Monday night the first meeting of the Harvard Club was held for the election of officers and for the making of plans for the coming year. Moorehead was elected president; Weber, vice-president; Eaton, secretary; and Peters, treasurer. The constitution was read over to acquaint all the new men with the rules of the organization and to refresh them in the minds of the fellows who belonged before. Plans were discussed for a smoker to be held on November 4. At this time, the dues of $1.00 will be collected from each member as a ticket of admission to the entertainment. There were about twenty-five present at the meeting.

ANDOVER WINS

Harvard Freshman Team Defeated in Close Game 10-7

Last Saturday afternoon Andover won its first football game of the season from the Harvard Freshman team. The game was very well played, considering the fact that it was the first one that either team had played. Although outweighed more than ten pounds to the man, the team gave an exhibition of some very quick and snappy playing. Twice more than 20 yards were gained by forward passes. Crane's punting and Stover's line-plunges were features.

The game by quarters:

FIRST QUARTER.

Captain Russell won the toss and chose the south goal. As the wind was from the west, neither team was handicapped. Stover kicked off to Harvard's 20-yard line. The Freshmen made 11 yards on the first play, but they failed to gain on the second and punted for a touch back. Andover's ball, on the 20-yard line. Stover gained 4 yards through right tackle. Harvard was penalized 5 yards for interference. First down. Davis made 4 yards through guard. Larkin punted to Harvard's 30-yard line. Church punted again to Andover's 35-yard line. Andover fumbled on the first play and it was Harvard's ball on Andover's 25-yard line. Twice the crimson backs made big gains through Andover's line. They were stopped on the third try but on the fourth down Horween plowed through the Blue's line for a touchdown. Church kicked the goal. Stover kicked off past the goal posts and it was Harvard's ball on their 20-yard line. Church punted to Davis who ran 10 yards before he was tackled. Crane made 1 yard through right tackle. Larkin punted to Harvard's 35-yard line. Munger replaced Atwater at right tackle. Harvard returned the punt. Davis and Stover executed a successful forward pass, gaining 21 yards. Davis made another forward pass to Hill. It was Andover's ball on Harvard's 30-yard line when the whistle blew. Score: Andover 0; Harvard 7.

SECOND QUARTER.

After two unsuccessful attempts at line-bucking, Davis made a forward pass which was intercepted by Harvard and it was their ball on the 5-yard line. They punted to Andover's 40-yard line. Warren took Davis's place at quarter-back. For the rest of the period both teams exchanged punts with a few line-plunges between. End of first half. Andover 0; Harvard 7.

THIRD QUARTER.

Church kicked off to Andover's 35-yard line. Hill fumbled a forward pass, but luckily the ball was recovered. After an unsuccessful end run, Crane punted to Harvard's 30-yard line. Church returned the punt and it was Andover's ball on the Crimson's 45-yard line. Stover made 20 yards through right tackle. Lambert went in for Munger at right tackle. Hill caught Larkin's forward pass and carried it across the line. Crane kicked the goal. Stover kicked off to Harvard on

SONGS AND CHEERS

The following are some of the school cheers and songs which the new men will be expected to learn at once:—

Old P. A.

(Printed by permission)

We're here with the team once again, boys,
Five hundred strong to cheer them on.
So hand out old Andover's name, boys
Across the field, and never yield!
There's no hope to-day for poor Ex'ter,
For they are true, those boys in blue.
Andover'll land, she's got the sand,
Give a cheer for old P. A.
Rah! Rah! Rah!

CHORUS

Fighting for old P. A., boys,
Fighting with heart and soul,
Tearing our way on to victory,
Nearing the crimson goal.
See how old Ex'ter trembles,
Andover wins to-day!
Stand by the blue, we're always true
To you and old P. A.
Malcolm K. Fletcher, class of 1904

Andoverian

We'll sing a funeral ode to Exeter,
Up on the hill, up on the hill, to-night,
We'll hang another crimson football
Up in the gym, up in the gym, to-night.
Send a cheer away, till the bleachers sway,
Back the team with main and might,
For we're here to punish poor old Exeter,
And we'll bury her to-night.

CHORUS

March on, march on, defenders of the Blue,
Sons of Phillipia, fighters thro' and thro',
We'll score, once more, and over
Exeter's grave,
The banners of Andover forever shall wave.
(Long Andover)

Andover Rah!

It's the same old Andover,
We are here to win to-day,
See poor Exeter fly to cover,
When the Blue gets in the fray.
First down, Oh, this is easy,
And the goal is just before,
Smash it thro' and make a touchdown.
For this is where we score.

CHORUS

All hail to old Andover,
Victory crowned on many a field;
Our crimson foemen tremble
And before the Blue must yield;
On your feet, now altogether,
Give a cheer for An-d-over, Rah! Rah!
Rah!
Lift your voices on high,
Let your cheers rend the sky
For old Andover wins to-day.

Oh, the boys from old New Hampshire
Will learn a thing or two
When they meet with Captain Russell
And the team that wears the blue;
Now the Ex'ter stands are silent,
And the crimson banners fall,
While the Blue sweeps on to victory,
Let us cheer them one and all.

INQUIRY

Interesting Talks Given by Representatives of New Haven Y.M.C.A.

At seven o'clock last Sunday evening the second meeting of the Society of Inquiry was held in the Peabody House. The Society was fortunate in getting Mr. Chisholm, Mr. Dudley, and Mr. Beardsley to speak. They are from the Y.M.C.A. at New Haven, which is kept up by Yale students.

The meeting was opened by a hymn, after which Mr. Chisholm read from a portion of the New Testament. A short prayer by Mr. Dudley followed, and another hymn was sung.

Mr. Chisholm, the first speaker, took as his subject the work of the Y.M.C.A. at New Haven. He pointed out the similarity between the work of the Society of Inquiry and the Y.M.C.A. There are two phases of work carried on by it; the work inside, and the work outside the college. The work outside is composed of work in the Sunday Schools and boys' clubs. There is also an institution called the Yale Hope Mission. The object of this mission is to help the men who are "down and out" to start on the right path again. As for the work in the college itself, there are the Sunday evening meetings or discussion groups where the men who are interested in the work get together and discuss vital questions which appear in every college man's life.

To be a true Christian, one must do some service for others. Therefore this social kind of work is one of the best ways to profess one's faith, for it is work based on the uplift of others less fortunate than yourself.

Mr. Dudley next spoke of the influence of one man on another. Have you, he said, certain fixed principles that you stick to all the time? In twenty years from now, will you be broken and crushed, through lack of sound moral principles? As an example of holding to one faith and principle, take an incident in the Boxer Rebellion in China where 150 Chinese were put to death on account of their faith in Christ. Build up your character here in Andover, for you will need it later on in college and in the outside world. Knowing and following Christ is the only way to have a strong character.

Mr. Beardsley took up the topic of religion and faith. Wherever you are, he said, whether in your home, in your school, on the street, in fact everywhere, religion has its power. It matters little whether you have wealth or not. You must have character, and the center of character is self-control. Be able to control yourself, for you will be tested: for instance, if you are out for an athletic team you go into training. That is, you get plenty of exercise, food and sleep, so that when the test comes in a game or meet, you will be equal to it. Now, can you expect to drift along idly, and, when the test suddenly thrusts itself upon you, come out victorious? No, certainly not; you must prepare for all tests and the way to prepare and to train, as it were, is to follow Christ's teachings.

Although a matter of serious thought, the infantile paralysis epidemic is not as bad as reported in the daily newspapers. In spite of the fact that there is one case here in school, there have been no cases except that, in town, and so it is a great deal safer for everyone to stay here in the normal, regulated life of the school, than to go home for awhile and run the risk of catching the disease by thus travelling about. However, notices have been sent to the parents of every Andover student, informing them of existing conditions and giving them the opportunity to remove their sons temporarily if so desired. Naturally there will be some boys who will take advantage of this and try their hardest to leave school, but in doing this they will lose a lot of work and run the risk of not being allowed to come back until after Christmas. Therefore it is best that all members of the school should stay in Andover if allowed to, by their parents.

The Harvard Registration

Harvard has now 4,724 students enrolled at the University. Last year the number of students was 4,567. The biggest gain was in the law school, advancing from 730, last year's student body, to 804 this year. The table of students in the different schools follows:

The college	2504
Graduate school	500
Business school	202
Divinity school	57
Law school	804
Medical school	354
Dental school	229
Special	74

Harvard Football Schedule

The remaining games in the Harvard varsity football schedule for this fall are as follows:

October 21,—M. A. C.
October 28,—Cornell.
November 4,—Virginia.
November 11,—Princeton
November 18,—Brown.
November 25,—Yale, at New Haven.

After his speech, Mr. Beardsley ended the meeting by a short prayer. The attendance was very large, and it is hoped that it will remain so throughout the year.

Exeter Prospects

Slow progress has been made with the Exeter football team during the last week owing to the late opening of school and the fact that no game could be secured for last Saturday. Coach Vaughn, however, is gradually forming his eleven and though it lacks the weight of last year's squad, some pretty fast men will probably result. The only veterans on the squad are Crane, the captain, Noyes, Davis, and "Tubber" White, who was out of the Andover contest last year due to injuries received in the Worcester game. Several men, including O'Brien, Hester, Jordan, and Gray, however, were on last year's second team and are now playing on the varsity. Crane will probably play tackle and White is a candidate for halfback. Other particularly promising men are O'Brien, who has come back from the summer with added weight and a fine physical condition; Macnamara, who weighs 185 pounds; MacMahon, the heaviest man on the squad weighing 216 pounds; Duncan, Lourie, Carrigan and Lipscomb. Last Saturday the squad went through some heavy scrimmages, the hardest of the season, in preparation for the game with the Yale Freshmen next Saturday. It has been sometime since a Freshman team from Yale has beaten Exeter, but the game this year will have added interest as last year's captain, Herbert Kempton, is playing with the Elis.

Fall baseball practise is well under way and Coach Carney is pleased with the material, though, as yet, no one has turned up to compare with last year's pitcher, De Vitalis. Harold Harvey, who substituted in the box last year, is working for that position, and Gokey, a sub last year, is showing up well. Carrigan is a fast man behind the bat, but he is on the football squad this fall. Practise will continue until the ground freezes and a good line can be obtained on the players.

Captain Williams, of the track team, who has been on service at the Border, and Dennis O'Connell, Douglass and a few others are showing up well. Jordan, who is working with the eleven, is due to be a fast man next spring. Trainer Connors is also pleased with a new prospect, Shunn, a middle-distance runner, who ran for the Huntington School last year.

Crane Elected Captain of Exeter

A rather unique ballot was taken at Exeter, recently when Douglas L. Crane, '18 of Tampa, Fla., was elected captain of football to succeed Joseph F. Wehner of Everett, Mass., who is now working among the prisoners of war in Germany. Many of the players who were on last year's team, are not in school at present, and consequently a good part of the voting had to be done by mail.

Crane entered Exeter last fall and it was not long before he made a name for himself. In the game with Andover, he played left tackle and also gained an "E" in track, winning second place in the shotput. He tips the scales at 195 pounds and is exceptionally strong.

Last Saturday a fountain pen was found in front of Day Hall. This fountain pen may be obtained by seeing Ames, Phillips 1.

The open date on Jan. 24, may be filled with the St. Paul's school of Concord, which is to be played in that town.

No Change in Tiger Dates

There will be no change in the football schedule at Princeton University because of the death of a student from infantile paralysis so far as can be learned. Joseph Murray, treasurer of the Princeton Athletic Association, gave out a statement declaring that there is no reason to believe the game scheduled with Lafayette next Saturday will be canceled or transferred to Easton.

Letter Sent to Parents

The following is a copy of the letter recently sent out to the parents of Andover boys, concerning the infantile paralysis case in School:

16 OCTOBER, 1916

Dear Sir:

We are sorry to report that one of our students is ill with infantile paralysis. On the first appearance of suspicious symptoms the patient was promptly isolated, the best expert medical advice was sought and every precaution taken that the student body should be exempt from the possibility of contagion, if such a thing as contagion in this disease actually exists. The patient has now been removed from town for special treatment.

The school authorities have secured the best professional advice obtainable, having consulted, in addition to local physicians, representatives of the State Board of Health, the special commission appointed by the Harvard Medical School to investigate this disease, and individual physicians of prominence from Boston. As a result of this responsible advice the school will continue its regular work as formerly, since it is the conviction of those consulted that the students as a whole will be freer from possible danger in the normal, healthful life of a large school than they would be if exposed to the risks incident to travel and the return, in many cases at least, to localities where the disease is or has been prevalent.

No case other than this one has appeared in Andover this year; while the nature of symptoms and the time of its appearance give every indication that the infection was accomplished before the patient arrived in Andover. The doctors consulted are all agreed that there is nothing in the existing situation to cause undue anxiety or alarm. As an extra precaution, however, the boys rooming in the house where the patient formerly resided will be subjected to a two weeks' quarantine and will report frequently during that period to the Medical Visitor of the school for special examination.

In view of the uncertainty of knowledge of conditions controlling this particular disease, the school authorities recognize the right of parents to withdraw their sons temporarily if they deem such a course wise. It is not believed that many will feel it necessary to take this step.

Very truly yours,
ALFRED E. STEARNS

Hardy House

There has been some confusion among the students due to the change of name of the house officially called the Adams House, but more commonly known as Newton House, to Hardy House. The trustees of the Academy recently voted that the name be changed to Hardy, after Alpheus Hardy, once President of the Board of Trustees, and his son Alpheus, for some time treasurer of the Academy, in order that there be no confusion between that House and Adams Hall. The house was built in 1805 and from 1806 to 1809 was the residence of Professor Eliphalet Pearson. Principal John Adams lived in it between 1810 and 1833 and afterwards it was the residence of Professor William B. Graves of the Academy. As there was already Pearson Hall, it could not be called Pearson House, and accordingly the name of the next inhabitant, Principal Adams, was adopted. The house is now occupied by Mr. Newton, the instructor of mathematics at the Academy.

Students at Plattsburg

There were over 2,000 college students and 8137 alumni, making a total of 10,137 college men, who attended Plattsburg this summer. Harvard led all the other colleges, having 1572 students and alumni enrolled. Yale was second with 921 and Princeton was third with 771 enrolled.
