

FOOTBALL TEAM DOING WELL IN PRACTICE

Mr. Tower and Mr. Benton of the Faculty Coaching. Lieutenants Selden and Means Leave

BACKFIELD VERY POWERFUL; LINE LIGHT BUT FAST.

Although the football team has not yet had a chance to display its ability in a game, the work of the players in practice has been excellent.

The backfield material is probably the very best that has been seen at Andover since the days of Mahan and West in 1911. Dann is an excellent forward passer, and his defensive work is as good as any seen on the field. P. Wilson and Wolfe are the best line-plungers on the team, while Neidlinger is especially fast and excels in end runs. Adams and E. Richmond are equally good as broken field runners. The line has been doing hard and effective work, as well as the backs, despite the handicap suffered by the loss of Scammon and Akerly, who are now in the Marine Corps. Williams, Pfaffmann, Strong, Neidlinger, and Wolfe have all shown ability as ends, and the race between them for the two positions will be a close one. At tackle Selden and Whipple have done the best work, while Penfield and Davis stand out as guards. The work of Hock and Eddy at center is praiseworthy, especially the defensive work of Eddy. Keith, a new arrival, also shows great promise at that position. Grant, E. Wilson, Bishop, and Blodgett are other linemen who have shown up well in practice.

Much praise and thanks are due to the efforts of Mr. Tower and Mr. Benton who have so ably coached the team since Lieutenant Selden returned to active duty. It is hoped that the services of Lieutenant Means may also be had from time to time when he is off duty.

Orchestra Notice

All men who can play orchestral instruments are urged to come out for the school orchestra. Practice is held once a week, on Wednesday night, in the Archaeology Building or in the Peabody House.

Mr. Pfatteicher has arranged a new program this year. The first half will consist of classical music, including a symphony, and the second half, of popular airs, including music from "Oh, Lady! Lady!" and other musical hits.

Old P. A. Men as Officers

Professor Forbes has made out the following interesting list of P. A. men who are now in the service as officers: Army—2 major-generals 1 brigadier general, 3 Colonels, 9 lieutenant colonels, 30 majors, 132 captains, 170 first lieutenants, 172 second lieutenants, 5 chaplains.

Navy—11 lieutenants, 1 paymaster, 3 assistant paymasters, 58 ensigns. Total 597.

Of these nineteen have received the Croix de Guerre.

STUDENT COUNCIL NOW ALMOST COMPLETE

The following are the men on the Student Council and the organizations which they represent:

THREE ADDITIONS TO ROLL OF HONOR

A. B. Bruce '12, P. G. Morrison '12, and Gordon Bartlett '16, Make Supreme Sacrifice

Three more names were added to the school's Honor Roll last week, those of Capt. P. G. Morrison '12, Lieut. A. B. Bruce '12, and Corp. Gordon Bartlett '16.

Phillips Morrison graduated from Andover in 1912, after a brilliant scholastic record. He then attended M. I. T. for four years. In

CAPTAIN PHILLIPS G. MORRISON

June, 1917, he entered the service with a commission of 1st lieutenant and in January, 1918, was promoted to captain. He died of pneumonia on Saturday, October 12.

Alexander B. Bruce, after graduating from Phillips Academy in 1911, entered Harvard. When he had completed his college course he returned to Andover as an instructor in chemistry. In the spring of 1917 he went to France with the Andover Ambulance Unit, and, after the expiration of his six months, enlisted in the aviation service. He was killed on August 17th, but notice of his death was delayed.

Gordon Bartlett entered Phillips Academy in 1912. At school he was quite prominent, being president of Inquiry. After graduating in 1916, he entered Dartmouth, but left there after his Freshman year to enlist in an Ambulance Corps. While attached to this unit, he won the Croix de Guerre. He died of wounds on September 17th.

Major Fuess Recalled to Camp Johnston

Major Fuess, who was in town during the early part of last week, was unexpectedly recalled to Camp Johnston because of the illness of his assistants there. THE PHILLIPIAN wishes to state that Major Fuess is in the Quartermaster's Department and not in the Ordnance Department, as was stated in the last issue.

Chapel Services

Again Chapel exercises will be suspended for a week because of the influenza epidemic. In all probability, however, both Chapel and the Society of Inquiry meetings will resume a week from tomorrow.

ITALY HONORS GENERAL CHURCHILL '94

Brigadier-General Marlborough Churchill, P. A. '94, has recently been made a Commander of the Crown of Italy. This honor was bestowed upon him by the king, Victor Emmanuel, as a reward for the great services he has rendered to the Allies.

General Churchill has won great esteem during the war not only for himself and the country, but also indirectly, for the school. When the war first broke out, he was serving as a major on General Pershing's Staff. He rose rapidly to Lieutenant-Colonel, then to Colonel, and during the summer to Brigadier General. He has charge of the Intelligence Department at Washington, where he is helping the country to the best of his power.

UPPER MIDDLE FOOTBALL TEAM TOO MUCH FOR 1921

Last Thursday afternoon the 1920 football team defeated that of 1921 by a score of 6 to 0. The play was excellent and exciting throughout the game. The work of Van Wyck and Wight of 1921's backfield was praiseworthy, and Chapman at left end did well. For 1920 Hulbert's line-plunging featured. In the first two quarters neither team was able to score, but in the third quarter Dupont, 1920's right halfback, encircled end for the only touchdown of the game:

The lineups:—

1920	1921

Bartlett, r.t.	r.t. Henke
Learned, r.g.	r.g. McNeil
Green, c.	c. Gilman
Tuttle, l.g.	l.g. Ryan
Neelands, l.t.	l.t. Place
Clough, l.e.	l.e. Chapman (Altha)
Dunlop, q.b.	q.b. Wight
Dupont, r.h.b.	r.h.b. Van Wyck

1921 Ties 1919

Last Saturday afternoon the class of 1921 tied the class of 1919 in a hard-fought game of football. The contest was exciting from beginning to end, for, in spite of their lighter weight, 1921 were able to hold their opponents in check. The field was very slippery, and as a result the 1919 backs were unable to make the headway they have been known to make in former games. The score remained 0 to 0 throughout the game.

Atterbury of 1919 kicked off at 2.30, and the play was fast until 1921 fumbled the ball, and a man on the 1919 team succeeded in recovering it. However, 1919 failed to make their down, and the ball returned to 1921. Allen immediately punted to Flanders, who carried the ball fifteen yards. 1921 made a stiff resistance and prevented 1919 from gaining, in the end winning the ball.

At the beginning of the second quarter Allen of 1921 punted, setting 1919 back several yards. Presently, however, 1919 fumbled, and 1921 was again in possession of the ball. Their gains were short-lived, however, and soon 1919 was pressing rapidly down toward their opponents' goal. It appeared for a moment as though they would score a touchdown. However 1921 buckled down to hard fighting, every man, and prevented 1919 from making their fourth down.

SOCCER TEAM OPENS ITS SEASON TODAY

Plays Chinese Team at 2.30. Visiting Lineup Contains old Andover Stars

BLUE HAS TWO VETERANS AND SOME GOOD NEW MEN.

The first soccer game of the season will be played this afternoon on the old campus at 2.30 o'clock. The squad was very fortunate in securing a game with the Chinese soccer team of Greater Boston, a fast team composed entirely of Chinamen from the nearby colleges. Captain S. S. Kwan, P. A., '12, is a former captain of the Andover team; Huang, P. A. '16, and T. K. Lang, P. A. '18, were both on the varsity here, the former having played for Dartmouth for two years.

This will be the first appearance of our team, and although they will play a strong aggregation, the game should be fairly close. With a nucleus consisting of Fletcher, Mok, May, and Gordon of last year's squad, and Dayton, Cheney, Bruce, Parkhurst, Marshall, Carr, and Coleman of the winning class team, the team has shown itself in practice to be an excellent one. Yung, T. Brown, Billings, and Cabell have been added to the squad during the last week and it is hoped that a few others will try out to strengthen it further.

The probable lineup for the game to-day is as follows:—
P. Stearns, g.
J. Dayton, r.f.b.
M. Cheney, l.f.b.
Finney, Hackett, r.h.b.
B. Mayers, c.h.b.
W. May, l.h.b.
M. Fletcher, c.h.b.
Parkhurst, Gordon, r.l.f.
H. S. Mok, r.o.f.
Bruce, Marshall, l.l.f.
Cabell, l.o.f.

Notices

All fellows on the varsity soccer squad or fellows who wish to try out for the squad must report on the old campus at 1.45 this afternoon.

There will be two class soccer games played to-day: '19 against '21, and '20 against '22. These games, which start at 2.15, will determine in a large measure the championship of the series.

A very important meeting of the Mandolin Club will be held at 6.45 Monday evening in the lecture room of the Archaeology Building. All fellows wishing to try out for the club, as well as present members, should be there promptly.

THE ANDOVER PRESS

SATURDAY, OCT. 19, 1918

This issue is in charge of C. B. Straut, '19.

The following quotation from The Stars and Stripes illustrates the need for books "over there":—

"You could scarcely exaggerate the demand. Before the supply was as large as it is to-day, a single copy of O. Henry's Four Millions, which one boy brought over in his barracks bag, was split up into as many volumes as there were tales between the covers, and these were passed along the line and read and reread till the print was fairly rubbed off the pages.

The demand is for books of every kind. Probably the greatest call is for detective stories and tales of the Rockies. Next is the yearning for poetry, with Robert W. Service and Rudyard Kipling as the dough-boys' favorites. The dashing adventures of The Three Musketeers and other Dumas heroes are much relished, for you can hardly journey five kilometers in France without running into some reminder of them. Histories of France and particularly the guide books which tell you something of this chateau or that cathedral are clamored for."

At the school library several hundred books are being made ready to send across, but more are needed. If anyone who reads this notice has an entertaining or interesting book which he would like to contribute, he is asked to bring it to the library before Wednesday.

College Notes

Football at Williams has finally received official sanction. Games have been scheduled with Union, Wesleyan, Hamilton, Amherst, and other colleges.

The Dartmouth S.A.T.C. football team had its first practice on October 11. A schedule is under way for games with neighboring S.A.T.C. teams.

The Harvard football team was organized on Wednesday. "Pooch" Donovan, the famous trainer, is their head coach, assisted by several graduates. There will be inter-company, as well as varsity, games.

The Yale S.A.T.C. is now in full sway. The total strength of the unit is 1138, with twenty Artillery, Infantry and Marine Corps officers assigned as instructors.

Capt. Phillips G. Morrison, '12, died last week at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland, where he was stationed in the Ordnance Department. He was given a military funeral, a portion of the school battalion forming the escort. Captain Morrison was born in Andover in 1894. He attended the Academy, graduating in 1912. Following his course here he went to M. I. T., where he made a splendid record. While in the service he distinguished himself by his thoroughness, and in his death a great loss is felt by all who knew him.

James H. Eaton, P. A. '17, recently received the Italian War Cross for bravery under fire. He was in the Ambulance service at the time, but has since transferred to aviation.

Charles P. Taft, P. A. '14, recently received the commission of second lieutenant at an Artillery School of Instruction in France. He held the highest grade that has ever been attained by anyone in that school.

Ferris Briggs, P. A. '18, who was a member of the Naval Officers' Flying School at Great Lakes, Ill., has entered the naval section of "Sheff".

Lt. James Knowles, Jr., '14, was recently mentioned in a dispatch from the Lorraine front, where he brought down two German planes in a remarkable fight, carried on only thirty yards above the ground. He was engaged in harassing the retreating enemy and was in full view of the German artillery at the time.

George W. Mullen, P. A. '08, who has been training a U. S. Naval Training Unit, died recently of pneumonia.

George E. Cook, P. A. '17, is in Battery B, 16th Battalion, F. A. R. D., at Camp Taylor, Ky.

Maurice Smith, P. A. '13, is serving in the third Callom Signal Corps.

George L. Blodget is in the School of Army Photography at Rochester, N. Y.

What Are You Doing?

A young Frenchman lay on a hospital cot. "You have lost your arm," said a surgeon sympathetically. "No," replied the wounded poilu with a beatific smile. "I have not lost it. I have given it to France."

Have you given anything to America that you value as highly as your arm? If not, that French lad beats you for patriotism — he loves France more than you love America. Young Americans by the thousands are giving and will give more precious possessions than a right arm. They give sight, hearing, and ability to make a living, life itself.

Measure yourself by these standards when you are deciding today how many luxuries, how many comforts, how many "necessities," you can give up in order to lend your money for the arming, the feeding, the saving of these hero fighters in France.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

So again the ball came to them. Allen attempted another kick but was blocked. 1921 succeeded in recovering the ball, however, and Allen kicked again. Flanders caught the ball and ran twenty yards with it, thus ending the half.

During the third quarter Wight and Allen of 1921 gained fifteen yards on a forward pass. The Lower Middle team was greatly encouraged, but, at the end of the quarter, they fumbled again, and Pike of 1919 fell on the ball.

In the last quarter Cummings was substituted for Foote, and both he and Young for 1919 distinguished themselves in line-plunges. Neither team, however, was able to make any distinct gain.

The lineup follows:—

1919	1921
Ellis, Wiley, r.e.	r.e. Atha
Hyde, r.t.	r.t. Henke
Pike, r.g.	r.g. McInnes
James, c.	c. Keith

1919 Football Notice

In case that no varsity game is played this afternoon, there will be an important practice for the 1919 football squad at 1.30 sharp.

Among the supplies for soldiers ordered recently by the Y.M.C.A. in France were 840,000,000 cookies, representing 750 carloads; 93,750,000 sticks of chicle gum; 112,500,000 bars of chocolate, 1,350,000,000 cigarettes, and 7,500,000 jars of jam.—Current Events

Symptoms of Influenza

Surgeon General Blue, of the U. S. Public Health Service, has issued the following statements concerning Spanish influenza which is causing widespread concern throughout the country.

"The disease is characterized by sudden onset," said Dr. Blue, in a statement to the Associated Press. "People are stricken on the streets, while at work, in factories, shipyards, offices, or elsewhere. First there is a chill, then fever, with temperature from 101 to 103, headache, backache, reddening and running of the eyes, pains and aches all over the body, and general prostration. Persons so attacked should go to their homes at once, get to bed without delay, and immediately call a physician.

"Treatment under direction of the physician is simple, but important, consisting principally of rest in bed, fresh air, abundant food, with Dover's powder for the relief of pain. Every case with fever should be regarded as serious and kept in bed at least until temperature becomes normal.

"Convalescence requires careful management to avoid serious complications, such as bronchial pneumonia, which not infrequently may have fatal termination. During the present outbreak in foreign countries the salts of quinine and aspirin have been most generally used during the acute attack, the aspirin apparently with much success in the relief of symptoms."

Because the last epidemic of influenza occurred more than twenty-five years ago, Dr. Blue is issuing a special bulletin for all medical men who send for it.

In order to reach physicians of the country without a day's delay, however, Dr. Blue provided for transmission through the Associated Press the following summary of the methods used for control of the disease:

"Influenza agent—The bacillus influenzae of Pfeiffer.

"Sources of infection—The secretions from the nose, throat and respiratory passages of cases or of carriers.

"Incubation period—One to four days—generally two.

"Mode of transmission—By direct contact or indirect contact through the use of handkerchiefs, common towels, cups, mess gear, or other objects, contaminated with fresh secretions. Droplet infection plays an important part.

"Period of communicability—As

Letter from Mr. Quinby

Sept. 14, 1918

My dear Mr. Stearns:—

I have just returned to Paris for a few days after four months up at the front, and I had my first hot-water bath to-day in all that time; golly! it did feel good. I wrote you when I was here in May, but have heard nothing, so thought you might be interested to hear once more. I have been ordered back here because I have been appointed to a most interesting and important work.

The French War Department is rapidly learning the value of sports and has started eight schools of instruction for French officers in eight widely scattered points in France. The course runs two months for each section of officers at each center, and after they are finished they will be much the same, I judge, as our athletic officers in our army. Seven other Americans and myself will run these courses, and the work will be responsible, for what we teach we hope will be the foundation of all the future sport in France, not only in the army but in the schools, etc. We will thus be in very close touch with the French government. I thought you might be interested to know of the movement. I understand also that the sports taught will be all American games; baseball will be the most important because the French government believes that baseball includes all the elementary things the men need for coordination of eye, body, legs and hands, and also the teamwork and fun they need. This is not only for the war but for all the future.

I have been in a small French Village ten miles from the front, and, though the sector was a quiet one, and personally I have had no hairbreadth escapes or thrills, I have seen a good deal of the war and its direct and indirect results. I was the only American in the village, which was held for a short time by the Germans, when they invaded the Louvain sector in 1914, and I have spoken with many there who have had terrible experiences and seen terrible things. I got very close to the children and the civilians, as also the many poilus we had from time to time, and made many good friends. I have been with gun crews and many villages full of troops, and had many interesting experiences, and know what a bomb or torpedo dropped from an airplane sounds like and the damage it does, but it is a curious fact that though with the French Army all this time I have never seen a wounded Frenchman coming from the front, but have lately seen many American wounded just returned a few hours from the trenches.

The news this morning is magnificent. America may well be proud of her boys out there. The only danger now is that they are so eager they outdistance the barrage sometimes and go too fast, but it's a good fault, and bodes no good for Kaiser Bill and his Gott.

I ran into Fred Daly one day; he was passing through our village in his auto. We had a nice chat, and he told me the summer camp was a great success. I am indeed glad. Fred is a second lieutenant in the transportation. Kenneth Harvey I also saw; he is with the French Ambulance; he has seen much active fighting and sports the Croix de Guerre.

Best regards to all and very best wishes for yourself, and a most successful year at school.

Yours very truly,
FRANK L. QUINBY

Letter from C. G. Littlefield

Armament School,
Hamilton, Ont.

Dear Mr. Stearns:—

You have probably forgotten that there ever existed such a person as myself, but nevertheless I am taking the liberty of writing this long-delayed letter.

If you will take the trouble to think back through the frenzied happenings of the past sixteen months, you will recollect a beautiful banquet-table in an upper room of the Harvard Club at New York. Down near the foot of that table there sat, on that memorable occasion, a very youthful and excited young man who was myself.

So, having tried to place myself in your mind, I shall continue. Very many things have happened since that night, Mr. Stearns, but nothing ever has or ever shall make me forget the wonderful days which I spent in dear old Andover. I am coming back, too, if the war stops before my hair turns gray.

In one of the Bulletins I read with much sorrow of the death of Jack Wright. We were all pretty close together "out there", you know, and it seems horrible that poor Jack has gone West. He was a fine boy, an artist, and a gentleman through and through.

How many of the "Ambulance Unit" are still in the game, do you know? Most of us have gone into the air service, I guess, for there is a fascination about this flying. George Lawrence and I enlisted in the Royal Air Force together. We were pals at the front; so much so, in fact, that I answered to "Lawrie" for a name as often as to my own. He's a good scout, is George; they don't make them any better. Our chief regret is that, through my going to the hospital, he is in Camp Borden while I am still at Hamilton.

Some time ago I met an Andover boy named Cushing, who is in the R.A.F., and have since seen his name in the Bulletin, so I know he must have written you. Do you know, Mr. Stearns, the Bulletin is certainly a wonderful idea. You have no idea how much we look forward to it and to learning all the little things of interest about the school. I read every copy from cover to cover.

However, I must hurry along, for they turn the lights out on us at 10.15 and it is unpleasant to be making up a bed and stowing away a "kit" in the inky blackness of this crowded barracks.

There is an Exeter man by the name of Stillman who sleeps near me, and many are the arguments over the merits of our respective schools. It seems good to meet a boy who knows the thrills of an Andover-Exeter game, and to meet him in this place! I could weep on his neck, even though he is on the wrong side of the fence.

There goes the 9.30 whistle, which means roll call, so I must close. If you care to answer this, you had better send your letter to 706 Westminster Avenue, Toronto. It will be forwarded to me from there.

Give my regards to Mr. Poynter and Mr. Leonard.

Yours sincerely,
C. G. LITTLEFIELD

Letter from "Herm" Wilson

Aug. 11, 1918

Dear Dr. Stearns:—

Two months have gone by since I first saw France, and my time has been so well taken that writing has been well nigh impossible.

A short time after we were placed in regular companies and regiments, we saw service at the front, and a short time after that were in an attack, or in better words, went "over the top" in the offensive which started on the Soissons-Rheims front. We may get another chance before the Germans are able to make a stand. But any news which could be given about the war would be old news before reaching you.

As the Andover crowd was in a replacement battalion, it was pretty well scattered when assigned to companies. Two of the boys I have not seen at all, but Bob Warren is in the same regiment, so we see each other often. Harve Bradley is in another regiment, but I have seen him several times.

As I cannot mention places to which my company has been, I cannot mention many cities and towns. But the Meuse and Moselle rivers cover so much territory that it will not perhaps be a breach to say that I have been swimming in both, and "swum 'em" from bank to bank.

Most sincerely,
HERM WILSON

Letter from Stewart Buckle

Th's letter was received by Dr. Stearns from Stewart Buckle '16, which, in the light of subsequent events, may prove of interest.

June 15, 1918

Dear Dr. Stearns:—

This is another echo from "over there", and I must say that I am fit as a fiddle, although one never knows what to expect in these latest excursions that the Hun "pulls off". To everyone it must appear that we are getting the worst of the show, but then one must remember that the enemy is throwing everything into this big blow with utter recklessness and absolute disregard for men, with the result that we gave ground and take the heaviest possible toll of the enemy; he can't keep up, and when the tide turns and we come back at him, I feel confident that our troops can do even far better than Germany has done.

Good old U. S. A.! She is in it more and more every day and little bits of fighting news trickle through to us continually. I must say that we are all expecting much of America and feel absolutely sure of her abilities as an efficient fighting force; which is what we must have to deal with such an able enemy as we now apparently have.

You will be surprised to hear of the sports we have had lately; all sorts of baseball matches, field day (running and jumping events), sports on horseback, including vehicles, etc.; also, to beat everything, we found an old quarry full of water, so our brigade held water sports; it certainly was great sport and I felt young enough to be back in that grand old pool at Andover.

Our present weather is quite dry and very warm, so every opportunity is taken to keep the troops in trim and give them something to take their minds off anything that may be of a depressing nature. We find it best never to worry about anything and never to remember horrible instances, but to forget them and always look forward to the bright side of the war and keep on smiling.

My very best wishes to you and yours.

Sincerely,
STEWART H. BUCKLE

The present outbreak of influenza may be controlled to more or less extent only by intelligent action on the part of the public.

"There is no such thing as an effective quarantine in the case of influenza," Dr. Blue adds, "but precautionary measures may be taken and should be taken. Thus far we have little information as to susceptibility of children, but it is fair to assume that this type of influenza might spread through a school as easily and rapidly as measles, for example."

Class Soccer Games

Thursday afternoon the 1920 soccer team defeated the 1919 team by a score of 2 to 0. The game was one of the fastest played so far in the class series. After ten minutes of play neither side held any advantage over the other. Then, by heavy kicking, '20 neared the goal. '19 rallied for a minute, but Johnson, '20, by a pretty kick made the score 1 to 0.

In the second half there were good rallies, too, and Daniels this time scored for '20.

The lineup was as follows:—

1920
Forwards—Johnson, Daniels, Dole, Frost, Lunt.
Backs—Morse, Whitbeck, Hopkins, C. H. Jones, Denen.
Goal—Stout.

1919
Forwards—W. I. Jones, Babin, Frenkel, Huiscamp, Conningsby.
Backs—Walker, Parker, Borman, Carter.
Goal—Mann.

On the same afternoon '21 beat '22 by the score of 1 to 0, thus putting '21 in a tie with '20 for the series. The Junior team put up an excellent fight, considering its size, and the game was well played throughout. The winning goal was made by Brainard in the first half. The lineup follows:—

1921
Forwards—Russell, Block, Thomas, Brainard, Snitwongse.
Backs—Annis, Wheelock, Kohler, Mills, Willard.
Goal—Marks.

Forwards—Paget, Merrick, Ives, Herlado, French.
Backs—Faithfull, Lewis, Miller, Walker, Price.
Goal—Judge.

Your Share of the War

In the Literary Digest last week asv an eye-opening article, called "Your Share of that $6,000,000,000." In this was a statement that the responsibility of making a success of the Liberty Loan for this year rests largely on families receiving incomes of $10,000 and under;—that over 80 per cent of the entire national income, or sixty billion, goes to such families.

The proof for this statement is found by understanding the results gained by statisticians who have been employed by the Bankers Trust Company of New York. They have been working on this question of representative incomes of the people of the United States and find that out of 23,500,000 family groups into which our population is divided, there are 23,140,000 that have incomes of $5,000 or less; and there are 21,175,000 families that receive $2,000 or less. This makes the group receivers of two-thirds of the national income.

These statistics were for one full year, and from them an interesting table has been worked out to show just what proportion of the family income may and should be spent on Government War Expense and how much on War Charities. The table begins with a family income group of $1000 to $2000 a year, which should contribute $209 to War Expense and $7.00 to War Charities. It goes on through those receiving $5000 to $6000, which should put $1795 in War Expense and $58 on Charities; those with $10,000 to $15,000 income should put $5450 and $175 in the respective war activities; those receiving $50,000 to $60,000 incomes should put $32,862 and $1000 respectively; those receiving $100,000 to $150,000 incomes $81,795 and $2600 respectively, and on up to an income of $5,000,000, which should spend $9,255,000 on War Expense and $297,000 on War Charities.

It would be an excellent idea to have this table for reference and make one's contributions accordingly.

SAVING AND SERVING.

By economizing in consumption and with the resultant saving purchasing the Government's war securities the American citizen performs a double duty. The citizen and the Government can not use the same labor and material; if the citizen uses it, the material and the labor can not be used by the Government. If the citizen economizes in consumption, so much material and labor and transportation space is left free for Government uses. And when the saving effected is lent to the Government more money is thus placed at the disposal of the Government.
