RIFLE CLUB MATCH

Held Last Wednesday Afternoon and Evening in Pearson Hall Range

The first members' off-hand match was held last Wednesday afternoon and evening in the Pearson Hall Rifle Range. Although this was the first match of this kind, the scores had a good average. Kirkham was high man with 125. Knowles was second with 119, and DeCamp and Stubbs were tied for third with 111. Following are the complete results of the ten highest targets:

Kirkham	125
Knowles	119
DeCamp	111
Stubbs	111
Ivins	109
Taylor	103
F. Smith	101
Wheeler	97
D. W. Smith	96
MacDonald	84
Total	1056
Average	105.6

This afternoon another member match will be held; the rules for it will be:

Position:	Prone
Shots	20
Targets	2, Official
Time	1 shot per minute
Rifles	Club
Sights	Any

The attendance at the Rifle Range last Wednesday afternoon was the largest so far this term. On that afternoon, the school at large was allowed to use the range, and it is hoped that those who are not members and who shot that afternoon will join the Club as soon as possible. By doing so they also become members of the National Rifle Association of America, an organization under Government supervision, for the promotion of rifle shooting throughout the United States.

Indoor rifle shooting is really the preliminary training for the ranges at Wakefield and Frye Village.

Before anyone is permitted to shoot on these long ranges, he must have turned in ten (10) targets with a score not less than 80 on each target. This means a lot of practice, and the quicker one gets into shape for these qualifications, the easier it will be.

The time to join the club is now, so that you may immediately start practicing and also that you may receive the special rates for members. The dues from now on will be 75 cents per term or $1.25 for the rest of the school year.

The club will enter a team in the annual winter Tournament of the Massachusetts Association of the National Rifle Association's Clubs. One match will be shot each week with other teams in this vicinity. The ten highest men each week will compose the team.

During the coming vacation, the Club rifles will be sent to the Winchester arms company to be fitted with new barrels. If finances permit, one or two new rifles will also be purchased.

Below are recorded the scores of the Rifle Club for the past week. The squad averages have been steadily increasing as can be seen

INSIGNIAS AWARDED

At a recent meeting of the Advisory Board the following matters pertaining to athletic insignia were passed upon:

These men were voted their football "A"—Capt. Russell, Davis, Boltwood, A. H. Russell, Stover, Talmage, Wilson, Dresser, Munger, Herr, Larkin, Noyes, Flynn, Warren, Crane, Avery, Lambertson, Jones, Braden, and manager Hord.

The following were voted their "AA"—Capt. Coburn, Carden, Schaff, West, Cheney, Pickering, Lloyd, Wetherstone, Graves, Hibbert, Richardson, and manager Harvey. The remainder of the squad received their soccer numerals: namely Clement, Humphries, Stearns, Townley, Miller, Bowen, Cushing, and McCoubrie.

Fourteen men of the class of 1918 received their football numerals—Capt. Bailey, Yawger, Craft, Morgan, Lee, Falconer, Robinson, Irwin, Burnham, Wilson, Cushman, Moorehead, Kibbe, and manager Lunt.

The following men received ribbons for playing on the 1920 team which won the second team series: Adams, Cone, Dyke, Elgin, Eaton, Hill, Pierce, Peckitt, Scully, Tebbetts, Winnard, Wells, Dexter, Capt Temple, and manager Dyke.

These men received their "cAc"—Capt. Lumpkin, McKenzie, Hale, Carpenter and VanOrden. Gale and Howe were voted their cross-country numerals.

Second Team Picture

Last week at Sherman's Studio the picture of the Second Football Team was taken, thirteen men getting into it. Ingraham was elected its captain. The following is a list of men who won their "2nd's":

Randolph, right end
Horton, right tackle
Meyer, right guard
Atwater, center
Baker, left guard
MacDonald, left tackle
Warner, left end
Ingraham, quarterback
Mason, halfback
Wanamaker, halfback
Penfield, fullback
Shurtleff and Neville, assistant managers

All Star Massachusetts Prep School Team

The Worcester Telegram, according to its usual custom, has selected an All-Star Massachusetts Prep School team for the past season. The Worcester editor says that Coach Fred Daly of the Andover eleven developed the best prep school team this season. Andover is rated first, five of its men making the team. The team was picked as follows:

Left end: Stover, Andover
Left tackle: Ackerman, Worcester

Left Guard: Russell, Andover
Center: Noyes, Andover
Right Guard: Tomblin, Dean
Right tackle: Munger, Andover
Right end: Bockofen, Williston
Quarterback: Stammers, Cushing

Left Halfback: Oed, Dean
Right Halfback: Kelley, Worcester

Fullback: Boltwood, Andover

SWIMMING MEET

Upper Middlers Easily Win First Competition of the Year Held Last Wednesday

The first of the preliminary class swimming meets was held last Wednesday afternoon and resulted in an easy victory for the Upper Middlers. 1919 was second and 1917 a poor third, but all the swimming events seemed exceptionally fast and Coach Sutherland was well pleased with the showing of the various point-winners.

The relay was especially close and although Fullerton '18, had a lead of three yards when he started, Wood '19, pushed him to the limit and nearly succeeded in overhauling him. Ferguson displayed remarkable form in the dive and easily outpointed his competitors. Stillwell '19, unexpectedly won the plunge with 61 feet, but he was hard pressed by Meagher '18 and Morse '20, who tied for second with sixty feet each. The Upper Middlers took first and second in the 200, Townsend and Neville barely nosing out Bolton '17, in a very fast race. 1918 made a clean sweep in the dive with Ferguson, Lee and Smith finishing in the order named. Following is a complete summary of the meet:

50 yds.—First, Perry (1919); second, Taylor (1918); third, Carpenter (1917).

100 yds.—First, Penfield (1917); second, Perry (1919); third, Stearns (1918).

200 yds.—First, Townsend (1918); second, Neville (1918); third, Bolton (1917).

Dive—First, Ferguson (1918); second, Lee (1918); third, Smith (1918).

Plunge—First, Stillwell (1919), 61 ft; second, tie between Morse (1920) and Meagher (1918), 60 ft.

Relay—First, 1918 (DeCamp, Moneypenny, Taylor, Fullerton); second, 1919 (Hall, Adams, Penfield, Harvey, Carpenter, Bolton). The point summary:

	'18	'19	'17	'20
50 yards	3	5	1	0
100 yards	1	3	5	0
200 yards	8	0	1	0
Dive	9	0	0	0
Plunge	2	5	0	2
Relay	8	0	0	0
Totals	31	13	7	2

Water Polo Game

This afternoon at 4 o'clock there will be a water polo game open to all members of the school. This is the first of a series of games and it is hoped that interest in water polo will be taken in the future.

There will be fifteen men on a side and every man who wants to participate should be out by 4 o'clock. No sides are as yet picked and everybody will have an equal chance to be chosen.

"Cyclone" Burns to Wrestle

"Cyclone" Burns, the wrestling instructor in school, recently issued a challenge to wrestle the winner of the Caddock-Furst match which took place Thursday night, Caddock being the winner. Burns and Caddock were scheduled to wrestle before, but the bout had to be called off on account of "Cyclone's" work here.

MUSICAL CLUBS' TRIP

The Andover Musical Clubs will give the first concert of the year this afternoon at Rogers Hall. Two special cars will leave Andover at 3:15 and are due to arrive at Rogers Hall at 5. Upon their arrival the clubs will give a concert followed by a dinner, and dancing until ten o'clock. In addition to the 48 members of the clubs, 12 men will accompany the clubs who have received special invitation. The special cars will leave directly after the dance ends, arriving in Andover about midnight. Following is the program:

When the Boys Come Home	Glee Club
A Live Wire	Mandolin Club
Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes	Quartet
The Witches Dance	Mandolin Solo
The Two Grenadiers	Glee Club
On To Plattsburg	Mandolin Club Solo
Old P. A.	Liversidge Combined Clubs

School Canvass

The canvass of the school which has been recently made by the members of the Student Council for the benefit of the prison camps in Europe, has resulted far more successfully than was thought possible. A total of almost $3100 has been pledged. About $2500 of this has already been collected. It is hoped that the balance of $600 will not remain unpaid much longer. The total amount far exceeds that of Exeter or of any other preparatory school, and the student body is to be heartily thanked for their generous response.

Inquiry Delegation

A delegation consisting of Walker, Hord, Russell, Woolley, Smith and Converse is going to Exeter to-morrow, to speak at the meeting of the Christian Fraternity in the afternoon. These men are going under the auspices of the Society of Inquiry to tell of the work which the Society carries on here in Andover, and in return, an Exeter delegation will come down to a meeting of Inquiry during the winter term. This interchanging of delegations serves not only to keep the two Christian factions of the respective schools in close touch with each other, but also helps to promote a spirit of friendship between the student bodies of the two schools.

Inquiry Speaker

The speaker at the meeting of the Society of Inquiry to-morrow evening will be Prof. Charles H. Forbes of the Faculty.

Notice

All those who desire to go to New York on the special train should see Jack Thomas, Taylor 10, or Wakefield Minor at once. The train with parlor cars, diner and coaches will leave Andover at 12:20 p. m., December 20, and stop at Springfield, New Haven, Bridgeport and Stamford, arriving at New York about 7 p. m. The fare is $6.00 and $1.50 extra for parlor car.

HISTORICAL EXHIBIT

Interesting Collection of Andover Relics—Now Being Shown at the Librarian

There is at present an historical exhibit at the library in Brechin Hall, which contains many old pictures, souvenirs, etc., of the school as it was many years ago. The exhibit consists mainly of pictures, among which are engraved portraits of former principals of the school, the originals of which hang in the principal's office; the dining hall when it was used as a gymnasium; the old Stone Academy; and the present Main Academy building, which was built in 1865. The pictures of the Abbot House, the Farrar House, the Phillips Inn, Bartlett Hall, before and after the fire, and the Clark House, where "America" was written, are very interesting. A picture contrasting the room in the Commons and the present-day room is shown there.

The pictures of former athletic teams are hung up, among these being the first baseball and football teams which ever represented the school, together with some of the great teams which defeated Exeter. There is a collection of old Phillipians, Mirrors, and Bulletins there. It would be well worth one's while to go over to the library and examine these as they contain accounts of athletic games and many other articles of interest. A scrap book, containing all the notes and pictures from 1778 to 1915 about the school, has been compiled by the Reverend C. C. Carpenter of this town and presented to the academy. This is also on exhibition.

Other interesting things are a genealogical chart of the Phillips family; a map of the school property, showing how it was obtained; the seal, given by Oliver Wendell Holmes to the school in 1782; several old catalogues; a letter from Washington; the key to the old Stone Academy; and the tinder box of Squire Farrar, the first Treasurer of the school. Books about the town of Andover and the school are exhibited which may be borrowed after the exhibition is over.

Philo

The debate, scheduled by Philo for last Wednesday evening, had to be postponed on account of a Glee Club engagement on the part of two of the participants. The debate will be held some time in the near future, probably next Wednesday.

Philo has been very fortunate in securing Mr. Gibson, the noted poet, to speak and read his poems in chapel about the middle of January. Mr. Gibson has delivered his poems at many schools and colleges, and has been received with the greatest enthusiasm. Towards the close of the present term, a canvass of the school will be made for the purpose of selling tickets for Mr. Gibson's lecture.

Important Notice

Any students remaining in Andover during Christmas vacation who desire work apply at once to Help Bureau, Mr. Quinby.

THE ANDOVER PRESS

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1916

This issue is in charge of Robert T. Stevens, '17.

After an interval of nearly a term, the movies are again on the eligibility list for Tuesday and Friday evenings, but, judging from the way in which the fellows conducted themselves at last evening's show, there is little intention on the part of the student body to retain this privilege. Perhaps, it would not be amiss, for the benefit of the new men, to say that the movies have been off and on the eligibility list for the last few years, according as the fellows conducted themselves. The Faculty as a whole are rather doubtful as to the advisability of letting students attend the movies, but they have decided to permit it with the understanding that the privilege is revocable at any time. It is, therefore, perfectly obvious that, upon the slightest provocation, they will again put the movies under the ban. It is a great temptation to shout and throw anything which happens to be handy whenever one so desires at the movies, and the general impression seems to be that, just as long as one is in the building, there is no need to act as a gentleman. However, if the movies are to be enjoyed this winter, do your part toward maintaining order, and, above all, remember that you are a gentleman.

Correction

The Phillipian wishes to correct a statement made in the last issue about C. S. Beardslee '16, Yale '20. It was erroneously reported that he received honorable mention in the prize contest for A. Latin and Greek. In reality, Beardslee received second prize in the Hugh Galpin contest for A. Greek and received honorable mention in the A. Latin contest.

Review of the November Mirror

This issue is larger than the October one and contains several good bits of writing.

The first story "Truth Returneth Not", by an author who signs himself "Jacques," is a mixture composed of several exquisite bits of imagistic phrasing, some vivid little conversations, a few good descriptions, one or two places where the author writes a great deal about nothing at all, and a very slight plot. But as the subtitle indicates, it is the development of a character, not of a plot. It portrays merely one of the countless changes youth undergoes in its procession toward manhood.

The next piece is a poem by Harrison Dowd—timely, delicately introducing a big thought. It is perhaps too lyrical for the subject it is handling. The story that follows it is by the same author. He has quoted Virgil for his title—"Dux Femina Facti." It is the story of the awakening of a literary dilettante, said awakening produced by a "dark-eyed, quiet sort of girl whose mother takes boarders." Like the first story, it deals with character rather than incident. It is told in the author's usual style, is a little long-drawn out, and not quite evenly balanced.

Following this comes a "Sonnet" by Frederick Thompson. He addresses therein, sleep—"relentless ruler of us all." It shows sincere work and interest and is well written.

Next is a sketch by Henry McKee; in character it is exactly opposite from the sonnet. It is light, containing a distinct sort of humor, entirely original, a little far-fetched at times. The title is "Larsin and Liason; Or How to Become a French Maid." The title speaks for itself.

Another poem follows—"Just Smile," by Fairfield Whiting. It is colloquially written, a bit crude in spots, but it expresses a vital truth, vital here in school and everywhere.

Then there is another sketch by McKee; the title of which is too complicated to print more often than absolutely necessary. It describes an incident in the life of a certain impossible old person bearing a medieval name. The characters of the story are all burlesque, but picturesquely and strikingly so.

A short sketch follows: "Cor-quests," by Edgar Richards. It is charmingly written, light as to idea and with an unexpected denouement.

The last article is by Murray Goodwin and is very much worth the reading. It is called "Extracts from the Diary of a European Traveler." It is told in a pleasing, brisk manner; one is not at all bored by it.

The editorial speaks of two kinds of Thanksgivings the city kind with its frivolity, and the adorable old-fashioned kind with its dear homeliness.

The jokes are fairly good.

Gym Tests

More than seventy-five new men took the gymnasium tests, held during the week, and about two-thirds of these were successful in obtaining the required seventy-five or more points to pass. There are, however, several who have passed all the tests except one or two which they have not taken, and, in order to pass the entire examination, these tests must be taken and scored in. In other words, a man must score at least five points in every event and his total for the five tests must be at least seventy-five in order to pass.

Historic Andover Sites

In this issue appears the fourth and last of a series of sketches describing buildings and places of historic interest in or near Andover.

PHILLIPS HOUSE

On Phillips street, east of Farrar House, stood Judge Phillips' first house in the South Parish, his residence until 1778; then the residence of Principal Pearson, Pemberton and Newman. A part of Harvard College Library was brought to the house in 1775 for safety. The Constitution of Phillips Academy was written here in 1778. First residence of Professor Leonard Woods. His first lectures in the Seminary were delivered in the house in 1808.

FARRAR HOUSE

21 Phillips street. Residence of Samuel Farrar, treasurer of Phillips Academy for over fifty years, first librarian of the Seminary. Madame Phoebe Foxcroft Phillips, wife of Judge Phillips, and one of the founders of the Seminary, died in this house in 1812. It was removed to this site in 1881 from its earlier location on Main street, where the Archaeology building now stands. Now occupied by Horace M. Poynter.

TUCKER HOUSE

183 Main street. Site of Judge Phillips' store, which was carried on, 1791-1797, by Hon. Jacob Abbot, great-grandfather of Dr. Lyman Abbot. Afterwards for many years the "Commons" for Academy students. Present house built in 1880, and occupied by Professor William Jewett Tucker to 1893, afterwards (1893) by Professor Theodore C. Pease. Now occupied by Professor Claude M. Fuess.

PARK HOUSE

173 Main street. Built in 1833. Residence of Professor Thomas H. Skinner, and, from 1836 to his death in 1900 of Professor Edwards A. Park. Now occupied by Miss Agnes Park.

CHURCHILL HOUSE

195 Main street, removed in 1901 from the site of the present Archaeology building. Built in 1881 for Professor J. Wesley Churchill, and occupied by him until his death in 1900, until 1908 by Professor J. Winthrop Platner, and now by Lester E. Lynde.

PEASE HOUSE

193 Main street. Built in 1816. residence of Professor Leonard Woods to 1854; afterwards of Professors Barrows, Mead and Gulliver. Now occupied by Dr. P. S. Page.

STUART HOUSE

215 Main street. Built in 1810. Residence of Professor Moses Stuart to 1852; afterwards of Professors J. Henry Thayer, George Harris, and W. R. Arnold. Now occupied by Robert P. Keep.

ABBOTT HOUSE

168 Main street. Built in 1829. Residence of Professor Edward Robinson; afterwards of Principal Samuel Harvey Taylor, 1837-1871; of Principal Bancroft, 1873-1892. Now occupied by George W. Hinman.

BLUNT HOUSE

147 Main street. In the north-east room of this house, on the first floor, Samuel Francis Smith, a student in the Seminary, wrote "America," February, 1832. Occupied by Mrs. J. H. Clark.

Artemus L. Gates Elected Football Captain

Artemus L. Gates of Clinton, Iowa, was elected captain of the Yale football team last Wednesday evening at the banquet given by the football association for the victorious Yale team. The sixteen men who played in the Harvard and Princeton games were eligible to vote. Captain Black refused to allow his name to be considered for re-election, although he expects to be in college again next year. Baldrige, P. A. '14, and Moseley were the only other candidates for the captaincy.

Gates played end on the varsity in 1915, and began the present season at this position, but was removed to tackle when "Chub" Sheldon, P. A. '13, was compelled to withdraw on account of illness. Gates played tackle on his freshman team in 1914. He prepared for Yale at Hotchkiss where he also played tackle on the school team.

Gates is a hard worker, but has never shown up as a brilliant player until the two big games this fall, especially the Harvard game, where his recovery of Jacques's fumble led up to the touchdown that won the game. He is 20 years old, weighs 180 pounds, and is 6 feet in height. Gates is popular in his class and his election meets with general approval.

Football Days

There has recently appeared from the press of Moffat, Yard and company, a volume entitled Football Days by William H. ("Big Bill") Edwards of the class of 1900, Princeton University. Mr. Edwards captained a victorious team at Princeton, and, since his graduation, he has been a close follower of the game and is in every way qualified to discuss football. There are twenty-three chapters and fifty-six illustrations, which deal with teams, plays, players, and interesting phases of the game, told, not by a master hand, but by one who knows his subject and relates events in concise and interesting fashion. The introduction is by Walter Camp, the famous Yale captain of '78-'79.

"Included among the stories of his prep school days at Lawrenceville, Mr. Edwards in his book says "Interest in football at that time was emphasized by the approaching game with Andover at Lawrenceville. This was the first time that these two teams had ever played. Andover was probably more renowned in football annals than any school Lawrenceville had played up to this time. The Lawrenceville coaches realized that the game would be a strenuous one. After a conference, the two coaches decided that it would be wise to see Andover play at Andover the week before we were to play them."

"Accordingly, Mr. George went to Andover, and when he returned, he gathered the team around him in one of the recitation halls and described carefully the offense and defense of our coming opponents. He also demonstrated with checkers what each man did in every play and placed emphasis on the work of Eddie Holt, who was acting captain of the Andover team. To represent Holt's giant build, he placed one checker on top of another, saying with great seriousness, 'This topped checker represents Holt. He must be taken care of, and it will require two Lawrenceville men to stop him in every play. I am certain of this for Holt was a marvel last Saturday.'

"During the week we drilled secretly and most earnestly in anticipation of defeating Andover. The game attracted an unusually large number of spectators. Lawrenceville made it a gala day for its alumni, and all the old Andover and Lawrenceville boys who could get there witnessed the game."

"When the Andover team ran out upon the field we were all anxious to see how big Holt loomed up. He certainly was a giant and towered high above the other members of his team. Soon the whistle blew and the trouble was on. In memory now I can see

Billy Dibble circling Andover's end for twenty-five yards, scoring touchdown amid tremendous applause.

"This all transpired during the first minute and a half of play, and this wonderful start of the Lawrenceville team was a goading spur to its opponents. Johnnie Barnes, an ex-Lawrenceville boy, now quarterback on the Andover team, seem fairly inspired as he urged his team on. Eddie Holt was called upon time and again. He was making strong advances, aided by French, Hine and Porter. Together they worked out a touchdown, but Lawrenceville rallied and Bert Geer who was later a Princeton varsity player and Charlie de Saulles, each scored touchdowns which together with Billy Dibble's won the game for Lawrenceville 20 to 6."

"There are accounts of other Andover games and the work of Andover men in college is discussed. Another point of special interest to Andover men is a cut of the 1915 Andover-Exeter game.
