

COMBINED MUSICAL CLUBS
GIVE FINE TRIAL CONCERT

Last Tryout for All Clubs before
Concert at Exeter on March 15

Last evening's concert at the chapel by the musical clubs was a decided success. Under the able leadership of Mr. Pfatteicher, the effect produced was immense; for every piece rendered, there was enthusiastic applause, and several were received so well that encores were given. "At Dawning" presented by the quartet and "Hindustan" both deserve honorable mention and were concluded with a long round of approbation.

The concert was opened promptly at eight o'clock by the Glee Club accompanied by Mr. Camp at the organ and led by Mr. Pfatteicher; the entire audience joined in the singing and added the finale successfully to the final spirit of our nation anthem, "The Star-spangled Banner."

The first selection of the evening was started by the mandolin club and was the "University Club March." It was remarkably well played and the snap and swing throughout the entire piece was excellent. This tune was closely followed by the "Beautiful Rainbow Waltz" which was quite unusual and displayed some unexpected portions which were truly delightful runs.

Next came two pieces by the Glee Club which were very well sung all through, and from certain portions it was evident that the participants had earned all the applause accorded them as intricate parts were very well sung and fully as much appreciated by the audience. The two pieces which were given were "Love was once a little boy" and the "Old French Serenade" by Nevin.

Strengthened by several members of the faculty and Miss Eaton on the 'cello, the orchestra gave an admirable rendering of Hayden's "Minuet." The whole was consistently well played and enabled the amateurs to show themselves to an excellent advantage.

The quartette was, however, the most successful group of performers to their appearance. It consisted of Dole, first tenor, Flanders,

1919 and 1920 Tie, and 1922 Are
Victors in Class Swimming
Meets

Last Wednesday the final class swimming meets of the year were held. Both meets were close; the meet between 1919 and 1920 was exceptionally well fought and resulted in a tie; 1922 would have won its meet with 1921 if it had won the relay which it lost only by a slight margin.

1919-1920

The 1920 relay team composed of Diaz, H. Ledyard, Deuel and Jopp, defeated that of 1919; but Miller of 1919 won the dive; and Palmer, 1919, and Strong, 1920, tied for second place. The twenty-five yard dash had to be swum twice and finally resulted in Spear's getting first for 1919. Jopp and Deuel got second and third places, respectively, for 1920. In the

SWIMMING MEET WITH WORCESTER TODAY

Annual Contest to be held at Worcester this Afternoon. Teams Evenly Matched. Rivals Have Better Record. Blue Coming Strong.

This afternoon our swimming team meets that of Worcester Academy, at Worcester, in the hardest and most important meet of the season. Worcester Academy has always had an excellent swimming team and has beaten us several times in the past few years. This year, they are in better shape than ever, with five old men back from last year's team, each event being represented. So at least they do not lack experience. And we can well see that, from all current reports of their meets their seventeen new men on the squad are certainly deserving their positions. At present we have won six meets and lost one, while Worcester has done for seven with much larger scores than we, and also lost one. Both losses were to the Yale Freshmen, who this year have one of the best teams in the history of the college. Worcester has also beaten the best Boston teams by large scores, and the strong M. I. T. Freshmen team very badly, whereas our meet with the latter was almost a tie.

Of all their men, Gordon H. Smith, the captain, is by far the best. He has swum against us for two years, and last year he was anchorman in the relay, won the 100 and also the 220 (in which he broke the tank record here) which hasn't been broken since. He swam the 220 at Yale in 2 minutes and 31 3-5 seconds, which is 3-5 of a second short of the intercollegiate record; and recently beat Biddell, who was interscholastic champion of Boston last year, in the 100, by doing it in 58 2-5 seconds. Thus, Smith is not only a distance man, but also a sprinter, something that very seldom happens. Were it not for him and Carver, their best diver, we might throw discretion to the winds and be sure of winning, but with the present situation, we can only hope. This is Carver's third year on their team, and he is showing up exceptionally well. In a recent meet with Brookline, he beat Donovan, who took first place in our meet with Brookline last month and is considered one of the best schoolboy divers of Boston. C. R. Treat, Worcester's best plunger, was captain of their team last year. Nevertheless, different from the general run of the team, he is only good for about sixty-five feet, from recent reports. Howard another man back from last year, is also showing very good form, and is the second best man in the 100, does the 50 in short time. He has done the 100 in 1 minute and one second.

In all, Worcester's team is exceedingly strong, and, while ours is likewise, nevertheless, it will be a hard struggle for us from beginning to end if we hope to win.

But it is obvious that we are giving a very pessimistic view of the coming meet. We surely don't want to hand the team a defeat in print before it starts, and we do want to send them away with a winning spirit; then can we rest assured that they will do their best.

We are sure of first and second places in the plunge. The dive is not so certain, but our men have been showing up better than ever lately, and this event will be very close. The remainder of our men in the sprints have been making good speed, especially Pole, Smith and Colgate.

The lineup of our team is:

FINAL WRESTLING MEET
OF THE SEASON TODAY

Blue Matmen Will Wrestle with Cambridge Y. M. C. A. at 2.45 p.m.

This afternoon at a quarter before three we will hold our final wrestling meet of the season with the team of the Cambridge Young Men's Christian Association. Though the last game of the season, let us hope it will be the best and most complete victory of the year.

It is well-known that the Cambridge Young Men's Christian Association has always produced a team fully worthy of protecting their reputation and according to all reports this year's team is no exception to the rule. It is said that it has had a most successful season and has proved a match to all comers.

Owing to the fact that Williams has been out of commission permanently since he hurt his arm, Blodgett will take his position and represent us in the one hundred and fifty-eight pound class. The second man who is missing from our ranks is George Houk, who is at present in the infirmary with a very serious case of double pneumonia. As a result, Fay Bricken from last year's winning class wrestling team will take his place in the one hundred and twenty-five pound class.

With the loss of these two men from our regular varsity seven, though in this case there will be only five, as there will be no one hundred and eighteen pound or heavy-weight classes, things do not look quite as propitious for us as usual, for Bricken and Blodgett, though they have done good work in the class team meets, have not had much varsity work in competition with the more skilled opponents such as they will be up against this afternoon. However, they have both shown good grit and stamina and this, coupled with the old P. A. spirit, should certainly help them sufficiently in doing their bit for them to add two extra conquests to our total. Since there will be an evident lack of bouts, because of the loss of both Williams and G. Houk, it has been decided that there will be two

1920 Wrestling Team Wins Class
Honors. Only One Meet on Wednesday

Last Wednesday afternoon was scheduled a wrestling meet between the classes of 1919 vs. 1920, and 1921 vs. 1922.

As not one of 1919's men turned up at the wrestling room during the afternoon, they were defaulted to 1920, who were winners. The 1920 line-up was: 175 Blodgett, 155 Dupont, 145 Blodgett, 135 Danielson, 125 Tyler, 115 Tuttle. Nevertheless, a meet of three bouts was held between 1921 and 1922. The line-up:

155-lb. class — Zebrook.
145-lb. — Bruce.
135-lb.
125-lb. — Sherman.

SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1919

The minor sport teams this winter have proven themselves to be some of the best ever turned out at Andover. All three have had extremely successful seasons, and two are prominent contenders for New England preparatory school titles.

The swimming team closes its so far successful season this afternoon with Worcester Academy. The Red and Black is the only team that stands in the way of the Blue for the New England scholastic championship, and the winner of the meet today will be awarded the title. Each team has received only one defeat both having lost to the Yale Freshmen. We wish the team the best kind of luck in its hardest and most crucial contest of the season.

Another aggregation worthy of praise is the basketball team. This year Varsity basketball was renewed after a lapse of seven or eight years, and, despite a slow start, the Blue quintet is a likely contender for the New England preparatory school honors. The team lost the first contest of the season to Tufts, but has won every game since. A fighting spirit has been its greatest asset. Worcester again is the only other contender for the championship, and THE PHILLIPIAN wishes the team good luck in this contest, which will come off next Saturday.

Last, but not least, comes the wrestling team. Although one of the best amateur aggregations in New England, it can lay claim to no title, as there are no other prep school opponents to contend with. However, it has shown itself to be one of the most successful teams ever turned out at Andover, and deserves the utmost praise for its unmarred record.

The minor sport teams have certainly shown up well, and the coaches and the men playing on them deserve the utmost praise for their efforts.

The school is coming back! The men who have led Andover to victory in the past have returned from the country's service, and under such men as Mr. Daly who is back and Mr. Quinby who will soon return, the Andover men are again going to talk of battles on the gridiron and diamond with pride. The old Andover spirit was manifest in the all-out meeting last Tuesday night, and the fellows who welcomed our heroes back from the war were filled with the enthusiasm of the old Andover men who were here when we were accustomed to speak of victory in an indifferent way. The meeting was held to arouse the spirit that has been so long bound in the more serious affairs of the world, and that spirit is now coming back from the war to the Andover contest fields. It is now up to us to nourish this spirit and to keep it here in Andover for the contests ahead. Let every man do his best to live up to the old Andover traditions, and make the old spirit help Andover to come back for good!

New Instructor

Another new instructor has joined the faculty during the past week, Mr. William B. Campbell of Nashville, Tennessee.

Mr. Campbell graduated from the University of Michigan with the degree A. B. on June 28, 1917.

He had previously taught for one year in the Webb School at Bell Buckle, Tenn.

He enlisted in the Michigan Naval Militia January 6, 1917, training at Ann Arbor until May 24th, and then at the Great Lakes until July 23rd. From that date until the 19th of August, he was stationed on the U. S. Navy Rifle Range at North Chicago, Ill.

From about August 20th to the 11th of September he was stationed on the U. S. Navy Rifle Range (now Camp Plunkett), Wakefield, Mass., his work being chiefly instruction in the use of the rifle and pistol.

From the 13th of September 1917, to about the 25th of January 1918, he was on the U. S. Navy Rifle Range at Virginia Beach, Va., instructing in the rifle, the pistol and the machine gun.

During the month of February 1918, he was at the Savage Arms Factory at Utica, N. Y., where he was qualified as a class A machine gun instructor and given the armorer's course in the Springfield and Enfield rifles and the Colt pistol and revolver.

Early in March he was sent with a group of men to Washington, D. C., to form part of the personnel of a naval gun battery for service at the front. There he received training at the Naval Gun Factory, in the mechanism of the big guns.

At the U. S. Naval Proving Ground, Indianhead, Maryland, he received several weeks instruction in the operation of guns and the methods of manufacture of smokeless powder and high explosives.

With his company he left the United States May 25, 1918; assembled the company's material at St. Nazaire, France, during the summer. The first fourteen-inch U. S. Naval Railway Battery at the front arrived about the 25th of August in the Foret de Compiègne. Four other gun trains followed in short succession. The principal points from which the company operated were Soissons, Jussy (near Ham), Charney, and Thierville (near Verdun), Nancy, and Luneville. They served with both the French and the American armies.

His company reached their base at St. Nazaire the first week in December. Mr. Campbell reached Brest with the first detachment in time to see the arrival in Europe of the first President of the United States to visit that continent while in office.

He returned to the United States with the fleet, arriving in the Hudson River the 26th of December, crossing on the U. S. S. Utah. Was released from active service the 8th of January, 1919, at Bay Ridge, Long Island, N. Y.

Mr. Campbell will take Mr. Benton's work in English, leaving Mr. Benton free to take Mr. Allen's classes in Latin.

Matches in the one hundred and thirty-five pound class, where both Hale and J. T. Houk will compete for us.

As the swimming meet will be at Worcester instead of in our own tank, and as the wrestling meet itself will prevent any basketball, there is no reason why a great many fellows should not come out to help make this final meet one grand old smashing success. The line-up will be as follows:

158-lb. class — Blodgett.

145-lb. class — Scott.

135-lb. — Hale.

135-lb. class — J. T. Houk.

125-lb. class — F. E. Bricken.

Communication

It is evident from Wednesday's class meets and scheduled boxing tournament that there is a most dire lack of athletic spirit in this school. Movies apparently hold first place in the interests of our student body in place of that which athletics should hold. The senior class certainly showed pretty poor spirit when they were not represented by a single man at the final class wrestling meet last Wednesday. If the seniors can't get up a seven-man team to come out and put up a fight for their class honor, what will the "preps" think of what is demanded of them.

The class athletics of today are the varsity athletics of tomorrow, and if there is no spirit today, how can we hope for any future Exeter victories. This spring we have an excellent chance to beat our old rival in both track and baseball and with the additional asset of regular coaches to whip into shape the good material we have at our door, if there's any red-blooded American spirit left in the bunch here to make up the old Andover "pep", let's get going, and at Easter time make a resolution to come back and take a big start in athletics.

To this date, communications to this paper have been written censuring the behavior of the "preps" or at least the lower classmen. It is seldom that the senior class has to be reprimanded, but such an occurrence should not be allowed to pass without some mention being made of it. As already stated, how about getting out and doing a little something for your class. Give the movies and Wednesday walks a rest!

fifty, Wyman, 1919, took first place; and Deuel came in second. Sawyer, 1919, got third place. In the last race, the hundred-yard swim, Spear, 1919, failed to make his customary sensational sprint in the last lap and was beaten at the finish by H. Ledyard, 1920, by about half a foot. Fuller, 1919, took third place, thus making the meet a tie, 22 to 22.

1921—1922

The relay between 1921 and 1922 was won by the 1911 team, consisting of Atha, Quarrier, Brayton, Hayes, by a very short distance. 1921 placed all the work in the dive on Hayes and was amply justified, since he took first place. Ives and Faithfull took second and third places respectively for 1922. In the twenty-five yard dash, Butler 1921, got first place and was closely followed by Hatch and Case who took second and third places for 1922. In the fifty-yard dash, Case 1922, took first place; and Quarrier and Brayton took second and third places for 1921. In the hundred yard swim, Butler of 1921 got first place, and Hatch and Spencer took second and third places for 1922, thus ending the meet 27 to 17 in favor of 1921.

Basketball with Andover Guild

This afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, the basketball team will meet that of the Andover Guild. The opposing team has won every game played to date, and the coming game will without doubt, prove very close. However, the Andover team is out to make its ninth straight victory, and in view of the successful practices of the past week, it should undoubtedly succeed.

The line-up:
Morgan, c.
Atterbury, r.f.
Sellman, l.f.
Durant, r.g.
Munger, l.g.

Basketball Last Wednesday

Last Wednesday afternoon the basketball team held the best practice of the season when playing the second team. Both teams showed very good form, and it was with considerable difficulty that the first team won out. The passing on the part of the first team was exceptionally good, but they were hard beset in goal-shooting. Hatch acted as captain of the second team and spurred his teammates on. The first half ended with the score 24-22, in favor of the second team, but in the second half, the first renewed its energy, and won out by 42-37. So the game was close all through, and it was fought on both sides with a great deal of spirit.

The line-up, with respective numbers of goals appended to each man:
SECOND FIRST
Neidlinger, r.f., 1 r.f. Ferguson, 8
Atterbury, l.f., 10 l.f. Sellman, 2

Music Notes

No one who is fond of music ought fail to hear the recital in the chapel next Wednesday evening (March 12th) at eight o'clock sharp, by Prof. Wm. Hammond of Mt. Holyoke College. Prof. Hammond is one of the most popular recitalists in New England. There will be no admission, but the usual silver offering will be received at the door.

At the pre-Vesper recital tomorrow afternoon, Mr. Pfatteicher will play Bach's Toccata in F Major and the Pontificale March from Widor's first symphony.

115-lb. — Eddy.

As 1921 forfeited three weights, the score started 12-0 in favor of 1922. The first match was between Eddy of '22 and Sherman of '21. At the first and last, Sherman took the offensive, and several times it looked as if he would obtain a fall, but Eddy's perseverance saved one point for '22, and six minutes were called with Sherman winner of only the decision.

Following this, Cook grappled with Bruce in the 145 pound class. After an interesting but short bout of 57 seconds, Bruce was proclaimed victor.

The final bout was perhaps the best. Zebrock '21, wrestled Durant '22. Both men fought hard, showing knowledge of the art, and it was only the massive build of Zebrock that brought him a fall in five minutes and twenty seconds. The meet ended with the score 12 to 11 in favor of 1922.

Exeter Concert Notes

Wednesday afternoon, March fifteenth, the glee club, mandolin club, quartette and orchestra will leave for the Exeter concert at half past four. The program of selections will be the same as that rendered last evening which will be combined with that of our hosts later on.

The men will leave Exeter to return for Andover by a special train at eleven o'clock that night.

Chapel Speaker

Bishop Edwin H. Hughes of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who has just returned from a special war commission to France, will preach at both services tomorrow. As a result of his special investigations and experiences, Bishop Hughes is probably one of the best informed men in America on reconstruction measures at home and abroad. He is a most welcome visitor to Andover.

News of Mr. Freeman

The latest news of Mr. Freeman and his work in the war zone comes to us in the shape of a letter to Mr. Roth of the faculty.

When he left Andover he commenced work by taking charge of the Medical Library at the Place Vendome in Paris. While there, he attended the receptions given to Kings Albert and Emmanuel and also the ovation to President Wilson. Recently Mr. Freeman was invited to join the general staff with the Balkan Commission of the Red Cross, and is now associated with Professor Spencer, formerly of Princeton University, in writing the History of the Red Cross work in the Balkans.

On the first of February this year, he went to Rome and has been working on a sketch of Balkan History since then. He is planning to visit Montenegro and Albania soon to get more material, and then go to Constantinople, where the headquarters of the commission will soon be moved. His letter, received last Thursday, was dated from Rome, February 9, 1919.

R. Chute, P. A. '18, has been appointed captain of the Harvard '22 track team by Coach Donovan for the winter track carnival next Wednesday. He has also been appointed to the Finance Committee.

second tenor, Hatch, first bass, and Whipp, second bass and these four sang together admirably, Cadman's "At Dawning" with a touch of pathos. Both tenors have extremely well modulated voices, and the whole piece was made tenfold better by this fact. The audience showed every sign of marked approbation which was such as to elicit a short encore, fully as good as its predecessor.

Probably the most successful piece of the evening was that of the popular "Hindustan" by the Mandolin Club. Stearns, at the piano, was by all means a most valuable asset to the tune, his marked ability at this instrument being exceptionally well displayed beneath the sound of the mandolins and drums. The spirit and snap was unequalled and the instantaneous applause of the audience was such as to call for the entire repetition of the selection.

Following this the Glee Club again came to the fore and sang Grieg's "Recognition of Land" even better than their former recitations of the evening; at least, this was noticeably seen from the marked increase in its applause. At this point, "Tannhauser" was played with beautiful skill. Mr. Platteicher seemed to draw the melody from the very spirits of his orchestra and the whole long selection was rendered without the slightest falter.

The quartette, in an extra called "Dreams", was again fully equal to its task, and completely as well as in their first attempt, undertook to add fresh laurels to their crown.

The final piece "Old P. A." was the crowning achievement of the evening and closed it most happily.

All who have helped to get this concert going, certainly need commendation for their excellent aid and even instruction for this, and the coming event with Exeter which, if it is possible, we hope may be even better than this.

The program for the evening was as follows:

Inquiry

At the meeting of the Society of Inquiry tomorrow night, a delegation from Yale, composed entirely of old Andover men will speak. The speakers will be Mac Baldrige '14, Roger Woolley '18, Alex Smith '18, and probably Allan Ames '14.

Various aspects of university life, particularly of the post-war moral and religious life will be presented. It is a splendid opportunity to learn of the activities to gain the outlook, and to sense the spirit of college men in this reconstruction time.

Class Basketball

Last Wednesday in the gym the class basketball season was closed, with the teams all fighting hard for final honors. 1919 played 1920, and 1921 met 1922. The games were hard and fast, and every team fought to the final whistle. Although 1919 defeated 1920, and thus scored 1920's first defeat of the year, the season closed with 1920 leading for numerals.

The first game was played between 1919 and 1920. Soon after the starting whistle 1919 scored a goal, and then held their lead for several minutes. After some time of fast playing, 1920 scored a basket and tied the score. 1920 soon afterward missed a goal from a foul, and the playing continued fast and even. Both teams then fought for the lead, and in the last two minutes of the half 1920 netted a basket. The half ended with the score: 1920—4, 1919—2.

At the close of the day's first half, 1921 took the floor against 1922. Although the game was carried through to the end, 1922 was forced to forfeit to 1921 because of the absence of some players. The game started with both teams carrying the ball back and forth down the field, and it was not until several minutes had elapsed that a score was made. 1921 scored two goals from fouls, soon afterward 1922 scored one goal from a foul. After several more minutes of playing 1922 took the lead by scoring a basket. This score was brought up by 1922 making a goal from foul, but again the game became tied by a 1921 field goal. 1921 then missed a foul goal, and 1922 scored another point by shooting a goal from a foul. 1921 soon made another basket and took the lead by the score of 6 to 5. The score then took another change, and this time went in the favor of 1922, when they scored a field goal. 1921 then made the goal from a foul, and the score became a tie of 7 to 7. 1922 then scored two more goals, and again 1922 tied the score by two successive goals. The half then ended with the score 11 to 11.

At the beginning of the last half in the 1919—1920 game, 1919 scored two goals and took the lead. The teams then fought for several minutes, and 1920 tied the score by a field goal. After some minutes of playing 1920 scored a goal and took the lead by the score of 8 to 6. 1919 then scored a basket from a foul, and narrowed the difference in scores to one point. The teams struggled for the last few minutes; 1920 striving to hold a clean record for the season. In the last fifteen seconds Captain Smith scored a goal for 1919 and won the game. Score: 1919—9, 1920—8.

The lineups were as follows:

1919	1920
V. Linn, l.f.	l.f. Gallagher
M. Linn, r.f.	r.f. Lawrence
Whipp, c.	c. J. Weeks
