FIRST SWIMMING MEET RESULTS IN A VICTORY

Varsity Proves to Be too Strong for Naval Reservists. Final Score 42 to 20

LEO HANDEY, INTERSCHOLASTIC CHAMPION, HAD NO TROUBLE IN WINNING FIRSTS IN 50 AND 200

On Saturday, January 19, the swimming team opened its season with an easy victory over Bumpkin Island, the score being 42 to 20. Although there were several stars on the naval squad, they were unable to compete successfully with the speed and endurance of the Andover men.

The home team took first places in all but the 50-yard dash and the 200-yard swim. Leo Handey, who holds interscholastic records in these events, took first place in both.

Material which at the first of the season had seemed mediocre, has turned out to be the very best. There is no reason why, with the aid of Coach Blanchard, the team should not experience a successful season.

The summary:

RELAY RACE

Won by Andover (Whipple, Marshall, Neville, Townsend); 2nd, Bumpkin Island, (Vogel; Prendergast, Murphy, Handey).

DIVE

First, Ferguson, Andover; 2nd, Vogel, Bumpkin Island; 3rd, Foote, Andover.

50-YARD DASH

First, Handey, Bumpkin Island; 2nd, Pole, Andover; 3rd, Moorehead, Andover.

200-YARD SWIM

First, Handey, Bumpkin Island; 2nd, Marshall, Andover; 3rd, Neville, Andover.

100-YARD DASH

First, Townsend, Andover; 2nd, Higgins, Andover; 3rd, Higgins, Bumpkin Island.

On account of Bumpkin Island's having no men for the plunge, this event was not held. Several Andover plungers, however, gave an exhibition.

Back Payments on Liberty Bonds Must Be Paid at once

The Trustees have paid for all bonds subscribed for by students through the Student Council, and the bonds are expected to be on hand and ready for delivery within a week.

Students who have not finished paying the Trustees should do so as soon as possible so that this loan may be cleared up. The third drive will probably be started in the near future, and it will be comparatively simple to handle the new loan if all accounts of the second loan are paid up. Those who have agreed to make weekly payments will continue on the same basis.

Even though some subscribers have not kept their payments up to date they do not forfeit what they have paid in as the Trustees have made the necessary payments to the government when due.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

For Phillips Academy boys
Miss Hinton will serve chicken croquettes, Southern waffles, and warm drinks, on Saturdays and Sundays from 3 to 7 p.m. Hinton's Ice Cream Farm, Hidden Road.

ASSISTANT MANAGERS ELECTED FOR BASEBALL AND HOCKEY

Last Saturday, the student body elected assistant managers of baseball and hockey. The men elected for hockey were F. W. Bates and F. Clement.

F. W. Bates, '19, entered Andover in the fall of 1916. He has chosen Lehigh University as his college.

F. C. Clement, '19, entered school in the fall of 1916 also. He won his numerals in soccer last year as a member of the varsity squad. He intends to enter M.I.T.

Those elected for assistant managers of baseball were: T. E. Wight, and W. M. Cushman.

T. Wight, '19, came to Andover in the fall of 1915. He intends to go to Yale.

W. M. Cushman, '19, entered Phillips Academy in the fall of 1915. He was a member of the winning 1918 football team last year. He intends to enter Amherst.

ANDOVER'S ROLL OF HONOR

The following is a list of Andover men in active service. Only a part of this list is published below, including members of the classes of '14, '15, '16, '17, '18, '19, '20. The total number of men on the following list is one hundred and forty-nine:—

"MAN BEHIND THE GUNS" IS SUBJECT AT INQUIRY

Mr. Lewis Homer Gives Interesting Talk on Problems of the Modern Manufacturers

Following the musical recital given by Carl and Fay Bricken, Lewis Homer, Treasurer of the Smith and Dove Manufacturing Company, of Andover, spoke at the Society of Inquiry meeting last Sunday evening. His topic was "The Men behind the Guns."

The men in the present war are divided into two general classes: those who fight with arms; and those who arm the fighters. There are a great many more in the latter class, for, to every man at the front, there are seven to ten men occupied in feeding, arming, and supplying him.

When war was declared in August, 1914, all nations, Germany and her allies excepted, were unprepared. As soon as the people began to realize that the war was a serious one, a general attempt was made to swing industry from a peace to a war basis. This attempt was in part successful, but the Allies were so busy trying to equip an army to stem the invasion of France, that they could not immediately take over the industries. This delay offered an enormous opportunity for scandalous manufacturers to cheat the governments and cause unnecessary trouble.

Mr. Homer then changed from present industry to past, showing how greatly an industry advances in the course of years. He took to illustrate this point "The Manufacture of Shoes." At the time of the American Revolution, shoes were almost entirely made by Journeying shoemakers who traveled from place to place, finding lodgings in the houses of their more hospitable customers, and making, at a very low price, shoes for the whole family. In the larger centers there were small shoe stores, but these were very scarce and far between.

Just prior to the Civil War, the invention of a machine for cutting leather immediately abolished the old-fashioned way of making shoes by hand, and therefore, after 1859, there were hardly any of the Journeying shoemakers left. At that period, business transacted with the government was underhanded, for all shoe manufacturers seemed to think the government an easy target; and therefore, whenever they filled a government order, they increased their prices and decreased their standard of quality.

Some years after the Civil War, machinery came into use with such force, that it altered the entire structure of the American shoe industry. The increase in population, and the rapid change of styles, both helped to increase the demand for shoes to such an extent that there are now many shoe factories which are turning out from forty to sixty thousand pairs of shoes daily.

No solution has yet been found to render relations between manufacturers, workmen, and customers agreeable to all concerned, but ultimately such a solution will be found. At present nearly all successful manufacturers and dealers

SKI CLUB IS ORGANIZED. MAY HAVE CARNIVAL

A meeting was held last Monday night for all those who wished to join the Ski Club, now being organized. The spirit shown was very good, as about twenty-five fellows turned out. J. R. Carlton, '18, presided over the meeting. After plans were made, officers for the club were elected as follows: J. R. Carlton '18, president; F. M. Townsend '18, vice-president; J. M. DeCamp '18, secretary-treasurer. All men who are interested in this sport should hand in their names to Carlton.

There will be a meeting of the fellows who wish to ski each day in front of the gymnasium. Excuses will be given from the regular gym work for the skiing. Hikes are planned to the surrounding hills, and probably later in the season there will be a carnival.

HOCKEY TEAM DEFEATS PUNCHARD IN PRACTICE GAME

The Varsity hockey team played its first game of the season yesterday against Punchard High School. Owing to the uncertain weather conditions, there was no announcement made until the last minute.

The ice was fair, and a good, snappy game resulted in a four to three victory for Andover. The time was divided into two periods, one of twenty minutes, the other of ten. There was good team work, the playing of the Andover defense being the feature of the game.

Jazz Band Gives Entertainment in Peabody House

The well reputed Jazz Band, with several additional members, gave a very pleasing entertainment at the Peabody House, last Saturday night. H. B. MacDonald rendered several selections in a finished and amazing manner. His selections were as follows:

Variation on Old-Black-Joe
Finale of the Overture from the Cowboy and the Lady
Variation on Nearer My God to Thee.
Starlight. (Composed by H. A. MacDonald.)

Those who took part in the entertainment were: Piano, J. F. Dwyer, Jr.; Banjos, H. B. MacDonald, B. Haskell; Tenor Banjos, J. A. D. Miner, W. Gray, Jr.; Banjo Mandolin, W. L. Rumney; Saxophone, R. W. Tierney, Jr.; Traps, E. N. Park.

Wrestling Trials to Be Held next Saturday

Next Saturday the varsity wrestling trials will be held at 3 p.m., in the gym. All those who wish to be on the varsity squad must be present. On the following Wednesday, class team trials will be held.

Captain Scott, and Hale are the only two back from last year's team, but several promising men and others from last year's squad, make the prospects for a successful team bright. The schedule has not yet been completed, but the first meet will probably be on Saturday, February 2.

E. C. Carter '96, Harvard '00, is chief secretary of the Y.M.C.A. in Paris, on active service with the American Expeditionary Forces.

SENATE WILL FIGHT FOR WAR CABINET BILL

Chamberlain Refuses to Quarrel with President for Criticism of Speech

FIGHT WILL BEGIN TOMORROW WHEN SENATE REASSEMBLES TO HANDLE BILL

On outcome of the aggressive attitude taken by President Wilson against the bills offered in behalf of the Senate committee on military affairs, by its chairman, Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, for a munitions director and a war cabinet, those two measures were regarded by the Senate leaders yesterday as practically stifled.

Only by a virtually solid Republican vote, aligned with Democratic senators who are willing to defy the administration, can the two bills be put through the senate, according to a rather general view.

Undaunted by the attack made upon him by President Wilson, Senator Chamberlain said to-day that he would press the fight to pass the two measures. He had made no attempt to count votes, he said, and did not know if he would win. The conflict will begin Thursday, when the Senate reassembles. At that time Senator Chamberlain will move to have both measures referred to a committee and upon that motion the fate of the bills will depend.

Mr. Chamberlain can count, at least, upon the support of Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, and Senator McKillar of Tennessee, both Democrats, for support among the members of the military affairs committee. Senator Reed of Missouri, a Democrat, is regarded as likely to vote for the bills also. Senator Kirby of Arkansas, another Democratic member of the military committee, announced on the floor of the Senate yesterday, that he was opposed to the war cabinet bill, but in favor of the bill to create a director of munitions. The other Democratic members of the committee, Senators Fletcher, of Florida, Thomas of Colorado, Sheppard of Texas and Beckham of Kentucky, will stand by the President.

The Republican members of the military affairs committee, Senators Warren, Weeks, Wordsworth, Sutherland, New and Frelinghuysen, are expected to vote for the measure. The Republican senators insist that their advocacy is in no sense partisan.

Senator Chamberlain, although feeling the sting of President Wilson's criticism of him, did not allow himself yesterday to make any counter-attack upon the President. Although he felt that the President had unjustly accused him of basing his advocacy of the bills upon "opposition to the administration's whole policy, rather than out of any serious intention to reform its practice," he preferred, he said, not to enter into any quarrel with Mr. Wilson.

He pointed, however, to his advocacy of administration measures—his work for the selective draft law and the food bill especially—as evidence that he loyally stood by the President in his war measures.

Although the President indicated

The "Movie" Rule

When the epidemic of infantile paralysis was everywhere prevalent last year, it was deemed best to keep the students away from the local "movies" as preventative to the contracting of the disease in the school. When the intensity of the epidemic gave signs of decreasing and the anxiety of the public was becoming less, the school authorities slightly modified their former ruling by allowing the fellows to attend the "movies" on Tuesday and Friday evenings, with permission being granted occasionally on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, if inclement weather prevented outdoor activities.

This year, with no dread of infantile paralysis hovering over us, the rule, which was put into effect to meet unusual conditions, has remained in force. As a result of the officers' class and band practice being held on Tuesday and Friday evenings, the recreation and relaxation gained by attending the local theatre has become prohibitive to nearly half the student body. The Colonial Theatre has been completely freed of its former undesirable characteristics, and under the new management, has proved to be a most respectable place of amusement for the fellows to patronize.

It does not seem likely, in view of the number of outside activities that are being carried on this year, that the school would acquire the "movie habit," should the rule which was in effect up to last year, be restored. It is to be hoped that this matter will receive consideration from the faculty, as it is the almost unanimous opinion of the school that the law should be withdrawn.

NOTICES

All Seniors and non-returning Middlers should see Mr. Huntress as soon as possible, to arrange a date for having their pictures taken for the Pol-Pourri.

There will be no class swimming meet this afternoon, but one will be held Saturday in conjunction with the varsity meet.

Dr. Rihbany to Speak

This evening at eight o'clock in the Stone Chapel the Rev. Abraham Mitre Rihbany, pastor of the Church of the Disciples in Boston, will speak on The Deliverance of Jerusalem. Dr. Rihbany, who was born in Syria, has an intimate acquaintance with Palestine and its people, and has already given delightful interpretations of the Holy Land in some occasional essays in the Atlantic Monthly. His best-known book, A Far Journey, was published in 1914. In the lecture which he will deliver this evening Dr. Rihbany will describe the recent entrance of the British forces into Jerusalem, and will discuss some of the probable results of the deliverance and occupation of that city by the Allies. Dr. Rihbany is always well worth hearing, and should be particularly interesting on this fresh and very timely topic.

Vocal Lessons

If any men are interested in taking vocal lessons this term, they should see Mr. Bell of Boston, who will be in the choir room this Saturday from 12.30 to 1.30. Mr. Bell has studied with some very able teachers in France and England in recent years. This is a fine opportunity for fellows, who think they have a voice worth cultivating, to receive exceptional instruction in this line.

Music at Social Half-Hour

It has been the practice of late, to have one or two of the school's musicians play a few selections in Peabody House directly before the meeting of the Society of Inquiry. Last Sunday evening, the students and members of the faculty who were present, had the pleasure of hearing the Bricken brothers play. The pieces played were:

Adoration Felix Borowski
Indian Lament Dvorak Kreisler

Notes of Other Schools

GILMAN SCHOOL

W. W. Ellsworth, who spoke in chapel last Friday night, gave another lecture pertaining to the causes of the war, to the students of the Gilman school, last Tuesday night.

The cast for "A Pair of Sixes" has practically been chosen. The play is to be given on February 21, or 22, and is sure to prove successful, for an exceptionally fine bunch of actors have turned out.

The baseball schedule has been made out recently and the team expects to play about fifteen games during the season. The Tome school and many other schools, which usually put out a very good team, are on the list.

TAFT SCHOOL

Both the basketball and hockey schedules for the coming term have been made out. Several good teams are listed and some very fast games are expected. To-day the basketball team plays Yale scrub, and the hockey team, Canterbury.

The amount of $386. was recently collected from the student body for the benefit of the Red Cross. Every single fellow in school is a member of the Red Cross for 1918.

Library Notes

Last week an alcove was constructed in the northeast corner of the library. This alcove was designed by Guy Lowell, a well-known Boston Architect, and is patterned after the other architecture of the room. It will be used for cataloguing.

stick by the unwritten sentence: "The customer is always right." Although in following this code, firms sometimes have to undergo great impositions, it is better to grin and bear it rather than spoil their reputation by getting into a fruitless argument.

In the European war, property and life were legally taken over by the governments of both France and Great Britain. They always endeavored to provide adequate compensation for all property, whether land, buildings, or machines, taken by them. The United States government is trying to adopt the same plan in the present critical situation. When any discussion arises, the manufacturers send a delegation to Washington, who state their complaints and discuss affairs with high government officials. The usual price received by manufacturers, when dealing with the government in war time, is cost plus five per cent of total for administration purposes, and ten per cent of total for profits.

Mr. Homer then gave some very interesting facts about labor unions, stating that he did not approve of them. After touching on several more points such as, the efforts of capital to improve labor, he brought his speech to a close.

last night that he had not been consulted about the two bills, it was said to-day that Senator Chamberlain had conferred with the President as to the necessity for having a department of munitions some time after the military affairs committee went into its investigation. At that time the President, it was said, made no comment.

Prompted by President Wilson's statement last night, the ordnance bureau of the war department has embarked upon a new publicity policy

Relay Trials to Be Held

At the beginning of this term, eleven men were chosen from the track squad to practise for the relay team. They are as follows: Bailey, Leland, W. E. Davis, W. E. Stevenson, Chute, F. E. Smith, Burnham, Peters, Gibson, Callahan, and Humphrey. These men have been hard at work since school commenced, and in spite of bad weather for outdoor running they have accomplished a great deal. Coach Blanchard will hold two-lap time trials to-morrow if the weather permits, and the final full distance trials will come off on this Saturday. Beginning next week, the squad will be reduced to six men.

Next week Coach Connors of Exeter, will also choose the four men who will run against Andover on February 2, in the B. A. A. meet in Boston, from the seven who have formed the squad so far this season, which is as follows: Captain R. G. Smith, C. E. Watson, H. T. Torkelson, H. O. Chapman, Jr., G. L. McDermott, H. S. Poole, and A. E. Steigel.

Baseball Practice

Fifty fellows reported at baseball practice held last Saturday afternoon. All the battery men reported at 1.00 while the others reported at 1.30.

The battery men went through the different motions of pitching and catching till 1.30. Sliding was practiced by all men till two o'clock. The battery men were then excused and Mr. Quinby hit grounders to infielders and outfielders.

Next Saturday, pitching will start, and Coach Quinby advises all catchers to bring a handkerchief or something for a pad, as the work will be strenuous.
