Dr. Stevenson will be the speaker at the Society of Inquiry meeting, also.

SAXONS AND GAULS PLAY TO A DEADLOCK

Both Teams Fail to Score in Evenly Matched Game

The Gauls fought the Saxons for a 0 to 0 score Wednesday afternoon. The contest was loosely played, but even. At one play, Cleveland carried the ball twenty yards through the Saxons' line. Nichols, the Saxon quarterback, played an excellent game until he was hurt and had to be taken out. Jackson, who took his place, played a good game. Orchard also made good gains for the Saxons. On the Gauls, Correa was the mainstay of the line. The ball was in the Saxons' territory most of the time, and sometimes dangerously near their goal, but good playing and lots of fight kept their opponents from scoring. The lineup was as follows:

Varsity Soccer Postponed

The varsity soccer game, which was to have been played this afternoon, has been indefinitely postponed. The game, which was to have been the first one of the season, was to have been played with the Chinese team of Greater Boston, which has proved itself exceedingly strong in the past, defeating both Andover and Worcester academy. Next Saturday, however, the team will have a chance to show its mettle, for it is scheduled for a contest with the Harvard varsity at Cambridge.

Much headway has been made and great improvement has been shown during the last week. Bateman, a new man, has shown himself quite adept with the ball, and has been given the position of centre, while Waller, a new man to the game, has been made left outside forward.

The first and second teams line up as follows:

BLUE ELEVEN FACES N. H. STATE '23 TODAY

Blue Team Steadily Improves. Neidlinger Temporarily Out

At 2.30 o'clock this afternoon on Brothers Field, the Blue eleven will line up against that of the New Hampshire State Freshmen. From authoritative sources, the PHILLIPIAN has learned that the Freshman team, although light, is very fast and aggressive. Its line has shown up very well, particularly on the defensive. Neville, the captain, plays his position at end excellently. From this information, it appears that our team will have to fight hard to win.

Up to date our team has not advanced the ball as consistently as many would like, but there is every reason to believe that this weakness can be overcome as the misplays have been due to faults which practice will correct.

Instead of criticism for loose playing on our part in the Dean game, consideration must be given to the fact that Dean presented unusually good opposition and that actually decided improvement as well as much valuable experience was gained. One thing, however, has shown up conspicuously; that is the lack of good generalship thus far displayed. There were many weak points in both the Cushing and Dean lines, and aggressive tactics against these weak spots might have brought far different results than those which made the backfield appear less favorably than it really can. Coach Daly, who has said that the backfield played very good football, both offensively and defensively, said that it did not play up to standard against Dean.

Practices during the past week have been devoted to strengthening the weak points, and the result will be seen this afternoon.

Captain Adams is back on the

Many Fumbles Due to Heavy Field

MCGREW AND CLOUGH STAR

Wednesday afternoon the Greek football team defeated the Roman eleven by the score of 7 to 6. The rain of the night before made very slippery footing, and as a result, there were many fumbles; however, the game was well played and sharply contested from start to finish. Clough paved the way for the Romans, touchdown when he got through the Greek defense and went to the 6-yard line. The Greeks were penalized five yards for offside play, which put the ball one yard from the goal line; and after two plunges, Clough went over for the touchdown. The try for a goal kick failed. McGrew went over for the Greeks in the last period, and Wight scored the winning point when he booted the ball for the goal.

The lineups were as follows:

The standing to date is as follows:

Gift to the Library

The library has recently received a most interesting gift from Kimerley Stuart '14, in the shape of an old Greek bible, which was found in the ruins of an old Albanian church. From the condition of the book and the style of the type, it should be at least one hundred years old. Stuart's letter follows:

August 9, 1919

My dear Mr. Sawyer:

I happened, while in Albania, to run onto a village which had been more than completely wrecked by the Austrians. This town, Muscopole by name, was, according to the information gained from the people of Houtza, the first place in Albania where there was a printing press. How true that is, I do not know, but amidst the ruins of an old church, I found the Bible which I am sending to you, as a gift to Phillips Academy library. In itself it has, I fear, very little of real value as it was rather badly damaged by being kicked about on the floor by the ruthless feet of the invaders. The town from which it came was one of the centers of Albanian Christianity and had something like twenty-seven churches. It was from the ruins of one of these that I got this old volume. I hope that it may prove of sufficient interest to add to the collection of old books in the library. If it not, please feel no compunction about returning it to me at my expense.

Very sincerely yours,

KIMBERLY STUART

MAYNARD DUE TO FINISH RACE TODAY

Wilson Escapes Operation. Fall Amendment Rejected by Senate

LABOR CONFERENCE DIVIDED ON RESOLUTIONS

Lt. B. W. Maynard, the "flying parson" is due to finish the coast-to-coast and return air race, at noon today. The leader was several hundred miles ahead of his nearest rivals when he landed at Cleveland last night.

Maynard came near being forced out of the race Thursday night, because of a broken crank shaft. However, he landed his plane in a stubble field near Wahoo, Neb., and he and his mechanic, W. E. Kline, with the assistance of farmers, removed the damaged motor and install another one which was rushed to the scene in a motor truck.

Army officials at Roosevelt Field, Mineola, were last night planning a rousing reception for Lieutenant Maynard when he lands there at the finish of the world's longest air race.

Concern over the President's condition developed again yesterday, owing to a return of the swelling of the prostatic gland. This swelling developed several days ago and has served to check the improvement of the patient's condition.

Last night however, this gland development was reported as being so definitely improved that no operation will be necessary, at least for the present.

Yesterday morning it was feared that an immediate operation might be necessary. The removal of this fear is, therefore, an indication of the improvement made yesterday in the President's condition.

After a brief debate and without a record vote, Senator Fall's two amendments to the peace treaty were today rejected by the Senate.

These two amendments had as their common purpose, the curtailment of the power of the American representatives on the reparation commission. This commission is an international body established by the treaty, to fix and collect Germany's reparation bill.

The industrial conference adjourned last night until Monday, and sent back to the committee of fifteen, two resolutions bearing on the subject of collective bargaining. One of the two was introduced yesterday by the public group and has the support of the labor group. The other is a resolution offered by the employers who voted against the labor resolve.

The point at issue is that included in the employer's resolutions, granting the right of the employer to refuse to deal with representatives of men, unless these representatives are actually from among his employer. This resolution allows the right of the employer to agree with his men on the form of their representation. The resolution from the public group does not set forth this right.

The committee of fifteen will

Communication

Every year much money, which might be put to more profitable uses, is spent by the school in the effort to keep the grounds in proper condition. A great deal of this damage is done in the fall of the year by fellows who carelessly cut across the lawns or cut a corner to gain a few inches. Much destruction is also caused by cutting along the edges of the paths. The story is old, but the motto "Keep off the grass" still holds true.

Old American Preparatory Schools

Phillips Andover academy holds the distinction of being the oldest preparatory school in the United States. Exeter comes a close second, thus making these two academies the only ones founded in the eighteenth century. The following are the dates of the found-ings of America's first ten prepara-tory schools:

meet tomorrow and attempt to reconcile these differences. Mem-bers of the body say this should not be difficult as the differences are slight.

Exeter Notes

Exeter had scrimmage on Wed-nesday, preparing for the game with Yale 1923. Barry showed up well in broken field and O'Hearn was good on end runs. But Smith, Emery and Harvey were out of it on account of strained muscles. They will be all right for Saturday's game, it is expected. The squad of twenty-four men with Bullard, manager, and Coach Blake and trainer Connors, will leave for New Haven Friday night. After their victory over Dartmouth their hopes are high.

Phillipiana

Jack Winchester, P. A. '19, has been elected captain of the fresh-man cross country team at Har-vard. He was manager of tennis and on the relay and track teams last year. The first freshman race will be today, when they run Wakefield High school over the Belmont course.

Billy Murray, captain of Har-vard varsity and an old P. A. man, has recovered from his injuries and will lead the Crimson against Brown today.

Club Soccer Games

Wednesday afternoon the Saxon and Greek soccer teams played for forty minutes without a goal for either team. The Saxons wanted to play two more ten-minute periods, but the Greeks took no chances and refused, so they are still the only team which has not suffered defeat. Perry and Randall played very good games for the Greeks, while Hanson, Holmes and Clark starred for the Saxons.

The lineup was:

SAXONS	GREEKS
Mills, ro	ro, Sahler
Clark, ri	ri, Randall
Wood, cf	cf, Spoech
Paget, li	li, Trevett
Remington, lo	lo, Perry

Hanson, lfb	lfb, Shepard
Davis, (Fanning) g.	g, Gay

Referee: Mr. Peck. Time, two 20 min. periods. Score: Saxons 0, Greeks 0.

The Gaul soccer team smothered the Romans 5 to 0 Wednesday afternoon. In the second half the Gauls had their second team on the line. Ives was the star for the Gauls, getting two goals. MacDonald also played a steady game in the backfield. The lineup was:

GAULS	ROMANS
French, ro	ro, Loomis
Arn (Burnham) ri	ri, McFerson
Daniels, cf	cf, Davidson
Bradford (Brosseau) li	li, Alexander
Ives, lo	lo, Sargent
Reigel, rhb	rhb, Hood
Henderson, chb	chb, Vose
Mansfield, lhb	lhb, Barnes
MacDonald, rfb	rfb, Hartado
Colby, lfb	lfb, Aida
Clark, g	g, Brent

Time two 20 min. periods. Goals: Arn 1, Burnham 1, Ives 2 and Brosseau 1. Score: Gauls 5, Romans 0.

The standing of the soccer teams at present is:

	W	D	T	P
Greeks	2	0	1	5
Gauls	2	1	0	4
Saxons	1	1	1	3
Romans	0	3	0	0

For each game won, a team gets two points, and for a tie, one point, under the new system of scoring. Next Wednesday the Greeks play the Gauls and the Saxons the Romans.
