MORE FACTS ABOUT PRISON CAMPS

There are anywhere from 2000 to 74,000 men in each of these prison camps. Tens of thousands of these war prisoners are students. The men live under armed guard within barbed wire enclosures, in shed-like huts or barracks, crammed with rows of narrow bunks.

Their food is soup, bread, and poor coffee, day after day—and not enough of that. Often the soup is oily.

They have no change of clothing.

The sick are not properly fed or cared for. Scurvy spreads. Many go insane. At best life is terribly monotonous, unless there is outside help.

WELFARE WORK

In 200 of the camps Y. M. C. A. workers are helping the prisoners. Last winter several thousand lives were saved by their efforts.

The coming winter will bring even greater hardships than last, and the relief work must be increased. The special workers or secretaries have to devote much time to aiding the sick and caring for the dying.

The lectures, classes, industries, entertainments, libraries, and religious services which they organize are a great boon to the prisoners.

It is hard for us in the midst of our comforts and privileges to put ourselves in the places of these men. But if we were actually in their places, how much we would appreciate just the kind of friendly aid the Y. M. C. A. people are giving and we would certainly be grateful to fellow teachers and students over the seas who showed their sympathy and good will by backing such good work.

Stover Elected Captain

At a meeting of the football team in Sherman's Studio Friday afternoon, Elmer F. Stover, '18, of Wellesley Hills, Mass., was elected captain for next year. Stover is 19 years old, 5 feet 8 inches in height and weighs 165 pounds. He entered Andover in 1915 and expects to go to Yale. Stover was on his High School team at Wellesley Hills for several years and has been on the team here for the last two years, playing a star game at end this year.

SOCCER GAME

Andover Ties Strong Worcester Team 2 to 2, in Final Game of Season

The last soccer game of the season, which was played last Wednesday afternoon, resulted in a 2 to 2 tie between the strong Worcester team and Andover. The game was called because of darkness. The contest was somewhat rough, but was exceptionally fast and closely contested. Captain Coburn of Andover and Gagnon of Worcester played the best games for their teams. Worcester is a strong team, having beaten Harvard Freshmen, Yale Freshmen, Harvard Varsity. They have also held the crack Springfield team to a score of 4 to 2, although Springfield had defeated Yale Varsity 9 to 0. However, Worcester was somewhat handicapped by the loss of one of their men because of his low scholarship standing.

Andover won the toss and kicked off. The Blue team started with a dash and outplayed their opponents for the greater part of the first half. In the first ten minutes of play, Carden kicked a goal on a fine boot from the sidelines by Hibbert. On a corner kick soon after the Blue team could not seem to get the ball in. Worcester fouled, but Richardson could not kick the goal on the penalty. By this time the Red and Black team had awakened to the fact that they were being outplayed, and began to do some fine playing. Out of three corner kicks, one was put in the net, tying the score. However, the goal was not allowed on account of the fact that the Andover goal-keeper, Pickering, had been tripped. After the penalty kick the ball seesawed back and forth, although Andover's goal line was in danger but once. Pickering saved the day by a brilliant stop. The half ended with the score 1 to 0 in the Blue's favor.

In the next period the Worcester team outplayed the Blue team, Gagnon shooting two fine goals early in the half. Andover had two foul kicks but both failed. Several attempts at goals by Worcester missed by inches. Then the Blue team recovered and Lloyd kicked the goal which tied the score. Corner kicks by both sides failed as did several penalty kicks. Captain Coburn was temporarily disabled by a cramped muscle in his leg but gamely continued to play. Soon after, the game ended, but both teams wanted to play off the tie. Accordingly two more 7-minute halves were arranged, but neither team could score, and the game was called because of darkness.

COLLEGE NOTES

In the hope of bringing to light some good varsity material, Coach Pelletier of the basketball team has arranged an inter-fraternity basketball tournament, at Dartmouth, in which all of the seventeen fraternities have entered teams. The first round began this week, and all the teams are practicing up in the hope of winning.

The varsity men are allowed to enter this tournament, and therefore practice will be light during the week. Coach Pelletier is now drilling the men in passing and shooting, but there will be no scrimmaging until after Thanksgiving. About thirty-five men are now out for the varsity, and, besides the regular daily drills, the coaches are putting them through stiff calisthenic drills. Every effort possible will be made to have the men in good physical condition before the harder work begins, in about ten days.

Reorganization of the Yale graduate school was approved at a meeting of the Yale corporation Monday. The faculty of eighty, will be divided into three divisions, each to have jurisdiction over matters relating to courses of study; an executive board of eight will perform the administrative functions and determine admission requirements. The new plan goes into effect at once.

The corporation re-elected its prudential committee and arranged for a special service February 22, in memory of former President, Timothy Dwight.

A gift of 2300 volumes of French history from the estate of Frederick S. Palmer '73 of New York, was announced. Some of the books were owned by Napoleon. Gifts and bequests since the last meeting totalled $71,000.

A Letter from Hampton

The following letter has been received from Bernard Ward, to whom the boys of this school have given a scholarship at Hampton Institute:

My dear Friends,

This is a great pleasure in writing to you, especially to thank you for the kindness you have rendered me this term, and the time previous in making a scholarship possible. There are many things going on around the grounds which I think you would like to know about. A new auditorium is to be erected by some contractors who are not connected with the school. The foundation is being dug out now. It is needed as soon as possible, and there is so much work to be done by the trade school students, that our instructors decided it was best for some outside contractors to have it.

An executive building is being put up by the students. The carpenters are now putting up forms for the bricklayers to make a concrete foundation. Well, I am trying to become a good bricklayer, and since being here I have learned a lot along that line, educational and many others.

The boys' dormitory, of which I think I told you, is almost completed. Some boys are going to move into the right wing of it sometime during the last of this month. This wing is completed and shows a great deal of improvements over the other dormitories. It is well equipped with all of the conveniences a student needs while in school.

I am now a third year tradesman, and by the old schedule this would be my last year in this trade school, but an extra year has been added to the course which is an advantage to a student in many ways. One half of the year is to be spent in trade school. The other half is to be spent in day school. During the entire term we are to be drilled particularly upon the practical parts of our trades and studies.

I am playing an alto in the school band. This is one thing I have wanted to become a member of, and this band seems to be a very good one. Some compliment is passed

Intercollegiate Cross Country

The ninth annual cross-country run of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America will take place to-day over the new West Rock Course. Of the 14 colleges who have sent in entries there are many stars who will make a strong fight for individual honors. For team championship, Cornell is the favorite, while second place will be fought out between Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Maine and Williams. Owing to the fact that Maine, last year's champion, was defeated by Williams in the New England Intercollegiate, it would seem that Harvard and Yale will be Cornell's strongest competitors.

In view of Cornell's decisive victories over Pennsylvania and Harvard, she is favored by most critics. Her best runners, Dresser, McDermott, Wenz and Captain Widdnagle, should all finish well in the van. Harvard won from Yale last week at Cambridge by the close score of 26 to 29, but the advantage which Yale will have in running on her own course will probably compensate for these three points. In G. A. King, Harvard has a man who will give a good account of himself and who should finish among the first ten.

Princeton has been defeated by Yale this fall by a score of 20 to 35, and relies mainly upon Captain D. R. Shotwell's performances. The team as a whole is not well balanced.

Williams and Maine are uncertain factors as they have not faced any of the larger University teams this fall. Their showing in the New England Intercollegiate, however, requires that they be taken into consideration. Syracuse, Pennsylvania and Dartmouth have not made a very good showing up to date, and are not expected to finish among the first.

Yale has a strong, well-balanced team, and is well represented by Levine, Walters and Captain Overton, winner of the Cross-Country Intercollegiate a year ago. All of these men should finish among the first twelve.

The individual championship will be hotly contested, Wenz of Cornell and Overton of Yale being the favorites; a close finish is expected. In addition to these two men, H. H. Brown of Williams, winner of the New England Intercollegiate; Thompson of Dartmouth, Prent of Maine, who ran second to Overton last year, and Captain Shotwell of Princeton are all first-class runners, and much confidence is placed in them by their respective colleges. It is interesting to note that Captain Widdnagle of Cornell, who won the mile run in last spring's Intercollegiate, is running fourth on his team. The present record of 36 minutes 26.1-5 seconds for the six-mile hill and dale course was made in the Princeton meet this fall by Captain Overton. With the strong competition which is expected today this mark should be lowered.

The team obtaining the lowest number of points wins, the count being based on the first five men to finish for each college. This race will mark the official opening of the new University West Rock Course, and will be attended by the best cross-country runners which the Eastern colleges have to offer.
