

HOCKEY TEAM LOSES TO THE STONE SCHOOL

Andover Seven Outplayed by Boston Team in Hard-Fought Game last Saturday

ACADEMY PLAYERS UNABLE TO SCORE ANY GOAL AGAINST VISITORS. FINAL SCORE IS 3 TO 0.

The hockey game held last Saturday afternoon on Rabbit's Pond, turned out quite unsuccessfully for Andover. Although it was a very hard fought match, Andover was unable to score against Stone School's seven. Kahn and Dodd repeatedly carried the puck on spirited rushes toward their opponents' goal, but on every attempt to shoot, the play was either broken up by Stone's defense, or stopped by the excellent guarding of Richardson.

From the moment the puck was in motion until the end of the game, it could be clearly seen by all present that the rivalry was very great between the two teams. The Stone School team was faster and heavier than that of Andover, but it did not have the team work which Andover used to such great advantage. Their weight helped them a great deal in smashing through Andover's defense, but owing to the alertness and aggressiveness of Kahn they gained little in these concentrated rushes.

About two minutes after the first period had begun, Landy, Stone's center, made a very pretty shot and credited one point for his team. The puck then stayed dangerously close to Andover's goal, but on account of Davis's excellent guarding, although many shots were tried, none of them succeeded in touching the net. Andover soon recovered herself and quickly placed the puck in Stone's territory. Adams took several shots at their goal but without success.

In the second period the playing was much better on both sides than in the first one, but the Andover players were becoming tired, for Stone kept them skating in quick succession from one goal to the other. During this period two goals were made for Stone School, by Gutterson and Cochran respectively. The game came to a close with the final score of 3 to 0 in favor of Stone School.

The lineups:
ANDOVER: Temple, (Chittick) (Clough), r.w.
STONE: Gutterson, c. Landy
Dodd, (Capt.) c. w. Sherbrook
Adams, l.w. p. Pfaffman

Davis (Wells), g. r. Cochran

Goals: Landy, Gutterson, Cochran.
Time of halves: 20 minutes. Referee: Riley.

Class Swimming Meet

Immediately after drill this afternoon, there will be two swimming meets; one between the classes of 1918 and 1921, and the other between 1919 and 1920. Any class that does not have enough competitors to represent it, will lose by default. All entries must be handed in to Mr. Blanchard at least two hours before the meet takes place or they will not be accepted.

MUSICAL CLUBS GIVE DANCE FOR ROGERS HALL

Last Saturday afternoon and evening in the Peabody House, the Rogers Hall girls were entertained by the Combined Musical Clubs with a dance which was successful in every respect.

The girls arrived shortly after three o'clock and dancing started immediately after they had met the patronesses. Both the ground floor and the upper floor were used for dancing, which gave ample room for those participating.

The rooms were very attractively decorated, and the committee certainly deserves credit.

The ground floor room was decorated with the Rogers Hall colors, green and white, and the side lights were dimmed by paper of the same color. The room upstairs, was cleverly decorated with the American colors. The red, white, and blue was draped along the sides of the wall and many flags added to the patriotic appearance of the room.

Dancing continued until a little before six, when all were requested to go down to the lower floor for supper. This room, too, was most attractively fitted out. Several Andover banners were hung on the side walls and over the entrances of the booths. Andover colors were to be seen all around. Two long tables, as well as those in the side booths, were provided for the visitors. A simple supper was served, after which all returned to the dance floor.

The Jazz band certainly lived up to their name, and their music was appreciated by all present.

At 7.30 it was announced that the last dance would be played. At the end of this the Jazz Band played The Star Spangled Banner, while all stood at salute. Shortly after, the girls left in their special car for Lowell.

Great credit is due to the committee, composed of Mr. Guy H. Eaton, and the leaders of the Musical Clubs, for making it such a successful dance.

MAJOR DAVY SHOWS WONDERFUL WAR SLIDES

An illustrated lecture on the war was given in the chapel last night by Major Davy. He had secured a large number of official Canadian war slides which proved to be of a most interesting nature.

A little after eight o'clock, Fay Bricken, assisted by his brother at the piano, played a selection on the violin. Directly after this, Major Davy began his lecture.

He said that at the outbreak of war, Canada decided to keep an exact account of the accomplishments of her men in Europe by filing away photographic records. Of these records, he had secured a hundred and fifty which he now showed upon the screen. These pictures portrayed the terrible devastation of French towns and the gruesome effects of withering machine gun fire. He also dealt with the activities of the famous British "tanks" and with the firing of the big guns.

Near the middle of the lecture, the Bricken brothers played another selection, while the collection was taken, which is to pay for

JACK WRIGHT KILLED IN AEROPLANE ACCIDENT

Not Known Whether It Happened in a Battle. He Obtained Commission Some Time Ago

JACK M. B. WRIGHT

Probably nothing that has happened since the outbreak of war has tended to bring the conflict and its significance more closely home to the school than the death of Jack Wright, P. A. '17, announced in General Pershing's report of Monday last. The brief announcement merely states that Wright was killed in an aeroplane accident in France on Thursday, January 24th. Further particulars have not yet been received.

When the Phillips Academy Ambulance Unit was organized last spring, Wright was one of the first to express the desire to enroll. Having passed most of his life in France and having secured much of his earlier education there, Wright naturally felt more promptly and more keenly than his mates the sufferings of the French people. The proposed Ambulance Unit furnished the desired opportunity for service, and when the Andover group set sail for France no member had more fully determined to make the ambulance work the stepping-stone to larger service, a service to end only with the close of the war or the summons of death itself. At the earliest opportunity Wright transferred to the aviation service, joining the famous Lafayette escadrille, where he secured his brevet as pilot. Later he transferred to the American service, receiving his commission at the age of nineteen. He had written several letters describing his sensations as a flier, letters not only interesting in themselves but revealing clearly that marked literary ability of which the writer had already given evidence during his school days at Andover.

Because of his foreign training Wright did not find it easy at first to adapt himself to American ways and the ordinary interests of American schoolboy life. His circle of friends was small and his somewhat poetic nature was not fully understood or appreciated except by the few who knew him best. To these—students and teachers alike—he revealed those finer qualities of mind and spirit that won unbounded affection and esteem. His prompt answer to the call of duty was inspired by no selfish or superficial aims. In answer to the challenge to his manhood he gave gladly his best, even his life. "He was a fine, clean boy and leaves us nothing to regret on his account," writes his mother; and in the same spirit Phillips Academy accepts the loss of one of its most promising sons and adds his name with reverence to the growing list of those who like Jack Wright have heard the clear call of duty and without flinching, nay, rather with enthusiasm, have laid down their lives for their country and a noble cause.

FIRST BAND CONCERT PROVES A GREAT SUCCESS

The first band concert of the year was a very great success. There were over five hundred individuals present, including some citizens of the town of Andover and a number of the faculty.

The battalion formed on the Salem street campus a few minutes before four o'clock on last Sunday afternoon, and marched into the Gymnasium, where the band concert was to be held. After the companies had been arranged around three sides of the Gymnasium floor, the battalion was dismissed by Major Davy, and everybody sat down.

The concert was opened by the playing of America, during which everybody rose and stood at attention. After the brass band had played several well selected pieces, the bugle and drum corps entertained the audience by two snappy marches under the leadership of Chapman. Great credit must be given to Mr. Bliss and his two sons, not only for their success in organizing and producing a splendid brass band from fellows who have had no experience in such matters, but also for constructing from a bugle and drum corps that was little better than nothing, a corps that can match any preparatory school corps in this part of the country.

After the band had played some old familiar selections, Major Davy said a few words concerning the fine spirit which the two organizations had shown during the last few weeks of practice. As soon as the applause had subsided, the bugle and drum corps played two more marches, when the concert was closed by the Star Spangled Banner, throughout which the battalion stood at salute.

The battalion immediately marched from the Gymnasium to the Chapel, where the Vesper Service was conducted by Rev. Rodman Hussey of Lowell.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR PROM

The annual Junior Promenade, which has been set for February twenty-first, will start at 3.30 o'clock and end at 11.00 p.m., sharp. A light supper will be served in the Gymnasium from 6.30 to 7.45.

All fellows who wish to bring young ladies from Abbot Academy to the dance must see Oliver Whipple, '18, Bartlet Hall, as soon as possible. Fellows wishing to have rooms at Williams Hall reserved for their guests must also make arrangements with Whipple, 18 Bartlet, before February the ninth.

Tickets, which are three dollars, will be sold at Peabody House Grill during Saturday evening, between 7 and 8 o'clock. It is absolutely necessary to secure these before February 9, as no tickets will be sold after that date.

The list of the music for the dance is as follows:

1. One Step—"Won't You Come Back"
2. Fox-Trot—"Darktown Strutters' Ball"
3. Fox-Trot—"Indianola"
4. One Step—"Ching Chong"
5. Waltz—"Moonlight Blues"
6. One Step—"Going Up"
7. One Step—"Watch my Step"
8. Fox-Trot—"Fancy You're Fancying Me"

FACTORIES AND OFFICES FORBIDDEN ANY COAL

Chairman Ellis Refuses to Forecast the Coal Situation in Boston

THE COMMITTEE EXPLAINS THE REASON WHY SUCH AN ORDER IS NECESSARY

Commercial and industrial Boston will feel the pinch of the coal shortage to-day more forcibly than ever before. The Boston fuel committee, with the approval of the New England fuel commission, last evening issued a positive order to all fuel dealers in the city to make no deliveries of coal to factories, office buildings or stores for a 48-hour period beginning at 4 a.m. to-day, except such deliveries as are absolutely necessary to prevent damage by freezing.

It was explained repeatedly by the committee, both verbally and in written statements, that this is not an order that stores, factories and office buildings must close. It is not even an order that they must cease burning fuel—if they have the fuel to burn. It is simply a temporary restriction upon the distribution of coal.

Chairman David H. Ellis of the city fuel committee, when asked if it was likely that this would mean a wholesale closing of the office buildings, stores and places of business generally to-day, gave it as his opinion that it would not. Regarding the department stores, he was of the opinion that as a rule they have more than forty-eight hours supply of coal on hand. Of the office buildings he thought that a good many have been maintaining their heat and other services upon daily deliveries of fuel, but he would not venture to estimate the percentage that makes this a practice. If, however, there should not be any arrivals of coal within forty-eight hours, he thought more places would be closed to-morrow than would be the case to-day, but he was convinced that there would be coal arrivals, not only by rail, but by water.

The fuel committee made the following statement in explanation of the order:

"We have reached this decision reluctantly and only after grave consideration. We have on hand only three days' supply of bituminous coal and five days' supply of anthracite, according to the most optimistic estimates of dealers. This is so slight a margin of safety that we felt that we could not assume the responsibility of permitting it to grow smaller without taking this action.

"Boston is a long distance from the mines. It depends upon storage plants for the distribution of coal. If the stock on hand wholly disappears Boston's coal situation will be hopeless. In this particular, Boston's position is radically different from that of other large cities of the country. New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, for example, are all nearer to the sources of supply. They do not have these storage facilities because they do not require them. Any shortage of coal with them could be quickly met. In the case of Boston, however, if the supply of coal were exhausted it might be

The Band Concert

The work of the members of the band and bugle corps must be not overlooked. Each fellow in these organizations has given many hours of his time, which is certainly scarce. Everyone has diligently applied himself to a new task with untiring efforts, in order that this battalion may be led by a band which will do it justice. The recent concert of the band and bugle corps is the best proof of the time and energy the members, all previously unfamiliar with their instruments, must have devoted to this worthy cause. It is, therefore, the duty of each member of the battalion to show his appreciation of their efforts by his earnest support, as well as to do his utmost to make the battalion a justice to the band.

Bill Russell Reported Seriously Ill

Word has just been received from abroad that "Bill" Russell '17, has recently been seriously ill in France, with pneumonia. However, the crisis is now thought to be over, and everyone looks forward to his recovery. Aubrey and "Bill" Russell, both in the class of 1917, have been serving since early last summer in the Canadian Forestry Department in southern France, where Bill has been managing a saw mill. He is now in a war-hospital near the Forestry Department with which he was serving. No news has been received this week about his condition, but it is thought that he is slowly recuperating.

College Notes

WILLIAMS

The entire Williams football team of 1915 is now in service in France. There are eighteen men who won their "W" besides the manager, assistant manager and the coach, Fred Daly, who also coached at Andover in 1916, and went to France with the Andover Ambulance Unit.

ANNAPOLIS

An interest, contrary to former years, is suddenly being shown by the midshipmen at Annapolis towards rowing. Although this has been one of their major sports for years, it has never been paid so much attention as now. Several hundred classmen are daily practicing on the rowing machines in the gymnasium. Although most of the varsity crew graduated last spring, a number of plebes have shown themselves to be oarsmen of some experience.

A dual race is being arranged with the University of Pennsylvania, and the midshipmen hope to compete in the annual Child's Cup Race on Carnegie Lake at Princeton. This latter race is expected to be of as much importance as the Poughkeepsie Regatta, and it is being looked forward to with much interest.

YALE

There is much disappointment among the undergraduate body at Yale, because of the loss of hockey as a sport. For three or four years, hockey has been Yale's major winter sport, and it was gradually surpassing track athletics in importance. However, the rinks have been closed, and attention is being turned toward swimming, water polo, and basketball. Championship teams are expected to be developed in all three of these sports, and the various squads are practicing daily.

Captain Mayers, of the swimming team, is the fastest sprint swimmer in college, and it is thought that he may be the intercollegiate champion in the fifty and one hundred yard swims. The water polo team, under the leadership of Captain Peterson, is turning out to be very fast, and a successful season is looked forward to.

YALE'S BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

Yale's basketball schedule for the regular league season has been announced as follows by Manager Hyatt:

- Jan. 26 Princeton at New Haven
- Feb. 5 Wesleyan at New Haven
- Feb. 8 Syracuse at New Haven
- Feb. 13 Dartmouth at New Haven
- Feb. 15 Cornell at New Haven
- Feb. 23 Columbia at New York
- Feb. 26 Pennsylvania at New Haven
- Mar. 5 Columbia at New Haven
- Mar. 9 Cornell at Ithica
- Mar. 10 Princeton at Princeton

Society of Inquiry

About a hundred fellows gathered on Sunday night at the Open Forum of the Society of Inquiry to hear the Rev. James G. K. McClure, Jr., discuss questions on Some Christian Convictions. The questions which were asked, some of them prepared in advance, were concerned with the very fundamentals of Christianity, both in its general and personal aspects. There was an intense interest in the subject, manifested by the many questions which were interposed from point to point. At the close of the meeting some thirty or forty fellows remained to discuss further the questions that had been raised, and a desire was generally expressed for another Open Forum on the subject at a later date.

The music of the trio Miss Helen Eaton, cello; Mr. Pfatfeicher, piano; and A. R. Sircoim, violin, in the half hour preceding the meeting, was much appreciated. Next Sunday night, Dr. Stearns will speak on Men Who Have Won.

Glee Club Rehearsal

There will be a rehearsal Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the first and second tenors of the Glee Club, and at 3 o'clock for the first and second basses. These Thursday rehearsals will be held in the choir room. Friday night the entire Glee Club will have a rehearsal in the chapel at 7 o'clock. It is absolutely imperative that the fellows show up at these rehearsals, if they expect to have any more concerts this term. The Bradford concert has not as yet been definitely decided upon. It may be postponed to a later date, but this is doubtful.
