MUSICAL CLUBS TAKE TRIP

Combined Musical Clubs will take Annual Trip to Rogers Hall This Saturday

Next Saturday afternoon the combined musical clubs of this school will journey to Rogers Hall, for the first concert of the year. All the arrangements for a successful and enjoyable trip, including a special car, have been made by Scheide, the newly appointed manager. The party will leave Andover about three o'clock on the appointed day in time to give the concert in the late afternoon. Following a dinner, given by the faculty of Rogers Hall, there will be an informal dance. The festivities will cease in time for the visitors to get back to Andover late the same night.

It is expected that one of the features of the programme will be a selection rendered by the combined mandolin clubs of both the schools. Mr. Handley, who coaches these two organizations, promises that this number will surpass anything ever before attempted along the same line.

This trip was originally scheduled for December 11, but it had to be changed to December 4, at the wish of the faculty of Rogers Hall. The Andover clubs will give several other concerts during the year the most important of these being the Exeter concert which will take place some time in the Spring term.

First Interclass Wrestling Matches

The first interclass wrestling matches of the year will be held at the start of the winter term. Candidates for the various teams have been practicing faithfully for the past few weeks under the direction of Captain Russell and Coach Carlson in the effort to get into the best possible condition for the coming contests. There will be seven classes of weights, a man being allowed four pounds either above or below the prescribed limit. They are as follows:

119-lb. class, lightweight division.
129-lb. class, second division.
139-lb. class, third division.
149-lb. class, fourth division.
160-lb. class, fifth division.
175-lb. class, sixth division.
Above 175-lbs., heavyweight division.

On the Tuesday before Thanksgiving the following men were elected captains of their respective class wrestling teams:

1916, Hartley
1917, Townley
1918, Walker
1919, Scott

Having a nucleus of veterans together with some very promising recruits it is expected that Andover will be represented on the mats this year by a championship team.

NOTICES

Friday evening at 6.50 there will be a meeting of the district chiefs, house chiefs and house lieutenants of the fire department in Peabody house.

At 1.30 on Thursday afternoon, ALL members of the rifle club report at the Gym, so that they may be assigned to their squads.

RIFLE CLUB ORGANIZED

Yesterday morning the first meeting of the Rifle Club was held after chapel. Membership to this club is limited to Seniors and to Upper-Middlers who are eighteen years old or will have reached that age by the conclusion of the current school year. This club was organized last year to train the fellows in the art of rifle shooting with the military gun. Last year the work was carried through with marked success and this year a greater success is looked forward to as the plans have been more fully developed. During the winter term sighting and low calibre rifle practice will be carried on in the gymnasium. The best ten marks men in the club will be chosen weekly as a team to have outside competition with other teams. As quite a good deal of expense will be incurred in securing the necessary equipment each member will be assessed the small fee of one dollar. Before being enrolled as a member of the club every fellow must secure a permission from his parents.

Rifle Club Notice

All men who want to order rifles, see L. Waters, Day 13, as soon as possible. If there are any fellows who have not yet signed up, who wish to do so, please hand in your name at once.

Election of Managers

Saturday morning, November 20, the election for the manager of football for 1916 was held. As a result of this, Stephen Y. Hord, '17, was elected. Hord comes from Terre Haute, Indiana, and entered Andover in the fall of 1914.

Alexander D. Harvey was elected manager of the varsity soccer team at a similar election. Harvey comes from Merrick, L. I., and entered school in 1913.

Music Notes

At the Vesper service December 12, the choir, as usual, will sing some Christmas carols. On Wednesday afternoon, December 15, Mr. Pfatteicher will give a Christmas recital at which he will play Dienel's Fourth (Christmas) Sonata, assisted by the choir.

At the Theatres

Hollis Street, "Rosalind."
Castle Square, "The Prisoner of Zenda."
B. F. Keiths, Vaudeville.
Toy, "A Place in the Sun."
Shubert, "Maid in America."
Colonial, "Watch Your Step."
Majestic, "The Battle Cry of Peace."
Wilbur, "Experience."
Park Square, "Twin Beds."
Plymouth, "Sadie Love."
Tremont, "On Trial."

Chapel Speaker

Dr. Stearns will give the address at the vesper service next Sunday afternoon.

Captain Barrett of Cornell has made more touchdowns than the entire Harvard, Yale, Princeton, or Penn team has made. Barrett alone has made 20 touchdowns.

INQUIRY HOLDS MEETING

Interesting Meeting Addressed by Two Men From Princeton University.

On Sunday evening, November 21, the regular meeting of the Society of Inquiry was held in the Archaeology building.

Following the usual song and prayer and a reading from the Scriptures by Bryan, Speer introduced Weir Stewart, the graduate secretary of the Philadelphia Society at Princeton University, as the first speaker. He first said that E. S. Shea, the president of the Senior class at Princeton, had been unavoidably detained and would not come to Andover until Tuesday night, in time to speak at the Princeton Club meeting here.

Stewart then stated that he was going to talk about the great importance of Christian societies in the colleges and universities of to-day, for in addition to the mental and physical training which a man receives in college, he should also develop his spiritual self. A great opportunity, he went on to say, is presented to Christian societies in every college to accomplish this, as it has been proven time and again that such an institution is a very important factor in the college life of this period. It must train men, he continued, to take their place in social service, mission work, and Bible teaching in after life, for one has to be equipped to enter into the religious affairs of his town or city after leaving college.

The speaker went on to say that the undergraduates of this generation want to undertake some definite form of religious service, one that will put a certain amount of responsibility on their shoulders. To illustrate this point, he said that now at Princeton, students are sent out into the rural districts nearby, where they are brought face to face with the problems of the world in teaching the farmers principles of clean living, clean sport, and above all, Christianity. Since it is evident that every young man sooner or later has to take his place in civic, political or industrial fields, he ought to prepare himself now for the work before him.

The choicest men of our day, Stewart emphasized, owe it to humanity to go into some kind of religious service, as it is there that they can accomplish the most good for the world. First of all, however, he who takes up this line of endeavor must lead a clean life himself.

In conclusion, after declaring that the fellows who stand for the right things in life should band together in order to help those with a lower standard of morals, he read two verses written by a noted church worker, bearing upon his topic.

W. B. Moore, captain of the track team and a member of the Glee Club and of the Triangle Club at Princeton, was then introduced. His talk, he asserted, would be upon preparedness. In addition to preparedness for war, as evidenced by the present European struggle,

THE ANDOVER PRESS

This issue is in charge of A. D. Harvey, '17.

As this term is steadily drawing to a close and as the winter term looms up brighter and brighter beyond the Christmas holidays, those fellows who are really willing to devote their time to a useful purpose, ought to be considering the opportunities which the next Phillipian competition offers.

Many have a wrong conception of the benefits obtained from preparatory school "heeling"; and more consider it a mere trifle and of no help either toward college heeling or business in later years.

This misguided judgement invariably comes from those who have never heeled and consequently have never learned what it is to fill the empty moments in a way as useful as it is interesting.

If anyone is intending to go out for a college paper, he should commence now and get the necessary experience by heeling his preparatory paper. The managing editor or any member of the board will be only too glad to give their views on the subject and explain any small matters which may arise to anyone who intends to enter the coming competition.

The Phillipian urges all those to come out who can possibly spare the time, feeling that both those who take the trouble to do so and the paper itself will be greatly benefited by their effort.

Princeton Club Holds Meeting

A week ago last Monday, the first smoker of the Princeton Club was held in the Peabody House. E. L. Shea, Princeton '16, and half-back on the football team, was present and gave a brief talk about that college.

He answered all questions put to him and made clear a great many of the conditions now existing down there. He went on to say how successful the honor system had been, and to what great extent it was being used. The presence of professors, or any persons of authority during examinations is entirely done away with, and a man merely has to sign a statement to the effect that he has neither received nor given aid during the examination.

In the past it has been the custom among a great many men to have substitutes take their places at the lectures which they cut.

Now, because of the honor system, this custom has been completely abolished. Shea then mentioned the numerous college activities which are open to anyone, whether he is an athlete or not. The Triangle Club offers an extensive trip of more than two weeks to those who succeed in making it, besides the business end which is also managed by the students.

After Shea's talk, the preliminary dues were voted on as $1.00, which should cover the expenses of two more smokers. All members are requested to pay the treasurer, G. English, as soon as possible.

Interesting Talk at Next Inquiry

A friend of the school, Rev. Samuel C. Bushnell of Arlington, has in his possession an unpublished, and very interesting document, giving a first hand account of the history of John Ericsson's ironclad, "The Monitor", and how she was taken to Hampton Roads before her famous encounter with "The Merrimac" during the Civil War. Mr. Bushnell's father was associated with the inventor in building this remarkable craft.

Several years ago Mr. Bushnell read this story at a meeting of the Society of Inquiry. It proved of such great interest to the students at that time, that he has again been invited to present it to the students now in school. The talk will be given this evening in the Archaeology building at 6.45. It is the personal narrative of one who accompanied the "Monitor" on her historical voyage. The original document is now at the War Department, and its publication is not allowed, but Mr. Bushnell is given special permission to present the story.

Swimming Meet

The first interclass swimming meet of the year will take place this afternoon at 4.30 in the gym. As coach Sutherland is anxious to get a line on varsity material, all those who have any ability in this line should report promptly at the appointed hour. Swimming practice has been going on for several weeks now, and so some very good times are expected in this afternoon's races. As fellows will not be allowed to compete in events in which they have won their emblems, an excellent chance of placing is afforded to fellows of even mediocre ability.

Cornell Claims Championship

Cornell wound up her football season with a clean slate, defeating Penn in a sensational game by the score of 24 to 9. Captain Barrett shared the individual honors of the season with Mahan, Harvard's captain, having done practically all of Cornell's coaching.

As a result of the game Cornell now claims the intercollegiate football championship for 1915, as among its victories is a 10 to 0 defeat of Harvard.

Columbia is another New York team that went through her schedule undefeated, and in her big game with Wesleyan came out victorious by the score of 18 to 0.

Wrestling Instructor Wins Match

"Cyclone" Burns, who in real life is Mr. Carlson, the wrestling teacher at Andover, threw Adolph Pohl of Germany in 21-minutes 40-seconds in a match preliminary to the Cutler-Aberg affair in the Mechanics building in Boston on the evening of Thanksgiving. He used a head scissors and a double arm lock, being the superior of his rival at all times.

1. District Captains are responsible for the conditions in their respective districts.
2. District Captains shall inspect their district at least once a month and report inspection to the Board.
3. District Captains shall take action with the Board on all complaints made by the House Captains.

Wireless Club Organized

A week ago Monday, several fellows interested in wireless, held a meeting in Mr. Wilkin's room, where a wireless club was organized.

The purpose of this club is to forward the interest in wireless, and to afford its members a chance to perform a few experiments.

The trustees have promised to install an aerial as soon as possible, and D. Kitchin, P. A. '15, has already donated a one-half k. w. transformer.

Graves No. 4 is to be reserved for the use of the club, and arrangements have already been made for the installation of the apparatus.

The officers elected are as follows: President, J. W. Wilder; vice-president, T. Lunt; secretary and treasurer, J. M. Doron.

and preparedness against war such as the United States is now endeavoring to bring about, there is preparedness of the individual, he declared. It probably does not occur to fellows in secondary schools, he continued, why they are really sent there or for what they are preparing; the fact is that they not only go to school to increase their mental and physical abilities but also to increase their spiritual characteristics. The latter, he made clear, is the most important thing one gains in preparatory school which does not come under the heading of the mind or the body.

In spite of the fact that on the surface the development of the mind is all-important, to the well-rounded man a strong moral power is absolutely necessary, for in middle life one would feel that something was seriously lacking in him if he was without this. It is worth while to remember, the speaker asserted, that the real man, the one who is going to make good, is the three-sided man as represented by the triangle of spirit, mind and body. Moore then pointed out that the spirit side of the triangle is the most cherished of man's abstract possessions.

After a brief discussion of the merits of the honor system now in use at Princeton, he urged every fellow to think very carefully about himself and to form his character with a definite purpose continually in mind.

The meeting closed with a hymn, followed by a prayer by Mr. Stewart.

Philo

There will be a short but important meeting of Philo tonight at 8 o'clock in the new Peabody House. The debate will be omitted, but Beardsley will give a select reading and McKee will discuss the topics of the week. The committee appointed to secure Robert Frost will give a report of the money taken in at the lecture. It is especially desired that every member should be present this evening, as this is to be both a very important and interesting meeting.

Alumni Fund Grows

The ninth annual report of the Phillips Andover Academy Alumni Fund for the year ending June 30, shows how the school has grown in the past fifteen years: In 1900 the value of the plant and invested funds were respectively $200,000 and $400,000, while today the figures show a million and a quarter for the plant and a million and a half of invested funds. The teaching force has been kept up to a very high standard and the faculty numbers nearly fifty, a teacher to every eleven boys in school. This means a large annual expense, and the Alumni Fund, which is conducted entirely separate from the school, helps meet this charge, as the cost of teaching each student is beyond the amount he pays for tuition. The income last year from direct gifts by the alumni to this fund, and from interest on invested funds from this source was nearly $9000, and the permanent funds are added to each year as well. There has been given to the school since the formation of the fund in 1906, over $60,000 in cash, which has been spent for current needs, and over $60,000 more has been added to the permanent funds for the use of the school. The figures show also only 900 contributors out of 8000 graduates.

Black to Captain Yale

Yale's football captain for next season will be Clinton Rutherford Black, Jr., of New York City, left guard in three games the past season and captain of the Freshman team a year ago. The election is understood to have been extremely close between Black and "Chub"

Sheldon, who was generally believed on the campus to have the better chance for the honor, but Black proved a winning dark horse.

Sheldon came from Andover and Black from Exeter, each having won distinction on their preparatory school elevens, and each a Yale Freshman team player.

Black's election is extremely popular as he is regarded the strongest member of the Eli rush line the past season. He has played fewer games in a Yale varsity uniform than any previous Yale captain.

When this season began, he was handicapped by faculty restrictions and played his first game against Lehigh. He was crippled during the contest and unable to play again until the Princeton match. He was the best defensive member of the eleven against the Tigers and the Crimson.

He will be a member of the Senior class of the Sheffield Scientific School next season.

Because of doubt over the eligibility of Harry LeGore it is understood that he was not an active candidate in last night's election. It is expected that, if LeGore is declared eligible again, he will be elected next June captain of the Yale baseball nine for 1917.
