

ANDOVER OUTPOINTED BY RIVALS AT NEW HAVEN

METTLER AGAIN STARRING
TWO ANDOVER MEN IN YALE LINEUP

Displaying the best form they have shown this year the Yale freshman team defeated the Andover basketball team 45 to 40 at New Haven, Saturday. Andover players were obviously hindered by the size of the court, which is much larger than ours, and therefore did not appear at their best. Due to the large court the game was exceptionally loose, and the guarding of both teams was quite poor, this being especially true of the Andover team. The Yale men were so fast on their cuts for the basket that they left the Andover guards bewildered. Yale played a game of individual brilliancy and speed in contrast with the machinelike team play of Andover. Long shots were the rule throughout the game, and a majority of both teams' points were scored by this method.

Mettler and Schane were the individual stars of the game, the former enjoying one of his best days and scoring seventeen points against one of the best guards in freshman basketball. Schane, who played right forward and center, starred over even the marvelous Captain Booth of Yale too, scoring seventeen points. Captain Booth, however, was the outstanding player for Yale scoring ten points and also playing a wonderful game on the defense. Huppuch turned in one of the best games of his career by being the main stay of the Andover defense.

Ringland, P. A. '28, raised havoc with the Andover team when he went in at left forward toward the end of the first half. Lindenbergh P. A. '28, played a wonderful defensive game to hold the Andover team in check when once it seemed that they were about to run wild. Drick and Ederheimer played fine games for Andover to account for 18 points between them.

Andover got the jump at the start of the game and had scored many baskets before Yale got started, but when the Elis did get into swing the play seesawed back and forth with Andover just able to hold her lead throughout the quarter. During this period the team was functioning extremely well and looked the easy winner. They were securing the tipoffs and were breaking fast around the baskets. Andover was aided a great deal by several successful long shots by Mettler.

Part way through the second period Yale started a rally which was ended only by the whistle at the half. Yale made many substitutions during this period in an endeavor to find a successful combination. Toward the close of the quarter, Page went in for Drick, and Chaffee for Dorman in an attempt to check Yale's rally, but the gun went off with the bulldog leading 21 to 20.

The third quarter was Andover's Waterloo; she was outfought and outplayed during the whole period to enter the final period far behind.

WRESTLING MEN GET FIRST VICTORY OF YEAR

KEYSER AND BARROWS BRING MEET OUT OF A CRISIS BY WINNING LAST TWO MATCHES

The wrestling team turned in its first win of the season by a victory over the Harvard freshmen, 14-11, at Cambridge Saturday. The meet was closely contested throughout, the final bout throwing the decision in favor of Andover. The freshmen assumed the lead by winning decisions in the first two matches, but McGauley and Eisman put things on an equal basis when they won decisions in the 135 and 145-lb. classes. The Crimson again forged into the lead when Turley won the 155-lb. division by a fall. Things seemed a bit doubtful until Keyser, a new man distinguished himself, obtaining a fall from his opponent, thus tying the score at eleven points all. In the final match Barrows won a decision by the small margin of 1 minute and 32 seconds to give the Blue a three point victory.

A summary of the bouts follows: Rowland lost a decision to Cooke of Harvard who held a 3 minute time advantage.

Byrne, in the 125-lb. class, lost his first match of the year when Klein proved a bit too clever for him, winning by a 4 minute and 25 second time advantage.

Matched against Captain McGauley was Elsas, who wrestled in the 125-lb. class for Andover last year. McGauley won a decision with a time advantage of 3 minutes and 17 seconds after one

INTER-SQUAD TRACK MEET TO DECIDE MEN TO COMPETE AT DARTMOUTH

To determine the entries for the coming meet with the Dartmouth freshmen an intersquad track meet was held in the cage last Saturday under the direction of coaches Shields and Shepard. The squad was divided into two teams, the Blues and the Whites, picked so as to be of about equal strength. The Whites (Coach Shields's team) were able to squeeze out a 58-50 victory only after some extremely close competition. A summary of events, the winners of which will represent Andover in the Dartmouth meet, follows:

40-yard dash—won by King (W); second, Osborne (B); third, Woodward (W). Time, 5 seconds.

40-yard low hurdles—won by Williamson (W); second, Pitkin (B); third, R. Allen (B). Time—53.5 seconds.

40-yard high hurdles—won by Williamson (W); second, Pitkin (B); third, R. Allen (B). Time—54.5 seconds.

220-yard dash—won by Osborne (B); second, King (W); third, Morrow (W). Time—25 1-5 sec.

440-yard dash—won by Page (B); second, tie between Pitkin (B) and Newfield (W). Time—56 3-5 seconds.

NOTICES

FACULTY VOTE ON NON-EX.

By vote of the faculty yesterday afternoon the "No Excuse" rule was slightly changed, to have an affirmative instead of a negative force. As it now stands, seniors who pass in ten hours of work of the required eighteen hours, and members of the other classes who pass in nine hours of the required seventeen hours work, will be exempt from "No Excuse" unless placed thereon by special faculty vote. This means that an added chance is given those with more than eighteen hours to keep off "No Excuse". However, as before, anyone can be put on "No Excuse" by a vote of the faculty, and those still failing nine hours have the same chances as before of not going on "No Excuse". This rule goes into effect at once.

PHILO NOTICES

This Friday Philo had scheduled to debate the Huntington High School of Boston, but due to a misunderstanding about the proper date on the part of the latter school, the debate has been indefinitely postponed.

The fifth weekly debate of Philo will be held tonight at quarter of seven in the Peabody House. The subject to be debated this time is one of world-wide interest and discussion at present, namely—"Resolved—that capital punishment should be abolished". On the affirmative side of the question are F. Towland, Shea, and Bradford, and on the negative, Chadwick, Cushman, and Buck. This meeting is bound to be one of interest, and it is hoped that the attendance will be as good or even better than last week.

EXETER NOTES

Saturday the Exeter swimming team tied the Dartmouth freshmen in their annual swimming meet, but as Dartmouth had won the relay the meet was awarded to them.

The Harvard freshmen defeated the Exeter team in track recently 64 2-5 to 25 3-5. Exeter was able to win first places in only the seventy-yard dash and the broad jump.

In a game of high scoring the Exeter basketball team defeated Hebron 62 to 54 Saturday. Reed of Exeter was the high scorer of the game with 21 points to his credit.

To stimulate interest in football among our brothers at Exeter, an anonymous person, not an alumnus of the school, has made it possible to award three cups to outstanding football players each year. One will go to the best lineman between the tackles, another to the best backfield player or end, and the third to the most valuable player on the team.

To those who turn out for the preliminary spring practice, which is to begin this spring, cups will be given to the most proficient punter, the most accurate dropkicker, and to the center who shows the most accurate passing.

DELEGATION REPRESENTS ANDOVER AT NEW HAVEN

SOCIETY OF INQUIRY SENDS MEN TO ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Saturday and Sunday a delegation of 5 representatives from Andover attended the annual School to-College Conference of Southern New England Preparatory Schools held at New Haven. This conference is one of the big events of each year among schools who are preparing a class of boys for college. Its main purpose is to give the school boys an idea of the transition from school to college as presented by men who, if not themselves university undergraduates, have been out of college only a short time. This idea was discussed at New Haven from divers angles, the main trend being toward "The Christian ideal in College" and this ideal's formulation of new and radically changing ideas in the minds of the men who are just coming to college. Some of the men from Yale and other colleges gave their views, and members of divers school and college faculties also presented angles.

The conference gave those attending a good chance to meet other boys from different schools and members of Yale University, and groups were organized for discussion and meeting, each delegate being given a specific discussion group and a certain place to spend the night, the aim being to bring those together who otherwise would remain apart. Many good speakers were heard from, chief among them being Whiting Williams, former lecturer of Har-

EXETER SPEAKERS

HERE LAST SUNDAY UNDERGRADUATES SPEAK ON THE NEW HAMPSHIRE SCHOOL

Last Sunday evening the delegation from Exeter spoke before the Society of Inquiry. The talks given by the three men, of whom the delegation was composed, proved to be extremely interesting and were well received; however, the number of Andover students attending was very small, in fact too small to receive representatives of a school to which we are so closely connected and for which we have so much respect. The fact that made each speech so interesting was that the speakers are leaders of the different phases of school life on which they spoke.

J. Miller presided at the meeting and introduced the first speaker, Richard Kimball. Kimball is a member of the baseball, football, and hockey teams and also a member of the student council. Kimball spoke about the Christian Fraternity which was begun at Exeter forty years ago. At that time it was entirely a religious society but as time has worn on it has changed. This year they have had professionals speaking to them on several topics of interest.

He then explained the business end of the fraternity. Each year the senior class elects four men from the upper middle class, and

BLUE SWIMMERS BEATEN BY WORCESTER TEAM

ANDOVER SHOWING BETTER THAN EXPECTED AGAINST EXCEPTIONALLY FAST TIMERS

The swimming team went down to a 34 to 25 defeat at the hands of the strong aggregation representing Worcester Academy last Saturday in the last meet preparatory to the contest with Exeter. The meet was closely contested throughout with keen individual competition and several very fast times were made.

Worcester got off to the lead when their relay team of Libby, Rae, Banfield, and Hedquist outswam the Blue's quartet composed of King, Ley, Jameson, and Westfall, and established a new pool record at 1 minute 42.3-5 seconds. Libby and King swam a hard race which brought them to the end of the pool practically even. Rae stole about three yards on Ley, Banfield increased the lead to four against Jameson, and although trying hard to make up this distance Westfall was able to gain only a little on Hedquist.

First honors in the diving went to Williamson of Andover who won with 73.2 points after a hard contest with his team-mate, McCloy, who totaled 72.3 points. Aldrich won third for Worcester with 63.8 points.

The fifty-yard freestyle event was one of the feature races of the meet. Hedquist and Banfield of Worcester swam neck and neck with Westfall the whole distance, and the three finished in almost a dead heat. However, Hedquist was picked as winner, Banfield second, and Westfall third.

In the one hundred-yard backstroke Anderson was furnished with the closest competition he has met this season in the person of Libby of Worcester, but had little trouble in winning. Breed took third for the Blue. Anderson's time was 1 minute 10.4-5 seconds.

The two hundred-yard freestyle event contributed to the excitement of the meet and furnished the spectators with some thrills. At the turn before the final length Dodge of Worcester and Fry and Jameson of Andover were all even, but in the home stretch Dodge forged into a slight lead which gave him first, while Fry and Jameson were second and third, respectively.

Rae, Worcester's star in the one hundred-yard breaststroke, captured that event with ease, outdistancing the other entries by a third of a length. Savell of Andover and Dodge of Worcester put some real excitement into the race by their struggle for second in which the former won out by a fraction of an inch. Had Rae met with better competition he undoubtedly could have bettered his time of 1 minute 14.2-5 seconds.

On the final event, the one hundred-yard freestyle, hung the balance and suspense of the meet's outcome, for if the Blue could have taken first and second places victory would have been hers by one point. However, the best that could be done was the taking of second. Hedquist of Worcester

"BUSY BOYS"

The article by Walter Prichard Eaton, P. A. '96, entitled "Busy Boys", which is printed below, appeared recently on the editorial page of the Boston Herald. It is of a nature that at once will appeal to the Andover students, since it deals with an all-important factor of our life, namely, spare time. Here is life, namely spare time. Here is fute the statement that the life here at Andover is just a bed of roses. Mr. Eaton makes a plea for more spare time and originality among the boys, and at the same time declares that no one realizes the time-devouring life of a schoolboy.

"The busiest person we know is a boy in prep school. He has literally no time to himself. He rises at 7 o'clock, goes to bed at 10 or 11 o'clock, and between whiles studies and recites Latin, French, Mathematics, English, physics, history, the teacher of each subject jealously demanding the major share of his attention: he has compulsory exercise; he goes to a class meeting; he "tries" for the school paper; he attends a glee club rehearsal; he studies his part in the school play; he snatches a few odd moments to do some "required reading". Of reading for its own sake he does very little, having neither time nor energy—nor possibly inclination. Reading for its own sake demands that you sit down quietly with a book, free of interruptions. Should he do that, he would have to do it to the neglect of something else, and suffer the consequences. Nor does he ever have time to sit down quietly with himself, and just think things over. Alas! most school teachers would look upon mere suggestion of such a proceeding with stern disfavor. At best he manages now and then, sometimes in the dark after lights out, what he calls a bull session with his mates. In these sessions many things are discussed, from the nature of God to the cut of Bill Brewster's new tux, and the boys regard them highly, though they are ignored by the College Board examiners.

"The schools, of course, blame the college entrance requirements for their hectic pace. That particular buck has been passed till it is wearing a bit thin. If schools have no larger purpose than to shoe-horn boys into Harvard and Yale, they aren't worth their endowments. It isn't that boys shouldn't study, shouldn't be kept busy and alert, physically and mentally. But no one, at any age, least of all in youth, can absorb a constantly repeated schedule of studies and activities and gain personal value from them, without time to pause and think them over and let them sink in. Why do our schools cut to a pattern? Why is the unusual boy generally so unhappy in them? Because the unusual boy insists on thinking things over, insists on reading for himself, and has to break the schedule to do it. Boys may be, as Arnold said, young barbarians. But most of them, also, are sensitive and sentient beyond our guess. In them, no less than in men, deeds are born of thought, and in silence the thought matures. They need some time to themselves, when they are left alone. Many will abuse it, as their masters will hasten to tell you. But what of that? They will not abuse it more than schedule is abused by the, to them, almost meaningless drive of absorption so their school can have a high standing at the College Boards. They are graduated standardized to a factory pattern, so far as human beings can be standardized, victims of a relentless schedule and the fetish of "school spirit." If you have a son in prep school, ask him about it."

WRESTLING MEET WITH MILTON

A wrestling meet between Milton Academy and the Andover second team has been arranged. This match will be beneficial in that it affords outside competition for the second and likewise gives them a chance to practise in preparation for varsity try-outs. No definite line-up has been received from the visitors, and their entries will probably not be announced until the start of the meet.

In the 115-lb. class, L. W. Anderson will be the Blue's representative. He will be first-string next year, as he has forced Rowland far this year. Either Lasater or Morris will be in the 125-lb. class, with Lasater the favorite. The entry in the 135-lb. class will be picked from Towle or Dufton

NOTICE

Orders for made to measure clothes for the Easter Holidays must be placed before Saturday, March 9., otherwise we can not insure delivery. As the former has been in the infirmiry recently, he will probably not compete, although he is the better of the two. Bears will be in the 145-lb. event. He is a strong, clever man and can be counted on to win in his class. Crandon will wrestle in the next class, 155-lb. and will put up a good fight. He has had considerable experience. The heavyweight division will find Trexler in the 165-lb. class. He has been in one varsity meet and is very efficient. As no entry in the 175-lb. class is expected from Milton, no one has been selected for that class as yet by Mr. Carlson.

CLUB BASKETBALL

Saturday the Romans defeated the Gauls 20 to 19 in an overtime game. The victory was chiefly due to the superior teamwork of the red-socked team, with the playing of Wheeler, Marshall and Wilson outstanding. Jones starred for the Gauls. This game gives the Romans their numerals as it ends an undefeated season.

In the second set-to of the afternoon the Greeks defeated the Saxons 9 to 4 in a very one-sided game. Losee starred for the victors while Batchelder and Gordon played well for the defeated quintet.

DRAMATIC CLUB WORKING

The Phillips Academy Dramatic Club have been working for about a month on a play which promises to be a great success. Nobody in school should miss this dramatization, which will be equal in its appeal to the students if not superior to "Clarence", given in 1928. Many of this year's cast will be from "Clarence" and under the able supervision of Mr. Heely it is believed that the Dramatic Club will rise to greater heights than ever in presenting this play.

The title "Haunted House" is in itself of great appeal and should attract anyone, but more than this—the fact that the author is none other than Owen Davis should be totally sufficient to warrant any person's presence in the Auditorium.

The plot concerns the mysterious and thrilling adventures of a newly-married couple on their honeymoon and the mysterious trials that come to them, with a comic vein running through the melodrama.

For the first time since the founding of the Dramatic Club, students themselves are constructing all the scenery. For the most part this is being done by the Stage Manager D. P. Wilson, with the able assistance of B. M. Gelsner.

The "Haunted House" will be given on Saturday night, March 16, in George Washington Hall. The time has not yet been decided upon but will be announced later.

There are eleven characters in all, five of whom were in "Clarence". The following are in the cast:

Jack Driscoll, the groom—D. H. Morris;
Emily Driscoll, the bride—R. M. Davis;
Thomas, the chauffeur—R. L. Gwinn;

Desmond Duncan, the Author—K. R. Ludlam;

Helen Duncan, his wife—N. T. Clark;

Most Well Dressed Prep School and College Men Have Chosen Henry Gold's Evening Clothes

We claim the distinction of having furnished the majority of the best dressed men at Andover with their evening clothes.

Why?

Perhaps it is because of the grace and beauty of our full dress coats as they swing across a dance floor. Perhaps it is due to the perfect lines of a Henry Gold Tuxedo. Or perhaps it is the unrivalled fitting which our tailors impart.

Whatever it is — let us show you how it can be done for you.

of the best bouts of the meet.

In the 145-lb. tussle Eiseman easily won by an 8 minute and 32 second time advantage from Guyer, another old Andover man. He had little trouble in holding the advantage over his opponent but was unable to obtain a fall.

Turley of Harvard won the only fall for his team when he pinned Craft to the mat after 4 minutes and 17 seconds of wrestling in the 155-lb. division.

Keyser of Andover deserves much credit for the fine showing he made in throwing Levin, as this was his first appearance for the Blue. His time was 5 minutes and 55 seconds.

The struggle between Barrows and Mein was the hardest fought of any, for the result of the meet depended on its outcome, and each man exerted himself to his utmost to win. However, Barrows held a slight advantage and won with a 1 minute and 32 second time advantage.

FENCING

The English High fencers met defeat at the hands of the Andover team 8 to 1 Saturday in the cage. Frame was the only triple winner for Andover, though Ludlam would probably have won three matches if Coach Barss had not put Jones in his place for the final match. Peterfreunds of English won his team's only match by defeating Captain Murray 5 to 3.

Ludlam, Andover, defeated Peterfreunds, English, 5 to 1

Murray, Andover, defeated Derzawitz, English, 5 to 4.

Frame, Andover, defeated Cakridas, English, 5 to 3.

However, she rallied somewhat in the last period to bring the score from 38 to 30, to 46 to 40. Ringland made 8 points for Yale in this period.

these four elected men in turn elect eight others to compose the full group. The drives carried on by the fraternity are somewhat similar to those of our Society of Inquiry. Their yearly budget amounts to three thousand dollars, and so far this year they have procured twenty-five hundred dollars. Fifteen hundred of this goes to charities such as Dr. Grenfell and hospitals. Seven hundred goes to the evening speakers and the remainder to the E. Book, similar to our Blue Book.

Bradford Bachrach, the manager of track, a member of the Exonian, the Exeter Monthly, the P Book and the E Book, spoke next. He said that the P Book, similar to our Pot Pourri was first begun in 1881 but was stopped by the faculty soon afterwards for various reasons; however, three years later it was passed by the faculty and has progressed ever since. The E Book was recently begun and is like our Blue Book. The Exonian is the oldest Prep school paper in the country.

Theodore Reed, a member of the student council, basketball team, and secretary of the Christian Fraternity, spoke last on the customs at Exeter. He said that as two sister schools we were very much alike in many respects, but different in many others. Some differences are: the restrictions at Exeter are not so numerous as at Andover; the lower classmen must be in their dorms at eight, while the seniors do not have to be until ten in the evening; smoking is allowed in all dorms except the newest ones. An old custom at Exeter just as here is to talk to every school member whether or not you know them. There are no distinctions between new and old men. Three new sports have been taken up at Exeter this year—soccer, fencing, and boxing. No outside competition has been had in fencing and boxing, but they are progressing rapidly within the school.

DR. STEARNS ELECTED MODERATOR

Dr. Alfred E. Stearns was elected moderator of the town of Andover last Monday at the annual town elections. This is quite a notable honor, as it is the fourth time that he has been chosen to this office, which is that of presiding over town meetings.
