

BLUE SWIMMERS TO MAKE TRIP TO YALE

ELI FRESHMEN PRESENT FORMIDABLE LINEUP

This afternoon the blue natators will meet the Yale Freshmen at the New Haven pool.

The freshmen have downed Exeter in a 32-29 point meet, and had to fight to the very finish to do it. Therefore, the outcome of the meet today will give the Academy team a comparative line on how the ancient and time-honored Andover-Exeter meet will turn out.

In a recent meet with the New Haven High School, Fletcher Nyce, a member of last year's senior class here at Andover and captain of last year's swimming team, made the 100-yard breaststroke in the fast time of one minute, thirteen and one-fifth seconds. This is only four-fifths of a second more than the intercollegiate record for the distance. At Exeter this year the freshmen made the relay in about three seconds faster than Andover's best time. Westfall, however, should be able to better Howland's mark of twenty-six seconds in the 50-yard swim. In the back stroke, Cahill of Yale is capable of doing two seconds less than the Andover pool record of one minute and thirteen seconds, yet, as Paine and Anderson have both broken this record in practice, the race should be quite close. In the 200-yard swim, Howland has negotiated the distance in about six seconds less than Jeffrey's best time. Nyce also should capture the breast stroke with a time of about one minute and fifteen seconds. In the last event, the 100-yard, Westfall should win, according to comparative time; although it will be a close race at all events.

The probable lineup:

ANDOVER

- Relay—MacDuffie, Jeffery, Westfall, Capt. Swoope.
- Dive—B. C. Smith, Brainard.
- 50-yard dash—Westfall, Swoope.
- 100-yard back stroke—Paine, Anderson.
- 200-yard swim—Jeffery, Carpenter.
- 100-yard breast strike—R. C. Smith, Houston.
- 100-yard dash—Westfall, MacDuffie.

YALE

- Relay—Ashley, Morrison, Foster, Lindecke, or Ellis.
- Dive—Manuel, Glasscock.
- 50-yard dash—Howland and Foster, or Lindecke.
- 100-yard back stroke—Cahill, Howse.
- 200-yard swim—Guinn, Howland.
- 100-yard breast stroke—Nyce, Cleveland.
- 100-yard dash—Burke, and Paul, or Rappaport.

Phillipiana

J. Glendenning, P. A. '24, ran in second position on the Dartmouth Relay Team, which lost to Syracuse last Saturday in the B. A. A. games. Glendenning ran a fine race, overcoming a five-yard disadvantage.

O. A. Saunders and S. S. Quarrier, P. A. '24, have been elected to the Junior Prom committee at Yale.

BASKETBALL TEAM TO OPPOSE LOWELL HIGH

GAME SCHEDULED FOR 7.15

Andover's basketball team will meet Lowell tonight in an effort to stop its losing streak, which has continued through the last three games.

The visitors do not seem to have so much scoring ability, but they always seem to be able to hold their opponents to a very small score. Manchester and Haverhill beat Lowell, but by the small scores of 27-17 and 19-11. This shows lack of good forwards but remarkable guards. Whiteside and Koloska are the two probable guards. Each of these men is very good on the defense and is fairly good at shooting goals. Savard at center is also a competent all-around player. Reynolds will probably be one forward, and Monsgian will be his teammate. The High School has, however, many smaller suburban teams on its list of victories; all of which goes to prove that the game will be no runaway for the Blue.

Andover has been playing poorly in the last few games and should certainly take this chance of redeeming herself.

Captain Avery has been playing far below that of which he is capable and should certainly take a brace in this game. The team has missed countless free throws which would have proved invaluable if they had been taken advantage of. A good example of this is the St. John's game, where only one out of twelve free throws was scored. Any decent work in the foul shots of that game would have given the necessary points for victory. The rest of the team is going fairly well, and at times puts on sudden spurts that show she really is capable of good playing.

The lineup:

ANDOVER	LOWELL
Frigard, r.f.	r.f., Reynolds
Loeb, l.f.	l.f., Monsgian
Avery, c.	c., Savard
Field, r.g.	r.g., Whiteside
Lyon, l.g.	l.g., Koloska

Track Meet with the Harvard Fresh

This afternoon at three o'clock in the Case Memorial Cage, the Andover Track Team holds its first meet in which letter-men will be able to compete. The Andover team will be greatly strengthened by Kingston in the shot put, who ought to take first place in his event as he has been throwing the 12-lb. weight over 45 feet in practice.

The star of the yearling team, which is made up of former high and prep school stars, is Elsass who runs the 300. In the winter handicap track meet at Harvard which was held during this past weekend, in which all track men at Harvard participated, Elsass won the 300 in the very good time of 34 2-5 seconds.

The Yearlings also have a fast relay team which defeated Technology 1930, Dartmouth 1930, and Holy Cross 1930, in the B. A. A. games in a time which was 22-5 seconds faster than Exeter's time. Their team is

ROBERT C. MURPHY GIVES LECTURE ON SPERM WHALES

Last night in the George Washington Hall, Robert Cushman Murphy gave a very interesting lecture on the Way of the Sperm Whaler. Mr. Murphy has been connected with the American Museum of Natural History.

Dr. Fuess introduced the lecturer, who first spoke of the origin of the four-rigged whalers in Long Island. Whaling has had great influence upon all America, for it has carried our flag into all parts of the globe. The Yankees first controlled this industry, but now there is only one ship left, and that is manned entirely by Portuguese. This business was done on a cooperative basis; the captain getting about one twelfth of the profit, and the lowest men receiving very little. If more than one ship sighted a whale, the first boat to sink an iron in it had the right to claim it. After it had been killed with lances and pulled along side, strips of blubber were cut off and hauled aboard. Then the precious spermaceti was taken from the monster's head, and the carcass cut loose. Sharks and birds of prey then had a feast until the remains sank. Then the crew put the oil in barrels and the ship turned homeward. Here it was met with great rejoicing after its absence of three or four years.

"The Puritans"

Last Wednesday night at seven o'clock, Mr. Roth introduced "The Puritans," the first of a series of five or six films to be shown this term. These films were presented to the school and represent a rather valuable gift. They were produced under the auspices of Yale University.

Mr. Roth first stated that these pictures were not screen romances, but an accurate reflection of a part of our history and that they were not as amusing as educational. He went on to give a description of the Puritans and their principles. After this introduction had been completed, Mr. Roth expressed his thanks to the donor of the movies and to the audience for their interest in the history of their country.

This film, as the title suggests, depicted the early fortunes of the Puritans in this country. It showed how the Puritans defied the king when he attempted to revoke the Charter of the colony. Under the leadership of John Winthrop, the colonists weathered the seas of trouble and retained their Charter.

The second of this series, "Wolfe and Montcalm," the story of the conquest of Canada, will be shown next Wednesday in the Auditorium at the same time, seven o'clock.

Preacher

At chapel tomorrow, Rev. John Edgar Park, D.D., of Wheaton College, Norton, Massachusetts, will preach in both services.

ANDOVER HOCKEY SEXTET TO MEET RED AND GRAY IN ANNUAL CONTEST

WRESTLING TEAM TO FACE M. I. T. FRESHMEN

The Andover wrestling team will oppose the M. I. T. Freshmen in Boston this afternoon. Although the ability of the Tech wrestlers is yet quite vague, for they have held only one meet, nevertheless, both teams are said to be very strong, each having its outstanding men. In the freshmen's first meet against Brown '30, Tech was forced to forfeit the 145, 158, and unlimited classes, because of no representatives. Of the four matches held, Tech won two by decision and Brown won one by a decision, the other by a fall. However, today there will be men to wrestle in the 145, 158, and unlimited classes for the freshmen, although these have not yet been chosen.

In the 115-pound class, Captain Canton of the 1930 team will face Captain Yamaguchi of Andover. Canton is an experienced wrestler and had wrestled before entering Tech. Yamaguchi has a fine record so far and is sure to keep this up.

Perkins of Tech will wrestle in the 125-lb. class against Flarsheim. The freshman lost his first bout to his Brown opponent in a very short period of time. Flarsheim has been wrestling in many of the Andover meets and has been improving steadily, so he will have a good chance to win.

In the third event Cooper will face McGauley of Andover. Cooper is the only man besides the captain who took his bout against Brown, and, since McGauley has been doing some clever wrestling lately, a good hard fight will be expected.

Tech has not yet decided who will wrestle in either the 145-lb. or 158-lb. class. Frazier has been wrestling in the 145-lb. class for Andover. He is a good steady wrestler and ought to be a match for any man Tech produces. Capra ought to repeat his usual fast work on any opponent. Although he is a bit underweight for the 158-lb. class, he can easily wrestle in either of the 158 or 165 lb. classes, whichever one they hold.

In the 175-lb. class, Steeves of Tech will oppose Robinson. Both are somewhat inexperienced, since each has competed in only one match before this.

The lineup follows:

TECH '30

- 115-lb. class—Canton (Capt.).
- 125-lb. class—Perkins.
- 135-lb. class—Cooper.
- 145-lb. class—Steeves.
- 158-lb. class—
- 175-lb. class—

ANDOVER

- 115-lb. class—Yamaguchi (Capt)
- 125-lb. class—Flarsheim.
- 135-lb. class—McGauley.
- 145-lb. class—Frazier.
- 158-lb. class—Capra.
- 175-lb. class—Robinson.

Attending Meeting of Head Masters

Dr. Stearns is attending the annual meeting of Head Masters' Association, which is being held on Friday and Saturday of this week in Cambridge, where members of the Association are guests of Harvard University.

BOTH TEAMS EXCEPTIONALLY POWERFUL THIS YEAR

This afternoon, if the weather permits, the Phillips Andover Academy hockey team will play the Exeter Academy at Exeter, N. H. The game will be called sharply at three o'clock on Exeter's rink and an admission of one dollar will be charged.

The Exeter team so far has had six games of which they have won three, lost two, and tied one. The two which they dropped were both lost by the score of 1-0 against Hebron and Arlington. The three games which they won were taken with large scores against Exeter Town, Stone, and Browne and Nichols. The team is considered their best for many years and is better than that which Andover conquered last year by the score of 2-1 in a close fought game which Luce won in the last 15 seconds. There are two veterans back besides Captain Wilson Crosby and both these, Cookman and McGregor, have played in every game so far and expect to start today. So far their outstanding player has been Horace Everett of Arlington who, besides having scored 10 goals against Exeter's opponents, is considered Exeter's most dangerous man in the formidable passing attack.

The Andover squad has been severely handicapped by the condition of the weather. Of the eight games scheduled to be played, five have had to be canceled. The team dropped one of the remaining three, tied one and won one. Andover easily defeated Dean by the score of 5-2. The game against Melrose's fastest team in many years, finally ended in a tie, although the Andover team outplayed their rivals, and their shots numbered two to their opponents' one. Although they have not yet had an opportunity to prove their worth, nevertheless it is as good as last year's team in both team work and shooting. There are eight letter men back on the team: Captain Luce, Walker, Frost, Lamont, McDougall, Kimball, Rosenfeld, and Henderson. In the three games Captain Luce has been taking the puck consistently through the opponents' defence and together with Walker has been invincible in a fast passing attack.

For Andover Kimball will start at goal. He is quick and is the best of Andover's goal guards. It is uncertain whether Hawkes or Stearns will start for Exeter but as Stearns has had experience before against Andover he will probably start the game. Hawkes in a fast game against the Harvard Freshmen made thirty-eight stops and will probably substitute during the contest.

Captain Frank Luce will start as center and will be paired against Turner of Exeter. As mentioned above, Captain Luce is one of the most valuable men in the Andover attack and will lead the forwards against the Exeter goal with his fast shooting and skating. Turner is also a valuable player for Exeter

THE ANDOVER PRESS

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1927

Tonight will mark the last night game of basketball and the change from the gym to George Washington Hall as the motion picture theatre. Besides marking the two changes that have been mentioned above, it should mark two changes in the attitude of the school. In the first place the cheering should increase, as the no-excuse fellows can witness the whole game now, and the team needs a good dose of hard cheering from now on, since the schedule will doubtless grow harder. The cheering at the St. John's Prep game was excellent, — the fellows stuck to the team every moment, even in the weak periods when a victory seemed impossible. The subject of cheering may seem trite, but it cannot be over emphasized. Next, we must consider the manners of the school when the "movies" are given in the auditorium. Over in the gym the attitude is little less than rowdyism: the fellows scramble for places, kick and slam the chairs unmercifully, throw paper and trash, and circle it all with howls of sarcasm, rude laughter, and crazy noises. We are sure that a visitor, entering in the midst of the performance, would think he had entered some sort of an asylum with sensible boys out of good homes and in a good school, as the inmates. There is always a limit to enjoyment or enjoyment becomes tom-foolery. When we change to the auditorium, it is hoped the fellows will apply this limit. We ought to feel sure of the school's respect for the beauty of its newest gift and trust no one will maltreat the furniture or the woodwork. As to the noise — only a few days ago a member of the faculty went into Boston to purchase player rolls for the electric reproducing piano which will be played throughout every show. The music will not be deep classical "stuff" that will draw groans out of the usual "yellers", but has been carefully selected to suit the mood that the majority of fellows are in on Saturday nights.

Inter-dormitory Relays

The Inter-dormitory relay teams did not turn out as well as expected and only two races were held. The left entry of Day overcame the other side and won in the fast time of 69 seconds, while the left side of Bancroft Hall defeated America House in a slightly slower race. The distance was only four laps, and hereafter it will probably be eight laps instead.

Summary:

Left side of Day Hall (Layton, Howard, W. L. Smith, and Wheeler) defeated the right entry (Hockley, Kimball, Walker, and Clark). Time 69 sec.

First entry of Bancroft (Hall, L. Allen, Hardy, and Osborne) beat America House (Dorman, Frank, Wolfe, and T. Barres). Time: 1 min. 13 sec.

Track Meet

Capturing the five firsts and tying for a sixth, the Andover Second team completely outclassed Lowell High by a score of 44 to 28. Goodwillie of the Blue was high point scorer with ten points to his credit, gained from firsts in both the jumps; while Farmer was the only double place-winner for the visitors. He tied for first in the dash and was third in the 600.

In the sprints, Andover was outclassed, and placed only one man in the finals. However, this representative, Norris, got away to a beautiful start in the final, and held the lead until the last few yards when Farmer caught up, and tied him. The time of five seconds was not especially fast.

In the low hurdle event, Swett and Alexander added eight points to the Second team's total. The race was close and fast, but Swett's final drive pushed him ahead to win, while the other Blue entry nosed out Flanagan.

Andover showed up well in the 300 and qualified three men, Aitken, Bates, and Baldwin. The former, by a flashing finish, almost beat Fawcett of Lowell, while Bates was just behind McCusker in a fight for third. The time, thirty-six and three-fifths seconds, was unusually fast, and speaks well for the winner.

Harrington of the visitors was too fast for Abell, and finished first in the 600, with his teammate, Farmer, in third position. In the thousand, nevertheless, Andover came back and Fobes carried off premier honors. Langley and Winn fought it out for second position, the former finally coming in ahead.

The field events were all in favor of Andover, and, in fact, all three places in the shot-put went to her men. Roe showed that he is decidedly of varsity calibre when he hurled the ball nearly forty-four feet, while Houston outclassed Stewart by a matter of inches. Goodwillie gained first place in both jumps, winning the standing broad with nine feet, four and seven-eighths inches, and clearing five feet six to add five more points. Hardman and Daves of Lowell, with jumps of nine feet one inch, and eight feet six and three-quarters inches respectively, were second and third in the broad jump event. Richardson was off form in the high jump and only tied for second with Crockett at five feet five inches.

The summary:

40-yd. dash—First, Farmer (L), Norris (A), tie; third, Brady (L). Time: 5 sec.

40-yd. low hurdles—First, Swett (A); second, Alexnader (A); third, Flanagan (L). Time: 5.4.

300-yd. dash—First, Fawcett (L); second, Aitken (A); third, McCusker (L). Time: 36 3-5 sec.

500-yd. run—First, Harrington (L); second, Abell (A); third, Farmer (L). Time: 1 min. 21 sec.

1000-yd. run—First, Fobes (A); second, Langley (L); third, Winn (L). Time: 2 min. 33 4-5 sec.

Shot put—First, Roe (A); distance: 43 ft. 10 in.; second, Houston (A); distance: 42 ft. 6 in.; third, Stewart (A); distance: 42 ft. 4 in.

Standing broad jump—First, Goodwillie (A); distance: 9 ft. 4 7-8 in.; second, Hardman (L); distance: 9 ft. 1 in.; third, Daves (L); distance: 8 ft. 6 3-4 in.

Running high jump—First, Goodwillie (A); height: 5 ft. 6 in.; second, Richardson (A); third, Crockett (L), 5 ft. 5 in.

Harvard Wins Basketball

Last Wednesday afternoon Andover went down to her third straight defeat when the Harvard Freshmen beat the Blue quintet by a score of 32-41.

The game was fast, and in the first quarter it looked as if Harvard would win. However, the Academy team began to show some real playing and turned the tide of expectations for some time. But then Harvard uncorked some better playing in the second half and went steadily on to her victory.

There was quite a bit of fouling that Harvard took advantage of, for their average on foul shots was fairly good. Andover was fouled 16 times and scored 7 points out of the 16.

Fencing

Last Wednesday afternoon the Andover fencing team met a superior squad from the Boston High School of Commerce, and was defeated in eight out of the nine matches. Most of the matches, however, were very even and well-fought. As this was the first match of the season, it is rather discouraging; but under the able coaching of Mr. Barss, the Andover men will undoubtedly be able to give the Harvard Freshmen a good fight when they meet them near the end of the season. Captain Beckwith, the only Andover man to win his match, fought skillfully forcing all his opponents to do their best. Durell, Moser, and Murray, who substituted for Moser in the last match, all showed good qualities.

Handicap

For early Spring showings we request no handicaps. An inspection of our offerings will probe our point.

Philo

Last night in Pearson Hall, Philo held its third debate on the question: Resolved, that the Ku Klux Klan is a harmful organization. The affirmative, the winning side, was supported by Norcross and Ogden, Fichthorn and O'Neil upheld the negative. The speeches were all well delivered and well worded, which joined with a topic of such general interest made the debate a big success. After the debates were finished and the votes had been counted Mr. Moore gave a short discussion on the merits of the speakers. He also brought up many points which explained more clearly this question to the audience. This pointing out of the defects of the speakers and also of different points that should be included with the argument is a great help to the fellows, as it gives them an idea on which to form their following debates.

Club Basketball

In the third set of club basketball games the Saxons defeated the Greeks by a score of 15-8. This game was very fast for a club game and was hotly contested at all times. Dorman starred for the winners by scoring three field goals. Fichthorn proved himself the leading player for the Greeks by scoring three goals and playing a fine defensive game.

Adler scored the first goal for the Saxons; while the Greeks missed a good many foul shots that would have been useful. Fichthorn made the first points for the Greeks but Dorman came right back and again put the Saxons in the lead. Hardy was sent in for Bannon, Fichthorn going to center and Hardy took his guard position. Adler missed several easy shots. Bannon went in for Hardy and Cushman supplanted him shortly afterwards. Ederheimer scored as the half ended. The second period was started with three field goals on the part of Fichthorn, Tydeman and Dorman. Some time later Fichthorn and Adler scored again. Chaffee then retaliated with a field goal and later a foul. Bannon and Cushman went in for Robertson and Evans.

The lineup:
 GREEKS SAXONS
 Ringland, r.f. r.f., Chaffee
 Ederheimer, l.f. l.f., Adler
 Bannon, c. c., Dorman
 Fichthorn, r.g. r.g., Gilmore
 Evans, l.g. l.g., Tydeman
 Scorer: Wadsworth. Referee: Sides.

In a close game the Gauls beat the Romans 12-10.

Miller scored on the tip-off and tried throughout the rest of the game to duplicate the shot again but only succeeded once. Schreyer, Wilson and Caldwell scored next in fairly close order.

In the second period, Brunner replaced Roe at center. Tewksbury and Wilson each scored a field goal, and Brunner added the third and fourth ones of the period. Caldwell and Miller scored again, and Brunner shot the last basket, making him the high-scorer of his team.

The lineup:
 GAULS ROMANS
 Caldwell, r.f. r.f., Tewksbury
 Simmonds, l.f. l.f., Miller
 Roe (Brunner), c. c., Eastman (Noyes)
 Schreyer, r.g. r.g., Wilson
 Dean, l.g. l.g., Auten
 Referee: Sides. Scorer: Adler.

Club Boxing

Last Wednesday afternoon in the cage the Saxons defeated the Greeks and the Gauls tied the Romans in club boxing. The Roman-Greek contest furnished the best boxing so far this year, many of the bouts being nearly even. In the first bout of the afternoon, Judge (Roman) was opposed by Bond (Gaul) in the 115-lb. class. This bout was probably the best of the afternoon as both men kept up a fast pace during the entire three rounds with neither being able to outpoint the other, so at the end the bout was called a draw. Each club then won two of the four remaining bouts bringing about a tie, 5-5.

In the other contest between the Saxons and the Gauls, only two bouts were contested with each club winning one. However, as the Saxons won two other bouts by default, this gave them a victory, 6-2.

Club Wrestling

Last Wednesday in the gymnasium wrestling room the club wrestling teams entered the second round of the club competition, the Romans beating the Greeks 16-5, and the Saxons conquering the Gauls 24-5. Exeter Notes

Last Wednesday afternoon, the Exeter hockey team lost to the powerful and well-balanced Arlington High sextet by the score of 1-0. It was the fastest game played so far this year at Exeter, and it was only after two periods and five minutes of the last period had been played that Forks was able to score the goal that won for Arlington.

Hockey

and up to this time has started five out of six games.

At left defence Cookman of Exeter will probably face McDougall of Andover providing his sprained wrist will permit him to play. Cookman is one of Exeter's three veterans and is fast and quick on his skates. McDougall, another member of last year's team, is probably as fast as Cookman and will cover his territory thoroughly.

McGregor, a letter man from last year, and Gilligan will take care of the right defence position for Exeter, while Lamont, with Rosenfeld substituting, will start for Andover.

At right wing, Captain Wilson Crosby will face Walker of Andover. Crosby is Exeter's second highest scorer, but he ought to be sufficiently well taken care of by Walker. The latter has been sick lately but has returned to take up his place in the team and ought to be as flashy and aggressive as any of Exeter's men.

In the remaining position, left wing, Frost, a member of the varsity hockey team for three years, will start against Everett, who is leading by eight goals his nearest competitor and is Exeter's most important factor against Andover. Frost is a steady and reliable player and can be well counted on to take his duties.

The two teams are fairly evenly matched and are both fast enough to make the game as interesting as the Exeter-Andover competitions are.

composed of Mason, Maloney, Hennessey and Cummings.

The Andover Team will probably be much the same as the second team which opposed Lowell high in most of the events. The Harvard Freshman lineup is unknown as it is their policy never to give out any advance information.

In the 40-yard dash, Norris will try to repeat his victory of last week as will Fobes in the 1000. The latter will probably be forced to his limit to win as the Crimson yearlings are reputed to have some very fast distance runners.

In the shot put it would not be surprising if Kingston broke the Cage record, while Moore's record for this year of 5 ft. 9 1/4 in. in the high jump has often been menaced. With Richardson and Goodwillie in form, Andover is assured of more than a few points in the high jump and broad jump.

The Andover lineup:
40-yd. dash—Norris, Bates.
40-yd. hurdles—Alexander, Pelletreau, Swett.
300-yd. run—Aitken, Alexander, Abell, Nunn.
600-yd. run—Abell, Goodwillie, Bowser.
1000-yd. run—Fobes, McSheehy, Newfield.

scores were 34-19 for the Roman-Gaul meet, and 39-12 for Saxons and Greeks. Moroney was the highest scorer of the day, winning both the 50-yard and 100-yard swims for the Romans, besides being on the victorious relay team. Anderson was close behind him with ten points.

In the breast stroke, Bench, who is ineligible for the Varsity, finished out the 100, making the excellent time of 1 minute 22 1-5 seconds. This is as good as is done in the Varsity meets. Unfortunately, there were only two Greeks competing. If there are any Greeks who can swim fairly well, they could help their club a great deal by coming out next week.
