

ANOTHER AMERICAN MURDERED IN MEXICO

Lady Astor Elected to Parliament. Government Ready to Take Over Coal Mines

Another American murder in Mexico, following close upon the imprisonment of Consular Agent Jenkins, and coupled with reports of revolution in Mexico City, added complexities yesterday which forced the already tense Mexican situation, closer to the long expected breaking point.

When that point is reached the American charge d'affaires in Mexico City, George T. Summerlin, will be instructed to ask for his passports, and in Washington, passports will be given to Ygnacio Bonillas, the Mexican ambassador.

Another "last straw" was laid on yesterday with the official report of the murder of W. M. Wallace, an American oil man, by a Carranza soldier, near Tampico, on last Wednesday. It is also reported that the murderer was not arrested.

Lady Astor, American born wife of Viscount Astor, was elected to Parliament from the Sutton division of Plymouth, in the balloting of November 15th.

The results of the Sutton election were as follows:

Lady Astor, Unionist	14,495
W. T. Gay, Labor	9292
Isaac Foot, Liberal	4139

Lord Edmund Talbot and Lt. Col. Herbert H. Spender Clay, her brother-in-law, will act as sponsors for Lady Astor in her first appearance in the House of Commons next Monday.

Blunt notice was served on coal miners and operators yesterday by the government, that interference with coal production would not be tolerated. After members of the cabinet had carefully considered every phase of the situation, admitted critical because of the abrupt breaking off of negotiations, the department of justice issued a warning that legal prosecution would be employed to thwart conspiracies on either side. Troops will be sent wherever needed to protect miners who are willing to work.

Dr. Garfield explained earlier in the day that he considered fourteen percent as a just and sufficient wage advance for mine workers. He also stated that mine owners who did not co-operate with the government would find their property taken over and operated by the fuel administration.

The government does not intend to let the mines remain idle with coal bins running low and winter at hand. It was fully expected that the miners would reject the fourteen percent increase, so the government had plans already underway, designed to augment the present output of bituminous coal, reported at forty percent of the normal amount.

A statement was issued yesterday by Atty. Gen. Ames, assuring protection to all miners who returned to work. The fourteen per-

ROBERT E. SPEER SPEAKS AT INQUIRY

Gives Talk on True Qualities of a Christian

At the Society of Inquiry meeting last Sunday evening, Robert E. Speer was the speaker. He gave an interesting talk on the different types of religion and also on the true qualities of a Christian.

Mr. Speer said that one of the chief ways in which the various forms of religion differ is in their ideas of truth. Take for example the religion of the Mohammedans, who believe that there are different classes of lies, such as: lies to women and lies in war. These people think that lies of this nature really are not breeches of the truth. On the other hand, the Christian religion makes no classification of Truth, but only differentiates between the truth and lies.

Mr. Speer was once asked by a boy at the Hill School, how can we know that Christianity is the true religion? Mr. Speer said that the question might be answered in several ways, but that an answer sufficient to convince a gentleman, was that Christianity is the only form of religion which forbids polygamy. He also called attention to the fact that Christianity stands for human equality and does not discriminate between rich and poor, man and woman, the citizen and the foreigner. This can not be said of other religions. For instance, the Mohammedan religion enumerates the things that women can and can not do, and demands that a woman regard her husband as a god.

Another characteristic of Christianity is that it is the religion of a person who actually lived upon earth. Mohammedism is the religion of a book; Hinduism, the religion of a social organ; Confucianism the religion of a political philosophy; and Buddhism, the religion of an ethical method with no god at all.

Christianity is also the only religion that alleges that its founder rose from the dead and is still alive in the world. All other founders have perished. Christianity is the relationship which men take with Christ.

If there is no difference between Christianity and any other form of worship, then it is true that black is white and yes is no.

Mr. Speer defined Christianity as the only religion which prohibits all falsehood, stands for equal relationship between all people of the earth, and relates men to a living person.

The speaker then gave a few ideas about being a true Christian. He said that a Christian was charged with the guardianship of the principles for which Christ stood; and that it was therefore his duty to fashion his life as Christ wished man to live.

In order to emphasize this point, Mr. Speer told the story of a man whose father had died and left many unpaid debts. The son felt it was his duty to uphold the honor of his father's name, so set to work to pay his father's creditors. After many years of hard labor, he accumulated a sum of money sufficient to pay all these debts. He

ENDOWMENT NEARS HALF-WAY MARK

Old Andover Men Respond Eagerly to Call

Principal Alfred E. Stearns and Dr. Claude M. Fuess set out on November 4th for a trip which would cover several of the large cities across the continent. The object of the trip was to explain to gatherings of Andover men in the various cities the aims and methods of the Building and Endowment Fund Campaign for $1,500,000.00 which is now being carried on throughout the country. The first gathering was held at Pittsburgh, on Wednesday, November 5th, and was in the shape of a dinner, held at the University Club, under the direction of Mr. E. H. Brainard, chairman of the Pittsburgh Alumni Association. About twenty men were present, and a great deal of interest in the drive was displayed. At this meeting Mr. Southard Hay, of Pittsburgh, was elected chairman of the local association for the coming year. On Friday, November 7th, a dinner was held at the Omaha Club, in Omaha. Mr. John Caldwell acted as presiding officer. Some fifteen Andover men attended. The next stop was Denver, Colorado, on November 10th, where a luncheon was held of twelve men, the presiding officer being Mr. Lawrence B. Powers, 1914, chairman of the Mountain Division. On the same day Dr. Stearns and Dr. Fuess went on to Colorado Springs, where a dinner was held at the El Paso Club, with about twenty Andover alumni present. An interesting note concerning this dinner is the fact that all but one of the Andover men living in Colorado Springs or vicinity, were able to attend. On November 14th an Andover luncheon was held at the Pacific Union Club in San Francisco, presided over by Mr. Samuel F. B. Morse, '04, chairman of the Pacific Division. Twenty-six loyal and enthusiastic Andover men were present. After spending two days in San Francisco for a brief rest, Dr. Stearns and Dr. Fuess went to Portland, Oregon, for a luncheon on the 17th, managed by Mr. Sherman Hall, '92, followed by a luncheon at Seattle, on November 18th, conducted by Mr. Nathaniel Paschall, '04, chairman of the Northwestern Division. The Seattle luncheon, which was attended by twenty-eight men, was remarkable for the enthusiasm shown. After a long jump across the country, the next dinner came at Kansas City, on November 24th. This dinner, held at the University Club in that city, was attended by fourteen men, and was in charge of Mr. W. L. Dickey, '13. The last meeting of the trip came at St. Louis, on November 25th, in the shape of a luncheon, at the Hotel Statler, at which twenty men were present. The presiding officer was Mr. Charles B. Wiggins, '75, chairman of the Middle West division.

At each of these meetings the same general program was carried out, Dr. Stearns speaking on the general reasons for the starting of such a campaign at this time, and

COACH SUTHERLAND AGAIN HAS CHARGE OF SWIMMING SQUAD

More Men From the Lower Classes Needed to Try For Team.

BASKETBALL SEASON WELL UNDERWAY

New Forward Material Desired

The basketball season is getting underway in good shape with a squad of about fifty men. Although there is a noticeable lack of experienced men, Coach Roth reports some promising material among the new recruits. The season is quite long this year so there will be time to develop some of the less experienced players, just as was done last year.

Men who have had experience at the position of forward are especially needed, so if there are any men in school who have ever played this position, they are urged to come out.

There are only three BAB men in school, Capt. Munger, Sellman and Neidlinger. Inasmuch as Neidlinger is playing hockey and Sellman has an injury, this year's team will have to be built up around captain Munger.

Among the new men who have shown signs of promise are: Burbridge at guard, W. Riley at forward, and V. R. MacDonald, center.

The program until Christmas will consist of a good deal of hard

Coach Sutherland desires to issue a call for candidates for the swimming team. Divers are the most pressing need at present. Comparatively little new material has shown up this year, and most of these men are seniors; as a result, next year's team will be necessarily composed of inexperienced men, unless more candidates turn out immediately. The only good material on hand at present is composed of members of last year's team.

Alexander Sutherland has returned to Andover this year to coach the swimming team. Sutherland enlisted in the navy when America entered the war in April 1917. He was placed in charge of a naval training swimming station, and his system of swimming soon became so popular that he was placed in charge of a corps of one hundred men. His duty was to instruct these men in his system; they were sent from station to station to introduce the Sutherland method. Andover is most fortunate in securing such an excellent swimming coach.

Communication

To the Managing Editor:

It seems an appropriate time now that the fall term is drawing to a close and the winter term near at hand, to appeal to the new and old men in school to go out for some literary activity. Andover, as everyone knows, offers many such opportunities and there should be something for everybody. Athletics always play a minor role in the school during the winter term, and this should leave more time to put to other advantages. When the call is issued for candidates to try out for the PHILLIPIAN next term, there is no reason why many should not respond. One does not only gain experience in this line of work but one also does something for Andover.

Dr. Carter, Former Trustee, Dies at the Age of Eighty-two WILLIAMSTOWN, Nov. 22—Dr. Franklin Carter, a leader among American educators and for 21 years president of Williams College, retiring in 1901, died at his home here to-day at the age of eighty-two years. Death was caused by pneumonia with which he was stricken four days ago. The news that he had passed away came as a surprise, for few were aware that he had been ill.

Dr. Carter was born in Waterbury, Conn., September 30, 1837, the son of Preserve Wood Carter and Ruth Wells (Holmes) Carter. He fitted for college at Phillips Andover Academy, and was graduated with the valedictory oration in 1855. After studying at Yale from 1855 to 1857 he continued his preparation at Williams, receiving the degree of A.B. in 1862, A.M. in 1864, and Ph.D. in 1877. During this time he was also a student at the University of Berlin. Other degrees conferred upon Dr. Carter included an LL.D. from Union in 1881, from Yale in 1901, from Williams in 1904, and from South Carolina College in 1905.

On February 24, 1863, he married Sarah Leavenworth Kingsbury of Waterbury. After her death he married Mrs. Elizabeth Sabin Leak, the daughter of Dr. H. L. Sabin of Williamstown.

Dr. Carter was professor of Latin at Williams, 1865-1872; professor of German at Yale, 1872-1881, and president of Williams, 1881-1901. During his term as president of Williams, eight new buildings were erected, the library and scientific laboratories were doubled in their facilities, $1,500,000 was added to the endowment fund and the curriculum was enlarged and modernized to a remarkable extent.

In 1896 Dr. Carter was chosen as a presidential elector. Governor Wolcott of Massachusetts appointed him a member of the state board of education the same year, a position Dr. Carter held until 1900. He was also a trustee of Phillips Andover Academy from 1881 to 1902, and of the American College at Madura, India.

Other positions of honor held by Dr. Carter included the following: President of the Massachusetts Home Missionary Society, president of the Clark School for the Deaf, director of the Berkshire Industrial Farm, Canaan, N. H., corporate member of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and of the American Association for the Advancement of Science; president of the Modern Language Association of America, member of the American Oriental Society and the American Philological Association, corresponding member of the Massachusetts Colonial Society, honorary member of the Maltatuck Historical Society, and member of the University and Williams Clubs, New York City.

He was the author of "The Life of Mark Hopkins," of an edition of Goethe's "Iphigenie auf Tauris", and of many newspaper and magazine articles.

Mandolin Club

The Mandolin Club is using four selections in preparation for the Rogers Hall concert. On account of the necessity for adding many inexperienced players to the club during the first term, these numbers are, necessarily, comparatively easy.

The club is also preparing one selection of a more difficult nature for use in the concerts of the winter term.

The present and prospective personnel of the club, together with the fact that it possesses the instruments for a complete modern mandolin orchestra, seems to warrant the expectation that we shall have, this year, the best mandolin club that has ever represented the school.

ROXBURY

A School for Intensive Instruction

ROXBURY'S success has been due to the efficiency of its teaching method. There are no forms. Each student is given a careful physical and psychological examination to determine his capacity for hard work, and assigned to classes no larger than five. The number of hours' instruction in each course, the size and character of the class the boy enters, and the number of studies he is allowed to carry are determined by his ability and state of preparation.

Large faculty—one master for each five boys. One hundred and fifty acre campus and farm. Three dormitories. All athletic teams, gymwork, boxing, wrestling, under expert coaches and instructors. Ten saddle horses for boys' use. A large open-air swimming pool to be constructed next spring.

Two months summer session for boys who need additional work, and boys preparing for September examinations.

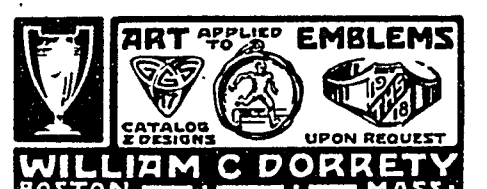

Roxbury's record has been extraordinary. This summer only two out of over one hundred final candidates failed to enter college.

Students admitted any time during the year when there are vacancies.

War Author to Lecture in Lawrence

Lieut. Coningsby Dawson, well-known author of "Carry On," "The Glory of the Trenches," "Out to Win" and "Living Bayonets," will be heard at Lawrence City Hall, January 2nd, under the auspices of the Lawrence Boys' club in an address, "Re-making the World."

Lieut. Dawson, who recently visited the occupied part of Germany did not view with satisfaction the absence of any marks of war in the German towns and villages. He contrasted them with what he saw in France and Belgium. He did not see racial superiority in the smiles that Germans gave him, in their efforts to make his visit pleasant, in their failure to remind him in any way that he was one of the men who had wrecked the German State and foiled the hopes and ambitions of its subjects.

While he found in and around Coblenz such recognition of accomplished facts, he found nothing at all of repentance for crimes committed, or of new aims, new ideas, new principles. He resented manifestations of friendship that had no friendship behind them, and he refused to believe that all was well where he knew that all was ill.

While some people may charge Lieut. Dawson with lack of the magnanimity that victors should show to the vanquished, intimating that he feels and preaches "hate", yet anybody who has read the Lieutenant's books and articles about the war knows, or should know, that he is given to vindictiveness as little as any man alive — that he would be as ready as any to forget and forgive, when to do so would not be a denial of justice as well as abstention from inflicting it.

Robert Stevenson, third, P. A. '21, is on the H. F. Bar ranch at Buffalo, Wyoming.

Athletics at Exeter

Twenty-nine candidates have reported to Coach Clarence P. Parker for the Exeter basketball team, and practice is being held regularly.

Of the last year's squad, the promising players are R. P. Ludlam, H. C. Emery, B. B. Smith, R. H. Burke, S. T. Cook, P. J. Cook, R. Wright and E. M. Ewitzer. Manager Barton expects to announce the schedule within the next two weeks. It will be longer than last year, as the game was not far advanced enough here to start contests with outside teams until late in the season.

Beginning next Saturday, and continuing each Wednesday and Saturday until the end of the season, Coach George S. Conners of the track team, will hold trials in the various events.

They will be: November 29th, 40-yards dash; December 3rd, 390-yard dash; December 6th, 600-yards run; December 10th, mile run; December 13th, high jump and December 17th, 45-yards hurdles. These will be run off instead of the fall track meet, which was cancelled owing to the weather, and the medals will be given to the winners. The regular winter work will not commence till the repairs on the board track are completed.

Coach Clarence P. Parker of the baseball nine has started his winter work with the battery candidates, they now are working in the cage.

Winter rowing will not start till some time in February, although the candidates will report to Coach Corning Benton before next Monday. The prospects for the next season's eight are bright, as five eights have been working on the Swampscott river during the past fall. The tentative school crew consists of A. F. Gordman, bow; J. R. Fordyce, 2; C. Y. Wheeler, 3; R. D. Jackson, 4; J. L. Gobey, 5; E. P. Botsford, 6; G. B. French, 7; S. L. Kelley stroke, with S. Stoddard, coxswain. The only state boy on the crew is G. B. French of Portsmouth.

A feature of the schedule will be a race with Groton school for the cup offered by Columbia university several years ago, to be awarded to the school which should win three times over the other. Exeter has won two races and Groton once, and if the New Hampshire school wins next season it will become the permanent owner of the cup.

Coach Corning Benton will be assisted by Myron R. Williams.

Abbot Academy Recitals

Arrangements have been completed for all the concerts in the Abbot Academy series for the season. The concerts will be as follows:—

1. The Berkshire String Quartet, Wednesday afternoon (at 3.30 o'clock), December 3, 1919.
2. Miss Aurore La Croix, pianist, Saturday afternoon, January 24, 1920.
3. Miss Greta Torpadie, lyric soprano, Saturday afternoon, February 28, 1920.

All these musicians have attained distinction; they have been heard with success in Boston, New York and other important musical centers. With the exception of Mr. Ferris, viola of the quartet, none have hitherto appeared in Andover.

The program of the concert next Wednesday afternoon will be as follows:

- Quartet No. 2, op. 153 in G major Saint-Saens
- Allegro animato
- Molto adagio
- Interlude et-Final
- Quartet in D major Borodine
- Notturmo. Andante
- Scherzo. Allegro
- Quartet in A major, op. 18 No. 5 Beethoven
- Allegro
- Menuetto
- Andante cantabile
- Allegro

The Berkshire String Quartet is composed of Hugo Kortschak, first violin; Jacques Gordon, second violin; Emil Ferris, viola; and Emerson Stroeber, cellist.

It is interesting to quote from the Boston Herald regarding the Borodine quartet, which was recently performed in Boston.

"The program of last night included the beautiful quartet of Borodin, which bears frequent hearing. It was first played here by the Kneisels early in 1895. Like Borodin's third symphony, this quartet is a posthumous work. It is singularly individual, harmonically and melodically beautiful. The Nocturne alone would give this quartet distinction.

Tickets for the series will, as usual, be two dollars.

While it is impossible to give accurate figures regarding progress to date on the campaign, it can be stated that nearly $700,000.00 has, up to the present time, been raised, and very rapid progress is expected in connection with the drive until January 1st, at which date it is hoped the entire sum may be raised.

College Representation

Of the classes of 1919 and 1920 80 men are in college. The representation is very large, men being entered in almost every well-known college and university in the country east of the Mississippi. Yale has the most of any of the colleges. The other colleges and universities are: Harvard, Princeton, Cornell, Dartmouth Amherst, Northwestern, Michigan, Wisconsin, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Pennsylvania, Williams, Philadelphia Textile School, Maine Normal School, and the University of Illinois.

The representation is as follows:

Archaeology Notes

The Director of the Department, Doctor Peabody, has been in France the past year working in the interests of the French Orphan's Fund. He will return to this country for Christmas and then go back to France to continue his labors on behalf of the French children. He has been able to accomplish a good deal in his line of work.

Dr. Kidder and Dr. Guthe continue work upon the results of their labors at Pecos Pueblo. Much of the pottery found in the ruins has been restored. Their collections are large and very important.

Mr. Moorehead, the curator, will deliver a lecture at Portland, Maine, the 28th, upon the explorations in that state made by the Department during the past ten years. The report upon the investigations among the shell-heaps and cemeteries of Maine is now being written and the Department hopes to have it published sometime during the winter. Up to the end of last season the field, the expeditions had covered over 5,000 miles by canoe, wagon, or on foot, and some three hundred ancient Indian sites had been visited and many of them explored. Three hundred and thirty graves have been examined to date.

Harvard Club Movies

The secretary of the Harvard club of Andover yesterday received a telegram from "Bob" Fisher that he would be unable to come to Andover this evening as originally planned. Fisher was to head a delegation for a Harvard smoker this evening, but the smoker was to be abandoned in order to allow the whole school to hear him in the gymnasium in place of the usual motion picture entertainment. Fisher found his presence necessary at an important football game to-day. As it is too late to order any films, there will be no pictures shown at the gymnasium this evening.

Princeton Triangle Club

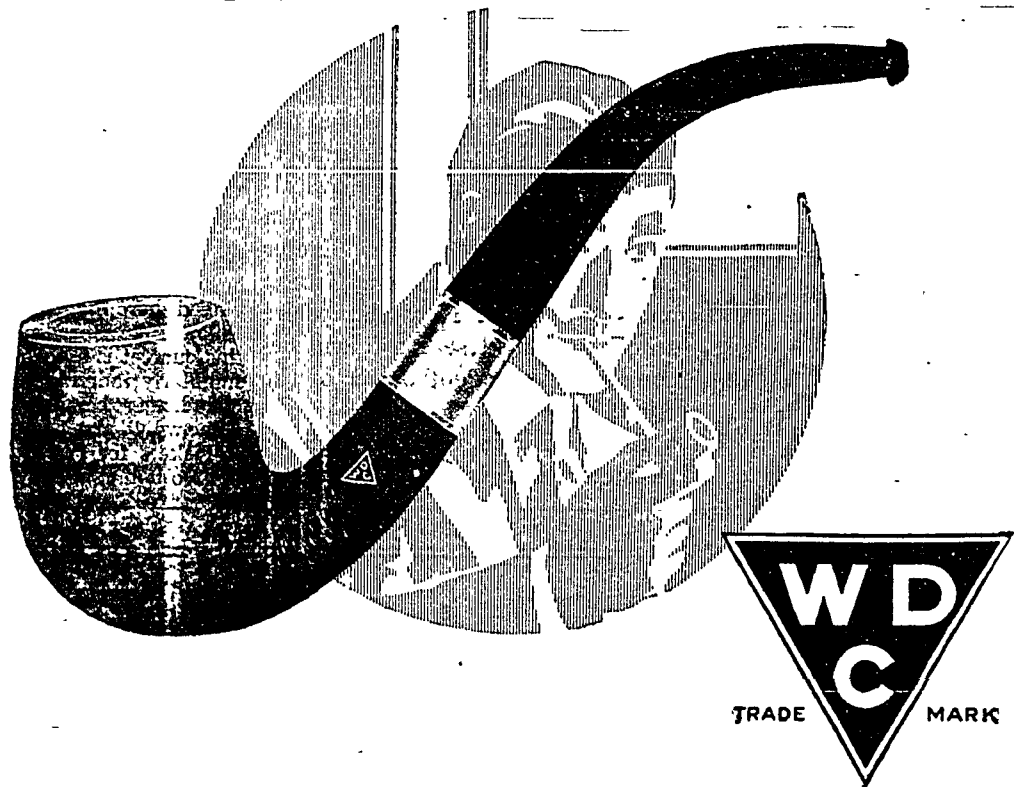

After a lapse of three years the Princeton Triangle Club will resume its annual Christmas trip with a production entitled the "Isle of Surprise." Although the club was reorganized last winter, its activities due to the late opening of the University, were restricted to one showing in New York and four in Princeton. However, this show which was conducted on a purely amateur basis met with such success that the club will again aim to keep the production an entirely non-professional, representative, Princeton affair.

"The Isle of Surprise," styled as "an Oriental Melo-Farce with Musical Accompaniment," was written by E. Harris, 1920, president of the club, and E. H. Coffey, 1920. The scene of the play is laid on an island in the Arabian Sea and three elements are introduced: the Indo-Mohammedan, the British military, and the American. This gives a warm oriental atmosphere to the plot which is heightened by the dreamy music from the large, well-directed orchestra. In the music, too, a radical departure from former years has been made in that the composers, instead of using the ordinary Broadway musical comedy as an ideal, have followed the Gilbert and Sullivan opera with the result that the score contains selections which are in the main semi-classical, at the same time retaining a delightful undertone of syncopation and melody. The entire production this year is directed toward drawing out the best Princeton talent along musical, dramatic, artistic, mechanical and practical lines.

The Princeton Triangle Club is an organization which grew out of the Princeton Dramatic Association in 1891, the year that Booth Tarkington was president. At that time the performances were only allowed in Princeton and Trenton, but in a few years the club grew in popularity so that a New York performance was allowed and a little later a real trip which has been taken annually with a few exceptions up to the present time. The schedule of this year's trip follows:

New York	December 18
Syracuse	December 19
Buffalo	December 20
Columbus	December 22
Chicago	December 23
St. Louis	December 24
Cincinnati	December 25
Cleveland	December 26
Pittsburg	December 27

This year two Andover men will take the trip during the Christmas vacation with the Princeton Triangle Club, W. E. Stevenson, P. A. '18 is one of the lieutenants in the chorus, and J. S. Montgomery, P. A. '15 is a coolie.

AMERICA is fast becoming a pipe smoking country. Every year more and more men are realizing the comfort, the satisfaction, and the economy of the pipe. And by natural selection, more and more men are smoking WDC Pipes. This is not chance. It is because WDC Pipes offer the utmost in pipe value. Honest French briar, seasoned by our own special process make WDC Pipes break in sweet and mellow. Coupled with that is a self-governed body of pipe makers whose sole object is to fashion pipes which are without peers in all the world. And it has been accomplished. Ask any good dealer.

then got trace of all the creditors or their nearest relatives and invited them all to a dinner. On each person's plate he laid a check for the amount which his father had owed the man.

A real Christian must also be filled with the sharing spirit of Christ or in other words, be self forgetful and endowed with a spirit of sacrificial service. This spirit was extremely noticeable during the war, but why should it disappear now when it is needed as much?

The last qualification of a Christian is that he be a custodian of Christ's person. Mr. Speer said that if a motto for the church was ever desired, he would suggest the three words, "We Carry Christ." For the church is really a body of men and women who carry Christ's word into the world, just as David Livingston fearlessly carried Christ's word through Africa, and thereby brought light to the darkness of the jungle.

As a summary, we are to understand that a true Christian is one who guards the principles which Christ stood for, who is a sharer of His spirit, and a bearer of His light.

Celebration for Return of Dr. Stearns

As Dr. Stearns and Dr. Fuess came home on Thanksgiving Day, the entire school collected at the gymnasium last night to give them a "Welcome Home." The notice was given out at a school meeting in the morning and almost everyone was on hand to join in the celebration. At about quarter past seven the parade started for Dr. Stearns' house, to the marching cheer of "A-N-D-O-V-E-R — RAH-RAH-RAH." When it arrived, red lights were stuck in the ground and everyone edged in close to the lawn. After a few words by "Heinie" Pole, as president of the school, the school began shouting "We want Al— We want Al!" and in a few moments Dr. Stearns came out into the glare of the red fire on the walk. He told how glad they all were on the West coast when the news of the game came over the wire, and congratulated "Fred" Daly, "Bud" Adams, and the team for the splendid spirit they had shown.

When he had finished, the parade moved up to Dr. Fuess's house on Main street, and he consented to say a few words in response to repeated calls. He said that the spirit which the alumni showed in pushing the drive for the Endowment Fund along was the same as that shown by the school in backing the team at Exeter. After a long cheer, he returned inside, and with a "Long Andover," the parade broke up.

Chapel Speaker

The speaker at both services tomorrow will be the Rev. Mr. Stackpole, the academy minister. Mr. Stackpole did excellent service in France as a chaplain last year with the 26th division and as a result was awarded the Croix de Guerre by the French government.

Phillipiana

An interesting thing to all P. A. men is the fact that four captains of University and college teams this year, once went to Andover. They are captains Billy Murray P. A. '14, of Harvard; "Tim" Callahan, P. A. '15, of Yale; West, P. A. '15, of Colgate, and "P. K." Phillips, P. A. '16, of Amherst. All are winners of their "A's" except Phillips, who played on his class team here.

On Wednesdays

Club Team Captains Chosen

"Dick" Orchard has been elected captain of next year's Saxon football team. He plays in both the backfield and at end. The Saxon expect to do a great deal better next fall than they did this fall.

Ray Clark was chosen to lead the Saxon soccer team for next fall and Brandman was elected manager. Clark's position is right inside, while Brandman's is left inside. As quite a few of this year's regulars will be back, the Saxon soccer team hopes to do even better next year than they did this season.

At the Gaul soccer meeting, H. A. MacDonald was elected to lead the champion soccer team next season. MacDonald's position is left halfback, which he plays with credit. French was elected manager; he plays left outside. The Gauls will also have quite a few men back next year and hope to repeat and capture the soccer championship two years in succession.

Perry, the Greek soccer captain, was re-elected and will again lead his team. He and Randall were the mainstays of the Greek team which ended up in second place, losing the last game to the Gauls. Perry's position is left inside, while Randall plays right outside.

Joseph C. Dupont, Jr., '20, was elected captain of the Second football team Monday afternoon. He was also a member of last year's second team and plays tackle. Dupont expects to enter Yale next fall.

cent increase will also be paid all men who resume work. It is expected by the operators that many miners will be drawn to the mines.

Princeton Delegation

On to-morrow evening a delegation from Princeton University will speak at Inquiry. The group will consist of five old Andover men who were prominent in school and are now taking an active part in the life at Princeton. "Bill" Stevenson '18, Elliot Speer, "Bill" Morgan, and "Sherry" Day will be among those who will speak. It is necessary that a large number should come out and hear what these men have to say. They are coming up and sacrificing their time to speak, and in return they should receive a warm welcome. Meetings will be held in the respective dormitories on Monday evening at which these men will give informal talks. Whether you are going to Princeton or not, come and hear what these fellows have to say, for their talks will be based on vital, every-day topics.

Notice is given at this time to inform those who have pledged money to the Inquiry budget that the payments on these will be due very soon. The collection of this money will be made probably the beginning of next week. Please see that you have the money ready, as the financial work must be ended this term.

Entertainment on Wednesday

Last Wednesday evening an entertainment was given in the gymnasium for the benefit of the men who were forced to remain in town over the Thanksgiving recess. Very few members of the faculty were present because of the weather.

The pictures shown were a Bray Pictograph, a Keystone Comedy and "Under the Top," a Universal release in which Fred Stone took the leading role.

After the entertainment refreshment consisting of ice cream and cake were served. The performance was concluded at 9.30 o'clock.

SCHOOL OR CLASS PICTURES

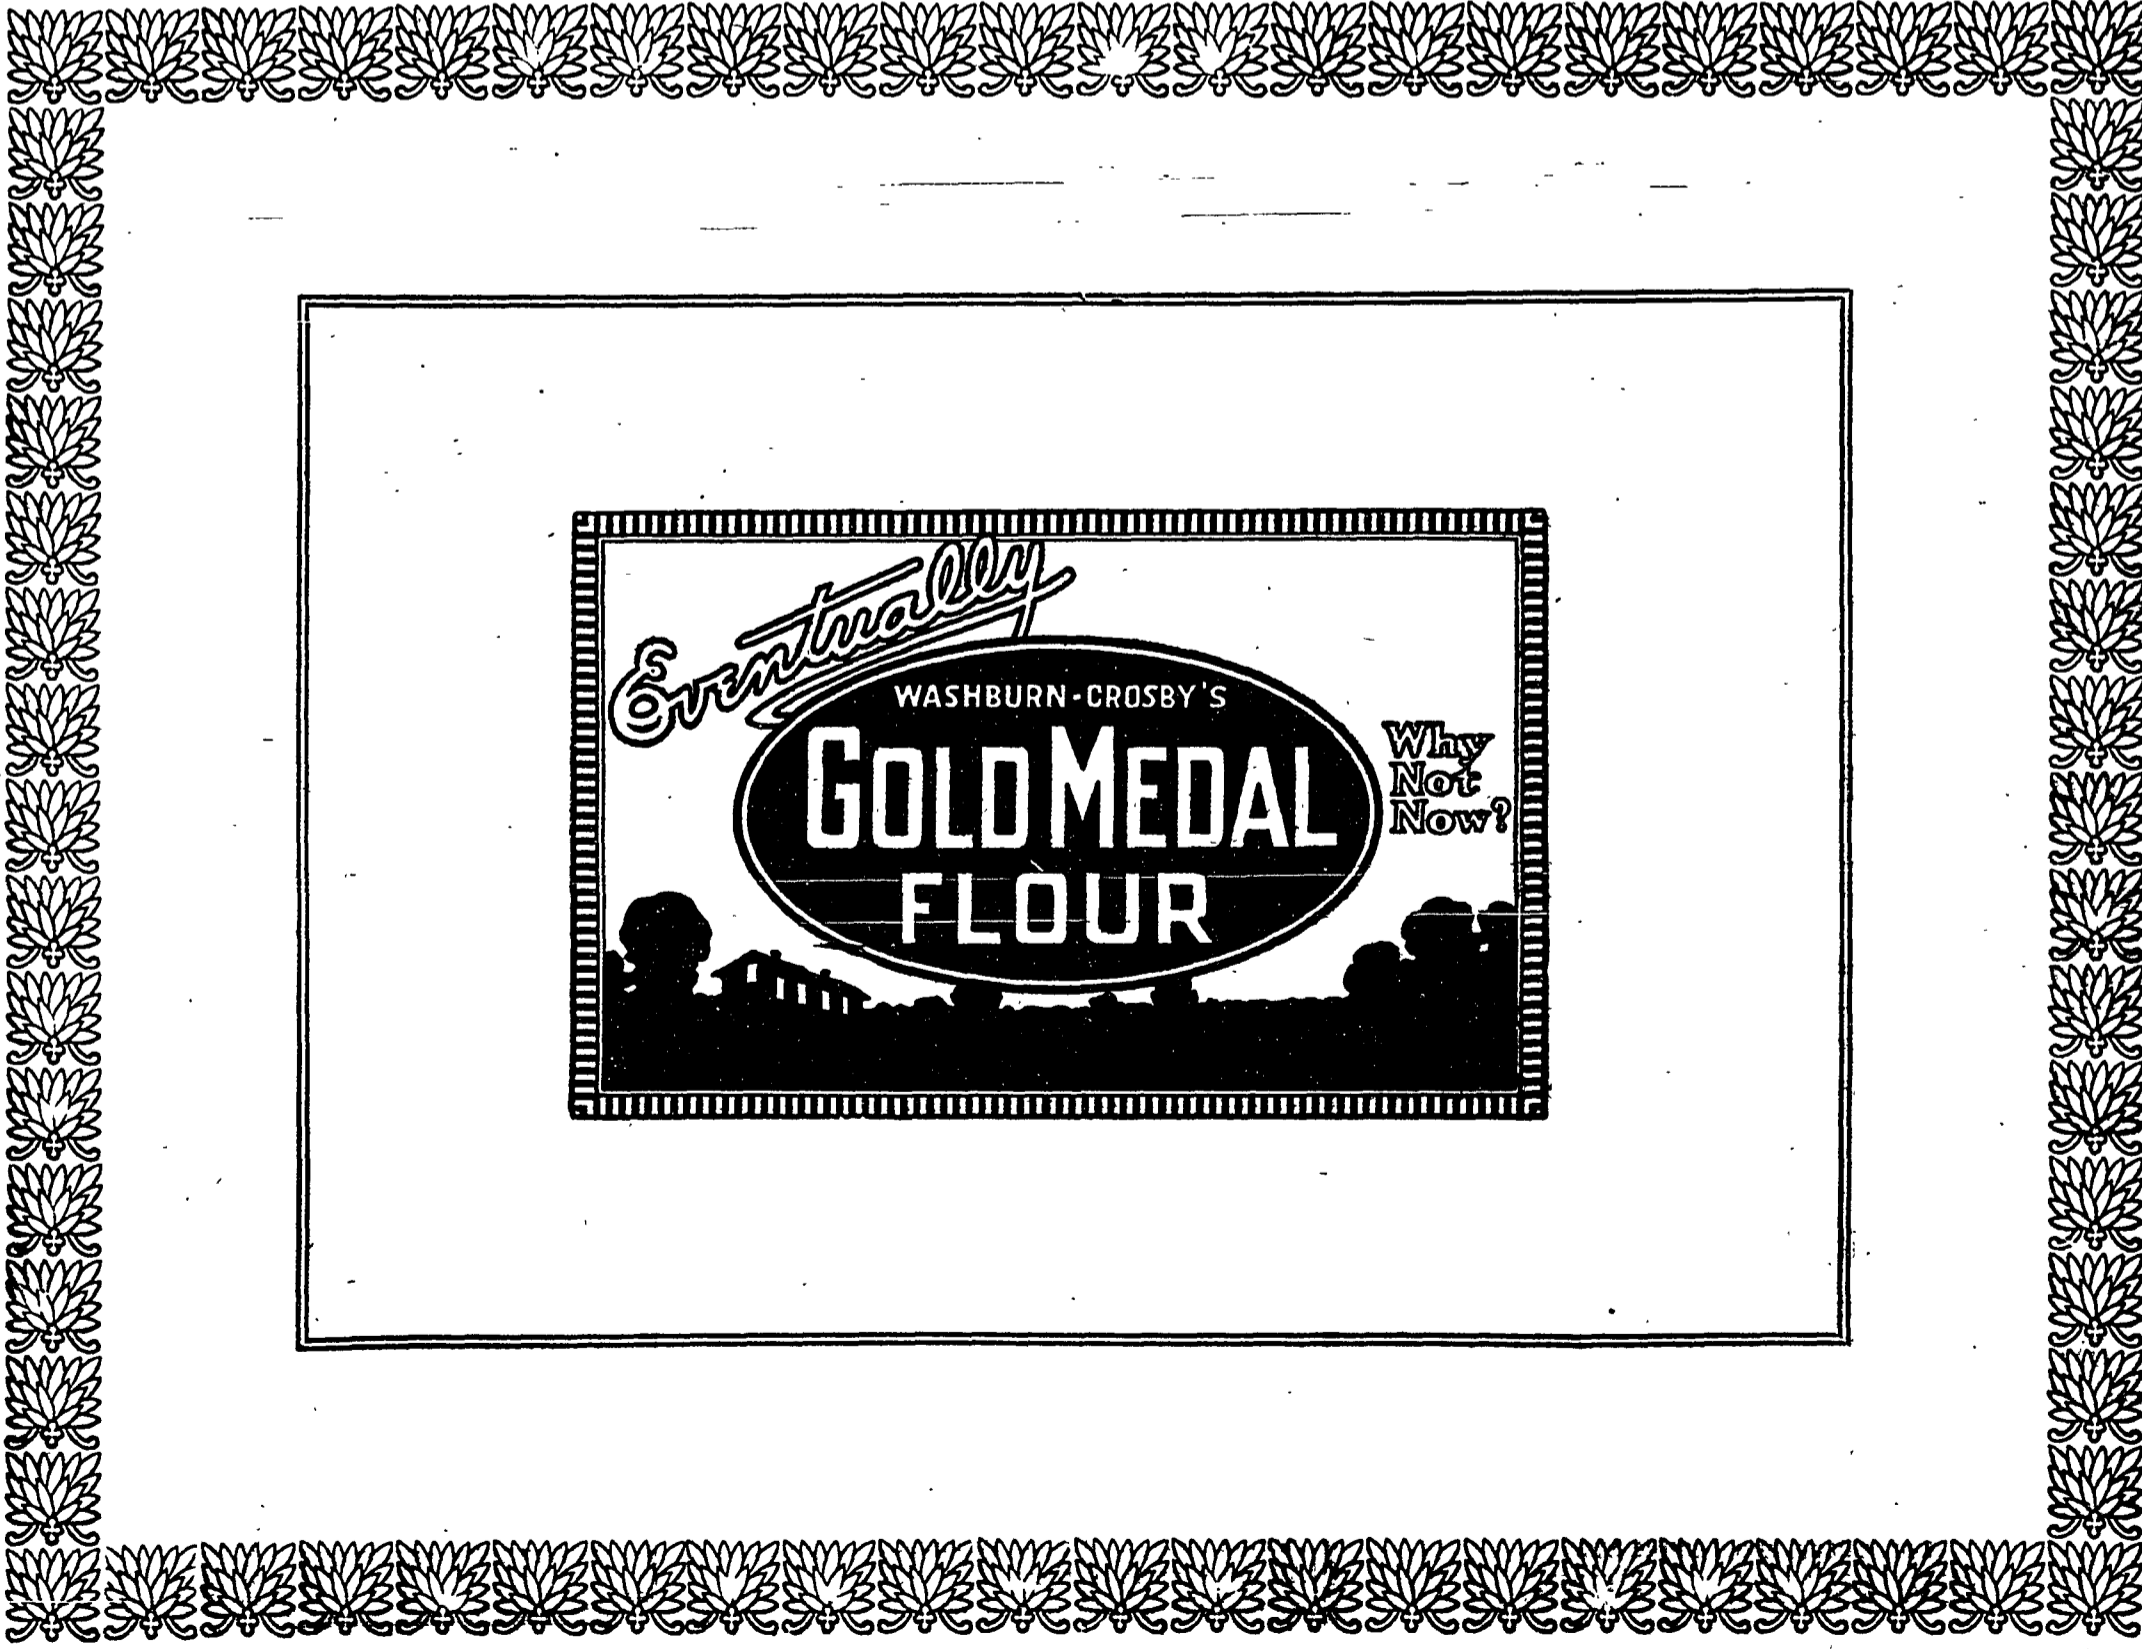

Will be taken as soon as possible after Oct. 26 on suitable cloudy mornings after chapel

Students will receive order blanks to facilitate the finishing and delivery of the pictures by the school agents, and others desiring pictures can fill blank below and mail to
