MANY ANDOVER MEN PLAN TO GO TO THE BLAIRSTOWN CONFERENCE

Annual Gathering To Discuss Matters Of Interest In Student Life

MANY SCHOOLS REPRESENTED

Most Of The Speakers Are Experts
In Religious And Scientific
Fields

The twenty-fourth annual preparatory school conference at Blair Academy will be held immediately after the close of the College Board examinations, from June 21 to June 26. Many of the Eastern preparatory schools will send delegates; any master or student interested in the Conference is cordially invited to come. Students representing foreign countries will also be given a hearty welcome.

The purpose of the Conference is to gather a group of boys who are eager to ask questions and learn about topics which are of importance in our modern life. Questions such as the following will be discussed:

"To what extent can science help our lives? Will a deeper insight into knowledge, a further conquest of nature, and an increase in our capacity to use material forces bring about a better world?"

"What of the great social problems of poverty and racial misunderstanding? Will greater income and increased wealth for all hasten the day of a happier personal and social life?"

"Where does religion come in? Is not the first step a surer grasp on the available spiritual resources, a sounder faith in God and Man, and a real trying of Jesus and His way of life?"

Many of the men who will speak at the conference are eminent in religious, sociological, and scientific fields. Among them are David R. Porter, head of the Student Christian movement in America; Prof. Kirtley Mather, prominent geologist and author of Old Mother Earth; Bruce Curry, whom many of the students at Andover had the privilege of meeting earlier this year; and Visser Hooft, who has had much experience among students in Europe.

It will be possible to meet the students from at least forty other schools, and to exchange experiences with them. A special meeting will be held for presidents, of-

TO SAIL ON "LAFAYETTE"

Daughter And Son Will Be Left In Swiss Schools During Visit

Mr. Lawrence V. Roth, history teacher in this school and prominent figure in the field of history instruction, has been granted a leave of absence during the school year 1930-1931. Mr. Roth will be in Europe with his family during this time, his place being taken by a substitute instructor.

On August 21st, Mr. Roth and his family will set sail from New York on the French liner, S. S. Lafayette. Upon arriving in France, he and his family will motor in their own car through France to Switzerland, stopping for a short time in Paris. In Switzerland Mr. Roth will leave his daughter and son in Swiss schools where they will remain the greater part of next year. Thence he will cross to England, and at Oxford, as a student in the University, will pursue certain advanced courses in various phases of history. While at Oxford, he will be under the instruction of two notable professors, Prof. Oman, in European History, and Prof. Myers, in American History. Also, during

BLUE BASEBALL TEAM DEFEATS HARVARD '33 IN EXCITING CONTEST

Comes From Behind Twice To Overcome The Crimson
Freshmen

BROACA STRIKES OUT NINE

Andover Shines On The Defensive,
Not Making Any Errors In Entire Game

Coming from behind to win finally, the Andover baseball nine scored its eighth victory, defeating the Harvard freshman team last Saturday at Cambridge. Andover overcame two leads, one in the fifth inning, the other in the seventh. Broaca pitched the whole game, allowing the Crimson but seven hits, while he fanned nine batters, and passed one.

The freshmen made an early start; and, after getting one run in the second inning, and two more in the fourth, seemed to be headed for victory. Andover tallied three runs in the fifth inning to tie the score. Harvard again went ahead in the sixth; and Andover made another run in the seventh. Andover, however, again forged ahead, bringing in two runs in the eighth. Crane made a triple with Brown on base. This was the only extra base hit of the whole game.

The box score is as follows:

ANDOVER GOLFERS TO MEET ELI FRESHMEN

Opponents Have Very Strong Team,
Captained By Former Hotchkiss
School Star

Four members of the golf team journeyed to New Haven last night, and this afternoon on the difficult Yale course they will meet the strong Eli freshman team, led by Sidney Noyes, last year's Hotchkiss star and Metropolitan Interscholastic champion. Other members of the Yale team include Frank Noyes, the number two man, who was also a star at Hotchkiss with his brother; and Parker, captain at Exeter last year. An idea of the freshmen's strength may be obtained from the fact that Parker, who was runner-up in the Massachusetts Interscholastics, plays number six man.

The Andover team will consist of Goldberger, Captain Ellis, Russell, and Case. Russell, who recently defeated Case, has moved up from fourth position to third by virtue of his victory. Goldberger retained his place as number one, defeating Ellis.

The Yale freshmen have played only two matches. These both resulted in wins, one over Hotchkiss, and the other over the Princeton freshmen.

Tea Dance This Afternoon Will Start At Four Thirty

In order to allow those not caring to stay throughout the baseball game a chance to dance before the arrival of the crowd, the hours for the tea dance will be 4:30 to 7:15. Hal Hebert's orchestra will furnish music. This is a band comparatively unknown in this section, but it comes highly recommended by the Sullivan agency.

Tickets For Exeter Track Meet On Sale Monday

The tickets for the Andover-Exeter Track Meet will go on sale at the gymnasium office on Monday morning, May 26. The student body must obtain cheering section tickets as soon as possible. All seats are a dollar and a half each.

ANDOVER TEAM TO MEET BOSTON LACROSSE CLUB

Opponent's Team Made Up Of
Many Former College
Stars

SEVERAL PLAYERS INJURED

Blue Team Has Won From Harvard
Freshmen And Has Lost
To M. I. T.

This afternoon the Andover team will meet the Boston Lacrosse Club in the final game of the season. So far the Blue has dropped one game to the Harvard Freshmen and won one from the Technology Freshmen. However, this afternoon the home team plays an altogether different sort of opponent. The Boston Lacrosse Club, coached by Mr. Marsters, is composed mainly of former college stars. On it are graduates, who are now living near Boston, of Princeton, Harvard, Yale, Stevens, and other universities. All of the team are excellent players, and Andover will find it necessary to play much better than previously to hold the visitors. They have played mostly college teams such as Dartmouth, Harvard, and Yale.

However, the improvement of the home team has been very good, and a fine showing has been made thus far. Some excellent players have been developed, and Mr. Hagenbuckle will have some remarkable material with which to begin next year's season. Andover's defensive combination of Walden, Denner,

ANDOVER TRACK TEAM FACES WORCESTER SQUAD IN DUAL MEET TODAY

Opponents Secured First Place
At Recent Harvard
Interscholastics

HEALEY IS WORCESTER STAR

Kimball And Gleason Expected To Run Close Race In Hundred
Yard Dash

This afternoon the Blue track team will meet Worcester Academy, winners of the Harvard Interscholastics. Worcester's team is built around Gleason and Healey, who scored half of their team's points in the Interscholastics.

Kimball, who gave a fine performance last week, running the hundred against the wind in ten and two-fifths seconds, will face Gleason in that event this afternoon. Gleason ran the distance in ten flat at the Interscholastics tying the record; so this race should prove one of the closest of the meet. Andover showed improvement in the other running events last Saturday, Duchesne winning the mile with a fine finish and Lingley giving a good performance in the eight-eighty.

Barclay has been throwing the javelin very well recently, averaging around one hundred and fifty-five feet, and he may place. Keesling and Affinito, the Worcester contestant in that event, are about equal. Although Healey will undoubtedly capture first in the hammer, Badman should beat him in the high jump.

Last year Andover won the Interscholastics, and was nosed out by Worcester in the dual meet. This year we have a fine chance to reverse the performance.

The lineup:
Hammer Throw: Kimball, Jackson
Javelin Throw: Keesling, Jones, Bodwell, Barclay
Shot Put: Jackson, Cretors, Jones
Discus: Hodges, Nichols, Jackson
Broad Jump: Keesling, McCloy, Mintkeski
High Jump: Badman, Brown, Withington, Cuthbertson
Pole Vault: Pierce, Pickett, Brown, McLanahan, Miller
High Hurdles: Pierce, Taylor
Low Hurdles: Frazier, Sumner
440-yard Dash: Kellogg, Cushman, Dorman, Hershey
880-yard Dash: Bicknell, Schenck, Lingley
Mile Run: Rolfe, Duchesne
220-yard Dash: Haas, Smith
100-yard Dash: Kimball, Lindenberg, DeMare

America House, Home Of Samuel Smith In 1832, When He Composed "America".

The America House is famous for the sole reason that there in 1832 the lines of "My country 'tis of Thee" were first set down.

Samuel Francis Smith, the author of this famous hymn, had a most interesting life. He was born on October 21, 1808, in Boston, "under the sound of the Old North Church chimes". He was sent to the Eliot School and the Boston Latin School, and from there to Harvard, where he was a member, with Oliver Wendell Holmes, James Freeman Clarke, and others, of the distinguished class of 1829. In the autumn after his graduation he came to the Andover Theological Seminary, where he spent three years, taking his degree in divinity in 1832. Although he wrote many other hymns including "The Morning Light is Breaking" and "Blest be the Tie That Binds", "America" alone preserves his memory from oblivion.

In the winter of 1832 Smith was living in this fine, old residence at 147 Main Street. On a gloomy day in February the author, then only twenty-four years old, was looking through some music books, recently brought from Germany. The next step was described by himself:

"Falling in with the tune of one of them now called "America", and being pleased with its simple and easy movement, I glanced, at the

Many Plans Made For Construction Program At Recent Visit Of Charles A. Platt Here

Of important connection and interest to the school was the appearance last week in Andover of the well-known architect, Charles A. Platt. Mr. Platt, who is in charge of the plans for most of the construction work on the hill, came here for several important reasons. The studying of the positions for the new Chapel and for the Murphy Infirmary, the decisions to be made upon certain details in the work now being done in the New Dining Hall, and some minor improvements in the lay-out of the school grounds were among these.

With regard to the new chapel and the new infirmary much has already been said. The chapel is to be located on the ground across

Chapel Avenue from the main campus, made vacant by the removal of the Headmaster's residence last summer. The infirmary will be situated behind Samuel Phillips Hall and the Great Quadrangle. Ground will be broken in July for both of these buildings, and it is expected that they will be ready for use by the fall of 1931.

With regard to the Dining Hall several decisions were to be made. For this purpose M. Barry Faulkner, noted mural decorator and artist who is to do the mural decorating in the faculty dining room, accompanied Mr. Platt. The color schemes for each of the four main dining rooms were considered.

Unjust Tradition

In an institution of this sort, in which the method of doing most everything is bound to be traditional, there must naturally arise among the various systems some methods which prove impracticable in the passage of time, but about which nothing is done because of the respect naturally and rightfully due tradition. One such method is, we believe, the present archaic and unjust manner of electing the Editor of the Pot Pourri. As the system now stands this election is purely a popularity contest. Anyone in the Upper Middle Class is an eligible candidate whether he has made the board or not. All that is necessary is for a student to turn in his name and then wait for the class to elect him. Obviously therefore it is of absolutely no advantage in securing this office to have "heeled" the Pot Pourri.

A well-liked fellow with absolutely no literary ability and a total lack of experience with the publication, stands a far better chance than a fellow who can write passably well, who knows through contact what the work of the editor amounts to, who knows how the various tasks and departments can be best run and improved upon, and who, finally, has shown an interest in the year book by "heeling" for it for two and a half terms.

Perhaps there are, though we question it, certain advantages in having the class elect the head of the Pot Pourri. Certainly, however, there are not any advantages in allowing the whole class to be eligible for the office. For the good of the publication itself, it seems only fair to limit the number of aspirants to those who previously succeeded in securing membership on the board. Quite possibly it is too late to effect a change in the matter this year, but next year something certainly ought to be done.

Tuxedos Will Be Worn To The Junior Promenade

At the re-vote held in front of the Chapel last Thursday morning for the purpose of deciding the white flannel-tuxedo contest, the supporters of tuxedos won by a majority vote.

COMMUNICATION

On a recent foraging expedition to the Library for the latest issue of Collier's Weekly, we were astounded and amused to learn that the subscriptions to the above-mentioned magazine, along with that of Life, the only humorous magazine in the school (for who considers Punch as amusing except to those who have an English sense of humor), had been withdrawn. Upon inquiring, we learned that the magazines censored "detracted from the beauty of the Reading Room". It seemed that Collier's was so popular that the covers were always torn off, and thus the rhythmic beauty of that Salamagundi called the Reading Room was destroyed.

Once the Faculty has made up its mind about anything, we doubt that it can be stirred from its decision. Nevertheless, if our faculty is behind this move to rob the Library of its only current, popular weeklies, may we suggest (this is heresy, but we still suggest) that there are five active, competent guardians who supposedly know their business. But any guardian, no matter how strict, would allow their wards the Saturday Evening Post, Collier's, Life, or the daily newspaper. Of the four mentioned literary achievements, soon the only one seen in our library will be the Boston Daily Herald.

We roamed thru the Reference and Reading Rooms and noted some of the magazines on the shelves. Among the more ignored were: Adult Education and the Library, Art and Archaeology, Forum, six chemistry Works, The Manchester Guardian Weekly, Our Dumb Animals, and the London Times Literary Supplement. Of these, when the weeding comes, the only one that will probably be read will be the Forum.

We saw on the shelves of the Reading Room books of all types, binding and contents, that ranged from "The Three Musketeers" to "The Mentality of Apes", embracing even humor "Absurd!!" did we hear someone say? Well, we entirely agree with you. The new library was opened with a rush and we fear that the unwanted has crept in—The desire to make the institution perfect, and in doing so to resort to Puritanical measures. But to sum up our cases against this outrage, may we say that we feel that the withdrawal of "Life" and "Collier's" from the library shelves should be put before the student body, as they are the ones who read them. By this, we don't mean that every Library change should be voted upon by the students themselves, but that good, solid, common sense should be used before radical changes are made. And we insist that in some way or another those responsible for the change will realize their mistake, and restore to us "Collier's" and "Life".

IN PASSING

It will be a sad day when we shall have to admit that our newspaper has changed from a school digest into a muddle of haberdashery propaganda. Precarious though matters were last Wednesday, the danger is all over now. The white flannel is also all over, and the prom isn't going to be "Bohemian and seedy" after all. You can fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time.

If we think, nor do we hesitate to say, that two proms should have been arranged. Tuxedos could hold forth in Borden Hall, and white flannels in Peabody House. Between dances, the opposing groups might run back and forth hurling invectives at each other. In this way everyone could be "captain", and "play" at the same time.

At any rate, we must not lose sight of the lilies, and how they grow. They toil not, neither do they spin. What one of us, in all his glory, could be arrayed like one of these?

As the spring progresses we are pleased to note the rapidity with which the new Quadrangle is taking form. We are in doubt about one thing, though: Are Seniors going to be allowed to smoke on those benches next year, or are such privileges to be confined to the old Senior Fence?

Whenever we attend a lecture, which is seldom enough to be sure, we are somewhat irritated by the great rush of autograph-seekers who pile upon the stage at the conclusion of the talk. The speaker is nearly always greatly rushed to catch his train, and is, besides, often quite tired. Courtesy keeps him from refusing the demands of the autograph collectors, and he is therefore compelled to remain signing his name to cards or programs right up to the very moment of departure.

ANDOVER TEAM WINS IN CLOSE GOLF MATCH

Most Of Individual Contests Were Won After Unusually Long Struggles

Wednesday afternoon the Andover golf team defeated the Andover Country Club 6-3, but in spite of the score the contest was by far the closest of the season, most of the individual matches being won on the last hole or on extra holes.

Goldberger, number one man, lost to Eaton, the club champion, two down, and his partner Ellis was defeated on the nineteenth hole. The country club pair won the foursome on the twenty-second hole after a very hard fight. Here Andover started winning, and Russell won his match on the eighteenth hole. Case his partner was forced to play three extra holes before he was victorious, and these two won the foursome match on the last green. Andover's number five player, Lawrence, also had a close contest, winning on the final hole. Bartow was the only one who did not experience any difficulty, and was victorious four and three. The Blue easily won the foursome match.

In spite of the fact that the championship tees were being used, making the course longer, and that preferred lies are no longer allowed, which also added to the difficulty, the team played fine golf, and all turned in good scores with the exception of Goldberger, who was not up to his usual form.

A return match will probably be played with the opponents in the near future.

In the afternoon Vesper Service the preacher will be Rev. R. G. Preston of Newton. The Rev. Mr. Preston is a graduate of this school and a member of the class of P. A. '14.

Correction Of Former Alumni Note

In the last issue of THE PHILLIPIAN, that of May 21, 1930, an alumni note contained the names of Andover graduates recently elected to the honorary Senior Societies at Yale. In mentioning these men, one name was accidentally omitted, namely that of Charles Paine, P. A. '26, who was elected to Wolf's Head.

ANDOVER PLAYERS TO OPPOSE DEAN TODAY

Batting Lineup Will Be The Same As Wednesday's—Wing Will Pitch

This afternoon the baseball team will encounter Dean Academy. A close game may be expected, for Dean defeated the Brown Freshmen four to two last Wednesday and has had an enviable record throughout the season. The opposing team includes several excellent batters: Cavanaugh and Morrissey each made a triple in Wednesday's game.

Andover's lineup will probably be the same that it was in the Harvard Freshman game, except that Wing will probably take Broaca's place in the box. Both the batting and fielding of our team are constantly improving. Williamson and Batchelder are still as reliable as ever. A marked decrease in the number of errors on our part was noticeable in the Harvard game, which augurs well for today.

Officers, and advisors of Student Christian Associations and Religious Societies.

Besides the religious talks and discussions, in which any problem may be discussed with the expectation of a perfectly frank answer, the program for each day will include athletics during the afternoon. Blair Academy possesses fine playing fields, a gymnasium, and a swimming pool.

The cost for room and board will be $14; a registration fee of $5 is also required. It will, however, be possible for a few boys to earn half their board by waiting on table. Each student should bring a school banner, athletic equipment, old clothes, any musical instrument he may have, a camera, and a Bible. It is even more essential that this material equipment be supplemented by a full supply of questions, an open mind, and an expectation of a good time.

and Monro, is especially commendable.

Although Schneider, Gordon, Ward, and Tomkins are handicapped by injuries, they will all see action, but probably for only part of the game.

Mr. Marsters, a former Harvard player, has helped greatly in starting this sport at Andover. The results of the large amount of time and work that he spent here at the beginning of the term will have a real test this afternoon.

Mr. Van Der Stucken's
Lectures To Be Postponed

Owing to the lack of time remaining before Commencement, Mr. Van Der Stucken will not be able to give his series of lectures, which was scheduled for this term, on Germany. He will deliver these lectures, however, early next autumn.

ROY, B. C. PITCHER,
BEATS EXETER 6-2

Bennet And Clark Prevent Shutout; Crimson Plays Poorly; Golfers Win

The Exeter baseball team lost its third straight game Wednesday to the Boston College Freshmen, who earlier in the season defeated Andover 6-4. The score of this game was 6-2 but the Freshmen were by far the superior team. They played much better in every department and beat the Red and Gray by a larger margin than the score indicates. Roy, B. C. pitcher, pitched excellent, airtight baseball until the seventh inning, when Exeter scored two runs. Westly started the game for the home team and was relieved in the fourth by Roundey after the former had allowed five runs. Roundey was much more effective and the winners got only one run from him. He has a fine slow ball, which seemed to baffle the visitors, and they could not hit him at all. Bennet hit a very long hit, which was a home run, and Clark also did well at bat, making one triple. Exeter's infielding was very poor and a great deal worse than in the two previous games.

This afternoon the Red and Gray nine meet the Dartmouth Freshmen, whom the Blue defeated at Hanover 9-5. The Red and Gray team has beaten the Freshmen for the last few years and hopes to come out of its slump today. Parker, on whom not more than two runs per game have been scored will be on the mound for the home team. Bennet will be on the other end of the battery and Clark will play in the outfield. The only other change will be the replacement of Weston at third in place of Marting.

The Exeter golf team continued its winning streak by beating St. Paul's in a very close match by the score of 7-2. Barbour, playing Exeter No. 1, lost a heart-breaking match on the twenty-first hole. Stotler, who was decidedly off his game was the other Red and Gray loser. Gagliardi, Captain Heath, Terhune, and Wilson were the winners.

The golf team representing Exeter will meet Newton High School this afternoon in what is expected to be a very close match. Donally, the Massachusetts Junior Champion, will play at No. One. Newton is bringing two teams, and the seconds will face the Exeter all-class team.

TENNIS MEET TODAY WITH PREP SCHOOL

Team Is Still Handicapped By Absence Of Captain Neff

This afternoon the Andover netmen will face the New Prep tennis team. The team will again be forced to play without Captain Neff. Paine will continue as number one man, and Crosby, Roorbach, Evans, Griswold, and Upton will play in the order named. Paine and Roorbach will play the first doubles match, while Crosby and Griswold will take the second. Upton and Lincoln will have the third. Andover has been extremely unfortunate in being deprived of her best men, but the team, notwithstanding, has done very well.

These will be made to blend with the wood-work of each room. Of the two private dining rooms, located on the first floor of the building, it was decided that one should be done in red and the other in blue, thus making a very pleasing variety in the appearance of these two rooms.

Mr. Faulkner is one of the best artists for mural decoration in this country. His experience is very wide and his training has been extensive. As a pupil at the American Academy at Rome, he made an excellent name for himself and has to his credit the execution of the mural decorations in the buildings of that institution. He is also a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy. The decorations in the faculty room are to be New England landscapes—imaginative but typical. Exactly what they will be has not yet been stated.

his stay in England. Mr. Roth will visit several of the public schools, chiefly for the purpose of observing the teaching of history in those institutions. At some of these schools he has been invited to address the students, and at one, the Stowe School at Buckingham, to accept a position as teacher. However, the latter invitation has been declined, perhaps through a natural desire to make use of the one year in seven for purposes of recuperation as well as education.

In the spring of 1931 Mr. Roth will rejoin his family and together they will motor through the countries of Italy and Greece, visiting especially the places of historical interest. They will arrive in Andover in September, 1931.

America House, Home Of Samuel Smith In 1832, When He Composed "America"

German words, and seeing that they were patriotic, instantly felt the impulse to write a patriotic hymn of my own, to the same tune. Seizing a scrap of waste paper, I put on it, within half an hour, the verses substantially as they stand today."

Not long afterwards he sent to Mr. Mason, the composer of the German tune, a few translations and original poems, with "America" thrown indifferently among them. To his utter amazement, he found that it had been incorporated in a program for a celebration at Boston on July 4, 1832. It was here sung undoubtedly for the first time. The attention of the public was quickly caught and the hymn spread rapidly throughout the country.

Leaving Andover, Smith did editorial work for religious Boston papers and after a year taught at Colby College. He later became a minister in Newton and then went abroad. In 1880 he returned to Boston and spent the remainder of his life there. He died in 1895 at eighty-seven years of age.

In the America House there is now a memorabilia, which is connected with the life of Samuel F. Smith, and which will be on display on May 30 and 31. The America House is now in possession of Phillips Academy and is occupied by Mrs. Arthur Allen.
