

FURTHER PLANS MADE FOR SESQUICENTENNIAL

CANADIAN AMBASSADOR TO BE PRESENT

Plans for the 150th Anniversary are developing faster than ever and arrangements have recently been made with the Suffolk Electric Company for the providing of amplifiers on the campus and in the Case Memorial Cage during the speaking program of the occasion. These amplifiers, similar to those used in the boxing ring, will be placed over the portico of Samuel Phillips Hall, directly above the heads of the speakers, who will stand on a wooden platform below. It is said that, with this arrangement, the speakers will not only be heard within the quadrangle itself but also by people standing as far away as the Elm Arch. In case of rain the speeches on Friday afternoon and on Saturday will probably be held in the auditorium of George Washington Hall, and the amplifiers will make it possible for visitors in other rooms on the campus to hear the proceedings perfectly. At the luncheon in the Case Memorial Cage, the listeners in the gallery will be aided by amplifiers and in order to make this possible an ingenious scheme has been resorted to. Mainly, a microphone suspended from a wire will be moved from speaker to speaker thus eliminating any delay or inconvenience. By employing this method people who are unfortunate to be seated in far corners of the cage will be able to hear the program with ease.

Announcement has just been made by the committee in charge of the 150th Anniversary celebration, that one of the principal guests at that time will be William Phillips, United States Ambassador to Canada, who will speak at the luncheon on Saturday, May 19. Mr. Phillips is not a graduate of the school but is descended from the family of the founders and is one of the donors of the Phillips gateway.

Several educators have accepted invitations to the celebration and among them are Headmaster Samuel S. Drury, St. Paul's school; Headmaster Arthur F. Warren, the Collegiate school, New York City; President Charles G. Mierow, Colorado college; Headmaster W. Houston Lillard, Tabor Academy; Headmaster George Van Stanvord, Hotchkiss school; Headmaster Charles S. Ingham, Dummer Academy; Headmaster Samuel F. Holmes, Worcester Academy; and Headmaster William M. Irvine, Mercersburg Academy.

Although most of these men will not speak, it will be a pleasure to have such distinguished guests present at the celebration.

Club Wrestling

In the fifth club wrestling meet of the winter, the Gauls will wrestle the Greeks, while the Saxons meet the Romans. The Saxons and Romans are almost even in respect to consistent winners, and their meet will probably be very close. The Gauls, the leaders to date, are favored to defeat the Greeks, who are always weakened by failure of the members of the team to appear.

NOTICE

Instead of its regular debate to-night, Philo will hold trials in Peabody House for the debating team, which will go against another school in the spring and will generally represent Andover in debating. Any member of the club may compete, and must talk for two minutes on his own subject; he does not have to select an opponent, the contest being one of argument with no adversaries.

MEANS CONTESTANTS ARE ANNOUNCED

SPEAKING TO BE ON MARCH 16

At the beginning of this week Mr. Stott announced the list of entries for the Means Essay contest. During past years these contests have been looked forward to with great interest, and they invariably bring out some excellent talent, both in writing and in speaking. This year there are eight speakers and two alternates, and the event should be a great success. The speaking will be held in the auditorium of George Washington Hall this year. Formerly it was held in the chapel under some difficulties but the Auditorium now presents itself once more as a way out of another difficulty. The contest will be held on March 16.

The following is the list of speakers:

Henry A. Fenn Norfolk, Va. — Democracy on Trial.

William Field, Rutland, Vt. — Nature in Contemporary Poetry.

James H. Inglis, Ann Arbor, Mich. — The Personality of Bismark.

Leslie I. Simmonds, New York, N. Y. — "Splendid Isolation" in the Modern World.

John W. Ewell, Auburn, N. Y. — The Personality of Bismark.

Roger Murray 2nd, New York, N. Y. — Finis Origine Pendet.

Curtis F. Heath, Trenton, N. J. — America and the League.

Norman H. Pearson, Gardner, Mass. — The Problem of Assimilation.

Alternates — Harry Jones Jr., Ridgwood, N. J. — Herbert Hoover.

Horace S. Torbert Jr., Washington, D. C. — Preparedness and Peace.

Judges — Mr. Philip Ripley, Dr. W. D. Walker, Mr. Howard Cutler.

Fencing

This afternoon the fencing team faces Dennison House, after having lost their other two meets. Dennison tied the strong Boston Y. M. C. A. team, conquerors of Boston University, last Saturday 3-3, and our men will meet stiff opposition.

The probable line-up:

ACADEMY RELAY TEAM WINS AND THEN LOSES

TWICE BREAKS RECORD

Last Saturday afternoon, in the Cage, the Andover Relay team first defeated the Harvard Yearlings, and then lost to a speedy Yale quartette. Edward Nunn, who ran second for Yale, was a member of the Academy Relay team last year. In the first race, Andover's time was two minutes, twenty-two and two-fifths seconds, which established a new Andover Relay record, although not a Cage record. In the second race, the Blue was clocked in two minutes, twenty-two and one-fifth seconds, which broke the record set by the same team an hour before.

Fobes of Andover, who was opposed by Watkins of Harvard, was given the position on the pole, but he lost it on the turn. After dropping behind slightly at the beginning, Fobes held his position and Newfield, Andover's second runner, started less than eight yards behind Gray, Watkins' successor. This pair ran a very even race after the first fifty yards, during which Newfield had lessened the Freshman's lead by almost three yards. Barres, the Blue's third man, took the baton about six yards behind Boches of Harvard, but gained steadily, and when one lap had been covered, the runners were abreast. Boches fought hard, but was forced at last to relinquish the lead to Andover. Barres increased the distance between the two teams to about three yards before passing the baton to Avery. Harvard's anchor, Rowe, was hopelessly outclassed and Avery crossed the finish line with ten yards to spare.

The second race was much closer. Fobes ran against Cunningham of Yale, to whom he was forced to relinquish about four yards on each lap. Newfield, starting behind Nunn, held his position until Nunn's strong finish added four more yards to Yale's already big lead. Barres, running against Talcott, was given hard opposition but ran a strong race, and Avery started about twelve yards behind McDodell, the Freshmen's star anchor man. Before half a lap had been covered, Avery had reduced his opponent's lead to only six yards, and he still continued to gain. McDodell, however, had started with an advantage almost impossible to overcome, and the Yale man crossed the line just a little over three yards in the lead.

The lineups — Andover vs. Harvard '31. Won by: Andover (Fobes, Newfield, Barres, Avery). Time 2 min. 22 2-5 sec. Harvard '31 (Watkins, Gray, Boches, Rowe). Time 2 min. 22 1-2 sec.

Andover vs. Yale '31. Won by: Yale '31 (Cunningham, Nunn, Talcott, McDodell). Time: 2 min. 22 sec. Andover (Fobes, Newfield, Barres, Avery). Time, 2 min. 22 1-5 sec.

In a recent swimming meet the Yale Freshmen defeated the New Haven High School 51 to 11. B. C. Smith, P. A. '27, won the dive; and W. M. Swoope placed second in the fifty-yard free style.

NOTICE

The subject of the lecture this afternoon on "The History and Appreciation of Music" will be Berlaoz and the Orchestra. Berlaoz is the master of orchestration, and one or two of his marches will be played by Dr. Pfattheicher on the organ, to show the many orchestral effects obtainable from this instrument.

WRESTLING TEAM MEETS HARVARD '31

YAMAGUCHI WRESTLING FOR CRIMSON

This afternoon the wrestling team meets the Harvard Freshmen in a contest which should be very close. K. Yamaguchi, four-year star at Andover and captain last year, was elected captain of the freshmen Saturday after giving a wonderful exhibition in beating the Harvard second team man in an unofficial meet. Bigwood (A) will have a hard fight in the 115-lb. class against this star. Elsas (A) ought to win his match against M. S. Pollard, P. A. '27, of the freshmen. There was no 135-lb. bout in the meet Saturday, but Captain MacGauley (A) should win if the freshmen have an entry. Palza, Harvard 145-lb. man, was thrown Saturday, and Durston, who has been very successful so far this season, ought to win his match. Barton (A) has shown wonderful fight in all his bouts, but Heyman (H) will put up a hard battle. The match between Ingersoll (A) and Grinnell (H) should be the closest of the afternoon, both appearing about equal in ability. The probable line-up:

115-lb. class — Bigwood (A) vs. Yamaguchi (H).

125-lb. class — Elsas (A) vs. Pollard (H).

135-lb. class — MacGauley (A) not decided.

145-lb. class — Durston (A) vs. Palza (H).

158-lb. class — Barton (A) vs. Heyman (H).

175-lb. class — Ingersoll (A) vs. Grinnell (H).

Club Boxing

This afternoon, at three o'clock in the wrestling room of the gymnasium, the third club boxing meet of the year will take place. The Saxons will engage the Romans while the Gauls meet the Greeks. The Saxons and Greeks have full teams, but there are classes on both the Romans and Gauls that are not represented. It is hoped that the fellows who are scheduled to fight will appear, so that as many bouts as possible can be held.

Club Swimming

The second round of the club swimming meets take place this afternoon when the Saxons meet the Gauls, while the Romans swim against the Greeks. There seems to be considerable interest in these meets this year, more fellows coming out than usual, and the result was apparent in the All-Club victory over Manchester High. Exeter, however, has a strong All-Class team, and all fellows who have any swimming ability and who did not try out for the Varsity, are urged to report at the pool.

MEDFORD TOPS FIELD IN INTERSCHOLASTICS

LAWRENCE SECOND

The strong Medford High team topped the field to win the fourth annual indoor track meet for high schools held in the Case Memorial building last Saturday. It was Medford's second successive victory. Almost 300 athletes from twenty-one Massachusetts schools were entered in the meet which is considered one of the major indoor competitions of the state, and is sponsored by the Academy athletic association. The afternoon was filled with spectacular exhibitions, the scholastic meet records in the 40-yard low hurdles, the 1000-yard run, and the relay being broken. The times in the low hurdles and the 1000-yard run also lowered the cage records. The Andover relay team set a new Blue record in their win over Harvard, but lost to Yale. Avery made a brilliant spurt to gain almost eight yards from the New Haven Freshmen, but could not overcome the long lead given by the first runners.

The Medford team piled up 23 points to their credit, with Lawrence second with 19, Lowell third with 16, and Newton fourth with 15. Medford had easily the best balanced team entered, and its power gave it a well earned victory. The other teams in order of their scoring are as follows: David Prouty, 10; Somerville, 6; Brockton, 4; Brookline, 3½; Fairhaven, 3; Salem, 3; Concord, 2½; Malden, 2½; Lynn English, 1; Dorchester, 1; Lynn Classical, ½; and Punchard ½. Beverly, Haverhill, Newton, Winthrop, and Leominster failed to score.

Morin of David Prouty proved the dark horse of the meet, the Spencer man winning both the 40-yard dash and the standing broad jump. His performance in the dash equalled the scholastic school record. Janis won 10 of his team's points by breaking the record in the low hurdles, taking third in the shot, and third in the high jump; his hurdle time was 5 1-5 seconds, 1-5 of a second slower than that credited him in the Lawrence-Andover meet. White scored heavily for Medford, tying the new record in the hurdles and coming in second in the 40-yard dash. Langley of Lowell ran the most sensational race of the day, lowering the meet record in the 1000-yard run by almost four seconds, and setting a new cage and scholastic record.

The qualifying rounds for the semi-finals of the 40-yard low hurdles opened the meet. In the first heat of the trials, White, of Medford, burst the tape in a close race in 5 1-5 seconds to set a new mark. In the first of the semi-finals, Hayes, of Somerville, beat out Clifford, of Brockton, and White. Janis, of Lawrence, romped away with the other semi-final, leading Cole, of Newton, by three yards at the finish. Record, of Brookline, was third. In the final, Janis again won, but was pressed hard by Hayes, who, after trailing Janis over the first hurdle, sprinted over the last two to lose by inches. Clifford took a close third. The time was again 5 1-5 seconds.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1928

The cost of the movies shown on Saturday evenings in the Auditorium has been such this year that it was announced last fall that each fellow attending would have to subscribe three dollars if they were to be maintained throughout the year. As a result of this announcement about three hundred fellows contributed their share and the pictures were continued. Their quality has been so high this year, however, that the amount thus collected was not sufficient to cover the expense of the films and of an operator, for the whole year; and it seems too bad that half the school should pay for the entertainment of the other half, as long as the movies last. This will not, we are afraid, be very long, unless the rest of the fellows soon contribute the amount necessary to carry them along through at least a part of the spring term. It is through the kindness of Mr. Dye, in charge of these Saturday evening entertainments which we all so much enjoy, that no formal request for the funds which are lacking has been made, and we should surely all show our appreciation by leaving our contributions with him at the earliest possible opportunity.

Society of Inquiry

To-morrow evening, at 6.45, in Peabody House, the Society of Inquiry will be addressed by representatives from the Groton School of Groton, Conn. This is the first of a series of student leadership meetings among the leading preparatory schools of New England for which the Society has arranged.

The three representatives from Groton were chosen from among the leaders of the school. They are: William Marvel, President of the Sixth Form (which is the graduating class); Frederick Kellog, a football man; and Frederick Thompson, who is Captain of the Crew.

The interest created by these student exchanges among other schools in the past gives evidence of their practical purposes. It is hoped, therefore, that this new movement will attract every one of Andover's students. This is a function which concerns not only the Society of Inquiry but the entire school, and it certainly deserves unanimous support.

Club Basketball

The Romans meet the Greeks, and the Saxons will go up against the Gauls in today's Club basketball games. Both games last week were very one-sided, but with the two leaders facing each other today, at least one close game should result. The Romans, completely recovered from a bad start, appear the strongest team of the four. Since the start of the season, their teamwork has improved tremendously, and they appear now as serious contenders in the Club race. The Greeks, also, have some very fine material, and have turned out a strong team, but one which lacks teamwork. The Saxons, although starting with a victory, have dropped behind, and need to brace considerably to keep in the race. The Gauls, having no regular team with which to practice, have lost all their games so far and are out of the running practically.

The line-ups:

ROMANS	GREEKS

Memorial to Be Erected to General Greenway

When the Class of 1895S at Yale held their annual dinner in May, 1926, a resolution was passed to appoint a committee to have charge of erecting a tablet to the memory of their illustrious classmate, John Cambell Greenway, P. A. '92, whose death occurred in January, 1926. Mr. Julio Kilenyi, of New York City, was selected as the sculptor to design the tablet. In metal art some of Mr. Kilenyi's works have been the portraits of Mark Twain, Woodrow Wilson and other famous men. At the present time the tablet is completed and ready for installation at Yale. The selection of the site has been referred to the "Committee on Memorials" at Yale University; and, when their report is received, the class committee, representatives of the Greenway family and the committee on Memorials, will together select a definite site. It was felt that the cost should be raised by obtaining donations from the members of the class. The great popularity and appreciation of Greenway are shown by the results obtained. Out of 126 living graduates, over 100 responded and the fund was quickly raised. The tablet is of bronze, finished on brownish green. It is four feet in height and two feet wide, with a relief head of Greenway in the upper center, while on one side of the inscription there is a football player in relief and on the other a soldier.

The inscription reads as follows:

FACULTY NOTES

Dr. Fuess' new biography, dealing with the life of Rufus Choate, the famous American lawyer and orator, was placed on sale for the first time on Friday, February 17, and special displays are being made in most of the prominent Boston book stores as well as in the windows of the Andover Press. The book, which is published by Minton, Balch, and Company of New York City, sells for $3.50, and gives an excellent picture of the life and character of one of the most picturesque New Englanders of his generation,—a man who gained fame by his peculiarities, and was admired because of his marvelous achievements in winning juries over to his side. Most of Choate's life was spent in Salem or Boston; and one of his brothers, Washington Choate, attended Phillips Academy graduating in the class of 1818.

Exeter Notes

Worcester defeated Exeter in swimming and among the several events of interest was the breaking of the 200-yd. swim record by Osborn of Exeter. He covered the distance in 2 min. 13 4-5 sec. and then won the 100-yd. dash in 59 seconds.

A relay race with the B. U. Frosh was cancelled when the outdoor running track at Exeter was covered with six inches of snow.

St. John's Preparatory School defeated the Exeter basketball team last Saturday by the score of 35-27. St. John's got a safe lead in the beginning and held it during the rest of the game although Exeter rallied in the last half. Szeszcouski starred for Exeter.

F. K. Hoyt, P. A. '26, is a member of the Williams Hockey team that was defeated by Princeton 5-1, last Saturday.

F. E. Nyce, P. A. '26, took second place in the 200-yd. breast-stroke for Yale against Tech. last Friday.

J. Kimball, P. A. '27, was the goalie on the Dartmouth Frosh Hockey team that defeated St. Pauls 2-1 last Friday and then lost to Harvard Freshmen on Saturday.

C. R. Layton, P. A. '26, is a candidate for pitcher on the Princeton Baseball team that was named for first string until future changes are made.

BASKETBALL WITH WENTWORTH INSTITUTE

GAME AT 2:00

The basketball team will face Wentworth Institute to-day, at two o'clock in the gym. The game promises to be close, since Wentworth has so far beaten many prominent high schols in and around Boston. Their team, while light, is fast and well drilled on formation attack.

During the past week, Coach Temple has been striving to perfect our team's plays, which worked so poorly at the start of last week's game. In every game so far, Andover has started off poorly, and, although the playing quickly attains its proper form, bad starts have helped to defeat the Blue more than once.

Because of his success at the position in the last game, Fenn may be placed to-day at right forward in place of Mettler. His great height facilitates the shooting of baskets, a fact which greatly helped Andover in its last game. The other positions will be practically the same. Frank is definitely out with an injured knee, but Smith has proved to be an able substitute. Ederheimer, also, is very satisfactory for filling in at a forward position. Harris may be counted on to keep the team fighting, and Drick to defend our basket ably.

MR. MOOREHEAD MAKES INTERESTING DISCOVERIES

UNEARTHS ANCIENT INDIAN VILLAGE IN GEORGIA

The discovery of the largest and most heavily populated prehistoric Indian village yet found in the South by Dr. Warren K. Moorehead, head of the department of archaeology of Phillips Academy, was announced Monday.

Dr. Moorehead has been making excavations in the vicinity of Cartersville, Ga. for four years and has uncovered evidence that indicates that the tribes inhabiting that region were sun and serpent worshippers with the signs of Toltec influence in their work.

Paints somewhat similar to those used by flappers of to-day and hairpins made of bone and shell have been uncovered, giving evidence of the love of the women of the tribes for beauty aids.

In a copyright article appearing in the Atlanta Constitution, Dr. Moorehead is quoted as saying, "We have found knitting needles, corn hoes, knives, earrings, pottery, and vessels of various designs buried with the women, and many implements of war buried with the men. These Indians were real traders, for we have discovered in the excavations, mica from North Carolina, shells from Florida, flint from Southern Tennessee, pink flint from Arkansas, galena from Northern Illinois, and liamite or iron ore from Missouri.

"Fine textile work has been uncovered but this is a job requiring infinite patience, for the delicate fabrics are easily destroyed. There is no doubt that these people were very highly cultivated, for the excellence of the workmanship on textiles and pottery is witness to that."

Dr. Moorehead plans to continue his excavations for some weeks to come. He has had marked success in the Georgian territory, having previously made several other noteworthy discoveries.

equalling the new record set in the qualifying rounds.

The winners of the trial heats were eligible for the semi-finals of the 40-yd. dash. Morin of David Prouty, took the first semi-final rather handily, leading by almost a yard. Holmes, of Haverhill, placed second. The second semi-final was won by White, of Medford, with a scant half-foot margin. Squires, of Malden made a beautiful finish, almost tying White. The third semi-final went to Dineen, of Lawrence. Dineen had a good start and, although threatened, was never passed. Edgerly, of Medford, was third. Morin sprinted after a slow start to win the finals by a foot and a half from White. Edgerly was a half yard behind to win third. Morin's time, 4 4-5 seconds, in the semi-finals and finals equalled the meet record.

Borden, of Medford, took the first of the trial heats for the 300 yards run. He led at the start, but was passed by two men, and forged ahead only on the last turn to win the race. Badger, of Lynn English, was second. Kollmyer, of Newton, led the entire distance to win the second heat. Badaracco, of Brockton took second after creeping up on, and then passing the man ahead. The third heat went to Riley, of Lawrence. Gibson, of Somerville, came in second after a steady duel with the man behind for the place. Fawcett, of Lowell, and Gaffey, of Medford, outdistanced the field to win the fourth heat. They forged ahead at the start and the race centered on them alone. In the final, Fawcett kept his lead from the beginning, although he was pressed on the first lap by Badger. Badger was, however, passed by Borden who failed by five yards to overtake the leader. Badger took third. Their time, 35 3-5 seconds.

The 600 yards run was divided into three classes, the points and prizes being awarded on a time basis. In the first heat, Record, of Brookline, led all the way coming in twenty yards ahead of his nearest man. Wright, of Medford, passed Lapoint, of Lowell, on the second lap and was never headed for the next place. Andrews, of Medford, won the second division after being almost overtaken by Yakavonus, of Brockton, after a spurt by the latter. MacInniss, of Somerville, was at his heels throughout, dropping behind slightly at the end. The last division went to Linehan, of Lawrence, with Smith, of Brookline, second. On the basis of their times, Andrews was first, Yakavonus second, and MacInniss third. The winning time, 1 min. 20 3-5 sec.

The best running of the meet was shown in the 1000 yards run. McCrudden, of Newton, who won the first division was passed at first, but soon regained his lead and finished ahead of Ricker, of Concord, in time slightly better than the existing record. But once broken, the record took a sharp cut in the second heat when Langley, of Lowell, romped in to a new cage and scholastic record. Although pressed at the beginning, he drew away on the fourth lap and increased his lead greatly. A tremendous spurt on the last lap gave him the win in one of the prettiest exhibitions of running seen in the cage. His time was 2 min. 26 4-5 sec. Cunio, of Medford, was second. In the awarding of places on a time basis, Langley was first, McCrudden second, and Ricker third.

The performances in the high school relays were erratic, although as far as possible rival teams were matched and the races were popular with the audience. The Malden-Somerville meet was easily one of the most exciting, Malden winning by only two feet. Medford clipped the meet record by finishing in 2 min. 24 sec. Beverly opened the races by winning from Winthrop by almost fifty yards in a slow race. Concord beat Fairhaven and David Prouty in a race, whose lead turned from one to the other; David Prouty, leading for the first lap, was passed by Fairhaven on the next, while Concord finished in the lead on the last two. Punchard took Methuen in camp by twenty yards. The Malden-Somerville race was a thriller. Somerville trailed by fifteen yards at the beginning of the last lap, but her anchor man ran a beautiful race to cut down the lead to two yards. Lynn English nosed out Lynn Classical by a fifth of a second, coming in three yards ahead at the finish. Brookline won over Brockton by a huge margin and the result was never in doubt. Lawrence increased her lead in every lap to win from Lowell by twenty-five yards. Medford, although rarely pressed, set a new record in her race against Newton and clocked in 2 min. 24 sec.

Tremblay, of Lawrence, won the shot put, as expected, with a heave of 47 ft. 6 in., Whodyka, of Fairhaven, took second, and Janis, of Lawrence, third. Morin, of David Prouty, gained his second first place by leaping 9 ft. 8 1-4 in. to win the standing broad jump. He was within a half inch of the record. Kinraide of Newton, was second and Rogers, of Dorchester, third. The running high jump went to Ebelhare, of Newton, at 5 ft. 10 in. The bar was raised to 5 ft. 11 3-4 in. an effort to break the record, but he failed to clear it. Anderson, of Salem, was second, and Janis, of Lawrence, third.
