Football Team Leaves Friday Night on First Trip to Hanover. Close Game Expected

Friday evening the Varsity football squad leaves for Hanover, N. H., where they will meet the Dartmouth Freshman team Saturday. About twenty-five men will make the trip on the sleeper. Their train reaches Hanover early Saturday morning, where they will be entertained by the Freshmen during the day. After supper it is probable that a reception will be held for the Andover team. That night they will leave on a train arriving in Andover early Sunday morning.

The Dartmouth team is reported to be very good, so a close game is expected.

Soccer Schedule

Manager M. J. Curran of the soccer team has arranged a schedule of six games. November 5 is pending, but Dartmouth will probably play on that date. The schedule is as follows:

Oct. 20—Harvard Freshmen at Andover.

Oct. 27—Harvard Varsity at Cambridge.

Nov. 3—M.I.T. at Andover.

Nov. 6—Dartmouth at Andover (pending).

Nov. 10—Yale 2nd at Andover.

Nov. 17—Worcester Academy at Worcester.

Class Soccer

Last Monday afternoon the 1916 soccer team defeated 1917 by a score of 1 to 0. This victory gives the 1917 players the lead in the numeral race. The game was exceptionally close and fiercely contested by both teams. Ross, captain of 1916, kicked the goal and scored the only point in the game. The lineups were as follows:

1916	1917
Truman, lrf.	lrf. Miller
Hyde, lrf.	lrf. Harder
Dennison, cf.	cf. Brayton
Ross, rif.	rif. Townley

Hotchkiss, lfb.	lfb. Graves
Sauer, rfb.	rfb. Nausbaum
Granger, g.	g. Pickering

At the same time the 1918 team was triumphant over the 1919 team, defeating them with a score of 1 to 0. This also was a very close game, as the only score was made in the last few minutes. The lineups were as follows:

1918	1919
Higgins, lrf.	lrf. M. Fletcher
Abercrombie, lrf.	lrf. Duffy

School Track Meet

On October 29, the annual fall handicap track meet will be held. This meet is open only to those who are taking track at the present time. The list of events is as follows: 100-yd. dash, 220-yd. dash, quarter-mile, half-mile, mile, 220-yd. low hurdles, broad jump, high jump, pole vault, shot put.

INQUIRY

After Bible readings by Minor and Gordon, Sperr announced the topic for discussion as "Leading a Christian Life."

Gleason was the first speaker and he told how a fellow should lead a Christian life by doing what he thought was right, and standing by his convictions. Besides this, he should back up the interests of the school in every possible manner.

"Gambling" was the theme of Harrower's speech, and he told how injurious that habit was to leading the right kind of life, in school, or elsewhere. It not only wastes a fellow's time and money, he went on to say, but it leads to stealing, and everyone should do his part in abolishing the habit.

Abbott followed Harrower, and he pointed out the fact that everybody gets a great deal of good out of this school, and it is the duty of every fellow here to do his share in helping the interests of the school along. Everyone cannot play on the football team, Exeter; that's impossible, but everyone can devote some of his time and ability to some school activity, now matter how trivial it may be.

Kingsbury's talk was somewhat like that of Harrower's, as it dealt with gambling. He thought that a good way to stop a fellow from gambling was to take the viewpoint of a friend, rather than an outside adviser.

English said that all the old men should do all they could to make things easy for the new men.

Blauvelt spoke next and he pointed out very clearly how every fellow should hold the standard set for him by his parents, and do his best to live up to it. Parents make a great sacrifice in sending a boy to school, he went on to say, and it is that boy's duty to make sary it was for everyone to get Russell then spoke of how necessary it was for every fellow to get in with the right kind of associates. These will help him to build up his character, while the wrong kind will not.

Williams wound up the speeches by telling how much good he thought was accomplished by the Society of Inquiry.

After the speeches, Russell was unanimously elected as Student Council representative for the Society of Inquiry.

Speer then made a call for men to teach in Lawrence. The Lawrence work is to be under the charge of Mr. Quinby this year, and about forty men are needed to teach there, one night a week each. Any fellow wishing to teach will please see Speer as soon as possible.

Class Cross Country

Last Saturday afternoon the 1917 class cross country team defeated the 1918 team by a score of 6 to 0. As only two men finished for 1918, they failed to score. The following is the list of men as they finished.

ANDOVER DEFEATED 7-0

Harvard Freshmen Win after a Close and Well-played Game

The Harvard Freshman football team defeated Andover last Saturday on the latter's field by the close score of 7 to 0. The Crimson's faultless interference and superior punting were the deciding factors. The contest early resolved itself into a kicking duel, slightly the better of it. Even so, the score represented a slip up in the vigor of three or four Blue tacklers, who let Flower, the former Middlesex School captain, elude them at the very start of the second period. The Crimson half-back caught the kick and was off like a shot, crossing the goal line almost before anyone was fully aware of what was happening.

Coach Lillard's men fought hard and several times held Harvard for downs. Except for the one touchdown few substantial gains were made. During the first half, as both elevens were willing to play on the defensive, they punted almost as soon as the ball came into their possession. Throughout the latter stages of the contest Ashley tried several forward passes, one or two of which were nearly successful. On two occasions when Andover was near the goal line, Gould was called on for a drop kick, but both attempts missed their mark. Ashley and Ashley and Gould starred for Andover, and Flower for the visitors. The home team was weakened by the loss of Stover Walthew and Crane, who were out because of injuries.

Captain Gleason won the toss and chose to defend the north goal, with a slight wind in his favor. Harvard kicked off to Waters, who advanced the ball 10 yards. Gould made 2 yards through center, and then Gleason kicked to the 5-yard mark. An end run, followed by an off-tackle drive, made it first down for the Crimson. After two more line-bucks, the visitors kicked to Gould, the latter being thrown near the middle of the field. Ashley failed to gain on a quarter-back run, but Gleason made 3 yards through center. Gould circled left end for 11 yards, after which his attempted field goal went wide of the mark. It was then Harvard's ball on their 20-yard line. They charged along for two first downs, but on the 50-yard line Andover rallied, and forced them to kick. Gould returned the ball 5 yards, and added 2 more through right guard. Another exchange of punts left the ball in Andover's possession near their own goal. Consistent gains by Charlton, Gould, and Gleason netted 10 yards, but the ball soon changed hands on a fumble. Harvard immediately kicked, the ball going over the goal line for a touchback. Both sides remained on the defensive during the remainder of the period, the play being for the most part near the center of the field. Score, 0 to 0.

SECOND QUARTER

It was now Andover's ball on their 42-yard line. On the first play Harvard was set back by a 5-yard penalty, making first down for the Blue. This advantage was

MEANS ESSAYS

Every student who is taking either a Middle or a Senior course is required to write, during the fall term, an essay of not less than eight hundred and not more than one thousand words. From these essays about twenty will be chosen and submitted in the Means Essay contest. The essays should be given to the instructors of the various English classes not later than November 17. The details concerning the contest will be published later in the Phillipian.

The subjects are as follows:

Byron and the Struggle for Greek Independence
John Hay and American Diplomacy
The Remaking of China
International Law and National Necessity.
New York's Constitutional Convention
The Character of Falstaff
The Panama-Pacific Exposition
General Carranza and the Mexican Situation
Sir Edward Grey and British Diplomacy

NOTICES

This afternoon at 4 o'clock the 1916 first football team will play 1917, and 1918 will play the third Varsity on Brothers Field. In the second division 1916 plays 1917 on Brothers Field, and 1918 plays 1919 first team on the Old Campus. Both games are at 2 o'clock.

A meeting of the Student Council will be held at 6.45 this evening in Pearson Hall.

The Varsity cross country squad report today at 1.30 at the track, instead of the regular time.

All men who are intending to try out for the school orchestra should report this evening in the choir room. The orchestra will also meet for rehearsal.

Yale Club Notes

Arthur B. Darling '12, President of the Andover Club at Yale, has written to the President of the Yale Club at Andover, that on Friday night, October 29, he will send up two speakers for the first Yale Club meeting. The men who are coming are Dan Elkin, '12, manager of crew, and head cheer leader, and Farwell Knapp, Phi Beta Kappa. The latter is a Taft School man.

Eddie Mahan, captain of the Harvard eleven, won the game against Virginia last Saturday, by his three goals from the field, making the score 9 to 0.

Last Saturday the world's interscholastic 440-yard record was broken by F. Sloman of the San Francisco High School. His time was 48.15 seconds, three-fifths seconds faster than the record held by Ted Meredith.

FALL BASEBALL

Candidates Will Probably Be Called Out in a Few Days for First Practice

In a few days the baseball squad will be called out for a short fall practice. The prospects are good for a very successful season in the spring, for there are six "A" men back in school this year. Captain Faherty has the following veterans back for another year: H. C. Wilson, pitcher and outfielder; Paul H. Crane, outfielder; Cadmus Z. Gordon, outfielder; John Brennan, third base; Thomas W. Ashley, shortstop. With these men as a nucleus for the team, and with several new players in school who are reported to be good enough to give the regulars of last year a hard fight, the prospects are bright.

Philo Meeting

This evening the regular meeting of Philo will be held in the lecture room of the Archaeology building at 7 o'clock sharp. The question for debate is, "Resolved: that capital punishment should be abolished." The affirmative will be upheld by Walker, leader, and Gordon, assistant, and the negative will be supported by Williamson, leader, and Hatch, assistant. The select reading will be rendered by Cohn. A cordial invitation is extended to every onewho is interested to attend.

PHILLIPIANA

"Mac" Baldrige '14, whose ankle was injured ten days ago, is back in the game again at Yale and is expected to play in Saturday's game with Washington and Jefferson.

"Chub" Sheldon '12, who was put off the field in the game last Saturday between Yale and Springfield T. S., is playing again. Referee Bankart admits that he made a mistake in ordering Sheldon off the field.

Law Bowman '15, is playing center on the varsity team at Union College, Schenectady, N. Y.

Tom M. Brown '15, is working in Minneapolis, Minn.

Merrill H. Boynton '11, of Bristol, has been elected prophet by the Senior class at Amherst College. Boynton's class will be the first to graduate under the administration of President Meiklejohn.

Grant H. Burrows '14, of Boston has been pledged to the Chi Phi fraternity at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. He has also been elected treasurer of his class for the year. He is taking a course in Civil Engineering at the Institute.

John Gault '13, who was the captain of the last Andover winning football team, is at Colgate College where he is playing a star football game.

Exeter "E" Men

The following is the list of "E" men at Exeter and the major sports in which they won their letter:

Football—Kempton (captain), Martin, Wehner, and Braman.
Baseball—Peters, Campbell, McNamara, Martin, Cole, and Atha.
Track—Wakem (captain), Williams, Bawden, Hansen, and Martin.

The following is an extract from a recent issue of the Exonian:

"Although the new men may not realize it, good cheering and singing is an essential part of every game in which Andover plays. Those who have made the teams testify again and again as to the great help cheering is to a team, especially when it is in a 'tight pinch,' for cheering shows more than anything else can, that the school is behind the team.

"At the Andover game there is always great rivalry between the two schools, both in cheering and in singing, and for some years Exeter's cheers have had a slight 'edge' on Andover's. Only half the number of men now in school are old fellows; they know how to cheer, but they alone cannot out-cheer Andover. The burden of responsibility rests with the new men. The songs and cheers can be learned in a few minutes; we think that it is certainly not asking too much of the new men if they are requested to learn them.

The comparison between our cheering and Exeter's in the past may or may not be true; however, far be it from us to act as judge in our own case. The past is dead. But let us remember that this fall they are out to beat us in cheering as well as in football, and so let us practice at every opportunity for a double victory on November 13.

Yale to Meet Harvard in Lacrosse

At the annual meeting of the United States intercollegiate lacrosse league, held at New York recently, a tentative playing schedule for 1916 was drawn up, but the exact dates and places for the games will not be announced until early next year.

Arrangements were made, however, that Yale, which is not as yet a member of the league, will play Harvard at Cambridge some time next spring. The regular season will open early in April and the final game between the northern and southern winning teams will take place during the last week of May.

A championship banner will be awarded to the winning team in each division. The players on the team that wins the championship will each receive gold medals, and the losing players will get silver medals.

Yale Men Declared Ineligible

Five of the most valued members of the Yale baseball and football teams were declared ineligible, last Monday, to compete in athletics at the university in the future, because they received their board and rooms free during part of the time they were members of the Quogue, L. I., nine, last summer. The players are Harry Legore, football fullback and baseball short-stop; Billy Easton, football half-back and baseball left fielder; Robert Rhett, outfielder; Spencer Pumpelly, pitcher, and Arthur Milburn, second baseman and captain of the baseball nine. Legore's withdrawal has struck a heavy blow to the chances of the team this fall.

EXETER FOOTBALL

The Exeter football team has had a very successful preliminary season, judging from the scores of the games which have been played. On September 25, Exeter overwhelmed the Cushing Academy eleven, which had practiced but three days, by the score of 55 to 0. The powerful backfield of Exeter ran through the weak Cushing line at will, and it is safe to say that if she had not put in a second-string eleven, the score would have been much larger. As was expected, Captain Kempton was the star of the game, running the team well and running back kicks 20 or 30 yards every time.

On October 2, Exeter piled up 27 points against Dartmouth '19. The field was wet and muddy, and it prevented fast play. However, Exeter made all her points in the first half, and then, tired out, was content to punt the ball and play on the defensive.

Against the strong Worcester Academy eleven on October 9, Exeter met an entirely different task. The play was fairly even throughout the game; the Worcester team, in fact, seemed to have an edge on their opponents, but, by a lucky fluke, Captain Kempton was able to run through the entire Worcester eleven to a touchdown. Frequent penalties spoiled Worcester's chances, for they received penalties amounting to more than 100 yards. Three times the red and black line held Exeter within the 5-yard mark, once on the very goal line. The game was witnessed by all the distinguished guests who were present for Founders' Day.

Last Saturday Exeter defeated Yale Freshmen, 13 to 0, in a close game. Exeter rushed the Freshmen off their feet in the first period and made two touchdowns. After that Yale steadied down and Exeter was held frequently. As before, Kempton was the star of the game, both on the offense and defense.

So Exeter has scored 102 points this season without being scored on. This fine record is due mainly to the work of Captain Kempton. As backs to aid Kempton, Coach Jones has White, Benedict, Gage, Brickley, Donnelly, Davis, and Campbell, all of whom are fighting for the backfield positions. There is a lively fight all along the line. The ends, Martin, Hadley, Green, and Douglas, appear to be very evenly matched, while the tackle positions are in doubt, with Crane, DeVitalis and Hadley all striving for regular places.

On succeeding Saturdays Exeter plays Princeton Freshmen, Harvard Freshmen, until, on November 13, they meet the Andover team under Captain Gleason.

The Exeter schedule follows:

Sept. 25—Exeter vs. Cushing at Exeter.
Oct. 2—Exeter vs. Dartmouth '19 at Exeter.
Oct. 9—Exeter vs. Worcester at Exeter.
Oct. 16—Exeter vs. Yale '19 at New Haven.
Oct. 30—Exeter vs. Princeton '19 at Exeter.
Nov. 6—Exeter vs. Harvard '19 at Exeter.
Nov. 13—Exeter vs. Andover at Exeter.

soon offset when Harvard recovered the ball on a fumble and made first down on two end runs and a short forward pass, following this up with a 20-yard gain around left end, made possible by excellent interference. Gould finally came to the rescue when he intercepted a forward pass on the 40-yard line. The opposing forwards were found impregnable, making it necessary for Gould to punt again. The Cambridge eleven worked the ball to their rivals' 15-yard line, where Andover braced and held for downs. Gould immediately punted out of danger, Waters downing the runner in his tracks. Another Harvard advance was soon checked, the half ending with the ball in Andover's possession. Score: 0 to 0.

THIRD QUARTER

Andover kicked off to Harvard and Flower threaded his way three-quarters of the length of the field for the only score of the battle. Harvard also kicked the goal. The Cambridge team again received, but being unable to gain, another exchange of punts gained about 10 yards for them, followed by an end run for 20 more, which was stopped only by Ashley's fierce tackle. After a 15-yard penalty the Freshmen were forced to kick. Charlton and Gleason made 3 yards apiece, Gould adding 5 more for first down. Andover again made the required 10 yards on a fake kick and a quarterback run. Here Harvard made a desperate stand, and held for downs. Felton at once kicked out of danger to Andover's 35-yard line. Charlton annexed a slight gain on a spread play, before Gould punted again to Burnham, who was tackled by Atwater. The remainder of the quarter was marked by an almost continuous punting duel, with the scrimmage taking place between the two 30-yard lines, varying to Harvard territory. Score: Harvard 7, Andover 0.

FOURTH QUARTER

The last session began with the ball in Andover's possession on her 45-yard line. After Gould had plunged through left guard for a considerable gain, Works intercepted a forward pass. The Crimson fumbled but recovered, and then negotiated a forward pass over the center of the line for a 5-yard advance. Andover held; so their rivals punted, the kick being returned on the succeeding play. Harvard was penalized 15 yards for illegal use of hands, thus making it first down, 25 yards to go. To this was added another penalty soon after, when the Harvard left end was offside. The Crimson were unable to gain the distance, and so the ball went over to the Blue. Gleason made a beautiful run through left tackle, carrying the ball to the middle of the field before being stopped. However, Andover lost a good chance to score, when one of the opposing ends intercepted a pass thrown by Charlton. A fake kick succeeded by a spread play failed to gain, thus necessitating Harvard to punt. At this point Wolfe went in for W. Russell. A pass worked son to Ashley to Atwater worked for an 8-yard gain, but the ball was lost by Andover when three drives at the enemy's line were of no

Exeter Defeats Yale Fresh

The Yale Freshmen went down to defeat on Yale Field before the Exeter football team last Saturday afternoon by the score of 13 to 0. Two touchdowns, from one of which a goal was kicked, made up the scoring. The first of these Exeter gained when Kempton intercepted a forward pass and ran 35 yards for a touchdown, and the other came after a blocked kick, when Hadley fell on the ball behind the goal line of the Fresh-Youngsters. Both scores were made in the first quarter, after which neither goal was in danger.

Exeter presented a strong team, which outclassed their opponents both on offense and defense. The New Hampshire eleven would have piled up a much larger score had they been able to gain consistently. Time and again they lost the ball on downs, or were forced to punt. The defense showed the hand of "Tad" Jones, for it proved to be almost impregnable against the best attack Yale could offer. The punting was frequent, but neither side gained substantially by the exchanges.

The players on the Exeter team who exhibited real ability were Hewitt, left end, and Kempton, quarterback. The latter's play overshadowed that of any other man on the field. He showed an almost uncanny ability at diagnosing the Yale Freshmen plays.

The lineups were as follows:

EXETER	YALE '19
Hewitt, le.	re. Comerford
Crane, lt.	rt. Galt (Smith)
Noyes, lg.	rg. Carter
Wehner, c.	c. Ross
Hadley, rg.	lg. Violet (Zenner)
Braman, rt.	lt. Kirkpatrick
Harvey, re.	le. Lynch
Kempton, qb.	qb. LaRoche
Davis, lhb.	rhb. Eastman (Carey)
Campbell, rhb.	lhb. Winter
DeVittales, fb.	fb. Stuart

Score: Exeter 13, Yale 1919, 0. Touchdowns, Kempton, Hadley. Goal from touchdown, Davis. Referee, Lawrence Bankart; umpire, Jack Clinton; field judge, B. H. Tomers; head linesman, R. W. Hertz. Time, 10-minute periods.

News from Other Schools

CHOATE SCHOOL

On Saturday evening, September 25, Mr. Frank Speaight, the greatest impersonator of Dickens in the world, presented the first part of Pickwick Papers in seven chapters.

Mr. "Tony" Morse, who stroked the victorious Yale eight last year, is now head coach of the Choate crew.

On Saturday evening, October 2, the school spent a most enjoyable evening listening to Mr. J. D. Russel of London. Mr. Russell

HILL SCHOOL

The three games which the Hill has played this season have all been victorious. In the first the team defeated Pottstown A. C., 6 to 0; in the second it was victorious over Villa Nova by the score of 6 to 0; and in the third it outclassed Princeton Prep. by the score of 22 to 7.

A golf team was organized this fall for the first time in many years. It opened its schedule by a defeat at the hands of Lawrenceville, the score being 5 to 2.

PAWLING SCHOOL

The football team has, so far, played three games, in all of which it has been victorious. The first one, with Hartford High School, was played with only three days of practice, and the score was 6 to 0. The second, with Kent, was a good deal more satisfactory, the result being 20 to 3. The third game was played against the strong Commerce team of New York. The result was 26 to 7.

The golf team had its first match on October 13, with Lawrenceville, who won by a 6-2 score, Robeson being the only man to score for the School team.
