S. OF I. ADDRESSED BY REV. A. L. KINSOLVING ON VARIED SUBJECTS

Congratulates Student Body On Adoption Of Meatless Meals

GIVES VOCATIONAL ADVICE

Open Forum Conducted After Meeting With Strong Student Support

Complimenting the students on their spirit shown by approval of the "meatless meal", Dr. Arthur Lee Kinsolving delivered an address to the members of the Society of Inquiry last Sunday evening in Peabody House.

His discussion was in part an answer to the oft-put question, "Why do people usually turn to religion in later life?", saying one does not always feel the need of religion until the approach of middle age; for when young one feels competent to handle his own problems until he finds that there is something incomplete about him and that what is lacking is the realization of God. He said we should not use religion as an ambulance to help us out of a rut when we have done wrong, but we should make it an idealization of Jesus Christ and an inspiration to emulate Him. He said that some people think that the time has not yet come when they are impelled to take an interest in religion. True and deep religion is not a mere matter of interest in us; it is the call to us by another being, God.

In answer to one question he said he thought that drinking should be an individual matter; though some people become enslaved by the habit and there are many people who can and do drink moderately. He deprecates the post-prohibition wave of drinking by the younger generation, however.

In answer to another he said that life is incomplete. When men become old, they are just beginning to realize what life means, and then they must die. There must be some completion to life. He likened our life on earth to a candle—the flame soon goes out

GAULS TO MEET ROMANS; SAXONS TO PLAY GREEKS

Clubs To Meet In Third Series Of Football Clashes Today

ROMANS, GREEKS SECOND

Gauls And Romans Victors In Encounters Of Second Series

The third and last game in the first round of club football competition will be played this afternoon when the Romans meet the Gauls, and the Saxons, the Greeks. The former game should be a crucial one when the Gauls, this year's leaders to date, oppose the Romans, last year's champions, who now are tied with the Greeks for second place. The Gauls have been put through hard scrimmages with the seconds and drilled in signals this past week.

The line-ups will be:

Gauls: Snellings, Wallace, and Reigeluth, ends; Dean, Wilder, and Timbie, tackles; McDuff and O. P. Quigly, guards; Day, center; Chase, Hamlin, and Seavey, backs.

Greeks: Tausch and Brayton, ends; Trimpi and McConnell, tackles; Ingersol or Jameson, center; R. L. Keeney, quarterback; Burrows, fullback; Davis and Easton, halfbacks.

Saxons: Saunders and Smith, ends; Wingate and Doyle, tackles; Maher, Russel, and Fine, guards; Hurlburt, center; Farmer, Ferguson, Ringland, and Chester, backs.

EXETER BOWS BEFORE HARVARD FRESH 13-0

Harvard Stages Last Minute Rally To Score Twice In Final Drive

Although unable to score for the first three quarters of their game with Exeter Saturday, the Harvard Freshmen rallied and scored two touchdowns in the latter part of the last quarter to bring the game to a close with a score of 13 to 0.

The outstanding player of the Exeter team, Rex Kidd, again proved his mettle by running back Harvard punts time and time again for unusual gains. Exeter's left halfback, Rose, was one of their chief offense men.

The Freshmen showed an all-around efficient team. They made their first touchdown when Francis Lane, last year's Exeter halfback, intercepted a pass from Rex Kidd on the Exeter forty-yard line and tore through to a touchdown. Although they failed to make the point after touchdown then, they succeeded after they had pounded over the line again a few minutes later.

The Harvard fullback, Gibbs, made some outstanding plays, among them a dash through the line for ten yards. Janien was another line-bucker for Harvard. Prouty made the second touchdown with a powerful line run.

NEW POST OFFICE OPENS IN COLORFUL CEREMONY

Doctor Fuess Gives History Of The Andover Post Office

MOST BEAUTIFUL OF ITS KIND IN STATE

Andover's new post office, which is said to be one of the most beautiful in the state, was dedicated Saturday afternoon by Congresswoman Edith N. Rogers of Lowell, who gave the dedication speech and presented the keys to Postmaster Fred E. Cheever.

Dr. F. A. Wilson of the Free Congregational Church of Andover began the dedication with a prayer and an address of welcome. The Drum and Bugle Corps next played several selections. Selectman Hardy gave a short speech of acceptance in behalf of the Town Government. Dr. Claude M. Fuess then gave a short history of the U. S. Post Office in Andover in which he emphasized the fact that the first Postmaster General of the U. S. was Samuel Osgood, a native of this town, who was the only resident of Andover ever to sit in the President's cabinet. He then named the different locations the post office has had since it was founded in 1794, with Isaac Abbott as its first director. He cited some of Abbott's successors among whom was Samuel Phillips, one of the famous family who founded the Academy. Dr. Fuess complimented Postmaster Cheever on his fine work and ability and wished him a prolonged stay at his post. He mentioned that this was the last official appearance of Mrs. E. N. Rogers here, and he commended her on her splendid work for this town at Washington.

Mrs. Rogers then presented the

DR. WARREN MOOREHEAD WILL DISCUSS SIOUX

"Indians Of The Plains" To Be Subject Of Discussion At Peabody

Dr. Moorehead will give an illustrated talk to the students on "The Indians of the Plains" this Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in Peabody House. The pictures he presents were taken in the old "Buffalo Days" and portray the life of the Sioux. There will be a correct account of the famous Custer fight. Half an hour will be devoted to round table discussion. The first talk was given two weeks ago and the fellows seemed very much interested in the discussion feature. The event is informal. All are invited to attend.

BLUE BOOTERS TO MEET TUFTS '36 HERE TODAY

Game Which Was Planned With Governor Dummer Cancelled

BADGER WILL LEAD TEAM

Coach Ryley Has Team In Good Shape In Spite Of Several Minor Injuries

The Tufts Freshman soccer game, postponed from last Saturday afternoon, will be played today on the Old Campus. This has been made possible by the cancellation of the Governor Dummer game originally slated for today.

Captain Badger will lead his men from the wing berth with the rest of the line-up remaining tentatively the same as that which started the Tabor game. The Tufts team is reported to be heavy and accordingly not very fast.

Coach Ryley has put his team into shape by constant drill in kicking and team play and by occasional scrimmages. The Andover starting line-up will probably be as follows:

Hall, g., Bower, r.f.b., Washburn, l.f.b., Duff, r.h.b., Howe, c. h.b., Badman, l.h.b., Badger, r.o.s., Thorne, r.i.s., Macauley, c., Lasall, l.i.s., Fuller, l.o.s.

FIRST FALL TRACK MEET HELD FRIDAY

Mr. Peck, Directing Track This Fall, Finds Good Workable Material

The first of the fall series of track meets was held last Friday afternoon. These meets are individual, there being no club competition at present. Mr. Peck, who is directing track this fall, says he finds in this group good, workable material.

In the time trials for the 100-yard low hurdles, the following times were handed in: in the first heat, Hayes came in with 14 2-5, Cartwright improving on that in the second heat with 13 3-5. In the next heat, Gibson came in with a 15 2-5 timing.

In the 75-yard dash, Hector, in the first heat, turned in 9 2-5, followed up by Cook, in the third heat, turning in 9 3-5. West, in the fourth, getting the same time as Cook.

J. Kelley cleared 9 ft. 9 in. in the pole vault, J. Perkins making second with 8 ft. 6 in. Carlson came in third with 8 ft. 3 in.

Farrar won the high jump with 5 ft. 2 in., followed by Comstock with 4 ft. 11 in.

In the broad jump, Lathrop came first with 17 1-2, with Farrar second doing 16 ft. 6 in.

94 ft. 2 in. was the distance turned in by Palmer in the discus. Shirley came second with 87 ft. 4 in.

Palmer won again in the javelin with 135 ft. 7 in., Mathews being second with 125 ft.

In the shot put, Fisher won with 44 ft. 3 1-2 in. Palmer made second with 42 ft. 9 in.

BLUE ELEVEN DOWNED BY BULLDOG FRESHMEN WITH SCORE OF 25-0

Davis, Whitehead, And O'Neil, P. A. '32, Star For Yale

GRAHAM OUTSTANDING

Competition Close Despite Top-Heavy Score; Yale Scores Twice On Blue's Errors

Giving Coach Shepard's Andover eleven its worst drubbing in several years, a well-drilled Yale Freshman team swamped the Blue under a 25-0 score last Saturday afternoon on Brothers Field. The New Haven team had obviously improved considerably since its victory over Exeter the Saturday before.

The Andover attack was virtually ineffectual against the impenetrable defence of the Elis. The home team was in a good position to score but twice, once after a series of well-executed passes in the third quarter, and again in the last period, after a long pass, Graham to Burdick, that put the ball on the Yale twenty-yard line. Another attempted pass, however, was intercepted by Roscoe, the freshman quarterback, who raced eighty-eight yards to a touchdown.

Cummings and Rankin scored for the Yale team in the second stanza while Rankin repeated his performance in the final period to account for the other three touchdowns.

Coach Reggie Root of the Elis commented on the game as follows: "I can't give credit to any one man. Everyone on the team played good ball. The line did some fine work in opening up holes."

FIRST QUARTER

Yale ran back Andover's starting kick 35 yards. Yale soon kicked to Andover's 3-yard line. The Blue's passing was better than last week. Kellogg caught a pass from Graham at the beginning of the game, making 15 yards. Webb Davis, Andover's former captain, made some beautiful tackles. Graham made about 4 yards in a plunge

The rankings of the teams are, Gauls: 1, Dalrymple; 2, Beach (Capt.); 3, Barnes; 4, Boutwell; 5, Jenney; 6, Linkroum; 7, Woodruff. Romans: 1, Seoville (Capt.); 2, Austin; 3, Hook, G.; 4, Berry; 5, Sides; 6, Whitney. Saxons: 1, Kingman (Capt.); 2, Deming; 3, Johnston; 4, Rounds; 5, Vincent. Conant, Curtiss, Buchanan, Hadley, Church. Greeks: 1, Williams (Capt.); 2, Randall; 3, Stott; 4, Davis; 5, Fox; 6, Heywood; 7, Bainerd, W.

Tennis will continue until frost comes. There will probably be a tournament between all players at the end of the season.

THE PHILLIPIAN is today celebrating the fifty-fifth anniversary of its birth. For it was in mid-October, 1878, that Edward S. Beach with a group of similarly enthusiastic Andover students first published THE PHILLIPIAN as the Phillips Academy newspaper. Since then times have changed; but THE PHILLIPIAN has kept pace. Under a succession of skilful editors, many of whom have won journalistic fame in college and in afterlife, THE PHILLIPIAN has weathered the storms of over a half century of fat and lean years. The present board hopes that it can successfully carry on this great tradition. And it looks forward to seeing the one hundredth anniversary edition of THE PHILLIPIAN forty-five years from now, in October, 1978.

Peabody House

In 1915, when the Peabody House was built from the income of the Robert S. Peabody Foundation, its purpose was a worthy one. For, in the words of the school catalogue, it was intended to provide "for the use of the boys of the school, a grill, a reading room, and an assembly hall for school organizations." At the time it was built it doubtless filled a definite need in the school life. But almost twenty years have passed since then; and in those twenty years the Andover campus has been almost entirely renovated. Buildings have been lavishly added to the school equipment; and to make way for them, other buildings have been torn down. As this virtual earthquake which has so shaken Andover Hill subsides, the question of whether or not the Peabody House now holds the same position in school life that it did twenty years ago naturally arises.

A grill was in all probability a very necessary addition to the school property in those pre-war days. And up to this time it has continued in much the same way under the capable management of "Jim" Ryley. But the present day depression, together perhaps with other factors, has brought its financial condition to a precarious state. The growth of other lunch rooms has cut into its business. And it has become the gathering place of a group of students who use it not wisely, but too well. No one can object to a student spending his time in the grill provided that he does it temperately. But when a student, whether because of lack of self-restraint or because of his sudden freedom from the stricter regulations of home or some other school, spends what amounts to all of his free daylight hours in the grill, and when there are, as at present, all too many members of the student body who may be included in this classification, steps certainly must be taken to remedy the situation. Proposals have been made for the establishment of the grill in the basement of the Commons instead of in its present position. That would be a forward step; but the direction of this new grill would be a ticklish business. THE PHILLIPIAN believes that the Commons management should not be given control of the new grill, if such a thing should be, and that it would be a wiser plan to have the two organizations run on an absolutely separate basis. For student opinion will be highly critical of this proposed grill at the slightest opportunity. In principle, however, THE PHILLIPIAN favors the movement of the grill away from its present position to a new location, preferably in the basement of The Commons.

The Peabody Club in its heyday served a decidedly useful purpose in the school, offering non-fraternity students a reading room, the use of a radio, and smoking privileges. The Oliver Wendell Holmes Library, built since the establishment of the Peabody Club, now supplies a very adequate reading room for student use, thereby making the Peabody reading room superfluous. Smoking privileges seem very adequate for the student body, even in the event that the Peabody Club is closed, for Seniors have the use of the Senior Fence and Flagstaff Court for smoking and lower classmen have the grill, whether in its present position or a new one.

The upper floor of the Peabody House is well used as a meeting room for Philo and the Society of Inquiry. With interest at its present pitch in these two organizations it would seem logical that when funds permit this top floor could be renovated to provide better and permanent quarters for both Philo and the Society of Inquiry.

THE PHILLIPIAN believes that the Peabody House would better serve the school as the headquarters for all extra-curricular activities than for any other purpose. Philo and the Society of Inquiry could be ensconced in the top floor. And in the basement and first floor the five publications of the school could have offices. For at present THE PHILLIPIAN office is sadly inadequate and the other four publications need office space almost as urgently. Room likewise would be available for other organizations that might desire it. Whatever the faculty decides as to the future of the Peabody House, THE PHILLIPIAN believes that better use can be made of it than is made at present.

through the line but soon kicked to Yale's 15-yard line. Andover held the Elis for three downs without making an inch. Yale kicked to the Blue's 45-yard line and Eli soon made a first down. Tardiff set the Yale team back for 6 yards loss after breaking through the Eli defense. Yale completed two forward passes but Burdick stopped the receiver short. Yale took the ball round right end making a gain of 5 yards thus ending the first quarter.

SECOND QUARTER

Fletcher was put in for Fry. Whitehead bucked the line making a first down. Fry returned for the Blue. Curtin, Choate's star full-back of '31, made 9 yards and carried the ball over the goal. The point after touchdown was made bringing the score to 7-0 for the Elis. Andover kicked to Yale's 35-yard line and Yale ran it back to the 45-yard line. Curtin made 5 yards on round end play. A criss-cross play brought Yale to the center of the field. Another criss-cross made a first down. Yale made 25 yards on a forward pass. Whitehead was tackled by Graham on Andover's 15-yard line. Cummings plunged 5 yards and brought the ball to the Blue's 1 1-2 yard line. On the fourth down Yale put the ball over for another touchdown but the kick failed, bringing the score 13 to 0. Yale kicked and McTernen returned it 15 yards. A lateral was completed from McTernen to Graham making 25 yards. Pfeiffer was put in for Lewis and Reiter for Sears. Curtin ran round end to Yale's 35-yard line. Roscoe plunged through the line for 6 yards gain and in the next play Yale was penalized for being off-side.

SECOND HALF—THIRD QUARTER

Andover kicked and Yale ran it back 5 yards. The criss-cross play made 3 yards. Curtin to Whitehead. Curtin was kicking well. After a few yards gain Graham kicked and Roscoe was stopped. Yale was penalized 15 yards. Graham's pass to McTernen was completed. After Platt tried a plunge through the line Burdick, failing find anyone free to pass to, made 22 yards to the Yale 20-yard line. A pass was completed, Curtin Roscoe. Curtin kicked. A Graham to Burdick pass was completed making 30 yards to Yale's 20-yard line. Roscoe intercepted the pass and ran 90 yards for a touchdown. Tardiff blocked the attempted kick.

FOURTH QUARTER

McTernen ran Yale's kick back 10 yards to the Andover 30-yard line. Townsend tackled McTernen after 7 yards gain. A late McTernen to Graham, was completed putting Andover on its 42-yard line. No gain was made by three plunges. Andover lost ball on downs and a Curtin Whitehead pass put the ball on 15-yard line. Another pass was completed for a touchdown. The kick failed. Andover fumbled ball and Graham ran outside.

but its light continues indefinitely into space.

When asked why the animal part of our nature should not be given full rein, he said that there is something in our finer sensibilities that reacts against animalism and lust. He said that the times when he had practised self control were the very times when he got a true insight into religion. If we indulge our passions, we can never be truly religious because the spiritual part of our nature has no chance to assert itself. The Greek philosophers found that the two elements could not be reconciled, and believed that the spiritual should be the goal of life. He added that Christianity, in that it is the embodiment of this ideal, is the one firm foundation of civilization.

"Give us a REVERSIBLE topcoat"

MEN from Yale, Princeton, Harvard and other Eastern Universities who visited Scotland this past summer, have come back with news about a topcoat worn by the canny Scots and prudent Britons. When the weather is fair, it is a smart, tweed topcoat. Let a shower come up—and behold! It's a tan gabardine raincoat, tight enough to keep you dry and comfortable in the most pelting rain. It reverses almost with a twist of the wrist.

The camel's hair topcoat swept the country because a few university men began to wear it. And now this Reversible topcoat is on its way to even wider popularity.
