WRESTLERS DEFEAT HARVARD FRESH, 13-11

PARNALL SECURES FALL IN LAST BOUT TO WIN MATCH

Last Saturday, within three minutes of the finish of a remarkably close meet, Parnall, heavyweight of the Andover wrestling sextet, threw Reynolds of Harvard Freshmen, thus winning the contest by the slight margin of two points, the score being 13-11. Andover's only scores by falls were by Yamaguchi and Parnall, first and last men in the lineup. Capra received a time advantage, in an exceedingly well fought bout, over Solano, Harvard's champion. A short decision was won over McGauley and Frazier, and Flarsheim meeting much stronger opposition this week than he did last, was thrown after a hard fight.

The first match was between Capt. Yamaguchi of Andover and Henchel of Harvard Freshmen. Yamaguchi started with a quick dash and, obtaining what looked like a throw hold, held Henchel's shoulders within an inch of the mat for a few seconds. A score for Andover appeared inevitable. Just in time the freshman recovered a hold and squirmed from Yamaguchi's grasp. Again he went down, and this time Yamaguchi didn't let him get away. In one skillful move, he pinned his opponent's shoulders down and gained five points for the Blue. His time was 2 min. 1 sec. Score 5-0.

In the 125-lb. class, Dolan caught Flarsheim's legs shortly after the start of the bout, nearly throwing him. Flarsheim wriggled over on his stomach, however, where he remained during a lapse of a few seconds in which neither grappler obtained any distinct advantage. Finally Flarsheim struggled to his feet, and here Dolan got the chance he had been waiting for. With one master move he tripped and threw his assailant to the mat, and shortly the bout ended with a score for Harvard. Dolan of the yearlings had thrown Flarsheim of Andover in 3 min. 2 sec. Score, 5-5.

At the start of the 135's, McGauley immediately took the aggressive against Evans and, after a skillful shifting of holds, worked the freshman under him. He kept him there while he felt for a new hold. He almost got it, but Evans, sensing his motives, wriggled free. The two had displayed considerable strength thus far. Evans, taking an advantage which came to him when McGauley was endeavoring to change holds, almost threw his opposer, but McGauley dragged him off the mat just in time. They engaged once more, Evans being given the same hold as before, but this time McGauley, after his brief rest, forced himself onto his stomach where he remained for a while. Both contestants were, by this time, pretty well tired out, and the match was beginning to lack speed. Evans had been holding the upper hand for quite a time, but could gain nothing more. A quick body upheaval by McGauley almost dislodged his grip, but he again got on top. Once more the two went off the mat. Upon returning, Evans tried for a half-nelson, but McGauley slipped out. Many attempts were made by the

MELROSE TO OPPOSE BLUE SEXTET TODAY

HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTS A POWERFUL AGGREGATION

Melrose High School, champions of the New England schoolboys last season, face the Blue sextet at the Brothers' Field rink early this afternoon.

Although weakened by the loss of veteran material, these ex-champions have a sextet which is one of the best in suburban circles. Their team, however, with the exception of a few minor losses, is practically a veteran one. Their victories have not been many, but always the games have been closely contested. Many of the smaller suburban towns have fallen before their terrific onslaught, but Newton and Yale Freshmen were too good and Melrose was handily beaten by both. Newton High is picked as this season's championship squad, while Yale Freshmen have a group of brilliant skaters and puck carriers.

At left wing, Armstrong will probably start, while J. Harris will fill in. Both of these men are fast and can cage the puck from almost any angle. The first-named scored one of the best goals ever witnessed at Melrose rink, a long back-hand shot from nearly mid-rink.

At center will be Cushman, who, although not as clever and flashy as Lloyd was, can compare favorably with the best in the schools.

Ross or Maihoit is slated for right wing position. Both, although not as fast as Cushman, can play the boards well and have been in the lead in scoring. Defense positions are well covered by K. Harris and Keating. Both are heavy enough to use the body-check effectively, while still they are fast enough to carry the puck up the ice frequently. The star of the team, however, is McHugh, the goalie. By his clever use of his stick, he has stopped countless numbers of shots which seem sure to go in. At New Haven last week in the contest with Yale Freshmen, he broke up nearly every scoring attempt and made many difficult stops against Palmer, the yearlings' star. This is no little feat, for the latter is named as the best freshman player in the East.

The Blue will line up much the same as in previous games. Coach Merewether has not been able to give his charges much practice on account of the poor ice, but believes that their experience will offset much of this handicap. Only one game has been played to date, so that if the team does meet Melrose this afternoon, it will be their first real test. Captain Luce will be at his old center position, ready to put Andover in the lead at the very beginning. He will be flanked by Walker and Frost. Such a forward line can not play long without scoring, for every man is a star in his place. McDougall and Lamont will be in defense positions, backed by Kimball. The former can use the body-check very effectively on his weight, but Lamont, although considerably lighter is very clever and can outguess most of the opposing players. Of the goalluard, nothing much need be said, for he is a veteran of two years, and is proficient with both

CLUB SWIMMING NOTICE

All those wishing to enter the club swimming meets this afternoon are requested to report at the pool at three o'clock. The Romans and Saxons will oppose the Greeks and Gauls, respectively. Everyone who likes the sport should come out today to see what he can do. Fine training is assured.

CLUB SEASONS OPEN IN WRESTLING AND BASKETBALL

This afternoon the Greeks and Gauls, and the Romans and the Saxons will meet in the second wrestling matches of the season. Last Wednesday the Saxons proved that they had a powerful team by a 30-3 victory over the Gauls; the Romans also won by defeating the Greeks 19-7. This match will decide the club most likely to win the club championship.

The probable lineup will be:

GREEKS

112-lb.—Rowland.
119-lb.—Guyer.
129-lb.—Brett.
139-lb.—McDowell.
149-lb.—D. L. Bassett.
159-lb.—Ogden.
169-lb.—Lockhart.

GAULS

112-lb.—Noyes.
119-lb.—Sheldon.
129-lb.—
139-lb.—Broomell.
149-lb.—Hutter.
159-lb.—W. Field.
169-lb.—Holbrook.

ROMANS

112-lb.—Kerr.
119-lb.—Elsas.
129-lb.—Cook.
139-lb.—Lowry (Capt.).
149-lb.—Tate.
159-lb.—Fouke.
169-lb.—Eastman.

SAXONS

112-lb.—F. L. Sheldon.
119-lb.—Stanbon.
129-lb.—S. Kellogg.
139-lb.—Nordhaus (Capt.).
149-lb.—Keedy.
159-lb.—Camden.
169-lb.—Adriance.

This afternoon the club basketball season will open with the Gauls playing the Saxons and the Romans meeting the Greeks.

In the Saxon-Gaul game, the Saxons, who are coached by Mr. Roth, are at a great disadvantage, because of the sickness of their star forward, Gary, and their best guard, Ingelfinger. However, they have Dorman at center and Adler at forward, who are both veterans of last year. The Gauls, coached by Lyon, of the Varsity, seem to have a well balanced team but lack stars. Roe should show up very well at center.

The line for the Saxon-Gaul game will be as follows:

SAXONS	GAULS
Adler, l.f.	l.f., Simmonds
Chaffey, r.f.	r.f., Caldwell
Dorman, c.	c., Roe
Gilmore, l.g.	l.g., Lynch
Clayton (Meyer), r.g.	r.g., Schreyer

In the Roman-Greek game, the Greeks should come out on top by a large margin. Evans and Ringland the forwards, and Bannon, center, are all veterans of last year's team. The Greeks are coached by Mr. Newton, which certainly adds a lot

FAMOUS EXPLORER TO LECTURE FRIDAY

CAPT. NOEL TO TELL ABOUT MT. EVEREST EXPEDITION

On the evening of Friday, January 28th, one of the most unusual as well as interesting lectures scheduled for this term will be given in George Washington Hall by Captain Noel, hero of the Mount Everest expedition. This lecture is doubly attractive, due to the fact that not only is Captain Noel a very interesting speaker; but, also, his lecture is to be illustrated by moving pictures which were taken by Captain Noel himself during that memorable attempt to scale the dizzy heights of the highest mountain in the world. As these wonder pictures are thrown on the screen, Captain Noel tells his own personal story of the purposes, the work and the tragic results of that famous expedition.

The expedition of 1924 set out with these purposes in view, namely: to travel over Tibet—the Unfriendly, to visit the fortress monasteries of the Lamas, to venture into valleys, snowfields, and glaciers never before seen by man, and, last but not least, to reach the summit of that wonderful and fascinating mountain, Mount Everest, which reigns supreme as the crowning glory of the Himalaya Mountains. In command of the expedition was the Honorable C. G. Bruce, C.B., a man of wide experience in mountain climbing. General Bruce was the leader, but left the actual climbing to younger men of whom Colonel Norton was in command. Captain Noel as official photographer; Sheppard, in charge of transportation and luggage; Dr. Hingston, doctor and naturalist; those intrepid assistants, Irvine and Mallory, who now sleep the sleep of everlasting peace in the snows near the top; and Odell, McDonald, Somerville, and Beetham, whose names are now gilt-lettered in the Book of Adventure, scaled to a height of twenty-eight thousand feet. Five hundred others took active part in establishing food stations, camps, and equipment relays, and in doing all that they could to make possible the success of the expedition.

Not only do the pictures show the actual work of the attempts to scale Mount Everest, but they also visualize the people, customs, and country of quaint Tibet, the land of Lamas, prayer-wheels, dirt, Polyandry, Taks, and buttered tea. Everything is topsy-turvy in this peculiar country. A woman may have several husbands, but a man can have but one wife. Here it is that the sacred valleys are found, "The Jewel of the Lotus Flower," the Mani stones, the quaint monasteries where the Lamas dwell in solitude and meditation. Here it is that the life of no wild creature, bird, or even insect may be taken—a truly admirable virtue of Buddhism, for the Buddhists believe that every animal is a reincarnated human soul.

Many people undoubtedly ask what the reasons for this expedition were. There can be but one answer to this:—the lure of the Unknown; The will-o'-the-wisp of the Great Beyond; The indefinable

BASKETBALL TEAM OVERWHELMS CLARKE

CAPT. AVERY HIGH SCORER IN BLUE'S 42-21 VICTORY

Andover's basketball team triumphed over the strong Clarke School team from Hanover, New Hampshire, by a score of 42-21.

The passwork and shooting ability of the blue and white team showed great improvement over the last game. Captain Avery was the star of the contest, for he furnished twenty-two out of Andover's forty-two points. No shot seemed too difficult for him; he caged them from any angle on the floor. Frigard was the next highest scorer with eleven points to his credit. Loeb, at the other forward position, was also a valuable asset in the team work. Field and Lyon again proved themselves capable guards, for more than once, when the Clarke School attack seemed impregnable, they broke it up to save the red team from running up a high score.

Stewart was the star of the visitors. He proved himself both a great offense and defense man. However, Farrington was a source of much trouble to the Academy team. The lads from New Hampshire seemed tired, for that was the third game they had played in four days.

FIRST QUARTER

Field got the tip off and dribbled near the basket, narrowly missing a field goal. Frigard scored right after that as a result of good passing. Andover fouled and Clarke made the one point. Stewart scored a short shot to gain the lead for his team. Clarke fouled Avery, who made both free throws. Farrington came back with a field goal for his team. Avery batted one in from a scramble under the basket. Clarke called time out. Andover's passwork improved materially about this time. Frigard scored a short one right after play started again. Farrington deceived Lyon and put one over his head for two more points. Avery dribbled in and scored just as the quarter ended.

SECOND QUARTER

Roalo was sent in for Wood and Loeb for Frank. Frigard scored a field goal, and the Blue passwork remained good. Andover fouled, and Clarke failed to score on the free throws. Clarke fouled Loeb, who missed both tries, and Avery tried valiantly but vainly to bat it in. Avery scored on a beautiful shot from one corner. Field dribbled in and looped a short one. Twice in succession Andover fouled and Clarke failed to add any points by the free throw route. After this last free throw Andover worked the ball down under their basket to let Avery score. Wood was sent back in and Roalo came out. Andover and Clarke School both fouled as the half ended, but neither team scored on the free throws.

Andover 18, Clark 7.

THIRD QUARTER

Avery and Loeb scored immediately after the toss-up. Andover fouled and Clarke School made the free throw. Stewart scored in a mix-up under the basket. Avery lifted one in from under his own basket. McDonough was sent in

THE ANDOVER PRESS

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 26, 1927

Every year a great number of entertainments are brought here for the benefit of the student body. For some reason or other, however, we fellows do not take advantage of these opportunities. The school now has a fine large auditorium, in which any kind of diversion may be held, but the support given by the Academy is insufficient to merit these opportunities.

Some weeks ago when the English Singers were here, a fairly large crowd turned out to listen to these gifted persons. They seemed well amused by the concert, but when another equally great musical attraction came along, only one hundred and sixty-three persons attended. Of these, about one-third were visitors. It is absolutely unfair to the School not to show our appreciation by attending them.

Furthermore, we are unfair to ourselves. The entertainments also teach us the beauty of music, besides merely contributing a very pleasant evening. Each concert, recital, or lecture is a small education in itself. Each one presents to us the beauty of music or knowledge of interesting facts. The price of admission to these is usually nothing, or at least, very little; so this cannot be the reason for small attendance. It isn't the time that is so valuable, for many fellows might be doing nothing whatever at this time.

Regardless of all this, however, the student does not take advantage of his opportunities and does not show any appreciation for what the School is trying to do for him.

force that has spelled progress throughout the ages; the massing of Brain and Brawn to hurdle the Insurmountable. Such was the inspiration back of the attempts to scale the dizzy heights of Mount Everest, the unconquerable.

Everest is the Roof of the World; Everest is the majestic, where skies caress the ice and snow; where zero gales sweep by a hundred miles an hour; where man, so far, has proved himself a giant among his fellow beings—yet a feeble ant in the great Plan of things. How the Gods on old Olympus must have smiled at those tragic efforts of man to reach heights far beyond their throne. For Olympus is but a footstool to the highest mountain in all the world.

The climax of the lecture is the recital of the tragic events that lead up to the death of Irvine and Mallory. It was Captain Noel who caught the last pictures of that courageous pair when they set out to conquer the last eight-hundred feet of Everest with oxygen tanks on their backs. This in itself is one of the most graphic and dramatic stories ever told. Those two heroes were within six hundred feet of the summit when the camera caught them for the last time; what happened from that point on no one will ever know.

The story of Captain Noel's is one of absorbing interest. The pictures are priceless and, during the past year, were the sensation of England, France, and Germany. Surely this is an opportunity too good to be missed, and it is urged that all students attend this lecture.

Mr. Moorehead's Lecture

Last Monday evening at seven o'clock in Peabody House, Mr. Moorehead delivered a lecture quite different from those which he gave in the earlier part of the year. His topic was "The American Indians," and his exceptional knowledge in this field enabled him to give the best talk of the season.

First, he spoke of Big Thunder, whose son died after winning the marathon in the Olympics; next of Uncas, Cooper's brave Indian, and of other brave redmen.

Slides of Sitting Bull were shown at various times throughout the lecture. Sitting Bull was not the warrior that we supposed him to be, but merely a great medicine man among his people. He received his name on a hunting trip when one of his arrows went through the spine of a bull buffalo. Although the bull was not instantly killed, he died in a sitting posture, and from that incident Sitting Bull received his name.

During the course of the talk, many pictures of fights against the United States Cavalry were shown. These slides were not actual photographs, but etchings and drawings from accounts.

As a sort of intermission Mr. Moorehead told of Jim Thorpe, the greatest Indian athlete. Several interesting accounts of football games in which Carlisle participated were told.

Mr. Moorehead continued by describing an Indian village of 1832. The houses were made of mud with supports of large trees. They were built in a circle, the center of which was used for games and dances. The favorite game was lacrosse. All the warriors played in this game, while the women lined up as a cheering section. Many bets were placed on these games. The stakes were horses, blankets, beads, shells, or any available thing.

The concluding topic was a comparison of present day styles with those of the redskins.

Baseball Schedule

Manager Bennett has made out the baseball schedule for the coming spring, and has arranged games with all the leading prep schools in this part of the state. The schedule contains only three open dates which Bennett expects to fill soon. The team will make two trips this year, to New Haven, where they will play the Yale Freshmen, and to Exeter, where they will engage our time-honored rivals. The schedule is as follows:

April 21—Huntington (tentative).

April 27—Open.

April 30—Wentworth.

May 4—Open.

May 7—Yale Freshmen (at New Haven).

May 11—Dean Academy.

May 14—Dartmouth Freshmen.

May 18—Harvard Seconds.

May 21—Open.

May 25—Holy Cross Freshmen.

May 28—Worcester Academy.

May 30—Harvard Freshmen.
June 1—St. John's Preparatory School.

June 8—St. Anselm's.

June 11—Exeter at Exeter.

All games at Andover unless otherwise stated.

for Stewart. Loeb scored again. Time out.

Frank was sent in for Loeb, Hoffman for Avery and G. Smith for Field.

Farrington added two points to his team's total. Clarke made a technical foul, but Lyon missed the free throw. Andover fouled and Clarke missed. Clarke fouled again and Andover again failed on the free throws. Wood scored two baskets right after this.

FOURTH QUARTER

Avery, Field, and Loeb, came back in. Clarke fouled and Frigard scored one out of two tries. Avery scored again, and was followed by two more points from Lyon. Andover fouled and Clarke School missed their two chances. Avery and Field both scored field goals.

Time-out for Clarke School.

Farrington scored right after play was resumed. McDonough also looped in a field goal. Andover's passwork was not so good right at this minute. Frigard scored, and Andover fouled. Clarke, however, missed both free shots. Andover made a technical foul which Clarke failed to take advantage of. Clarke then made a point when Andover fouled again. Field scored on a free throw. Avery put in two beautiful shots as the game ended.

his feet and his stick. There are only a few games before the team meets Exeter, so the showing today will mean much in the choice of the men to receive their letters. Rosenfeld, Rugg, and Pierce will doubtless relieve the regulars and will surely give a good exhibition of clever passwork and shooting. MacCarteney and Hillis are likely to be sent in at defense positions. Although they both lack the experience of the regulars, they put up a fine showing in the opening game, and should cause more than a little trouble for Melrose. Henderson, a veteran, is slated to replace Kimball, and should do fully as well. His showing against the varsity has been excellent in practice.

Track Meet

Last Saturday an intersquad track meet was held in the Case Memorial Cage. In the running events there were the 1000-yard, 600-yard, 300-yard runs, the 40-yard dash, and the 40-yard low hurdles. Due to the lack of sufficient space, there could be held in the field events only the shot put, broad jump, high jump, and pole vault.

All the times turned in for the running events were good, but, since it is quite early in the season, better times are expected later on. In the 1000-yard run, Fobes made the best time. Marsh, who was a good second behind, pressed Fobes and made a strong finish. Although Marsh did not press the first man too hard, nevertheless he will be fine material to work with for the coming spring track meets. Bacon ran a fast 600-yard run and also looks like a promising candidate. The time for this race was just 3 4-5 seconds more than the school record. Dorman finished second. In the 300-yard run there were held three heats. The first of these heats, which was won by Wheeler, was by far the fastest of the three. Wheeler who was unable to remain on the relay squad because of his studies, is one of the fastest men in school and will probably run the 100 and 220-yard dashes in the spring. The second heat was won by Bates, with Crandall close on his heels. Baldwin won the third, while Clark came in a very close second. The two heats, one an elimination heat, the second the final, were run off in the 40-yard dash. Clark won the first heat in 5 seconds. Bates came in second, both qualifying for the finals. In the finals Wheeler came in first in a close finish with Clark second and Bates third. There were only three men out for the 40-yard low hurdles, making it necessary only to run off one heat. Pelletreau proved himself better than his two opponents, winning by a good margin.

Quite good results were turned in in the field events. Vaill, vaulting from scratch, easily cleared 11 feet 3 inches, and almost cleared 11 feet 9 inches; and Whiting, vaulting with a handicap, won this event. Moore jumped 5 feet 9 inches, but failed to jump higher after four attempts. Richardson cleared 5 feet 8 inches very easily, but was unable to make another inch. In the broad jump five competitors jumped over 17 feet. Norris led these with a jump of 19 feet and 8 inches. In the last field event, Kingston, putting from scratch, was unable to make up for the handicaps of the other competitors, although he did put the shot 44 feet and 5 inches. With a handicap, Roe won this with a put of 45 feet and 11½ inches.

The results were:

40-yd. dash, first heat—Clark, 5 seconds, Bates, Swift. Finals, Wheeler 5 seconds, Clark, Bates.

45-yd. low hurdles—Pelletreau, 5.4 sec., Tate, Cullen.

Inter-squad Swimming

Since there was no swimming meet on Saturday afternoon, Coach Duke chose two teams from the members of the squad and held one between these. The Blue team won from the White by the score of 43-36. As there were enough men to make up more than two teams, there were two relay races, and two 100-yard dashes. Excellent times were made by the men in practically all the distances. R. G. Anderson swam the 100-yard back stroke in the remarkable time of 1 minute 13 2-5 seconds, which is 1 2-5 seconds better than the present school record. It is hoped that he will be able to repeat this performance in a meet, for then it would be considered official. The Blue relay, made up of the regular Varsity swimmers, did the distance in the fine time of 1 minute 48 seconds, while Jeffery made the 200-yard swim in but three seconds from the pool record.

Westfall covered the hundred yards in the good time of 59 2-5 seconds. The results of this meet show that the team is capable of making a fine performance, and ought to come out victor in the majority of the remaining meets. If some of the men now ineligible get off the no-excuse list at the rating, the prospects will be even brighter.

The summary of events was as follows:

Relay: Won by Blue (McDuffie, Jeffery, Swoope, Westfall). Time, 1:48.

Dive: Won by B. C. Smith (B); Brainard (W), 2nd; Kimball (W), 3rd.

50-yard dash: Won by Swoope (B); Carpenter (W), 2nd; Noyes (W), 3rd. Time, 26 4-5 (McDuffie disqualified).

Back stroke: Won by Anderson (W); Paine (B), 2nd; Thompson (W), 3rd. Time, 1:13 2-5.

200-yard swim: Won by Jeffery (B); Jackson (W), 2nd; Pullman (W), 3rd. Time, 2:24 2-5.

Breast stroke: Won by Smith (W); Erskine (B), 2nd; Bench (W), 3rd. Time, 1:23 2-5.

100-yard dash: Won by Westfall (B); Douglas (W), 2nd; Habberley (W), 3rd. Time, 59 2-5.

Fencing

Club fencing competition is to be started tomorrow. None of the men who have been retained on the Varsity squad will be permitted to compete. These are Captain Beckwith, Pearl, Durell, Moser, and Murray. As there was a deficiency in the number of the men for each club, four teams of four men each have been chosen, and these will compete for numerals, the winning quartet receiving their reward. This eliminates the foolish situation which occurred last year, when the Gaul team was composed of three varsity fencers.

Tomorrow the bouts will be between team numbers one and two, consisting of Atherton, Greenway, and Jones, with Tilden as alternate for the first team, and Wolff, Upham, and Piper of team two, with W. Murray as substitute. Cooper, Mathews, and Rich will make up team number three, while their opponents will be Mitchell, Ledyard, and Wilder. McLean and Stetson are their extra men. These matches ought to be quite exciting, for all the fencers are of approximately equal experience, making the matches very close.

The Varsity has been holding regular practice, and ought to be in fine form for its first match on February 16, with Boston English High. All the men have had previous experience to back them up, and show excellent promise for the coming season. As far as can be determined now, the team will consist of Captain Beckwith, Durell, and Pearl, but both Moser and Murray are close behind these three.

latter to get over his opponent, but none entirely succeeded. Time was called, Evans having won by a decision of 4 min. 57 sec. Score 8-5.

The next match proved a change from the prevalent fast wrestling of the afternoon—Frazier of Andover facing Tage of Harvard. For the first few minutes both contestants kept on their feet, each trying for a hold which might gain an advantage. Nothing developed. They broke once, but immediately tangled as before. They broke again; then Frazier quickly put out his foot and tripped Tage, the latter immediately getting up and renewing the "standing" fight. Neither tried any offensive, but both were endeavoring to keep the other from a hold. After five minutes thus, Frazier obtained a grip which sent them both to the mat. Tage tried to gain his feet again, but Frazier pulled him back to the floor. They went off the mat with Tage holding the advantage. He soon lost it, however, and dragged Frazier, now on top, off the mat again. After this, Tage received and maintained the upper hand till time was called. He had won by time margin of 2 min. 21 sec. Score 11-15.

Capra, former Andover captain and renowned champion of the school, started what was anticipated to be a very interesting bout with Solano, champion of the Harvard sextet. Capra got the first hold in the one lightning move which characterizes the openings of all his bouts, nearly downing Solano. A quick twist saved the Harvard man, however, and he got a hold which almost finished Capra, but the Andover champion was not to be downed. He regained his upper position seemingly with no effort at all. Then he attempted a nelson which nearly succeeded, but his hands slipped and Solano got the wrist lock on him, and the two remained on the mat for a time, Capra on top. Two quick movements looked to prove a certain Waterloo for Solano, but the freshman eluded the danger just in time. In the resulting struggle an illegal hold was obtained by one of the men, and the two began again from their feet. Here was Capra's chance to use his famous opening grip. He tried it, but Solano cleverly slipped away. Time was called; Capra had won by 6 min. 10 sec. Score 11-8.

In the last match, Parnall of Andover was pitted against Reynolds of Harvard. The yearling's remarkable agility denied his weight, and he got Parnall to his knees in short order. A remarkable test of strength ensued, both trying for a fatal hold. Time was taken out while Reynolds replaced a shoe which had come off in the preceding struggle. Both got a brief but badly needed rest. They began again with Reynolds holding the upper hand. Parnall attempted to gain his feet. Reynolds held him back, but only for a second, for Parnall succeeded in getting up, and when he did it was to secure a valuable hold. The onlookers went wild as Referee Peck patted Parnall's back, thus announcing him winner of the match which won the meet. The time was 5 min. 37 sec. Final score 13-11.

Andover Group on Students Tour Awarded Cup

Last summer five Andover boys with one other boy in the group now in Exeter formed a group of the American Students Tour to Europe with groups from other schools such as Hill, Mercersburg, Taft, etc. Each year a medal is awarded to the representative boy of all the groups by vote of both student members and faculty. This was awarded to K. J. Barrows, 1927. The cup was awarded to the Andover group as being the best and most representative group of those represented. This cup is on exhibition, with one previously awarded, in the principal's reception room in George Washington Hall. The names on the cup are K. J. Barrows '27, C. A. Bovey '26, W. L. Smith '27, C. E. Clutia ex-'27, and D. C. Dunham '27. It speaks well for Andover boys in Europe that they have won the cup now for two consecutive summers.

The group this year will be under the direct charge of J. H. Dye of the principal's office, and the Andover representative as previously is Mr. Guy H. Eaton of the faculty. Circulars describing the tour may be obtained from either of these men and any information in regard to the trip.

It is hoped again to have a strong representative group from Phillips Academy on this tour. It is an ideal way to see worth while things in Europe with a group of allied school boys and at the same time have a most delightful vacation. If such a trip appeals to you, consult Mr. Eaton at once, as enrollments are being taken now for this summer. The group is limited to six boys.

Dr. Stearns On Western Trip

Last Sunday morning Dr. A. E. Stearns preached at the Culver Military Academy, Culver, Indiana. In the evening he gave an address before the Chicago Sunday Evening Club in Chicago. Monday noon he attended a luncheon for the new Western Board of Directors of the Alumni Fund, later addressing the students of the Chicago Latin School. Monday evening he attended the annual meeting of the Chicago Alumni Association, and on Tuesday addressed the members of the Cleveland Recreation League of Cleveland, Ohio.

Exeter Notes

Last Saturday the Exeter basketball team lost a hard fought game to Fitchburg Normal, by the score of 35-33. This game was so close that it was necessary to play three overtime periods before the game could be settled. Hemebright, the Exeter captain, was the individual star of his team, contributing fourteen points to the Exeter total.

Last Saturday in a very close meet, the Yale Fresh defeated Exeter in swimming, 33-29. The Exeter team broke the school relay record by 1 2-5 seconds. However, the Freshmen forged into the lead in the third event and were never headed afterwards.

The summary of events follows:

Relay—Won by Exeter (East-hagen, Loeser, R. V. Clark, Olmsted). Yale (Ashley, Morrison, Foster, Lindecke). Time: 1 min. 43 3-5 sec. (new Exeter record).

Dive—Won by Manuel (Y); second, Glasscock (Y); third, Godchaux (E).

50-yard dash—Won by Howland (Y); second, Olmsted (E); third, P. V. Clark (E). Time: 26 sec.

100-yard backstroke—Won by Cahill (Y); second, Murch (E); third, Howse (Y). Time: 1 min. 11 sec.

200-yard swim—Won by Howland (Y); second, Delima (E); third, McKay (E). Time: 2 min. 18 sec.

100-yd. breaststroke—Won by Nyce (Y); second, Cleveland (Y); third, Cutler (E). Time: 1 min. 15 sec.

100-yd. swim—Won by Loeser (E); second, N. N. Clark (E); third, Burke (Y). Time: 1 min. 1 sec.

The World Too Much

It seems to me that everybody needs occasionally to get away from people and things. They crowd in on you, so that you can't think things out, quietly and surely. Life gets all muddled up. You can't see where you are going. You don't know whether you are thinking your own thoughts or merely thinking the echoes of other people's.

I believe a place of escape keeps you from losing yourself, if you get away and find out whether the thing you are doing is what you really intended to do.—Glenn Hunter, in the American Magazine.

Frenchman's Discovery

In 1880, as a result of research, Count Hilaire de Chardonnet, a young French nobleman, gave to the world its first commercial successful process for producing rayon. This he accomplished in his laboratory by chewing up, chemically, not only the mulberry leaves, but also the tree itself, with very likely a few worms thrown in for luck. The fiber he produced so much resembled natural silk that it was termed "artificial silk," by which name it has been known until four years ago, when the word rayon was agreed upon by those who made and sold it.

Fierce When Cornered

The wounded animal, at bay, is a fierce fighter. He thirsts for the life of the man who has harmed him. Suddenly the hunter becomes the hunted, and must defend himself against the onrushes of his maddened quarry. Much has been said and written of this man-fighting propensity, which is possessed by nearly every creature of the wilds, and always it is an animal who brings the struggle to the hunter. A bird is never mentioned in this role, although a number of species rush to the attack with the readiness of the bear or moose.

F. E. Nyce, P. A. '26, won the breast stroke for the Yale Fresh, against Exeter in one minute and fifteen seconds. Yale won this meet by the score of 33-29.

W. Marshall, P. A. '26, wrestled in the 145-lb. class for Yale Fresh against Choate School. Marshall won his match by time advantage of six minutes and fifty seconds.

J. Bryant, P. A. '25, swam for Dartmouth and won the 50-yard dash in 25 seconds, the 100-yard free style in 57 3-5 seconds, and swam anchor man on the relay which won in 1 minute and 43 2-5 seconds.

B. Reiter, P. A. '26, has been showing up well in the Princeton Fresh wrestling tryouts and is expected to make the 158-lb. class.

On February 28th, Charles Borah, P. A. '25, will settle the speed question once and for all with Charles Paddock, World's champion runner for the 100-yd. dash. Last year Borah, a freshman at the University of Southern California, was nipped at the tape by Paddock's famous flying leap in the race that chalked up a 9.5 sec. world record. The Los Angeles Athletic Club, which Paddock represents, and California, are due to clash in the A. A. U. relays February 28th, the A. A. U. championships April 16th, and a dual meet on May 14th.

George Larson, P. A. '24, will represent Yale in the high jump at the B. A. A. track meet.

W. T. Healy, P. A. '24, seems to be the most promising man on the Princeton track team in the javelin throw.

Waterman, P. A. ex-'24, and Ward, P. A. '26, were high scorers for Harvard Fresh in their basketball game against Milton School.

Billhardt, P. A. '25, is playing on the Yale varsity basketball team.
