

INTERESTING WORK

FOR WINTER TERM

Battalion to Cover Large Field of Military Tactics. Lectures to Be Held

BAYONET DRILL, BOMB THROWING, TRENCH DIGGING AND TACTICAL WORK TO BE SPECIALIZED IN

The following is a brief outline of the work which the battalion will take up next term.

At first the School of the Soldier, Squad and Company, in close and extended order, will be studied as they are given in the U. S. Infantry Drill Regulations. There will be preliminary instruction in sighting and aiming, gallery practice, and the nomenclature and care of rifle and equipment. Also individual and collective target practice, map-reading, service of security, and personal hygiene. Following this the battalion will work on first-aid instruments, combat firing, field works, obstacles, bridges, etc.

It is presumed that each member of the R. O. T. C. during his academic course has taken up one course or equivalent credit in either French, German, or Spanish.

It must be clearly kept in mind that these courses are arranged so that the required standard for a platoon leader in an infantry company or of the equivalent unit in other arms will be met.

Such units cannot be considered apart from the larger ones which are made up of a combination of smaller ones. Hence intelligent teamwork depends on the leaders of smaller tactical units understanding the working of the larger units of their own arm or in combination with other arms.

The student upon graduation should know what is required of a platoon from the point of view of the company commander, and must understand clearly the interior economy of a company. He must know what is demanded of the soldier as an individual and also in combination with parts of a larger organization. The last knowledge should include some idea of the tactical handling of a battalion, of which his company is a smaller unit.

Extensive work in bomb-throwing, trench-digging, and bayonet drill, will be thoroughly taken up both theoretically and practically. Lectures on military history and policy will be given. Tactical problems, map manoeuvres, court-martial proceedings, will be carefully studied.

Chapel Speakers

At the morning service to-morrow the preacher will be Rev. Ashley D. Leavitt of Portland, Me.

The Vesper service will be conducted by Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick of Union Theological Seminary, New York.

The subject for the open meeting of the Society of Inquiry to-morrow night is "The Place of Inquiry in School Life."

At this meeting also, there will be a report of the delegation which went to Exeter and represented Inquiry at the meeting of the Christian Fraternity last Sunday night.

DR. STEARNS AND MAJOR DAVY INTERVIEW OFFICIALS

Major Davy and Dr. Stearns recently made a trip to Washington to settle up some technicalities that had arisen about making the Andover battalion a regular Reserve Officers' Training Corps. Through the efforts of Mr. George X. MacLanahan, and Mr. Ord Preston, both P. A. graduates, Dr. Stearns and Major Davy were able to gain interviews with Mr. Baker, Secretary of War, the Adjutant General, and Quarter-master General Sharpe, who is also an Andover man.

According to a constitutional law, no training corps can become an R. O. T. C. unless it be in charge of an officer of the United States Army. After the facts were explained to Secretary Baker, he began to realize that at Andover, more was being done in the military line than at any other preparatory school, and that the battalion here should be recognized as an R. O. T. C. unit. However, as Major Davy, a Canadian officer, is in charge, it would be impossible for the battalion to be recognized, unless Major Davy were temporarily attached to the U. S. Army, or something of that nature. As this would require some little time, Major John A. Pearson, of the 11th U. S. Cavalry, has been placed nominally in charge of the Andover battalion for the time being. Major Pearson, having been severely wounded while reconnoitering on the Mexican border, is now in charge of the Boston Recruiting office. Major Davy will still have active charge of the corps, carrying on his work as before.

SHELLS AND GRENADES ON EXHIBITION AT LIBRARY

There is a most interesting collection of war relics now on display at the library. The collection was loaned by Dave Ripley, who was in school last year, and who won the Croix de Guerre. It consists of some articles that are only too common in trench warfare: both a German and a French gas mask and container; also a German trench helmet, an Austrian "88" shell, and the casing of one of the famous French "75" shells, also a small French hand grenade. Probably the most interesting of this curious collection is this French hand grenade and the Austrian shell, which for some reason did not explode, showing very clearly the timing arrangement on the projectile itself.

In another show case next to the one containing this collection is an exact replica of the medal which was designed in Germany to celebrate the sinking of the Lusitania. This medal shows very well the spirit with which such crimes are taken in Germany. The collection is only going to remain at the library for a few days, and therefore everyone should avail himself at once of the opportunity of seeing them.

All of the twenty-two men that received their "Y" in football at Yale are now in the government service. Five of these men are old Andover men. They are: Allen W. Ames '14, Ensign, Naval Aviation, Flying School, Battalion 2, Bayshore, L.I.N.W.; Howard

D. D. AVERY ELECTED

CAPTAIN OF FOOTBALL

Prospects for a Winning Team for 1918 Are Good. Twelve "A" Men Expect to Return

Last Tuesday, Daniel Dudley Avery, of Aurora, N. Y., was elected captain of the football team for the 1918 season. Avery entered school in the fall of 1915. That year he made the second team, and last year he won his A at center. This fall his playing at that position was a feature of the Exeter game. He has had three brothers in Andover, of the classes of 1906, 1910, and 1915. All won their A's in football, and the last was captain in 1914. Avery is in the class of 1920, and will go to Yale.

Coach Quinby has a great nucleus for next year's football team. Of nineteen men who won their "A" in the Exeter game, twelve return besides eleven other members of the squad.

Five linemen come back: Captain Avery, centre, 1920; ex-Captain Braden, right end, 1920; Morgan, left tackle, 1920; Scammon, right guard, 1919. All three quarterbacks return: Scott 1919, Magee 1921, Adams 1920 and Abbott 1920; Temple 1921, Gibson 1919 and P. Wilson 1919, backs.

The squad numbers: Akerley, E. Wilson, Bickford, Huppel, McConnell, Cushman, Eddy, Richmond, all 1919; and Gross, Tuttle and Evans 1920.

M. Baldrige, '14, Captain, O.R.C., Battery F, 338th Field Artillery, Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Iowa; John T. Callahan '15, Third Class Quartermaster, Newport, R. I.; James Gould, '13, 2nd Lieutenant, 312th Field Artillery, attached to Headquarters Company, Camp Meade, Md.; and Charles M. Mortimer '13, 2nd Lieutenant, Field Artillery, O. R. C., Fort Riley, Kansas.

MR. QUINBY TO COACH THE HOCKEY TEAM

The chances for a good hockey team are exceptionally fine this year. The call for fellows who wished to-try out-for the team was answered by some fifty or more, among whom there has been found some excellent material in Gratwick, Kahn, P. Wilson, Carlton, Chittick and Callahan, to say nothing of the five men who were on last year's squad: Captain Dodd, Adams, Davis, Paul, and Thomas. The team will be coached by Mr. Quinby, and there is no reason not to expect an exceptionally strong team.

Those trying out for the squad are: Captain Dodd, Adams, Thomas, Paul, Davis, Gratwick, Kahn, P. Wilson, Carlton, Callahan, Chittick, Fletcher, Clough, Sharp, Foote, Serven, Wells, Starr, Temple, Benton, Oxley, Randolph, Kent, Coburn, Flanders, Osgood, McChesney, Dowling, Newbold, Edwards, Weter, Wheeler, Stearns, Broadley, Akerley, Goss, Kinney, G. W. Ferguson, Richmond, Farnsworth, Stevens, N. O. Robinson, Eddy, Mellor, M. N. Mann, Cameron, Boulton, Hubbard, and Boyev.

Those out for assistant manager-ships are: F. Bates, Clement, Hackett, and W. May.

SCHUYLER LEE, '18, NOW PILOT OF SCOUT PLANE

Ecole d'Aviation, Auord (Cher) France
November 3, 1917

Dear Dr. Stearns:—

Some time ago I wrote to you asking for a letter of recommendation. As you were then on your vacation, Mr. Newton sent me the letter I asked for, but there was also some news that I think you would be interested in, so I am writing again.

When the unit split in Paris I went into the camion service. After about two months I had the chance of changing over into the Lafayette Flying Corps, composed entirely of volunteer Americans serving in French escadrilles.

As the organization of the American Field Service did not seem, to me at least, the kind of organization I liked to belong to, I changed, after many difficulties into the aviation. That was the latter part of July. I have now finished my tests for military pilot's license and have qualified for an "avion de chasse"—a scout plane. I am now doing my perfection work on those planes. If the weather holds I will be at the front in a month.

At the training school where I was there were also American Army men training. Naturally there were representatives of quite a number of colleges. But well up on the list came Andover. There were Harold Buckley, Jack Wright, Jack Sawhill, Bill Taylor, "Alex" Bruce and myself. There were also some Andover graduates: Rufus Rand, Demoresque Spencer (now of Yale), and Ralph Loomis '10, of Amherst. I think that is a pretty good showing for an aviation school in France at this stage of the game. Don't you?

Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) SCHUYLER LEE

HALIFAX SWEEP BY

A RAGING BLIZZARD

Many Perish from Cold and Hunger as 'Snowstorm' Blows Through Unprotected Buildings

CONGRESS DECLARES WAR ON AUSTRIA. PRESIDENT SIGNS MEASURE LATE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

A raging blizzard swept across Halifax last night, and so fierce was the storm that rescue workers were forced to suspend their operations in the devastated section of the city. As a result of this blizzard it is believed certain that all injured buried under the ruins of shattered buildings have perished of cold and hunger.

Battered by a biting wind and blinding snow, the plight of the survivors is little short of desperate. The windows and doors of virtually every house in the city were shattered by the explosion which wrecked the Richmond section and devastated a large part of the water front. Improvised barricades of boards give little protection against the elements, and attempts to heat buildings into which the snow is steadily drifting, are hopeless.

No concerted effort has been made as yet to compile a list of the dead as every effort is being made to identify the dead and help the homeless. There is practically no communication with the outside world at Halifax, as only one telegraph wire out of the city held after the terrible explosion. And no trains, bringing help from all over the United States and Canada have been able to reach the city on account of the blizzard which has practically made all traffic impossible. However, there is no reason to believe that the estimate of 2000 dead and 3000 injured is not quite true.

All calls for medical aid for the suffering were answered at once from all the surrounding country. Every available blanket and quilt has been requisitioned for the hundreds of injured in the temporary hospitals. The spirit thus far shown has been wonderful, not only by those in Halifax who have given anything they possessed to help the injured, but also by citizens and officers all over the Union and Canada. Governor McCall has given orders to go the limit in rendering aid to Halifax, and this is also the sentiment of others all over the country.

The fires which have been raging for twenty-four hours in the north end of the city, were brought under control early to-day and the city is no longer menaced by a conflagration, so it seems that it is now only a matter of time when aid will arrive, and the city will be reconstructed.

Yesterday afternoon a state of war was declared to exist between the United States and the Austrian Empire. The measure passed Congress by a majority of 361 to 1. The one dissenting vote was that cast by Representative Meyer London, Socialist of New York. He defended his attitude on the ground that Socialists were opposed to the war. Representatives Chandler of New York and Lenroot of Wisconsin severely criticized Mr. London's opposition to the resolution.

A Moving-Picture Machine

While the Saturday night moving picture shows have been a high success thus far, the need of a new machine has been clearly demonstrated. The machine which is now being used is rented each time, and has proved very unsatisfactory. It has long since passed the stage of usefulness and has broken down completely on two occasions. On account of this fact the shows have not been run off quite so smoothly as was desired, and but for the ever-vivacious Jazz Band, might have proven a failure.

A new machine of the Patheoscope variety would cost comparatively little and would insure the unqualified success of these shows in the future. These machines are built to show the Pathe pictures, which include the famous Pathe Weekly, Charlie Chaplin pictures, and photoplays featuring many of the stars of filmdom. The place which these weekly entertainments has attained in the ranks of the various undergraduate activities, is shown clearly by the fact that the attendance each week has been nearly two hundred. This interest which the fellows have taken certainly should warrant the purchase of a good machine, in order that the shows may be made as entertaining as possible.

Mr. Spencer Addresses Philo on Journalism

Last Wednesday night the Philomathean Society held its second meeting of the year. After the necessary duties were performed Mr. Spencer, of the faculty, gave an exceedingly interesting lecture on "Journalism as a Career." Mr. Spencer gave some incidents out of the lives of a few newspaper men, and, among other things, he said that there are three ways of making good in this business. The first is by hard work, or, in other words, sticking to the job all the time and always trying to beat the competent business men; the second is by luck or "pull"; and the third and last is by going right into the business immediately after graduating from college after having had experience while in college. Then Mr. Spencer went on to tell about the different schools of journalism in colleges. The life of a reporter is very interesting, as it is the reporter's job to be wherever there is anything going on, and so he is kept on the jump all the time. Mr. Spencer said that good hard work on the reporter's part may get him on the board and possibly make him an editor.

At the next meeting there will be a debate. The meeting will be held on Wednesday, as usual, at seven o'clock. The subject of the debate will be "Should we Abandon Russia," and as the sides have not been picked yet the officers of the society, President Rosenberg, Vice-President Wilson, Treasurer Duffy, and Secretary Lunt, will participate in the debate.

After the debate there will be an open meeting and anyone wishing to do so may express his views on the subject.

Music Notes

The prelude at the service tomorrow morning will be Karg Elert's Choral Prelude "Sleepers wake! for night is flying." The choir will sing the choral. Before the vesper service Mr. Pfatteicher will play some sketches relating to the Nativity by the Danish composer, Otto Malling. A string quartette will play a prayer by Gluck.

Cutting Expenses for the Prom at Yale

In order to do away with the unnecessary expense which is connected with the Junior Prom, a committee has been appointed at Yale which has successfully dealt with the situation. The essential way to save seems to be for the undergraduates to see to it that activities are centered around the University buildings, thus doing away with the necessity of using hotels. Vanderbilt Hall has been given for the entertainment of guests during the week of the Prom. This, with the Sheffield Fraternity houses, will suffice for the accommodation of the visitors. Dwight Hall will be made into a general place of Prom activities with an information bureau and rest-rooms. The Yale Dining Club will accommodate Prom guests by setting off part of the dining room for their exclusive use. Woolsey Hall would be large enough for the Prom itself, and would at the same time save the expense of laying a floor in the Dining Hall, in which the prom was previously held.

Peabody House Movies

The program at Peabody House to-night will include the four-reel picture entitled "Under Royal Patronage," featuring F. X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, and several other films.

1840 Red Cross Members Needed in Andover

December 16, will see the beginning of the next big drive in this country to help win the war. The effort will start then to enroll 10,000,000 members for the Society. The committees are now being formed, and the campaign for members will follow. The chairman for Eastern Massachusetts is Fred W. Story, assistant to the president of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. For this part of Essex County, the chairman is George H. Carter of the Gale Mfg. Co., Haverhill. And the local chairman is Frank R. Shipman, former pastor of the South Church.

It is expected that the local effort will begin on Sunday the 16th, when the pastors of the town and Ballardvale are asked to preach upon the Red Cross of This Year's Christmas. At night a mass meeting will be held in the town hall, presided over by Hon. John N. Cole. The speakers will be announced later.

The campaign to enroll members will begin on the 17th and continue through the 24th. Each member, who joins by paying the dollar membership fee, will receive the 1918 button and a Red Cross Service banner. It is designated that this banner shall be placed in the window, and that on Christmas Eve it shall be lighted by a candle placed behind it. On that night Andover should be a town of the Red Cross, and it will be. At present the town contains only from 250 to 300 members; but the quota, according to the new aim, is 1840 members. For every young man enlisted (and Andover has over 200), we ought to have many more than one and one-half Red Cross members to balance him.

In a few days, one of the stores in the Post Office Building is to be occupied by the Christmas Campaign Committee of the American Red Cross. The entire cost, for rent, heat, and light, will be borne by the Andover owners of the building.

A Red Cross Christmas

TO THOSE WHO FEEL POOR

I write as your brother.

We are a large family.

This world-war made in Germany, against which we are fighting, has sent our incomes down and our expenses up.

The pinch hurts, but it is not going to kill us.

We still have enough and something to spare.

Though we feel poor, don't let us be impoverished by selfish fear!

Let us save in food, in service, in clothes, in luxuries and joy-rides,—but not in money!

Let us use that by giving it to save the wounded, the suffering, our friends, our country!

Let us keep Christmas this year by keeping up the Red Cross!

Then it will not be a poor Christmas, but a rich Christmas to our hearts.

A Service Flag for every Family

to make this a RED CROSS Christmas of Mercy

ON this, our country's first Christmas, in the most terrible of all wars, there should be a Red Cross Service Flag in millions—fifteen millions—of homes at least.

When your membership dollar is sent on its errand of mercy, a work of relief, which is the noblest thing in the world today, is aided.

Your Red Cross does not ask you at this time for large contributions.

It asks you to become a part of it. Your Red Cross asks you to be one of ten million more Americans to give one dollar toward world relief.

The merest outline of Red Cross work would more than fill this whole paper—go to your local Red Cross Chapter—have your rightful share of service. The Christmas spirit is the Red Cross spirit. Let a greater Red Cross be America's Christmas gift to our boys and our Allies.

What is Your American Red Cross?

An all American, largely volunteer organization devoted to practical service to suffering mankind—in times of peace as in times of war.

Congress authorizes it.

President Wilson heads it.

The War Department audits its accounts.

Pershing in France approves it.

It is working for your Army—your Navy—your Allies.

It is working for you.

Join the Red Cross now—start your $1 on its errand of mercy. Be a member—it is your right
