FINAL MEETING OF INQUIRY LAST SUNDAY

Last Meeting of year, an Open One

The final meeting of the Society of Inquiry was held last Sunday evening in the Peabody House. There were scarcely over twenty fellows present, as the meeting was an Open Forum, and no definite subject had been announced, but in spite of the small attendance, the discussion was most interesting and beneficial. President Sears opened with a short summary of the various happenings and activities of the Society during the past year, and moved that a vote of thanks be extended to Mr. Dumont Clarke for his helpful interest and guidance. Several members then spoke about the benefits which they had received from the lectures and talks given in the World Outlook Series, and of the pleasure and enjoyment which they had derived from the Bible classes of the Winter Term. The suggestion was then put forward that there be more open meetings next year, and that subjects be assigned in advance and given to various members to look up and report upon. Several objections were offered to this plan, and the idea which finally found favor was a combination of prepared and extemporaneous talks. A vote of thanks was then moved to Rockwell Ferris, for his faithful work at the piano throughout the year. After this, ways and means were discussed for interesting next year's new men in Inquiry at the opening of school. The suggestions put forward included another preliminary reception, similar to the one of last fall, and the sending out of introducing letters during the summer. Tentative plans were also discussed for the publishing of a book, such as the "E" book of the Christian Fraternity of Exeter, but nothing definite was decided, and after the closing hymn and prayer, the meeting adjourned.

Forum

There will be a short meeting of Forum this evening at 6.30 in Bishop 30.

ANDOVER SHADES DEAN 3-2

Close, Fast Game Displays Excellent Ball

BLUE HITS WELL PLACED

Andover once again caught its stride last Wednesday afternoon, when it defeated Dean Academy, 3-2 in a fast and interesting baseball game. The Blue started well and made its three runs before the fifth inning had begun, while Dean didn't start to score before the fifth, bringing home one in this period and another in the ninth. Wight pitched a good game throughout, fanning seven men and passing one; and was ably supported. The infield was working finely, and Walker featured with two spectacular catches. Durant was very steady at first and caught everything coming his way. The entire outfield was up to its usual standard, and only once did a long fly get by, this time for three bases. No one on the team was hitting up to par, many singles being made, but nothing longer; on the other hand, Murphy, of Dean, hit out a long three-bagger and made the best hit of the day. His teammates backed him in good fashion, Sullivan and Bird standing out above the rest. The team is showing steady improvement, and prospects for the Exeter game are good.

Play by innings:

FIRST INNING

Andover took the field and put out the first three men up in one, two, three order. Richards was out, Walker to Durant; T. Smith on a fly to Scott, and Barnes fanned.

Walker was hit by the pitcher and took second on Scott's sacrifice. Dann knocked a high one to Murphy, making it two down for Andover. Smith singled and tore to second when Gough made an error; and Walker romped home with the first run. Caswell struck out and ended the inning.

Score: Andover 1, Dean 0.

SECOND INNING

Murphy walked and then took second on Scott's error. Kallet fanned and Granfield sacrificed; but Murphy who tried to stretch a peg and come in from third was caught. Durant to Dann, thereby making a double.

Durant struck out; Eddy flied to short; and Graham fanned. Score: Andover 1, Dean 0.

THIRD INNING

Once again Wight was going strong, and struck out Gough and Bird; then let Sullivan dribble one to Graham who threw him out at first.

Wight fanned, but Walker singled. Then Scott fanned but the catcher dropped the ball. Walker started to make second, but the catcher redeemed himself and caught Walker there with a pretty throw.

Score: Andover 1, Dean 0.

FOURTH INNING

Richards struck out, T. Smith poked one to Scott but didn't make first. Then Barnes made the third out, when Walker got the ball to Durant before he could make it.

NINE TRIUMPHS OVER WORCESTER

Last Game at Home is Victory for Andover, 5 to 2

Last Saturday afternoon the Andover baseball team defeated Worcester Academy by a score of 5-2, in the last preliminary game before the annual contest with Exeter on the seventh. The team played errorless ball throughout the entire nine innings, and the work of several men in particular is worthy of special praise. "Ken" Smith, who will probably pitch in the Exeter game, was the individual star for the Blue in last Saturday's struggle, scoring ten strike-outs to his credit, issuing only two passes, and holding his opponents to five hits and one run. Smith is at the top of his form now and bids fair to rival Gill, the recoubtable Exeter twirler, of whom so much is being heard lately. Walker, at short, played a good game, assisting Durant in seven put-outs, and proving a general stumbling-block to the Worcester batters. All in all, the team has developed splendidly in the last few weeks, and Coach Daly should have good reason to be proud of the season's work next Saturday, when the final, supreme test comes in the struggle for supremacy over the wearers of the Crimson.

The score by innings is as follows:

FIRST INNING

Worcester at bat: Baxter flied to Durant; Zegri grounded out to Durant; Cousins fanned.

Andover at bat: Walker was passed; Scott received his base upon being hit by the ball, sending Walker to second; Caswell sacrificed, advancing the runners one base; Walker scored on a passed ball, Scott went to third. Smith made first on fielder's choice, and Scott was put out at the plate. Durant singled, reached second on error of left-fielder, and Smith took third. Eddy got to first on error of shortstop, Smith came home, and Durant went to third. Graham was put out at first, Jowett to Cousins. Andover 2, Worcester 0.

SECOND INNING

King was put out at first, Walker to Durant; Jowett fanned; Wolton fanned.

Cummings walked; Foote made his base on fielder's choice, Cummings was safe on second and ran to third on error of the second baseman. Foote stole second. Walker was out at first, Wotton to Cousins. Scott filled the bases on a pass; Caswell flied to Cousins; Smith fanned. Andover 2, Worcester 0.

THIRD INNING

Gallandett and Fenille fanned. Cole singled and made second on a passed ball. Baxter singled, stole second, and Cole reached third. Zegri flied out to Cummings.

Durant was hit by the ball and received his base; Eddy sacrificed, sending him to second. Graham walked, Cummings fanned, and Foote was out at first, Cole to Cousins. Andover 2, Worcester 0.

FOURTH INNING

Cousins was put out at first, Walker to Durant; King singled to left; Jowett doubled and King

RED AND BLUE TO CLASH ON PLIMPTON FIELD IN 41st CONTEST

Track Captain

E. H. Hills of Brooklyn, N. Y., was elected captain of next year's track team yesterday afternoon. He has been on the squad for two years and this year got his A in the broad jump against Exeter. He is 18 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall, and weighs 158 point.

Wayland Vaughan was elected captain of the second team. He came very near placing last Friday, but had a bit of hard luck and tripped on his last hurdle. He will also compete in the tennis match with Exeter today.

Tennis Team Wins

The varsity tennis team won its second consecutive shutout last Saturday, when it defeated the Worcester Academy team, 7 to 0. The Andover team was not in danger at any time, and won every match in straight sets, of which only two went to deuce.

Crosby played number one for Andover and had little trouble in disposing of Grunwood of Worcester, 6-0, 6-2. Vaughn, playing number two, had a little trouble in his first set, but finally came through and won it, 8-6. He then romped and defeated Thayer of Worcester, without any trouble by the score of 6-2, 6-4. Johnston, playing number five, won his match in two easy sets, 6-3, 6-0.

Andover had no more trouble in the doubles than in the singles, and won every match. Vaughan and Houk played number one for Andover and easily won their match by the score of 6-1, 6-2. Johnston and Comfort, playing number two, were forced to deuce in their first set, before they were able to win it.

In the next set, however, they had little trouble, and won by the score of 6 to 4.

The summary:

Singles—Crosby, Andover, defeated Grunwood, Worcester, 6-0, 6-2. Vaughan, Andover, defeated Hazzard, Worcester, 8-6, 6-1. Houk, Andover, defeated Persons, Worcester, 6-1, 6-2. Wise, Andover, defeated Thayer, Worcester, 6-2, 6-4. Johnston, Andover, defeated Weatherby, Worcester, 6-3, 6-0.

Doubles—Vaughan and Houk, Andover, defeated Grimwood and Hazzard, Worcester, 6-1, 6-2. Johnston and Comfort, Andover, defeated Persons and Thayer, Worcester, 7-5, 6-4.

This Saturday the forty-first annual baseball game will take place between Andover and Exeter, on Plimpton Field, Exeter. Since this will be the first encounter on the diamond since the close of the war, both schools will have had ample opportunity to develop all their available resources and material to the fullest extent, unhampered by military work of any sort, and the result should be one of the best contests that has been held since the start of the interschool games in 1878.

On the whole, prospects favor the Blue. The team has been developing wonderfully well during the past weeks, and now shows a smoothness, team-play, and hitting ability that is most encouraging, especially when one takes into consideration the reports which have been drifting down from New Hampshire, of the unfortunate state of inefficiency and unpreparedness into which our rivals seem to have precipitated themselves, owing to the sudden resignation of their coach and disagreement among the members of the team. However, with the unexpected reverse of last fall fresh in our minds, it is well not be too over-confident even though all the signs point to a certain victory, the more so when we recollect that Exeter appears to have the knack of pulling off the unforeseen at most inopportune moments. Still, all possible chances considered, Andover undoubtedly has the best prospects. "Ken" Smith, who will go to the mound, will certainly prove himself a match for Gill, the heralded Exeter twirler; while Dann, the Blue back-stop, has a much better record than his Crimson opponent who is reported to be having a good deal of trouble in holding his team-mates curves. In the infield, Walker and Durant pair up extremely well, the former snapping up all the balls which come anywhere in his general direction, and then winging them over to first where Durant makes the put-out. These two men, with Scott on second, and Graham on third, make up a combination which rarely allows a ball to get by. The three out-fielders, Caswell, Eddy, or Cummings, have played practically errorless ball all season.

In the last few games the team has developed an energy and smoothness of operation which is in pleasant contrast to a few of the opening games of the season, and which darkens the outlook for Exeter in no small degree. The ability of the team in handling the bat is fully equal to the play in the field. Dann has repeatedly demonstrated his power to pull the fat out of the fire in a pinch, and Smith is always able to contribute a series of base-hits, if nothing else. Scott has the art of sacrificing down to fine points, and Walker is usually equal to working the opposing pitcher for a pass. The other members of the team back up these men in fine shape, and altogether the players are very well-balanced.

Taking everything into account, the game promises to be full of thrills and exciting moments.

Inter-Squad Track Meet

Last Wednesday afternoon the final Inter-Squad and Club Track Meet was held. This meet is the first one of similar meets which will be held at the end of the fall and spring of each year. Medals and ribbons were given to the first three places of each event: silver, first; bronze, second; and ribbon, third. Beside the medals numerals were given to all men who made the required times and distances.

Although not a very great majority of the men entered succeeded in getting numerals, a credible showing was made. The times and distances which were made this year will be kept, and men competing next fall will have an opportunity to break records of this year.

Tennis Matches

This afternoon at 2.15, the Andover Tennis Team will contend with the Exeter Team in the last meet of the season. The meet promises to be a very interesting one, but the chances seem very favorable to Andover. Although Andover tied Exeter at the Interscholastic meet, this by no means shows that to-day's result will be the same.

The following men will represent Andover.

Crosby, No. 1.
Vaughn, No. 2.
Capt. Houk, No. 3.
Pfaffmann, No. 4.
Wise, No. 5.
Hills, No. 6.

Doubles—Vaughn and Houk, Pfaffmann and Wise, Hills and Comfort.

Capt. Houk is one of our old players, having played successfully on the team last year. Vaughn, one of our best men, was on the Newton High School team last year. Pfaffmann, who has been out for baseball most of this term, is another one of our old players, having been Captain elect of the Andover Team in 1917. Wise used to represent Flushing High School. Hills, who has been on the team all year, is just getting back into condition, and is expected to play a good game against Exeter.

PROBABLE EXETER LINE-UP

Capt. Barnard, No. 1.
J. Farnham, No. 2.
C. Farnham, No. 3.
Ashley, No. 4.
Ball, No. 5.
Lane, No. 6.

Doubles—Barnard and J. Farnham, C. Farnham and Ashley, Ball and Lane.

It has been decided that this meet will decide what team will get the Interscholastic Tennis Shield, which was tied for by Andover and Exeter. This will probably make the competition much more interesting.

A new addition to Andover's long roll of honor was made in the name of Melbourne Fisher Smallpage of the class of 1914.

THE ANDOVER PRESS

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 4, 1919

On Saturday when the ball team goes to Exeter for the forty-first diamond contest between the two great rivals, the entire student body is going with them. The team has all the earmarks and characteristics of former Andover teams, it has the fight, and especially that fight which accomplishes most in an uphill game. Prestige favors the Red, but whether we win or lose we are there to back up the nine with all the enthusiasm and encouragement that is in us.

Notice

This summer the Friendship House, which has been closed for a season, will be reopened under the temporary name of the James Fennimore Cooper Memorial, in honor of James Fennimore Cooper, who died in the service. A summer camp is to be carried on under the direction of the Rev. A. Sidney Lovett, Jr., who preached here during the winter term, and maintained by the relatives of James Cooper. The base of the camp will be at the Friendship House, where mothers and young children will be quartered. The camp itself will be located at Pomp's Pond. It will be under the personal supervision of Mr. Edward B. Witte, a Harvard senior, recently returned from Italy, doing aviation service. The camp will maintain about fifty boys for the month of July and the same number of girls through the month of August.

During the month of July, while the boys are at the camp, about six councillors are needed. Any fellows who would like to act as Councillors for the first half of the month, getting in return their board and lodging, a fine outdoor life, and camp experience, are asked to hand in their names to Mr. Clarke at once.

"Movies"

The moving pictures scheduled for next Saturday night are Pathe News, an educational film, and "Breed of Men", featuring William S. Hart. Bill Hart needs no introduction to movie lovers and this film is said to be one of his best. Seena Owen is the heroine of the plot.

COACH DALBY

This was Andover's big inning and she brought in the last two runs she made right here. Dann started well with a nice single, but was caught between first and second, Sullivan to Murphy to Granfield. Smith made third on Gough's bad error and came home on a passed ball. Caswell did much the same when he got to third on Grandfield's error, but instead of getting home on a passed ball, he stole it in first-rate style. Durant couldn't put it by Gough and was downed at first. Eddy Walked then stole second; but when Wight singled into deep center, he tried to make another run but Sullivan put him out at the plate.

Score: Andover 3, Dean 0.

FIFTH INNING

Murphy slammed out his long three-bagger at this point, and started a feeble rally for Dean. Kellet had one strike and two balls called on him when Hartnett took his place. Wight fanned him. Then Grandfield sacrificed and Murphy tallied the first run for the visitors. Sullivan flied to Graham. Wight was struck out and Walker popped an easy one to Granfield. Scott managed to connect with the ball but Gough caught it, putting Andover into the field once more.

Score: Andover 3, Dean 1.

SIXTH INNING

Gough took first and second on Wight's error and then went to third on an overthrow. Bird sacrificed but Gough didn't get home. Richards flied to Durant and T. Smith was out, Walker to Durant.

Dann knocked a long fly to Barnes and was out. Smith fanned then Caswell singled. Sullivan threw him out when he tried to steal second.

Score: Andover 3, Dean 1.

SEVENTH INNING

Barnes failed to make first. Murphy fanned, and Hartnett flied to Caswell.

Durant flied to center and Hartnett caught Eddy's long foul fly. Graham was safe at first on Bird's error, then Wight's single put him on second. Walker was again hit by a pitched ball and this filled the bases. Scott rolled one to Murphy who put him out unassisted.

Score: Andover 3, Dean 1.

EIGHTH INNING

Granfield was out, Dann to Durant. Sullivan fouled to Dann, and Gough's fly was caught by Walker, who made a beautiful catch.

Dann smashed a liner to Granfield but was out at first. Smith was struck out and Caswell flied to T. Smith.

Score: Andover 3, Dean 1.

NINTH INNING

Dean tried hard to get going this inning and did succeed in bringing one man across the plate.

MANAGER F. FLANDERS

Bird flied to Scott. Then Richards singled and took second on Walker's error. Smith was safe on a fielder's choice, and Richards went to third. He came home on the next play when Barnes was safe at first. Murphy shoved Barnes down one and he made first on Walker's second consecutive error. Hartnett ended the game when he rolled one to Walker and was out at first.

Score: Andover 3, Dean 2.

Concert

Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock the Leonora Society of Bradford Academy took part in Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise." Together with several symphony men from Boston, the Andover Choral Society; the Academy Choir and Mrs. F. G. Moore, soprano; Mr. George H. Boynton, tenor; Mrs. J. C. Angus, pianist; and Mr. H. U. Camp, organist, a practice for the evening performance was held until five-thirty. A group picture was taken by Huntress. The girls went to the Peabody House where they had supper, and the fellows to their rooms. There was a dance at the Peabody House at 6.15, the jazz band, consisting of Rumney, Bricken, Park, and Parker, furnishing the music. After this everybody went to the chapel for the main performance. Much credit is due to Mr. Pfatfeicher for the success of this undertaking, which went off so well. It was introduced by a symphony played by the Orchestra, followed by a full chorus, "All that has life and health, sing to the Lord." Mrs. Moore then rendered a soprano solo, "Praise thou the Lord," accompanied by the Bradford choral. Mr. Boynton sang a tenor solo, "Sing ye praise," He also sang, "He counteth all your sorrows," which was in turn taken up by a full chorus. A soprano and tenor duet, "I waited for the Lord," was well given. Mr. Boynton then sang his recitatives, "The sorrows of death" and "Watchman, will the night soon pass?" The principal chorus of the evening was, "The night is departing," which was followed by the choral, "Let all men praise the Lord." There were then soprano and tenor duets rendering, "My song shall always be thy glory." The cantata was brought to an ending in the chorus, "Offer to the Lord glory and might." The singing was very well given and was enjoyed by all. The girls left by auto for Bradford at ten o'clock.
