EXETER WINS HARD FOUGHT GAME

35-Yard Drop Kick by Captain Lourie, in First Half, Decides Game

ANDOVER'S FIGHTING SPIRIT A REVELATION TO SUPPORTERS AND OPPONENTS ALIKE

The thirty-eighth great classic between Andover and Exeter, played last Saturday on Plimpton Field, Exeter, resulted in a hard-earned 3 to 0 victory for the wearers of the crimson. The game was close throughout and not until the final whistle blew did either team cease to struggle. A drop kick by Lourie, Exeter's captain, at the end of the first half, decided the contest.

At half past one the school arrived at the Exeter station and there formed in marching array, four abreast. From here they marched toward the football field, cheering the well known marching yell, "A-N-D-O-V-E-R, Rah, Rah, Rah!" At the Exeter campus they were met by the crimson supporters. Then the two schools marched on to the field with Andover leading.

After the two schools had seated themselves in their respective stands, they exchanged cheers for Principals Stearns and Perry, Captain Braden and Lourie and Coaches Quinby and Vaughan. Fred Daly, coach of last year's eleven, was also given a "Long Andover." At 2.20 the Exeter team appeared, welcomed by a deafening roar from the crimson stands. A few minutes later when the Andover squad, led by Captain Braden, made its appearance, equally loud applause greeted it. Both teams practiced signals and kicks, with Temple and Lourie getting off some very pretty punts.

Both teams did well offensively as well as defensively, having many stars in both lines. For Andover, Bailey starred on the offensive, judging all the punts which he received with great accuracy, and making several substantial gains. Lourie, Exeter's captain, was the shining light of the Crimson in the attack, not only judging punts and rushing the ball with greatest efficiency, but also running the team well at quarterback. His punting also was excellent.

Between the two sets of ends, Captain Braden and Robinson for Andover, and Cutler and Luman of Exeter, there seemed but little to choose. The latter pair, however, by their receiving of forward passes, were the better offensive pair. Morgan and Moore, head of the Blue, more than shaded their New Hampshire rivals, playing a very steady game. The guards, Scammon and Baker, also showed their superiority and often they helped out the tackles. Between the centers, Avery and Lipscomb of Exeter, the former easily outplayed his antagonist. He was in every play, not only stopping everything that came his way, but also checking skin tackle and even end plays. He probably scored more tackles than any other man on the field.

At half past two the game began. Exeter, who had won the toss, was defending the south goal,

MR. GOODHUE SPEAKER AT PHILLIPS CLUB

On Friday evening, November 16, at Peabody House, F. Abbot Goodhue, vice-president of the First National Bank of Boston, and a graduate of Phillips Academy in the class of 1902, addressed the members of the Phillips Club on the subject, "Present Conditions of South America." His lecture covered principally the part which South America will probably play in this great war.

Mr. Goodhue has spent a greater part of the last two years in South America, and has established in Argentina, a branch office of his own bank. He illustrated his talk with a large number of stereopticon views of South American cities.

Student-Friendship-Fund of Other Institutions

Last Thursday seven colleges had given amounts that totaled over $15,000, and at that time the Students' Friendship Fund had passed the $700,000 mark. Of these seven colleges or universities, Yale headed the list with $29,000; Iowa State (Ames) stood second, with $22,800; and following in order come: University of California, $19,635; Purdue, $18,800; Ohio State, $17,000; Wellesley, $16,000; Vassar, $15,919.

The amount that has been given by the student body has not yet been definitely compiled, but it will be announced in a few days. Abbot Academy had raised $1300 before last Thursday.

Following is a list of the amounts that have been given by some of the larger schools and colleges in the different states:

MASSACHUSETTS AND RHODE ISLAND
Wellesley, $15,760

Massachusetts Institute of Technology; 90 students pledge more than $1500—campaign goal at least $10,000. Several students make $50 gifts. The members of one fraternity pledge more than $500.

Amherst College: Pledge received up to November 15, $4000. Goal at least $5000.

Brown University: Committee of 19 pledge $600; $3500 already pledged—goal $5000.

Bradford Academy, $1800.
Abbot Academy, $1300.
Walnut Hill, $1345.

Campaigns are now under way at Groton School, Clark College, Worcester Academy, Harvard University, Williams College, Mt. Holyoke College.

Notice

There seems to be a great deal of doubt in school as to whether it is required of the fellows to buy leather coats like the one that was shown last Monday, as part of their uniform, or not. The coats are not required, but it is advised that all fellows that can possibly get these coats do so. Any short coat will do for drill, but, if any fellow intends to buy a coat, he will do well to purchase this particular kind.

On July 30, Arthur E. Chatterton '13, enlisted in the Naval Militia of New York for the duration of the war. He attended the Reserve Officers' Training Camp at Madison Barrack for eight weeks.

LIEUTENANT MORIZE ADDRESSES STUDENTS

Gives Interesting, Illustrated Talk on Personal Experience in Trench Warfare

Lieutenant Morize, who is now one of those in charge of the R.O.T.C. of Harvard, gave an exceedingly interesting lecture on the war last Wednesday night in the chapel. He illustrated his lecture with stereopticon slides and was able to show what is actually going on in the trenches by photographs which he himself took. The lecture was attended by a large part of the school in addition to several town people.

First Lieutenant Morize showed some pictures of communication trenches and explained their various uses and the different ways in which they were constructed. Next all kinds of mortars were shown and explained, from small trench mortars to the large mortars used for bombarding. Then he told about the various uses and dangers of a sniper. Afterwards he explained the dangers of a gas attack, the difficulty of getting water in some parts of the firing line, the removal of the wounded, and among numerous other pictures, he also showed how the Germans had destroyed some of the buildings in France for no reason but for destruction.

The lecture ended with the most interesting pictures of all—pictures that had been taken from an aeroplane. Lieutenant Morize said that without aeroplanes it would be very difficult indeed to carry on military manoeuvres. By the pictures taken from an aircraft an attacking army can easily be handled in strange ground, as the pictures are practically maps of the enemy's country and all the roads, railroads, rivers, and etc., are clearly shown.

Andover Men Do Well in C. E. B. Exams

In the College Board Examinations held last June the following received the highest marks given by the readers of these papers:

Carleton F. Heard, 96 in Greek A2, (Composition). One other candidate received this mark.

Steward A. Nichols, 99 in Latin 3 (2 years of Latin).

George V. Smith, 97 in Latin 2, (Elementary Composition). Two other candidates received this mark.

George Olmstead, D. M. Mellor, D. W. Smith, G. B. Wetherbee, with 35 other candidates, received 100 in Mathematics A2 (2nd year Algebra).

Wingate Bixby, L. W. Bugbee, Jr., W. B. Martin, E. C. Van der Pyl, R. M. Wood, with 81 other candidates, received 100 in Mathematics A, Elementary Algebra Complete.

R. M. Wood, with 16 other candidates, received 100 in Plane Geometry.

P. B. Rutherford, 91 in Mechanical Drawing.

Foster M. Hampton '12, who has been for some time on the Vixien, was commissioned an Ensign in the U.S. Naval Reserve Force.

ATHLETICS FOR THE COMING WINTER

For the remainder of the term, there will be no athletics, except trials for the teams of the winter term. Hockey, swimming, wrestling, and track, will be the sports participated in for the coming term. Next Monday the physical tests for new men will start.

Trials for wrestling, both class and varsity, will start tomorrow in the gym at two o'clock. Regular time trials for a new swimming squad will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the gymnasium. All who wish to try for the squad should report.

The following is a schedule for the swimming team:

- Jan. 12 Mechanics Arts.
- Jan. 19 Open.
- Jan. 26 Revere High.
- Feb. 2 English High
- Feb. 9 Harvard Fresh, Tentative.
- Feb. 16 Yale Fresh, Tentative.
- Feb. 21 Brookline High, or Springfield Y.M.C.A.
- Mar. 2 Huntington School, Tentative.
- Mar. 9 Worcester (decided).
- Mar. 16 Exeter (if possible).

November Mirror Comes Out To- Day

The November Mirror is an able exponent of the new policy of this year's management: namely, to give the school a magazine that actually can be read with interest. First comes a new serial story by R. C. Bates. It is called, "What happened at Bhriji." The setting of the story is laid in India, and in places it almost approaches what is known as a "chef d'oeuvre." It is a story which the Mirror can well be proud of. Next comes the second installment of another serial, "Diplomacy," by the editor, H. M. Goodwin. The setting is laid in Egypt at the beginning of the great war. The last story, "Una Adventura," is by our famous "Masked Marvel", Bell Smeade. After the warm reception accorded his last contribution, "The Call," it is hard to understand why he persists in keeping under cover. The setting is most successfully laid in the Paris Latin Quarter, before the war, and the story contains a most delightful study of human nature, with regard to the eternal feminine. Next comes three short poems of the usual stilted type, which are more or less affected by the horrors of war. And last, but not least, the permanent departments: Jokes, Correspondence, Editorials.

Class Track

The final class track meets were held last week on the old track. Summarizing all the meets of this term, 1918 has come out first in the number of points, 1920 next, and 1919 third. The mile run was the only event that took place last Tuesday and Callahan came in first for 1920. Next came Chittick, for 1918 and Kingman, 1920, came in third.

The number of points made by each class, counting all the meets of the term, is as follows:

1918	48
1919	13 1/2
1920	17 1/2

LLOYD-GEORGE URGES U. S. TO SEND TROOPS

Premier Speaks at Opening of First American-British War Council Held in England

ITALIANS REPULSE GERMAN-AUSTRIAN ATTACKS ALONG ENTIRE FRONT. AMERICAN DESTROYER SUNK

Yesterday Premier Lloyd George spoke at the first American-British War Council, held at his home in Downing Street. Many of the leading military men and statesmen from both nations attended this meeting. General Bliss, Chief of Staff, headed the United States representatives. Other American representatives were: Admiral William S. Benson, chief of naval operations; Bainbridge Colby, of the United States Shipping Board; Vance McCormick, chairman of the War Trade Board; and O. T. Crosby, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury. Among the English present were: Lloyd George, Foreign Minister Balfour, Lord Northcliffe, General Sir William R. Robertson, Lieut.-General Smuts, Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, and Lord Robert Cecil.

The conference, which was rather informal was opened by a speech of Lloyd George, paying tribute to America. In the course of the speech he said:

"Assuming that the submarine situation does not get worse, the easing of the position of the Allies depends entirely on the dates on which the American program of launching 6,000,000 tons of shipping, promised for 1918, comes into effect." The premier told the mission the collapse of Russia and the reverses in Italy "made it even more imperative than before that the United States send as many troops as possible across the Atlantic at the very earliest date possible." The premier closed his address by saying that he wished to recognize the eagerness with which the people of the United States are throwing themselves into the great task. He then thanked the mission for "the invaluable services which the United States navy has already rendered, not only in protecting commerce, but in dealing with the submarine; for vital assistance in financing the war, and in many other ways.

Along the Italian front four German attacks were repulsed, and no further gains were made by the German-Austrian forces anywhere along the front.

Between the Brenta and the Piave rivers on the north front, the Italians are holding back the enemy and preventing his advance southward to the Venetian plains, the gaining of which would threaten their entire line along the Piave river southward to the Adriatic sea. On the other hand, east of the Asiago plateau the Italians are keeping up their offensive against the invaders and have taken more than 300 prisoners and a number of machine guns and several hundred rifles.

Twenty-one Americans are believed to have been lost when the United States destroyer Chauncey sank, as a result of a collision. The remaining officers and crew are believed to have been saved.

Saturday's Game

When as "preps" we first came to Andover, we all became filled by the "old" men with stories of football games of the past few years, some of which resulted in victories and some in defeats, but all fairly bubbling over with exhibitions of the Andover fighting spirit. In this respect, the "preps" of to-morrow will hear one more and one better story than those which were told us.

The game, which took place last Saturday, will go down on record as one of the greatest, if not the greatest, in the history of the school. Along with the name of the famous "Johnny Gault team" will be placed the plucky 1917 team, the team which agreed to meet Exeter under an apparently insurmountable handicap, and then came within an ace of winning. The eleven wearers of the Blue, filled to the brim with fight, if not with all the finer technique of the modern game, played the carefully trained Exonians to a standstill, even threatening the latter's goal on several occasions. The remarkable defensive stand which the team made on its own one-yard line where it held the Exeter team for downs, brought forth a burst of applause from both stands.

A lion's share of the credit for the team's splendid showing is due Coach Quinby. He undertook a task which few men would have dared to even consider, but he entered upon the work with his characteristic vim and energy, and finally developed a team of which we are justly proud.

The Grill Situation

Conditions in Peabody House have become so bad that if the student body is not more careful, its use of this building and the privilege of the grill will be lost. Smoking is allowed only in the grill room itself, and if there are any more violations of this rule, it is very likely that the grill will be closed. There has been a grill committee formed, composed of Braden, Bailey, and Neville, and it will be their duty to drop in Peabody House and see that the simple rules governing smoking are adhered to. If any student is found smoking anywhere in Peabody House outside of the Grill room, he will be sent up before the Student Council, and this body will take care of his case. Of course, if the fellows persist in misusing this building by throwing the remains of their cigarettes on the hardwood floors or by leaving them on the enameled woodwork, by throwing magazines around, and by misusing the furniture by banging it up in various ways, the Grill will certainly be closed.

The only way in which these conditions can be remedied is by the co-operation of the fellows, and it is hoped that if any fellow forgets himself, the other men present will remind him of his behaviour.

Rifle Club Notes

Last Wednesday another Members' Match was held, but there were not as many as usual who participated. So far this year the Members' Matches have been going very well and there should be more trying out every week. Today, after drill, Mr. Peck wants to have as many as possible try out in the match which is to be held at the range.

The following were the scores shot in the last match.

R. Ferguson	181
Weaver	180
G. Ferguson	179
Onthank	162
Ross	155

Try-outs for class rifle teams will be held in about two weeks, and they will last during the entire week. The week following, the matches will be held and these also will extend over an entire week. It is advisable for all those who intend to try for these teams, from which the school team will probably be picked later, to practice all they can in the remaining two weeks.

1918-1919 Football Game

Last Thursday, the Upper Middlers defeated the Seniors by the score of 16 to 0. Since this game decided the class series it was witnessed by a large crowd of students.

The Seniors won the toss and chose to receive the ball. When the Upper Middlers got it they started off with a rush and completely nonplussed the 1918 team. It was along in the second quarter that Goss carried the ball over for 1919, thus winning the numerals for his team. Shortly afterward Martin kicked a drop. In the first half Webb showed up very well in penetrating the line, getting many of 1918's men before they had started.

Both teams substituted a good deal, the Seniors doing it continually. This seemed to have no effect, for 1919 kept plunging the line and gaining much ground. Nevertheless, it was not until most of the second half had been played that the Middlers got near enough to make it possible for Williams to carry the ball over. After this Martin kicked the goal.

The Seniors showed excellent spirit all during the game. Capt. Peters played a hard and consistent game for 1918 and tried hard to bring his team together.

The lineup was as follows: 1919 Sharp, l.e. l.e. Kent, Leland Martin, Higgins, l.t. l.t. Walton Fresnada, l.g. l.g. Mills Krause Webb, c. c. Rosenberg Davis, l.g. r.g. Cole, Mann, McKinstry Bishop, r.t. r.t. Townsend Duffey, r.e. r.e. Kohn, Smith, Page Serven, Houk, q.b. q.b. Keefe, Briggs Newbold (Capt.), Wight, l.h.b. l.h.b. G. V. Smith Williams, r.h.b. r.h.b. H.C. Smith, Keefe Daugherty, Goss, f.b. f.b. Capt. Peters.

Notes of Other Schools

HILL SCHOOL

On Wednesday, October 24, Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, of Brooklyn, N. Y., gave a stirring Liberty Loan Day address in which he urged every fellow to give generously for the good of the world. The School and Faculty have so far bought more than $40,000 worth of Liberty Loan Bonds.

On Saturday, October 20, The Hill beat Bethlehem Prep. by the score of 7 to 0.

Compulsory military training for every fellow in the School will be part of the day's work hereafter. Each boy will be required to take training five times a week besides taking his regular exercise. Drill will last about fifty minutes following which there will be ten minutes of setting-up exercises. There will be week-end encampments in the camp used by fellows from the Hill this summer. Trench work, bomb-throwing, and target-practice will be features of the work. Major Macy, who commanded the Hill Military Training Camp this summer, will be Commandant of Cadets. Drill starts this week.

TAFT

Of the thirty-one Seniors, eighteen are going to Yale, six to Williams, five to Sheffield Scientific School, one to Harvard, and one to Princeton.

Professor Tweedy of Yale, addressed the school recently.

The Annual Fall Tennis Championship was won by A. H. Chapin '19, who also held the title a year ago.

The average age of the present Senior class is eighteen years.

TOME

On Saturday, October 20, the Tome football team defeated the Army-Navy Preparatory School 13 to 0. Tome was greatly outweighed by her opponents.

The student body has been divided into four companies, each of which has elected its officers. A competitive drill will be held Thanksgiving Day and a banner awarded to the winning company.

GILMAN

With J. T. Haxall making all the scores, the football team defeated Friends' School, of Baltimore, 13 to 0, on Friday, October 19. The team has not been scored on this year.

The student body, faculty, and employees of the School have subscribed $51,000 to the Second Liberty Loan.

The Sixth form is now having military drill daily. The rest of the school will have drill as soon as the 'Sixth Formers' have sufficient experience to be officers and non-coms. in the cadet corps.

giving them the wind and sun at their backs. Captain Braden kicked off to Exeter's 10-yard line. An exchange of punts gave Exeter the balls in midfield. A series of rushes by Watson and Cutler put the ball on Andover's 20-yard line. Here the Blue line held fast and Exeter failed to advance. Hartley tried to dropkick which missed its mark. It was Andover's ball on her 20-yard line. Scott made two yards and Temple made a beautiful punt to the Crimson 45-yard line. Andover held for two downs. Lourie punted and Bailey ran it back to his 20-yard line. A penalty cost the Blue ten yards. Temple kicked to midfield, but a penalty gave Exeter the ball on Andover's 30-yard line. Here the Blue forward line made a wonderful stand, and secured the ball on downs. Temple's long punt was juggled by Lourie, and Scammon nailed him on his 35-yard line.

After Sturm had failed to gain, Lourie punted, Fairbairn taking it to his own 10-yard line. On second down Temple punted to Lourie, and Avery, who had been playing a star game, stopped him in midfield. Lourie tried an end run, but Avery checked him again. Exeter was forced to kick, Bailey carrying the ball to his own 25-yard line. A fumble cost 5 yards. Temple punted to Lourie, who made a clever run to Andover's 45-yard line. A spectacular forward pass to Luman netted 12 yards. Line plunges by Gilroy and Sturm put the pigskin on the 10-yard line. Here, with but 1 yard to gain, the Exeter backs hurled themselves time and again against the Blue line, only to be thrown back for losses. After three plays, Andover gained the ball on downs. At this point Magee was sent in to relieve Scott. After one play, the quarter ended.

When the second quarter opened, it was Andover's ball on her own 10-yard line. Temple kicked to midfield. C. Baker of Andover, intercepted a forward pass. Bailey made 5 yards and Fairbairn added 2. Temple punted and Lourie ran the ball back to his own 20-yard line. Wilson took Fairbairn's place at halfback. An exchange of punts put the ball on Exeter's 35-yard line. Lourie reeled off 6 yards. An Exeter fumble was recovered by Hickey on the Blue's 35-yard line. Gains through left center of the line gave the Crimson first down. MacDonald at this point was sent in to relieve Baker. Lourie carried the ball to the 5-yard line. But here again the heavy Exeter backs were unable to dent the Andover line and the latter secured the ball on downs, causing an outburst of cheering from the Andover stands which lasted some time. Temple, under the shadows of his own goal, punted to Lourie in midfield, who ran the kick back 25 yards. An end run netted 5 yards. Lourie dropped back to the 30-yard line and sent a drop kick square between the posts. Here the half ended with the score: Exeter 3; Andover 0.

Exeter kicked off to Andover's 20-yard line. On third down Temple punted to Exeter's 30-yard line. Exeter failed to gain and Lourie punted to Bailey who carried it back to his 42-yard line. Adams was sent in for Magee. A fake kick was unsuccessful. Bailey tossed a forward pass to Magee for a gain of 20 yards. The crowd was brought to its feet when, on a lateral pass, Bailey took the ball to Exeter's 10-yard line for a 40-yard gain.

Three plays netted 6 yards. A fake kick failed and Exeter secured the ball on downs on their own 15-yard line. Lourie punted to Bailey on his own 45-yard line. On the next play, which proved to be the most spectacular in the game, Temple received a pass from Avery, and in turn tossed the ball to Bailey; the latter then threw it to the other side of the field, and Adams, catching it, made a gain of 37 yards. Here Exeter held and Temple attempted a difficult drop kick from the 35-yard line. The ball, however, dropped a little short. Exeter now had the ball on their 20-yard line. Gains by Sturm Gilroy and Watson, put Lourie in a position to attempt a drop kick. The Blue's guards, however, broke through and partially blocked it, Avery falling on it on Andover's 15-yard line.

Temple opened the last quarter by punting to midfield. Clever rushing by Lourie, put the ball on Andover's 30-yard line. Here Randolph and Braden broke up end runs by Lourie and Sturm. Lourie again tried a field goal, but the distance was too great. Gains by Wilson and Bailey netted 10 yards. Temple punted to Lourie on the Crimson's 30-yard line, and Randolph downed him in his tracks. At this point of the game the Exeter captain was relieved by Conlon. Braden smeared an attempted lateral pass play, Conlon to Torkelson for a slight loss. Gilroy sent a long punt to Bailey and the latter brought forth a storm of applause when he carried it to Exeter's 45-yard line. Exeter held, and Temple punted to Exeter's 20-yard line. Gibson replaced Temple, who had been injured for three plays. Exeter failed to penetrate the Blue line, and, after a poor pass had lost ten yards, Gilroy punted to midfield. Bailey punted to Exeter's 20-yard line. Torkelson lost 10 yards. Bailey ran Gilroy's punt to Exeter's 40-yard line. Here a fumble by Gibson on a lateral pass proved costly and Gilroy picked it up and ran with it to Andover's 35-yard line. At this point time was called, with the final score: Exeter 3; Andover 0.

ANDOVER MEN

The time will be when most every Andover man will build his own home and choose for himself the materials out of which it is to be made. When this time comes you must select, among other things, a roofing material suitable for your particular purpose. When you build your home specify

Certain-teed

Slate-Surfaced Asphalt Shingles

These shingles are made of a thick sheet of roofing felt, which is thoroughly saturated in, and coated with special blends of Asphalts, and surfaced with genuine crushed slate in natural red or green colors. The body of the shingle is fire-resisting and the slate on the surface adds materially to the fire-retardant properties. Certain-teed Shingles make a beautiful, yet durable, roof, and they are always sold at a reasonable price by lumber and hardware dealers everywhere. Certain-teed Shingles are guaranteed for a period of 10 years, and this guarantee is made and backed by the largest manufacturers of roofing and building papers in the world.
