entered the Harvard gates, a Freshman just like the six or seven hundred who have entered this week. He finished his course with credit, won his degree, brought together his splendid collection of literary treasures, gave up his life in the Titanic disaster, and now his name stands graven on the most welcome benefaction that his alma mater has received within the memory of any living man.

The seating capacity of the Stadium will be increased to 60,000 by the construction of another horseshoe at the open end of the great structure dedicated to the fall sport.

The building commissioners have granted permission for the construction of a temporary wooden stand at the end of the Stadium such as Graduate Treasurer Moore wishes to erect.

There has been talk of transferring the annual struggle between Harvard and Yale to New Haven this year, but the permit to build the wooden structure does away with any such idea, and all Harvard and Harvard's mothers, sisters, wives and sweethearts can attend the game.

The stands are expected to reach far out in a semi-circle inclosing the open end of the Stadium. They will be temporary only and work on the construction of them will not start until after November 1. Not only will they set back deeper in the field, but they will also be higher than other wooden stands which have been erected at the Stadium for overflow crowds.
